FRENCH LINE AT VERDUN DECLARED IMPREGNABLE.

Northcliffe Denounces as "Bombastic Lies" Berlin Wireless Dispatches.

Two Thousand German Guns, He Says, are Unable to Locate the Hidden Batteries of the Defenders — Prisoners He Saw are Described as "Puny Dregs of Humanity," Unlike the Stalwarts Captured Earlier in the War.

BY LORD NORTHCLIFFE.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SOMEWHERE IN FRANCE, March 11.—Verdun occupies an unduly large position in the public eye. Very active fighting, of which I have been a witness, has been taking place in other parts of the French lines during this week.

The French official communications to the world are so modest by comparison with the bombastic German wireless lies that Verdun is beyond question the chief subject of speculation throughout the world at the moment.

Verdun is a great deal more interesting than important. It does not need a personal visit to the battlefield to realize this. If the Germans really think their attack on the unarmed and dismantled forts of Verdun opens the road to Paris they have a very faint notion of the French preparations and the French power of resistance.

Neutrals who saw the triumphant march of the magnificently organized German troops in Brussels in August, 1914, gathered the impression that the Teutonic hordes, with their years of preparedness behind them, would be able to march about Europe Napoleonically, offering peace here and there as they chose and demanding anything they wanted. Turn back to the photographs of that time and look at the impressive, serried ranks of the manly and well drilled soldiers.

PRISONERS OF WAR.

The first prisoners I saw were those taken by the English in the battle of the Marne—great big Prussians, fine and smiling Saxons, well-mannered Wurtemburgers of good physique—just such men as you would see at any German parade at Potsdam. Last week I saw German prisoners who had escaped the hellish fire of the French at Verdun. Where had gone those splendid stalwarts captured at the battle of the Marne? Much of the rank and file now left to the Germans are undersized and badly dressed, with faces that bear a look of fright that seems as if it would last a lifetime. Their appearance is such as to move a heart of stone. It is difficult to believe that these dregs of humanity are labeled corps d'elite. Exactly how they would fare in a hand-to-hand fight with any 10,000 young men in the British army need not be speculated upon.

As it is, the ether with which they were drugged before facing the French and the giant guns, 2000 in number, under whose cover they advanced, alone enabled them to survive the terror under the influence of which some of them were almost unable to speak.

With two exceptions among those with whom I spoke all were utterly weary of warfare and begged to be told when peace could be expected.

SAYS GERMANY IS BESIEGED.

The fact about the whole war is that Germany is in the position of a besieged city and is striking out blindly by land at Verdun. She will presently, I am convinced, strike out by sea.

The reasons why Germany is flashing astounding falsehoods around the world are difficult to divine. They have so greatly increased in intensity since I was at Verdun last week that I ask myself whether there is some greatly shaken confidence in Germany that needs support. Yet why, on the other hand, should there be such profound activity in spreading them 'round the world?

American and other correspondents have been specially invited to be with the Crown Prince before Verdun. I notice, however, that their heavily-censored dispatches are not of that confident and joyous tone usually sent.

Not a word is hinted in anything sent out from Germany of the horrible slaughter to which the German troops have been subjected. This week Thursday was a black day for Germany, when, drugged with ether, the men came on in mass formation to be mown down by the French 75's and machine guns.

As usual, the reports published in the English papers from Paris are, to my personal knowledge, on the whole, most accurate and they show that for one or many reasons the Crown Prince is gambling with human life to an extent unprecedented even in this war. They show that months of preparations of the Germans were not sufficient and that the 2000 monster guns assembled against the French did not succeed in driving the French from any position of importance or disturbing their cheerfulness or confidence. They show that even that monstrous deluge of shells cannot search and find out the batteries of 75's, 105's, 155's, 210's and even 305's, so cunningly hidden by the French gunners.

FRENCH BATTERIES HIDDEN.

The French success in mowing down the unfortunate Germans is undoubtedly due to their great courage in keeping hidden their machine guns close to the German positions, often indeed in front or in the midst of the French barbed wire entanglements.

I have seen a great deal of the French gunnery this week. Before the war it was known that French artillery work had been developed to a high pitch of perfection, but since the events have proved that if the Germans possess a number of guns of greater caliber than those used by the English or French, they have no weapon in their army equal to the French 75, or gunners at all comparable to the Frenchmen.

I spent two hours one day this week in a hidden observation post that was pushed right up to the German trenches, where, indeed, there was nothing but the barbed wire of both parties in be-

OUR FLAG TO STAY IN MEXICO UNTIL ORDER IS RESTORED.

Carranza's Assurance that He is in Control of Situation will not be Sufficient Warrant for Withdrawal of United States Troops and Funston will be Judge of the Proper Time to Withdraw.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 11.—The American Army is going into Northern Mexico to stay until order is restored and Carranza demonstrates his ability to maintain order and prevent further incursions of outlaws into the United States.

The American Army will not be withdrawn because of any protest by Carranza against the invasion of Mexico.

The America Army will not be withdrawn upon mere promises by Carranza that he is able to maintain order.

This was the attitude assumed by the Wilson administration as disclosed by a canvass of the Cabinet members today as the War Department initiated the "punitive expedition" to take Villa "dead or alive."

This amplification of the undertaking designed primarily to capture and punish the authors of the Columbus (N.M.) outrage, was emphasized by Secretary of War Baker in discussing the instructions transmitted to Gen. Funston.

ORDER TO FUNSTON.

The Secretary stated that Gen. Funston has been ordered to send as many troops as is necessary into Mexico and to keep them there until Carranza is able to maintain order and prevent any repetition of outlaw forays into the United States.

The declaration that the State Department also will rely largely on the discretion of the military commander has also done much to help the army enthusiasm.

Secretary Baker was interviewed this afternoon after his long conference with Lindley M. Garrison, his predecessor, and Maj.-Gen. Hugh Scott, Chief of Staff. All three were present during the interview.

"The instructions given are quite explicit," said Mr. Baker.

"The army is to disperse the band or bands which attacked the village of Columbus."

"And capture any?"

"If possible," he smiled.

"And how long is allowed for the job?"

"Gen. Funston is authorized to stay until the forces of Carranza government are able to restore and maintain order so far as these bandits are concerned."

"And suppose Carranza announces to us that the 1200 troops he has sent to Palomas are able to restore and maintain order, will Funston have to come out?"

"You mean, is Carranza to be the judge," queried the Secretary. "Gen. Funston is to be the judge. He is to decide whether the Mexican soldiers can end the bandit raids."

TO KEEP MEN ON BORDER.

Mr. Baker said that Gen. Funston had been assured that however many men he sends into Mexico, there will be sent to the border a sufficient number to protect the American side against sporadic raids. He declined to say whether a request for reinforcements had yet been made by Funston.

"Will there be a call for State troops?" he was asked.

"Do you mean the present organized forces of the National Guard in the various States? If so, there is at present not the slightest intention of calling out such volunteers."

It is not known how many dispatches came from the border through Gen. Funston, who, for directing purposes, remains for the present at Fort Sam Houston in San Antonio, Tex.

The list of accounted Mexican dead has been raised by Col. Slocum to 57, with 18 more bodies reported by outposts. The message announcing this is ended by Gen. Funston's message to his superior:

"I have never heard of anything to equal the effectiveness of the fire of our troops on this occasion."

The arrival of the Tenth Cavalry from Fort Huachuca, Ariz., at Fort Sam Houston, suggests the inclusion of considerably more than 5000 horses in the first expedition and may presage the arrival of still more troops. Secretary Baker has urged the full utilization of the aerial squadron at Fort Sam Houston, not only for the prime purpose of aiding the expedition commander as scouts, but also to give the squadron its first actual war experience.

OUTLOOK FOR TROUBLE.

Those of the department who believe the present difficulty can be handled without danger of combatting a material portion of the Constitutionalist forces, are inclined to look on the whole exploit as most valuable from the standpoint of practice work for the troops, but there are few people aside from the warm admirers of Mr. Wilson who believe the expedition will bring back Villa without encountering a good deal of opposition from rebels and constitutionalists alike.

EXTRA PRECAUTIONS TAKEN AT EL PASO.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

EL PASO (Tex.) March 11.—Since last night extra precautions have been taken in El Paso. The military guards on patrol and stationed at the smelter, gas works and other border points have been heavily reinforced and, in addition to the regular police, 150 specials, armed with rifles, have been called out.

Expectations.

MAY SUMMON MILITIA TO MEET EMERGENCIES.

Orders Drafted to Federalize All Our Mounted National Guardsmen.

Situation is "Filled with Dynamite," so Far as the United States is Concerned — Carranza has not Consented to the Invasion of Mexico, but it is Believed that He may Acquiesce in It.

BY JOHN CALLAN O'LAUGHLIN.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 11.—President Wilson is considering the advisability of asking Congress to authorize the creation of an army of 250,000 men both for the purpose of meeting possible developments in connection with the Mexican situation and in order to provide the United States with defense at home.

The President may address Congress in person on this subject next week or he may have the War Department communicate his views to the chairmen of the Senate and House Military committees. It is understood that the entire question of the military forces of the country is being considered by the President during his week-end trip on the Presidential yacht, the Mayflower.

In anticipation of meeting the emergency which has arisen, the War Department has prepared, but has not yet issued orders, calling all the mounted men of the National Guard into the Federal service. There are 5000 of these men, one regiment of which can be supplied by the State of Illinois. Col. Milton J. Foreman of the First Illinois Cavalry already has offered the services of his command. If called to the colors the guardsmen will be ordered to the border to patrol and prevent Mexican incursions, relieving regular troops who will be ordered into Mexico.

FILLED WITH DYNAMITE.

The situation is filled with dynamite so far as the United States is concerned. Gen. Carranza has not consented to American pursuit of Villa, though in a note to this government he evidently is preparing the way for acquiescence. He has asked that the United States permit his forces to enter American territory in pursuit of their enemies. The reply which will be made will be extremely diplomatic and will say that when occasion arises for such action a definite answer will be given.

The failure of Carranza to comply with the request of the administration is having a great deal to do with the delay in the pursuit of Villa. Gen. Funston has been organizing the brigades of cavalry and could start promptly, but it is stated tonight that no American forces have crossed the border since the return of the troops which pursued Villa, immediately after the attack on Columbus. It is now evident that with the long start Villa has made he has safely reached his stronghold in the Sierra Madre Mountains, and it is quite possible that he has disintegrated his forces. There will be thus tremendous difficulty in locating him. Every day's delay makes the task of the army the greater. Moreover, it has increased the chances of complications for the United States. It is apparent that as the Villa and Carranza forces have no distinctive uniforms, the American soldiers will be forced to shoot on sight any armed men they may encounter. There are thousands of Carranzistas who will resent an American invasion, even if it is directed solely against Villa. The chances of a clash are therefore serious. If a battle should occur with a Carranzista force, even as the result of a mistake, it is recognized that the "First Chief" would be forced by Mexican public opinion to demand our withdrawal and this would mean intervention.

It is these considerations which have led the President to consider the advisability of asking Congress to authorize an army of 250,000 men.

IMMEDIATE ACTION.

Senator Chamberlain, chairman of the Senate Military Committee, said today that he will push action on his measure next week.

"I am waiting," he said, "for data which the War Department has advised me will be transmitted on Monday. There will be opposition to my bill but I believe it will pass the Senate. My bill provides for a regular army of 178,000 men in time of peace and by a provision which it contains this force can be expanded to 250,000 men in time of war. Should intervention take place in Mexico the President will be able to raise a force of a quarter of a million men. In addition provision is made for a large volunteer force."

Congressman Hay, chairman of the House Military Committee, called upon the new Secretary of War, Mr. Baker, today and, it is understood, discussed the Mexican situation with that official. Mr. Hay believes the bill his committee has reported will meet the needs of the country in connection with Mexico. Under this bill the regular army is increased to 140,000 men and the National Guard is Federalized. The Hay bill is by no means as good a measure as the Chamberlain bill and the expert opinion of the army is strongly in favor of the latter.

The Army War College has made a thoroughly careful study of the Mexican situation. If the United States is forced to intervene, it believes that 250,000 men is the minimum force that should be available. All these men would not be required to destroy organized resistance, but it would be necessary to distribute garrisons throughout the country in order to maintain peace. Therefore, officers of the college favor besides the 250,000 men to handle the Mexican situation, a sufficient force to remain in the United States to defend the country from foreign attack.

It is not forgotten that the relations of this country and the Central European powers are exceedingly delicate and only today

General Funston Moving His Troops Along the Border Under Veil of Secrecy.

Warlike Measures.

CENSORSHIP IS RIGID ON BORDER DISPATCHES.

American Authorities Hope to Execute a Surprise on Villa Bandits.

Imperative to the Success of the Measures Undertaken is the Rule Enforced by Those in Command to Guard All Information to Prevent Mexican Marauders from Eluding United States Forces.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, March 11.—Gen. Funston, under orders from President Wilson to hunt down Villa's bandit army in Northern Mexico, was moving his troops at the border tonight behind a veil of rigid secrecy.

War Department officials, who had given the border commander a free hand in working out details of the expedition, made it clear that they regarded it imperative to success that all information which might aid Villa in eluding the American forces must be guarded scrupulously.

It was apparent only that the military plans contemplated a drive into Mexico that should be both quick and certain. The War Department is willing to take no chances by weakening the border patrol, and Gen. Funston's orders were not to move until he was fully prepared.

BAKER ON DUTY.

Secretary Baker and his chief subordinates remained at the War Department until late tonight receiving dispatches from Gen. Funston and doing everything in their power to back up his plans. Many of the dispatches were forwarded by wireless to President Wilson down the Potomac on the Mayflower. But whether troops had entered Mexico or just when they might move across the border the officials would not say.

Gen. Funston himself has urged that all secrecy surround the movement of troops, so he may have an opportunity to surprise the bandit chieftain.

CARRANZA'S REQUEST.

While extensive troop movements were in progress along the border during the day, the State Department received from Gen. Carranza, head of the de facto government of Mexico, a request for permission to send his troops, should occasion arise, across the border into the United States in pursuit of the bandits. The note immediately was forwarded to President Wilson on the Mayflower, and tonight he sent word he would consider it until his return to the capital Monday morning and then would confer with Secretary Lansing before making any decision.

There was every indication that officials viewed Gen. Carranza's request in a favorable light. It was suggested, however, that such a reciprocal arrangement probably never would result in a single Carranza soldier entering the United States, for officials feel that with the tightening of the border patrol the possibility that any fugitive bandits will cross is remote. At the same time it is felt that acquiescence by the United States in the proposal of the de facto government would go far toward gaining the sympathy of public opinion in those parts of Mexico which are under the control of the recognized government.

APPREHENSION REDUCED.

Gen. Carranza's note relieved the apprehension of some administration officials who had considered that there was a possibility he might object to the presence of American troopers on Mexican soil. The communication indicated that no objection would be raised under such a reciprocal arrangement as was suggested. A reply probably will be sent some time Monday.

It generally is expected that the American forces, which probably will number in the neighborhood of 7500 men, will by that time be well on the trail of the bandits who raided Columbus. One of the chief causes of delay has been the necessity of replacing with infantry the cavalry troops which have been performing border patrol duty. Movement of troops has been in progress ever since Gen. Funston received his orders to catch Villa, but their exact nature may not be known for several days.

WHERE CONGRESS STANDS.

Discussion in Congressional circles today indicated further that Congress stands squarely behind the President.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee met and unanimously indorsed the President's action. In the House Representative Mott of New York, a Republican member of the Foreign Affairs Committee, introduced a joint resolution justifying the President "in the employment of armed forces of the United States" and setting forth that "the United States disclaims any hostility to the Mexican people or any purpose to make war on Mexico."

There was no general discussion of the subject on the floor of either house.

Aftermath.

MACHINE GUNS IN BOXES, STATEMENT OF BANKER.

Man Whose Brother was Slain in Columbus Says American Cavalrymen had to Break Down Doors Before They Could Get at Their Weapons — Declares Talk of Both Soldiers and Civilians Surprised Him.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

EL PASO, March 11.—Officers were away and the machine guns were packed in boxes and the Villa troops were in Columbus and had set fire to the buildings before the United States troops of the Thirteenth Cavalry could get out of their bunks and break down the doors for the ammunition and guns, according to J. O. Miller, a banker of Las Cruces, whose brother, Charles De Witt Miller, was shot and thrown into the fire of the Commercial Hotel Thursday morning.

"There is a story that has never been printed there of the failure of the United States troops to get into action tonight," declared Mr. Miller upon his arrival here with the body or charred remains of his brother, who was formerly State Engineer of New Mexico. "I talked with soldiers and with civilians and what I learned there surprised me. One trooper told me that they had to fight the Villa bandits who numbered less than 300 in their night clothes as they did not have any warning or time to dress. Another told me that the Villa troops divided into three squads, one burning the buildings before the troopers were awakened, another driving off a number of the cavalry horses while a third band circled the town and shot everyone who appeared at the doors or windows to see what the trouble was.

"I also learned to my surprise that many people in Columbus knew or claimed to have known that an attack on the cavalry camp was planned several days before it took place. The proprietor of the restaurant where I ate told me that he had fed a number of strange Mexicans who appeared in the town two days before the fire with plenty of gold money, talked about Villa to themselves and seemed to have no definite purpose in town.

"When the attack was made these men are the ones who pointed out where the Americans, and especially where the American officers' houses, were located. The most remarkable thing of it all was the fact that they called the American victims by name as they were led out to be shot. This was true of Dr. Harry M. Hart, I learned after careful investigation. I also heard it was true of C. C. Miller and my brother De Witt Miller. An eyewitness of the execution, a Mexican, told me that he saw my brother killed. He said he came down stairs while the hotel was burning and started to crank his car, which was standing beside the hotel when an English-speaking Mexican called him by name and shot him in the back.

"Before I left Columbus today I was told on good authority that two or three executions of the prisoners taken had occurred, but I did not have time before the train left to verify this report."

Punitive.

MEXICANS ARE INFORMED OF OUR PLAN TO INVADE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

DOUGLAS (Ariz.) March 11.—Ives C. Lelevier, Mexican Consul here, received a message today from Eliseo Arredondo, Ambassador Designate of the Mexican de facto government at Washington, officially confirming President Wilson's intention of sending a punitive expedition across the Mexican border in pursuit of Gen. Villa.

The message stated that the Ambassador had asked Gen. Carranza for instructions and advised the Consul to be "discreet and circumspect."

Trains bringing approximately 1000 infantry and cavalry of the de facto forces arrived at Naco tonight. These commands will start overland early tomorrow for Agua Prieta, from which they will be distributed at various points along the Sonora and Chihuahua borders in an effort to assist the American forces in their task of rounding up Villa's forces, according to Mexican officials.

American and Mexican military authorities reported today that last night's disturbance near Osborn, in which American cattle were roped and killed along the border, was trivial.

Consul Lelevier issued an official statement explaining the incident as the firing of several shots at a coyote by two Mexican customs guards inspecting telegraph wires between Naco and Agua Prieta, Sonora. He said Gen. P. Elias Calles investigated the incident, determined to punish raiders if the reports proved true.

SAGE AWAITS ORDERS.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

NOGALES (Ariz.) March 11.—Col. William H. Sage, commanding the Twelfth Infantry at Camp Stephen Little here, said today he had received no orders for the movement of the 2300 troops in his command. It was expected the disposition of the forces here would be unchanged for the present.

There are about 300 Carranza troops encamped about Nogales, Sonora, across the border. Several hundred refugee Villa sympathizers are here. No conflict between the factions was expected because, it was said, the only way of retreat open to the Villa faction would be to cross into American territory.

Machine Guns Readopted by U.S. Army.

Sentiment.

MEXICAN PAPERS KEEP PRETTY QUIET.

REFRAIN FROM EDITORIAL COMMENT ON INVASION.

Those Published in El Paso After Stating the Facts Generally Let it go at that, but Reference is Made to French Action in 1862 in Case of Maxmilian.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

EL PASO (Tex.) March 11.—With the exception of La Constitucion, the publication of which has been stopped by the police, the newspapers published here in Spanish have refrained from editorial comment on the action of the United States government in pursuing Francisco Villa into Mexico.

El Paso del Norte, an influential independent paper, spreads the heading across the front page:

"The American Government Orders the Invasion of Mexico," but adds as a subheading, "The same government says invasion is not intervention." It then uses the Associated Press matter from Washington and Columbus, in translation.

El Norte, also independent, and favoring neither Villa nor Carranza, plays up in large type the announcement:

"Today Begins the Invasion by North American Troops," but it uses the same material as its rival and devotes itself otherwise to speculation as to the whereabouts of Villa and the points where the Americans are likely to strike first.

La Constitucion, which is said to favor the party of Felix Diaz, came out as little more than a pamphlet of protest against Washington's attitude. On its front page huge, black letters across its columns proclaimed: "We Protest," with this statement beneath:

"Villa is not Mexico."

The paper then went on to say that individuals of all countries commit crimes against other countries and one crime is no worse than another; that the large and peacable Mexican colony in El Paso surely cannot be held responsible for the act of one man, such as Villa, and the invasion of Mexico will cause racial feeling to arouse itself on both sides with the result that both countries may suddenly become involved in a struggle.

In an editorial the Constitucion declares that the United States has intervened officially in the recent Mexican revolutions; its newspapers have published articles and cartoons to stir up American popular feeling in regard to Mexican affairs, and that not long ago the press praised Villa as the Napoleon of Mexico" and that American business interests have helped to finance and equip various revolutionary parties for selfish reasons. Then, in heavily leaded type, the paper recalls the case of French intervention in Mexico in 1862 under treaties that were afterwards entirely disregarded in the forcing of Maximilian upon a throne. La Constitucion implies that the pending invasion is likely to result in the same way as in 1862.

NEED MOTOR TRUCKS TO INVADE MEXICO.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

EL PASO (Tex.) March 11.—Representatives of the quartermasters' department of Fort Bliss visited all the dealers of motor trucks in El Paso today and gathered information as to the number now in stock and available for immediate use. Inquiries also were made as to the number of cars in commercial use in El Paso that can be mobilized at short notice for army transports. An organization was formed today by owners of pleasure cars listing their machines in case of government need.

Both mines and smelters are now idle.

ARMY FORCED TO FIGHT WITH CONDEMNED WEAPONS

Properly Armed United States Troops at Columbus Could Practically Have Wiped Out Villa's Raiders, but Owing to Shortsighted Policy Rapid Firers Became Jammed and Were Almost Useless.

BY EDWARD C. CSOSSMAN.

A PLEASANT spectacle there was at Columbus two days ago, when a horde of retreating Mexican cholo riffraff, with all the crimes of the Apaches on their souls, were exposed at short range to the fire of American machine guns—and then the guns failed.

Turned loose on a rabble of such imitation soldiers in close order, two machine guns, well served and continuing to work, would have spread half of them straggling on the New Mexican soil.

The guns that failed were the regular equipment of American infantry and cavalry regiments, special platoons in each regiment handling the guns. They were condemned bag and baggage by the board of officers, convening last year at Texas City, failing to show reliability, durability, or a single virtue outside of their light weight, which in actual use is also a drawback in that it allows the gun quickly to be jarred off the objective.

ADOPTED IN 1909.

These guns, the Benet-Mercer, several of which are in the hands of local militia machine gun platoons, were adopted in 1909, replacing the old reliable, but heavy British Vickers-Maxim. The writer, covering the trials of the two for an army magazine, expressed the opinion that the light weight of the gun, its sole recommendation, was one of its greatest objections in reality. The heavy recoil of the army infantry rifle cartridge, for which all the machine guns are chambered, makes the gun tremble violently, and quickly shakes it off the mark. It was quite noticeable even in the 150-pound Vickers gun, and in the light thirty-pound Benet-Mercer, continuous accurate fire is impossible because the gun must be relaid every ten or fifteen shots unless the mark is a large one, very close at hand. They might be good enough for airship work, for which they are used in the French service.

The writer fired one of these guns in test, some 600 rounds, at the Colt Armory in Hartford in 1912. It was a cold morning in January. For the first fifteen shots, the gun failed every shot. Eight parts broke in the fifteen shots, extractors or firing pins. The government tester in charge explained that the gun was cold, and that the violent jar of the automatic mechanism, operating at nearly 600 shots to the minute, broke the chilled steel parts. After we got it warmed up it functioned fairly well. At twenty yards, lying prone behind the gun as it is used, a clip of thirty rounds made a hole in the target about an inch wide, and four inches high, from the recoil settling the rear legs of the gun into the ground. At 200 yards, which is close range, this group would have been forty inches high, at 500, still close range, it would have been sixteen feet from top to bottom, from nothing more than the effect of the recoil jar on the gun. This is why sustained and accurate fire is impossible with a gun of this light type.

About a thousand of these guns are in the hands of American troops or in store. Knowing which, it is pleasing to note the report of the board of officers of the army on them, which resulted in their condemnation and an order for the manufacture of the improved Maxim gun with light tripod mount.

FROM THE REPORT.

I quote the report:

"It was found during these tests that it was practically impossible to obtain a continuous fire of 1000 rounds from any of the automatic rifles, Cal. 30 M. 1909 (The Benet-Mercer.) During two of the tests such fire was required, but owing to severe and frequent jams of various kinds, some of which could not be corrected within a reasonable time even by a skilled mechanic on duty with the board, it was necessary to discontinue this particular kind of test.

"With the Vickers gun no difficulty was experienced in any continuous fire and after the regular test was finished each Vickers gun fired an additional test of 6000 rounds continuous fire without a malfunction that could not be quickly and easily corrected by the gun crew.

"These tests have proven conclusively that the tripod is absolutely necessary to make the rifle effective under varied field conditions.

BOARD RECOMMENDATION.

It was ordered, on the recommendation of this board, making this test in August, 1914, that a plant be installed for the manufacture of the improved Vickers gun, to replace these defective pattern Benet-Mercer guns. In the meantime the pleasant seances such as that at Columbus go on whenever the guns are called on for duty. Lucky it will be if the invading troops in Mexico are not caught in worse fix through the jamming of these poor weapons.

This Benet-Mercier is a gun of French design, made originally at the French Hotchkiss works. It is operated by gas taken from a hole in the barrel ahead of the breech, which rushes down a piston below the barrel, and like the gas in a gas engine, operating the breech mechanism. It can be used for single shot fire, that is, a pull on the trigger fires but one shot, or it can be used for continuous fire, where holding back on the trigger causes the gun to fire at the rate of ten shots per second—or until the clip runs out or a jam occurs.

The cartridges came in clips of thirty, which lie horizontally across the breech of the gun and are fed through from side to side automatically. The entire work of firing, ejecting empty shells, reloading and firing again is, of course, done by the gas taken from the gas port in the barrel, and supplied by the explosion of each cartridge. They fire the regular infantry ammunition used in the rifles of the army.

The gun, shaped roughly like an infantry rifle, rests on short legs at muzzle and butt and the firer lies prone behind it, looking through the sights. When a barrel becomes too hot, it is taken off and replaced with the spare barrel, carried with the gun. It is air-cooled, which means practically that it is not cooled at all, where the Vickers and other guns are cooled by a water jacket around the barrel like that around the cylinders of the gas engine.

VICKERS LIGHT RIFLE.

The new gun adopted for the army, the Vickers light rifle, weighs thirty-six and one-half pounds, but with its solid tripod, carried separately in the pack, the gun holds steadily on the mark compared with the light, quivery Benet gun.

Both types of guns are carried by mule train, the packs specially adapted to carry guns and ammunition. When the new guns are issued, each infantry and cavalry regiment will have four of them, and the lessons of Europe are that nearer fifty to the regiment will be right. The objections to the use of too many of the guns are that they require immense quantities of ammunition, a pack train, men to handle them, and a large number with full equipment would see several blocks of mule train plodding along behind the infantry or cavalry regiments, cutting down their mobility to some extent.

What a good machine gun will do in skilled hands is shown by the report of the board. The writer saw at Monterey, during a visit to the school of musketry, a machine gun of the Vickers type outshoot, shot for shot, a company of skilled infantrymen at the long ranges.

The board says of the new gun:

"Over varied terrain and at unknown ranges, using an infantry range finder by which the distance to the targets was quickly found and given to the troop and company commanders, it was possible to smother the targets with the first volley, even at ranges as high as 1500 yards, without the necessity of any ranging or trial shots, whatever."

In other words, picking up a column of Villa's men at the range of nearly a mile, the first "salvo" from the machine guns, firing at the rate of 600 shots a minute, would simply smother the column in bullets. This is provided the guns do not jam, a habit to which they seem sadly addicted.

But it must have been a pleasant experience for the suddenly-aroused troops in the blackness of the hour before dawn, to turn loose their pets on the Mexican Apaches at close range—and then to have the "pets" immediately jam in a way that "the skilled mechanic with the board could not always reduce."

SOLDIERS GUARD BROWNSVILLE TRAINS.

ORGANIZING THE FORCES TO CROSS INTO MEXICO.

Funston Declines to Make Known How Large the Expedition Will Be.

An Unnamed Brigadier-General will Command the Troops Entrusted with the Business of Capturing Villa and His Bandits — Whole Direction of the Movements in Charge of the Man Who Captured Aguinaldo.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) March 11.—Instructed by the War Department at Washington that he was not to personally command the troops that will cross the Rio Grande into Mexico to search for Francisco Villa, Maj.-Gen. Frederick Funston today began to arrange the details of the expedition and to plan for the safeguarding of the entire Mexican border.

During the day the general conferred frequently with his staff at Fort Sam Houston, Southern Department headquarters. A close censorship was established, however, on proceedings. All announcements were made by Gen. Funston himself.

THE FACTS.

From Gen. Funston came this information:

That an officer subordinate to him, a brigadier-general, would command the punitive expedition.

That this officer would have complete charge in the field and would not be hampered by unnecessary instructions.

That it would take two or three days to organize the force or forces that will go in pursuit of Villa.

That the first aero squadron, stationed at Fort Sam Houston, will be a part of the expeditionary force.

That a close watch will be kept at all border points for any symptoms of disorder that will necessitate the movement of troops.

MILITARY REASONS.

Gen. Funston, for military reasons, refused to state how large the expeditionary force would be; the time the forward movement would start; whether there would be one or several forces, and the point or points at which the Rio Grande would be crossed when the search began.

It was known yesterday that Gen. Funston was willing personally to lead the force searching for Villa. It was explained here, however, that the War Department thought it best to keep Gen. Funston at Southern Department headquarters, where he would be in touch with and could direct the entire border situation.

If there should be more than one expeditionary force, the common direction will fall to Gen. Funston.

Another reason assigned was that the entire routine of the Southern Department would be interrupted if the commanding general were in the field. Gen. Funston said, too, that his place probably would have to be filled by an officer of lesser rank, not in touch with the border situation.

It is expected, however, that Gen. Funston will make frequent visits to the positions occupied by the invading troops.

TROOP MOVEMENTS.

The movement of troops from departments other than that commanded by Gen. Funston, toward the border, already has been initiated, it is understood. The amalgamation of scattered fragments of regiments, transportation, the equipment of the commissary and other details, would require, it was estimated by the general, at least two and probably three days.

All such troops will be transported directly to the border.

The utmost secrecy regarding their exact destination will be maintained. Gen. Funston has insisted on this precaution to the War Department in order that Villa may be kept as much in the dark as possible.

Army officers at Fort Sam Houston believe the border is infested with Mexicans friendly to Villa, who will do all in their power to keep him informed.

Estimates of the time required to capture the former Constitutionalist leader are not obtainable, but there was a feeling at Southern Department headquarters that the chase would be similar to the one which had as its object the seizure of Aguinaldo in the Philippines years ago.

THE AERO DETAIL.

Army officers are interested intensely in the part the First Aero Squadron will play in the pursuit. No American aero squadron ever before has had actual military service. Machines were sent to Vera Cruz and there has been aerial scouting done along the border, but this is the first real test of the "fourth arm" of the service.

It is not known when the squadron will leave San Antonio, but it has been announced that it will be ready by tomorrow afternoon. Weather conditions now are perfect for flying and it is thought that the start of the journey will not be delayed any longer than is necessary.

Capt. Benjamin D. Foulois, commanding the ten officers under him who comprise the "flyers" of the squadron, and the eighty troopers completing the detachment, worked hard today preparing for their departure. A big part of the equipment will go forward by train.

All of the officers under Capt. Foulois with the exception of Lieut. A. R. Christie will go to the front. Most of them are veteran aviators. Several of them participated in the flight of the First Aero Squadron from Fort Sill, Okla., last November, when the squadron was transferred to Fort Sam Houston.

Capt. Foulois and Lieut. J. E. Carberry, T. S. Bowen, I. A. Rader and C. G. Chapman are the present members of the squadron who made the flight from Fort Sill.

Other members are Capt. T. F. Dodd and Lieut. H. A. Dargue, [illegible] Gorrell, W. G. Kilner and R. H. Willis.

While no reports have been received of disorders along the border, preparations have been made to quell any that may arise. Gen. Funston has here about 1500 men, comprising the three land branches of the service, that might be sent to the aid of the troops already at Brownsville, Laredo and other Texas border points.

PIONEER AIRMAN.

Capt. Foulois, in command of the First Aero Squadron, is one of the army's first pioneer airmen. He was with Orville Wright in the first cross-country flight of America of any consequence—that from Fort Myer, Va., to Alexandria, in 1908. He was an officer of the Seventeenth Infantry when he entered the flying corps. He is a married man and has a family.

The squadron is undermanned, as its full complement should be twenty flying men. The equipment, in addition to the eight aeroplanes, consists of twenty heavy motor trucks and five motorcycles, the latter being used for the rapid transportation of gasoline and of parts to crippled machines.

Twenty-five aeroplane guns and a quantity of ammunition will go forward with the motor trucks, it is understood.

ATTITUDE OF CARRANZA IS A PUZZLE IN EL PASO.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

EL PASO (Tex.) March 11.—First Chief Carranza's attitude toward the United States as a result of Villa's brigandage is unknown to Gen. Gavira, the commandant at Juarez. Gen. Gavira stated to the Associated Press tonight that he had not received a word from the Mexican government relative to the crisis, but added that Gen. Luis Gutierrez, military head of the State of Chihuahua, would arrive at Juarez on a special train tomorrow for a conference.

In reply to the question as to whether Gen. Pershing would be a party to the meeting, the general answered "no," that the conference was entirely personal.

He was quick to deny the report that the Mexican populace took a hostile view of President Wilson's position.

"I have the greatest faith in Mr. Wilson's disinterestedness and friendly motives," he said, "and I am quite positive that Gen. Gutierrez shares my views. We shall be glad to co-operate with the United States."

Inquiries among well-informed Mexicans in Juarez showed that the entry of American troops on Mexican soil is not altogether welcome. One Mexican in an official position, speaking guardedly of the affair, but expressed his real feelings in this form:

"We are now placing large [illegible]

TROOPS EAGER FOR SERVICE.

Regulars and Militia Await the Call to Mexico.

Thousands Could Leave in an Hour's Notice.

Battalion of Engineers is Ready to Entrain.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) March 11.—Orders were issued at Fort Sam Houston late today for the Second Battalion of Engineers, composed of Companies E, G and H, with Maj. L. Brown, commanding, to entrain. Similar orders were issued to field hospital No. 7, Maj. Jere B. Clayton, commanding, and to ambulance company No. 7, Maj. Harold L. Jones, commanding. No destinations were announced, except that the details would go "west."

The engineering detail comprises one-third of the United States Engineering Corps and the order to entrain indicates that heavy engineering work is expected ahead of the expeditionary force.

Each company of the battalion is composed of from 140 to 150 men.

The ambulance detail consists of twelve ambulances. It finished entraining tonight, but the other details probably will not be entrained before tomorrow afternoon.

ORDERED TO BISBEE.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

DOUGLAS (Ariz.) March 11.—Companies L and I of the Eleventh Infantry were ordered today to proceed to Bisbee because of threatened trouble there between American and Mexican residents, as a result of a bomb explosion last night in which [illegible] Mexicans were hurt.

"TEXAS MAVERICKS."

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

DALLAS (Tex.) March 11.—A regiment of Rough Riders had been organized long in advance of the present Mexican crisis and now awaits acceptance by the government, according to E. W. Edwards, the organizer, a Dallas business man and veteran of the Spanish-American War. He wired his offer today to the government through Hatton W. Sumners, Texas Representative in Congress. The regiment is called the "Texas Mavericks," and is composed of 800 men.

READY AT VANCOUVER.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

VANCOUVER (Wash.) March 11.—Col. Francis M. French, commander of the Twenty-first Infantry here, who received orders yesterday to hold his men in readiness for prompt entraining, stated today that all preparations had been completed and that the infantry could leave on one hour's notice. The rank and file are impatiently awaiting developments.

MILITIA IS READY.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

CHICAGO, March 11.—Thousands of State militiamen over the country could be mobilized within a few hours if needed for service in Mexico, according to dispatches received today from various State capitals. Among the National Guard forces that, according to their officers, could be ready in from twelve to thirty-six hours after a call from the War Department, are the following:

Ohio, 1000 officers and men.

Michigan, 4500 officers and men.

Texas, 3400 officers and men, including infantry, cavalry and a field hospital corps.

Indiana, 3000 officers and men.

Wisconsin, three infantry regiments; three batteries of artillery and a troop of cavalry.

South Carolina, 2157 officers and men.

Virginia, entire State militia.

At Cumberland, Md., last night the Mountaineer Minute Men, 200 strong, offered to the Governor.

Following a proposal made to the Training Camp Association last night that a volunteer regiment be enlisted through the efforts of those who took part in the training camp at Fort Sheridan last year, and that the regiment be offered to President Wilson in the event of need of more troops to meet the Mexican situation, a recruiting station was opened today in a downtown hotel.

FT. RUSSELL CONTINGENT.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

CHEYENNE (Wyo.) March 11.—The 2000 United States troops at Fort D. A. Russell were made ready today for immediate movement upon instructions from Washington. Railroads were mobilizing equipment for their use. The present garrison consists of the Twenty-fourth Regiment of Infantry, two troops of cavalry, a field hospital and ambulance corps.

IN WEST VIRGINIA.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

CHARLESTON (W. Va.) March 11.—Adjt.-Gen. John Bond, after receiving reports from officers of the West Virginia National Guard, said that he could have 1800 men with the necessary field equipment ready to move in forty-eight hours should the government need them for service on the border. A movement has been started here to purchase an aeroplane for the guard.

IOWA IS PATRIOTIC.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

DES MOINES (Iowa) March 11.—Three thousand and five hundred members of the Iowa State Guard could be assembled ready for instant service on forty-eight hours' notice, according to a statement today by Adjt.-Gen. Logan.

EQUIPMENT IS ASSEMBLED.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

OMAHA (Neb.) March 11.—Instructions came to the Omaha office of the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad from the War Department at Washington to immediately assemble equipment at Fort Meade, S. D., and Fort Robinson, Neb., preparatory to moving the troops now there to the Mexican border. Instructions came to the Union Pacific to prepare to transport the troops now at Fort D. A. Russell, near Cheyenne, Wyo., south.

WAR FOOTING IN MISSOURI.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

JEFFERSON CITY (Mo.) March 11.—The entire National Guard organization of Missouri today was placed at the disposal of the War Department at Washington for service in Mexico. The services of the organization were offered by Adjt.-Gen. O'Meara. The war footing of the Missouri National Guard now is approximately [illegible] men, consisting of four regiments. There are two troops of cavalry, three light batteries and signal and hospital corps.

IN SOUTH DAKOTA.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

STURGIS (S. D.) March 11.—The Third Squadron Troops, I.K.L.M., Twelfth Cavalry, stationed at this point, have received orders to be prepared to leave for the Mexican border on a moment's notice.

THE MARYLAND BRIGADE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BALTIMORE (Md.) March 11.—Within forty-eight hours after the issuing of an order to mobilize, the 2300 men who form the First Brigade of the Maryland National Guard would be under tents, according to the statement today of a high officer of the militia.

Brig.-Gen. Charles D. Gaither, who would command the forces, put the machinery of mobilization in action at the time of the Vera Cruz incident and is prepared for any order he may receive.

TROOP I IS NEEDED.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

FORT RILEY (Kan.) March 11.—Orders were received this afternoon from the headquarters of the Central Division for Troop I, Thirteenth Cavalry, to be in readiness to start for the border in event dispatches to move were received from the War Department at Washington. Troop I is the only line organization now at Fort Riley, the remainder of the troops being on the border.

KAISER'S FIFTH SON WEDS A PRINCESS.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

AMSTERDAM (via London) March 11.—The marriage of Prince Joachim, the fifth son of Emperor William, and Princess Marie Augustine, daughter of Prince Edward of Anhalt, was celebrated today in the royal castle of Bellevue, according to a dispatch from Berlin. The marriage took place in the presence of the Empress of Germany, the Duke and Duchess of Anhalt, and other relatives. Emperor William was not present.

The engagement of Prince Joachim and Princess Marie was officially announced October 14, last. Prince Joachim was 25 years old on December 15, last, and he is a captain in the Fourteenth Regiment of Hussars. He was the only unmarried child of the Emperor. Princess Marie Augustine is the eldest child of Prince Edward of Anhalt, and was born June 10, 1898. She is a niece of the reigning duke, Frederick II of Anhalt.

Prince Joachim has been serving with the German army on the Russian front. Late in April, 1915, it was reported he had narrowly escaped capture by the Russians. Last August it was reported he would be made King of Poland.

The father of the bride has been reported as fighting with the German army under the Crown Prince, brother of the bridegroom, in the Verdun region.

ALLIED LOSSES THREE MILLIONS.

[BY WIRELESS AND A. P.]

BERLIN; March 11, (via Sayville, N. Y.)—According to confidential statements made by the French Minister of War, Gen. Gallieni, at the military conference, says a dispatch from Amsterdam to the Overseas News Agency, the French casualties up to March 1, 1916, amounted to 800,000 dead and 1,400,000 wounded. Among the latter, the dispatch adds, 400,000 were severely wounded. In addition 300,000 men were missing.

The total losses of the French, Gen. Gallieni's statement shows, continues the Overseas News Agency, have reached 2,500,000, while the British up to the present have lost 600,000.

MAN DISCOVERS REAL CAUSE OF LONG STANDING HAIR TROUBLE

Thought it was Dandruff, but Prof. John H. Austin, Eminent Bacteriologist, Hair and Scalp Specialist of Chicago, Showed the Ailment to be "Alopecia Pityrodes."

—Had used all kinds of remedies without result—says Prof. Austin was first to show just what the trouble was, why it caused falling hair—and best of all—how to cure it.

—Prof. Austin, who has had 37 years experience in conditions of the hair and scalp, is now at Hamburger's and says there are about 60 different ailments to which the hair and scalp are subject. For instance, there is the above mentioned common scalp trouble, Alopecia Pityrodes—it starts with a scaling of the scalp, sometimes slight, called "dandruff," sometimes abundant—producing thick, grayish-white, dry or greasy scales—which leads to falling of the hair. This stage lasts from two to seven years, as a rule.

—At first when the hair starts to fall, it is hardly noticeable, but as this ailment, "Alopecia Pityrodes," becomes more deeply seated, and the germs multiply, as they always do, the falling of the hair increases rapidly and in time the head becomes entirely bald. Both men and women of all ages are subject to "Alopecia Pityrodes," but particularly those between the ages of 20 and 35 years.

—Then, there are different stages of itching scalp, falling hair, excessively oily hair, dandruff, split hair, dry and brittle hair, and so on, until we reach the more dangerous forms, such as—Alopecia Areata, Seborrhoea Oleosa, etc.

—And this is what Prof. Austin has studied for 37 years. He has found that only a most powerful microscope can determine the exact trouble with which your scalp is afflicted. Yes, he has found just what treatment should be used for each case. He has made this profession a science.

—Prof Austin says that the use of mange cures, dandruff cures, hair tonic, vaseline and elixirs is like taking medicine without knowing what you are trying to cure.

—People troubled with scalp ailments should see Prof. Austin. Let him turn a powerful microscope upon their hair and show them these parasites that destroy the hair cells and the roots, and they will be convinced that the particular trouble of each and every scalp must first be known before it can be intelligently treated.

—The right remedy at the right time is a certain cure. Guesswork is of no practical value concerning hair troubles.

—This microscopic examination costs you absolutely nothing, and places you under no obligations to follow any advice Prof. Austin may offer. A few moments of your time could not be put to a more beneficial use.

—See Prof. Austin any day this week—both men and women are invited to take advantage of this Free Microscopic Examination of the hair and scalp. Prof. Austin's private office, Second Floor, Hamburger's—Hours 10 to 12 and 2 to 4 daily.

AIMEE MARTIAL
After Treatment.
The Famous French Beauty and Companion of King George of Greece.
Have You Wrinkles?
Is your face getting flabby, lines around your eyes, muscles drooping, puffs under eyes, lids drooping, premature age, pittings, scars, freckles, sallowness, growing aged, while apparently young?
Do not wear them. Be beautiful. Have the face of twenty to thirty years ago. Madam Mays discovered a never-failing process for rejuvenating the face; making women beautiful; banishing the unwelcome, undesirable, unwholesome traces that make one called old while still young; removing the traces of sorrow and illness that cause the skin to relax and muscles to droop. Thousands of women rejoice in the face of young womanhood from all parts of the civilized world since treated by Madam Mays. Actresses called beautiful today, though sixty or more, were restored by her. Would you like to be called beautiful? Do you feel the weight of the years your face indexes? No, No. Does the compliment, "How beautiful she grows!" make you happy? Those one loves are proud of one while youthful and beautiful—then make yourself so. It is your inspiration to greater happiness. Beauty brings you what you most desire. Come and see the testimonials and pictures of before and after treatment. Twenty, thirty or more years change in appearance, without failure. Wrinkles grow deeper daily if not removed. You cannot afford to lose this opportunity. Madam Mays has given 25 years to her fascinating work in New York without one failure. She is here for a short visit. Work guaranteed permanent. Call or send for booklet of testimonials.

May Call Militia.

the report reached the State Department that a Norwegian bark with seven Americans on board had been torpedoed without warning. The Americans were rescued, but nevertheless here was an absolute defiance to President Wilson's warning that he would not tolerate violation of recognized international law.

At the most the United States can place fewer than 40,000 men along the border of Texas, New Mexico, Arizona and California and at the same time pursue Villa. This number is grotesquely inadequate for the defense of the border and to capture Villa, much less pacify Mexico. There are now 25,000 men along the border. There are about 15,000 mobile troops at other points within the United States. Send them south, and the only armed troops remaining are those which are stationed at posts along the Coast. It is evident these men must not be disturbed, in the present stage of the world's conflict and the possibility that in some way the United States may be drawn in.

There is no question that the developments in Mexico have assured and expedited the enactment of the preparedness programme. To this extent, it has been beneficial. Even William J. Bryan cannot object to an increase of the army, now that in a formal statement he has approved the President's purpose to pursue Villa.

OPPOSED TO INTERVENTION.

While preparations are being made to meet any possible contingency, this fact ought not to be lost sight of by the public. President Wilson is emphatically opposed to intervention. He will avoid it in every way he can. He is determined that Villa shall be captured and punished for the attack made upon Columbus, just as he was determined to oust Huerta. But it is his hope, indeed, his purpose, to avoid a war in connection with Mexico. He proposes to exhaust every resource to induce Carranza to acquiesce in his programme of capturing Villa, and only armed offense by the Carranza forces will cause him to give orders to restore peace in the neighboring republic. Mr. Wilson believes the raids into New Mexico and Arizona were inspired by the purpose of Villa and particularly some nation or interest or persons behind to precipitate intervention and thus bring about Carranza's overthrow. He does not intend to fall into this trap, if it possibly can be avoided. This consideration may influence him not to address Congress personally, for Congress might get the notion that the administration is preparing to intervene. The President also is opposed, for the moment, to the dispatch of reinforcements to the border. This might cause suspicion and alarm among the Carranzistas. Only preliminary orders have been issued to the mobile troops to be ready to move when the instructions are issued.

NO AGITATION.

It is the purpose of Congress not to agitate the Mexican situation at this time. There was a meeting of the Foreign Relations Committee of the Senate this morning and Senator Stone of Missouri, the chairman, explained what had happened and the purpose of the President to capture Villa and put an end to his forays. An informal understanding was reached to stand by the President, and his "course thus far" was indorsed. Both Republicans and Democrats realized that the President's act would constitute "acts short of war" and that therefore it was necessary for Congress to declare war under its constitutional authority. It will be recalled that the occupation of Vera Cruz two years ago occurred without Congressional authority. The Ambassadors from Brazil and Chile called upon Secretary Lansing today and were informed of all the developments thus far in connection with Mexico and the purpose of the President. Neither diplomat had any objection to offer. It is understood their sole purpose was to acquire information in order to advise their governments.

BAKER'S STATEMENT.

Secretary Baker told the newspaper men today:

"It is a defensive expedition, not a punitive expedition."

The question as to what constitutes a "defensive expedition" may excite as much comment as the problem under discussion with the Central European powers—when does a defensive gun become a weapon of offense?

STRICT CENSORSHIP.

The strictest and most comprehensive military censorship ever established by the United States government, more strict than anything attempted during the war with Spain, was established at the War Department last night. Orders were given to every employee and officer to disclose no information. An officer was detailed to give to the press such information as would not embarrass Gen. Funston's plans, and complete arrangements have been made for making public those of Gen. Funston's messages that are to be made public. On the border many arrests of Mexican spies have been made and effective steps have been taken to prevent American military information leaking across the border to Villa or those who may aid him.

Secretary of War Baker announced late this afternoon that Gen. Funston was free to move his expeditionary force across the border at any time. Secretary Baker said that he had received no official word to the effect that any of the expeditionary troops had actually crossed the border, but added:

"Gen. Funston has been for some hours free to start at any time across the border and whenever to him the opportunity seemed best."

Convention.

STRAIGHT ISSUE IN CALIFORNIA.

Between the Real Republicans or the Counterfeit.

Berendsen Succeeds Welch on the Delegation.

Earl's Organization Elects Britten President.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 11.—Richard J. Welch of San Francisco, resigned today as nominee on the regular Republican ticket of delegates to the Republican National Convention in Chicago next June. Johannes C. Berendsen of San Francisco, was named to fill the vacancy.

The action was taken at a meeting of the campaign committee appointed by the Republican State Central Committee, under whose auspices a convention was held in this city last Saturday, at which a platform was adopted and a slate of delegates was framed.

Ralph L. Hathorn of San Francisco was chosen today as campaign manager for the northern half of California. He said in accepting the office:

"The issue in California is clean cut as to whether real and loyal Republicans shall be permitted to rehabilitate the party, or whether we shall submit to the dictation of those in authority outside our party."

In resigning as candidate for election as delegate, Mr. Welch wrote the committee that his duties as a San Francisco Supervisor would not permit of his acceptance.

"UNITED" REPUBLICANS.

The United Republicans of California, organized to elect twenty-six candidates to the Republican National Convention in Chicago, chose the following officers today:

President, John A. Britten, San Francisco; first vice-president, E. C. Bellows, Los Angeles; second vice-president, Alden Anderson, Sacramento; third vice-president, Miss Margaret Ogden, Oakland; fourth vice-president, Laurence Flaherty, San Francisco; treasurer, Mortimer Fleishhacker, San Francisco; secretary, Egbert J. Gates, Pasadena.

When the preliminary organization was formed several weeks ago Guy C. Earl of Oakland was elected chairman and Mr. Gates secretary.

THE WEATHER ELSEWHERE.

Temperature Rises Slightly in Middle West—Cold in the East.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 11.—Temperature rose slightly over the Middle West today, accompanied by snow in Michigan and Wisconsin, but Eastern States continue cold and clear. Chicago's maximum was 40 deg., rising from 26 deg. last night and dropping off to 34 deg. tonight. The Ohio Valley was 4 deg. colder than Chicago. Western Canadian points still show 30 deg. below zero. Other temperatures:

TWO EXPEDITIONS TO EXPLORE THE WEST.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, March 11.—Two expeditions under the direction of the Museum of Natural History will be sent out for exploration in the West during the present season, it was announced today. Barnum Brown will be in charge of one, which will prospect for the dinosaur in the Bad Lands of Alberta. The other, under the direction of Alfred Thompson, will explore Central Nebraska to trace the later tertiary stage in the evolution of horses, mammoths and the mastodon.

MOTORSHIP LINE PLANNED IN SEATTLE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SEATTLE (Wash.) March 11.—A company has been formed here, financed in part by Charles A. and Otto Burckhardt of the Alaska Pacific Fisheries of Portland, Or., to build a number of merchant motorships for carrying passengers and freight. The hulls will be of wood and the vessels will be the first large motorboats under the American flag. Norway, Denmark and Sweden are building large numbers of such boats. The company which has leased a site for its new ship yard will own and operate the vessels, the first of which will be launched within seven months.

SEATTLE LUMBER MAN HELD AS SMUGGLER.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SEATTLE (Wash.) March 11.—Louis E. Lorti, a Seattle lumber man, aged 56, was arrested last night and United States Immigration Commissioner Henry M. White says Lorti is accused of smuggling thousands of Chinese into the United States. A secret indictment was returned against Lorti and fifteen Chinese January 19 last by a Federal grand jury here. Lorti disappeared a month earlier and immigration inspectors had been seeking him for months.

HALF A MILLION INHERITANCE TAX.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 11.—An inheritance tax of $500,000, said to be the largest ever paid in California, was paid to the State today on the California estate of James B. Haggin, who died in New York in 1914, at the age of 91. It was placed to the credit of John S. Chambers, State Controller, in the Bank of California here.

The $500,000 does not represent all of the tax which must eventually be paid on Mr. Haggin's California holdings, according to William A. Sullivan, inheritance tax appraiser. Attorneys for the estate said they did not doubt that the total tax would reach $750,000.

The Haggin estate in California comprises 450,000 acres of land in Kern county besides a great amount of securities.

SAVES PEOPLE MILLIONS.

Faulty Scales and Measures Corrected by the State Superintendent.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, March 11.—Charles G. Johnson, State Superintendent of the Department of Weights and Measures, has just completed his first annual report for the work accomplished during the last year and he estimates that an annual saving of between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000 has been made to the people in the correction and confiscation of faulty weights and measures.

During the year Johnson has sealed and caused to be corrected 1,461,950 measures and weighing devices. During this same space of time 17,381 scales were condemned for repairs and 244,104 weighing and measuring devices were condemned and destroyed.

Under the direction of Johnson 68,059 packages, containing merchandise, were inspected and of this number 11,733 were found to be short, while 2500 were overweight.

HALF-MILLION CHECK PAYS TRANSFER TAX.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, March 11.—A check for $510,000 was sent to the State Comptroller today to cover the transfer tax on the $20,000,000 estate left by the late James B. Haggin, financier and turfman, who died at Newport, R. I., September 12, 1914. By paying the tax by March 12 it is said the estate will save an educational assessment of about $50,000.

The official appraisal of the Haggin estate has not been made, but those who estimated its value in order to make the proper advance transfer tax payment assert that stocks alone worth $13,409,000 were owned by Mr. Haggin.

FINDS WIFE'S BODY AT STAIRS' BOTTOM.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN JOSE, March 11.—Returning to his home this evening, Hans Gregorson, a laborer, found the body of his wife lying at the bottom of the stairs leading into the basement. She had broken her neck as a result of the fall. She was 50 years of age and a native of Germany.

FLEET OF SEALERS ON WAY TO NORTH.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ST. JOHNS (N. F.) March 11.—The sealing season was well under way tonight with the departure of the fleet for the Labrador coast and the Gulf of St. Lawrence. The only steel steamer in the fleet this year is the Florizel, which, during the summer, is regularly run in the New York-St. Johns service. All of the modern sealing vessels have been requisitioned by the British government for ice-breaking at Archangel, where some of them now are frozen in. To replace them, many of the old wooden steamers formerly engaged in sealing and many coastal steamers have been equipped for work among the floes this season.

ASKS OPERATORS TO VOLUNTEER.

Western Union Men are Needed for Service During the Mexico Invasion.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

CHICAGO, March 11.—A call for volunteer telegraph operators for service with the troops that are to pursue Francisco Villa in Mexico was issued here today by the traffic manager of the Central division of the Western Union Telegraph Company.

A heavy increase in telegraph traffic is expected from the small army of newspaper men that is to accompany the troops, the company said. Government and army messages as usual will be given preference.

Auxiliary Cruiser Laurentic Fired Shot Across Bow.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 11.—The American steamer China, from which thirty-eight men were taken by a British boarding party, February 1[illegible] off the Japanese coast, arrived here today.

C. L. Brown, special deputy collector of the port, acting for Collector J. O. Davis, summoned Capt. F. Frazier to his office to make a report.

Capt. Frazier declined to make public the details of the boarding of the China, but some of them were supplied by Mrs. W. B. Knapp, a passenger who said she took stenographic notes of some of the conversation and pictures.

The China was stopped with a shot across her bow from the British auxiliary cruiser Laurentic about [illegible] miles out from the mouth of the Yangtse Kiang River and boarded by Lieuts. B. Newberry and Steele and a detail of five of the Laurentic's crew, according to Mrs. Knapp, whose story was corroborated by other passengers. The China spied the Laurentic lying squarely in the steamer lane.

SAW SOLID SHOT.

"We saw two puffs of smoke arise from her guns," said Mrs. Knapp, "but Capt. Frazier continued on his course. Then a solid shot hissed across our bow and we stopped short.

"We could plainly make out the name of our captor as the Laurentic. We saw a boat lowered quickly and three officers and nineteen men came alongside of the China. Lieuts. Newberry and Steele and the five men came aboard armed.

"'You can't come aboard my ship armed. This is an American ship,' protested Capt. Frazier.

"'We just want to look over your baggage and passengers,' replied Lieut. Newberry.

The passengers were lined up on the deck and each man asked if he were a German, according to Mrs. Knapp, who said the Germans, Austrians, and Turks were then segregated. Two of the Germans taken off, W. F. Schuetter, a merchant of Tsing Tau, and Richard Webber, left their wives aboard the China, Mrs. Webber with three children.

WOMEN WERE SOBBING.

"The women were crying and sobbing," said Mrs. Knapp, "and one of the British officers, touched at the plight of Mrs. Webber, said to Webber, 'Get out of here—get below.'

Webber, said Mrs. Knapp, was headstrong and protested the right of the British to take any Germans, but finally he was herded to the Laurentic with the thirty-seven others.

According to Peter Hurley, a passenger, the Laurentic had been waiting ten days for the China to come out with the transport of Germans, looking for spies.

Look Tin Eli, president of the China Mail Steamship Company, owners of the China, was at the dock today when the vessel arrived but beyond a comment that "the episode was a serious one," he had nothing to say. Attaches of the German consulate were also at the dock to care for the twenty-four German women and children aboard the vessel.

GUNBOAT PRINCETON NOT WORTH FIXING.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SEATTLE (Wash.) March 11.—Orders have been received at the Puget Sound navy yard to place the gunboat Princeton out of commission at the earliest possible date. It is understood that the Princeton, which recently returned from Samoan waters, will be sold to the highest bidder. The gunboat was damaged so seriously by striking a Samoan coral reef that a board of survey decided she was not worth repairing.

VILLA IS NEAR EL TIGRE MINE.

Bandit is Moving Southwest to Sonora Border.

Columbus, N. M., is Quiet; Band Gives Concert.

Only Handful of Men Chased the Mexicans Away.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

COLUMBUS (N. M.) March 11.—The bandit Villa, according to an official telegram received at the headquarters of the Thirteenth Cavalry tonight, has moved southwest toward the Sonora State border in the general direction of the El Tigre mine district.

Troopers of the Thirteenth Cavalry which beat off Villa's raid on Columbus Thursday were fully prepared today to move into Mexico at a moment's notice and men and officers chafed at the delay in orders to begin a chase of the Mexican insurgent chief.

Columbus, in contrast to the nervousness which bordered on panic last night, was calm and quiet when darkness fell, and the Thirteenth Regiment band resumed its concerts tonight.

Col. H. J. Slocum's general report of Villa's attempted invasion, completed today, showed as its outstanding feature the fact that Villa, with from 1500 to 2500 men, was chased across the border fifteen miles into Mexico by fifty-nine officers and men of Troops F and H and Maj. Frank Tompkins. This force fought four actions with Villa's rear guard of at least 300 men, killed at least seventy-five Mexicans, recovered a number of horses stolen from the cavalry by the bandits and emerged with the loss of only two mounts killed with no casualties.

MEXICANS DISORGANIZED.

During the pursuit, which Maj. Tompkins could not continue without food and reinforcement, the Mexicans, apparently badly disorganized and fearful of a chase by the entire American forces, abandoned large quantities of loot stolen from the residents of Columbus. The army corral here was crowded with cavalry and transport animals captured from Villa.

The death of Capt. Pablo Garcia and the serious condition of some of the other wounded Villa prisoners in the post hospital caused a change in the plan to arraign them on formal charges of murder today on account of the deaths of the eight American soldiers killed or fatally wounded during the battle. Agents of the Department of Justice said today that these charges would be held in abeyance until the prisoners were in condition to appear in a United States court.

TROOPS ARE EAGER.

Eagerness to be away in pursuit of Villa and his followers was displayed today in the activities of United States troops on the border here. Confident that an early start would result in the speedy capture of Villa and the extermination of outlaw bands in Northern Mexico, the border forces here had preparations completed to move immediately upon the receipt of orders.

Throughout the day there was the usual grist of rumors. Constant vigilance was maintained by sentries and the daylight hours passed without important incident. John Blankenship, ranch foreman at Milpias, eighteen miles west, and family, arrived here and told of a raid on their home by Mexicans before dawn. Blankenship, his wife and two children heard the Mexicans approaching, and sought safety in the brush until the band dis- [illegible]

VILLA AT ASCENSION SOUTH OF PALOMAS.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, March 11.—Latest reports of the whereabouts of Gen. Villa say he reached Ascension, south of Palomas, some time yesterday with 300 followers, after his retreat following the attack on Columbus. This information reached here today in a message to the Carranza agency from Consul Andreas Garcia at El Paso.

Garcia reported that Gen. [illegible], military commander at [illegible], was informed of this by Gen. Bertani from Palomas at 11 p.m. yesterday. Bertani also reported Villa [illegible] casualties in the encounter with American troops at Columbus and in the pursuit which followed. The day after the Columbus battle Villa avoided an encounter with troops of Gen. Bertani. The Mormon colonists are in [illegible], he said.

FIFTEEN ENGINEERS ORDERED TO EL PASO.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BROWNSVILLE (Tex.) March 11.—Lieut. H. Brand and fifteen men of the United States Engineering Corps at Fort Brown were ordered tonight to proceed to El Paso immediately. They will leave Sunday morning.

The international bridge between Brownsville and Matamoros was heavily guarded by American soldiers tonight as a matter of precaution.

FOUR NEW REGIMENTS ORDERED TO BORDER.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, March 11 — Gen. Funston asked the War Department late tonight for four additional regiments of cavalry for patrol duty on the border. Gen. Scott, chief-of-staff, immediately issued orders for the First Cavalry, Monterey, Cal.; the Eleventh Cavalry, Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., and the Twelfth Cavalry, Robinson, Neb., to proceed at once to the border. The Fifth Cavalry, Fort Myer, Va., was order to hold itself in readiness to move. Gen. Funston said the fourth regiment was not needed immediately.

MANY ACRES OPEN FOR HOMESTEADERS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, March 11.—More than 2,000,000 acres of public lands were designated by the Interior Department as enterable by homesteaders in February, it was announced today. Some of the land already has been settled and applications have been filed for settlement on much of the rest.

The land opened is scattered throughout nearly 200 counties in nine Western States. In Arizona 17,000 acres were opened and in California 73,000.

Appreciation.

ISSUE OF PREPAREDNESS AS VIEWED BY GEN. WOOD.

Those Most Concerned with the Programme, He Says, are the Men and the Wives and the Families of the Men Who in War Constitute the Rank and File — Text of His New York Address.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, March 11.—The people whom preparedness most concerns are the men and the wives and families of men who in war constitute the rank and file of the armies of the world, Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood declared in an address before the Suffolk County Society here tonight.

"They have and we desire for them," he said, "a better possible destiny than to become food for powder, certainly not until all means to settle difficulties have become exhausted, and we desire for their families a better future than starvation amid the ruins of their homes and villages.

"A better destiny would be rendered more probably and more secure by such well ordered measures in the way of preparedness as will protect us against unjust aggression.

"When once there is a general appreciation of the fact that equality of obligation goes with equality of privilege, or, in other words, that obligation goes hand in hand with suffrage, we shall have much less loose talk about war, and more effort to adjust international difficulties by means other than force whenever possible. We shall also have a much more serious appreciation of what a resort to force means for each and every one of us.

"Preparation of the men of a nation to make themselves effective and efficient defenders in case of possible stress or trouble is one of the strongest influences for national solidarity. It tends to remove those little distinctions incident to religion and social position and to make all men appreciative of the fact that, after all, they belong to one country, and that one of their most important duties is to be ready to defend it effectively.

"Many people claim that preparedness induces war. This statement is wholly unsound. An international highwayman counts the cost of a contemplated attack, just as the burglar avoids the well guarded house. Unpreparedness produces a condition of absolute helplessness to resist wrong."

AUSTRIAN NAMED ON TURKISH BOARD.

[BY WIRELESS AND A. P.]

BERLIN, March 11 (via Sayville.)—Dispatches from Constantinople say that Philip Arslan, an Austrian, has been appointed a permanent member of the Board of Directors of the Turkish public debt administration in place of A. Bonneu, a Frenchman; H. R. Boetzke, a German, has been appointed Secretary-General of the administration, and Ad Reida Bey, a director.

TAKES THE PLACE OF DANGEROUS CALOMEL

New Discovery! Dodson's Liver Tone Acts Like Calomel But Doesn't Gripe, Salivate or Make You Sick—Don't Lose a Day's Work—Harmless Liver Medicine for Men, Women, Children—Read Guarantee!

Ugh! Calomel makes you sick. It's horrible! Take a dose of the dangerous drug tonight and tomorrow you may lose a day's work.

Calomel is mercury or quicksilver which causes necrosis of the bones. Calomel, when it comes into contact with sour bile crashes into it, breaking it up. This is when you feel that awful nausea and cramping. If you are sluggish and "all knocked out," if your liver is torpid and bowels constipated, or you have headache, dizziness, coated tongue, if breath is bad or stomach sour, just try a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tone tonight.

Here's my guarantee—Go to any drug store and get a 50 cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't straighten you right up and make you feel fine and vigorous I want you to go back to the store and get your money. Dodson's Liver Tone is destroying the sale of calomel because it is real liver medicine; entirely vegetable, therefore it can not salivate or make you sick.

I guarantee that one spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone will put your sluggish liver to work and clean your bowels of that sour bile and constipated waste which is clogging your system and making you feel miserable. I guarantee that a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone will keep your entire family feeling fine for months. Give it to your children. It is harmless; doesn't gripe and they like its pleasant taste.

FURTHER GAINS BY THE GERMANS

Sudden Thrust of the Saxon Regiments is Victorious.

Additional Ground is Taken from French at Verdun.

Kaiser's Seaplanes Attack Warships of the Czar.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, March 11.—Saxon regiments by a sudden thrust in the Champagne, at a point where there have been few breaks in the routine of trench warfare for several months, have captured positions over a considerable section of the French front. The German War Office announces that the ground gained was about two-thirds of a mile deep along 1400 yards of front and that several guns and more than 700 prisoners were taken.

The attack was made at a point near Rheims, some distance west of the scene of the last previous German assault in the Champagne. There have been no indications thus far that the Germans have attempted to follow up their attack. Apparently it was a detached move, similar to their successful stroke in the Champagne during the early part of the Verdun drive.

Although the French continue to offer stubborn defense before Verdun, the Germans have succeeded in gaining additional ground. Berlin announces that the French have been cleared from Corbeaux and Cumieres woods, west of the Meuse. The official French statement says the Germans captured part of the town of Vaux, northeast of Verdun, but were unable to reach the fortress of that name.

The German Admiralty reports that German seaplanes attacked a Russian squadron of one battleship and five destroyers off the coast of Bulgaria. It is said some of the destroyers were hit.

A wireless dispatch from Berlin gives a report, said to be based on information given confidentially by the French War Minister, Gen. Gallieni, that French casualties to March 1 amounted to 2,500,000. It is said 800,000 were killed and 1,400,000 wounded, 400,000 of them severely, and that 300,000 are missing.

The German offensive for the time being has been slackened in the Verdun region. The French official report announces that there has been no recent attempt at infantry action on the part of the Germans along the whole front.

On the east bank of the Meuse, the region around Douaumont is being subjected to a heavy bombardment, but on the rest of the center and in the Woevre the guns are not working so actively, and on the western bank of the Meuse in that section from Bethincourt to the Cote de L'Oie the artillery duel has been comparatively unimportant.

In that region the Germans claim to have retaken most of the Corbeaux wood, the possession of which is likely to prove a factor in an attack on the Cote de L'Oie, the Germans also holding Hill 265 to the northeast of that important strategic position.

Describing the German attacks on the French trenches west of Douaumont on Friday, the official statement of the French War Office says that the Germans three times in columns of four rushed forward to the assault, but were moved down by artillery and machine-gun fire. They were forced to retire, "leaving the ground covered with bodies."

THE BERLIN REPORT.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

BERLIN, March 11 (via London, 8:35 p.m.)—Capture of French positions 1400 yards wide and about two-thirds of a mile deep, south of Ville-aux-Boise, near Rheims, was announced today by the War Office.

The text of the statement follows:

"Saxon regiments stormed with slight losses strongly-fortified positions in the wood southwest and south of Ville-aux-Bois, eleven miles northwest of Rheims, over a width of about 1400 yards and for a depth of about two-thirds of a mile. Twelve uninjured officers and 725 uninjured men fell into our hands. The booty consisted of one revolver cannon, five machine guns and thirteen mine throwers.

"On the western bank of the Meuse the last positions still held by the French in the Boise des Corbeaux and the Bois de Cumieres were cleared of enemies. Enemy counter-attacks delivered with strong force against the southern boundary of these woods and against the German positions farther west broke down under our fire.

"On the eastern bank of the Meuse lively artillery activity reigned, especially northeast of Bras, west of Vaux and at several points on the Woevre plain. With the exception of a local French attempt to deliver a surprise attack against the village of Blanzee, which was repulsed with sanguinary losses, there was no decisive infantry engagement.

"Through a direct hit by one of our antiaircraft guns a French aeroplane fell down in flames between the mutual lines southeast of Chateau Salins. The occupants were dead and were buried by us together with the remains of the machine."

THE RUSSIAN STATEMENT.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PETROGRAD, March 11 (via London, 10 p.m.)—The official statement issued today follows:

"Western ((Russian) front: Two large parties of German scouts attempted to approach our trenches near the Oldavnein and Sussey rivers. They were dispersed by our fire.

"Our heavy artillery dispersed an enemy column marching on the right flank of the Dvinsk position. German artillery bombarded the railway station at Kalkuny for an hour and a half. In the district southeast of the large village of Kolki we repulsed an attempt made by a large enemy party to approach our trenches.

"In the middle Stripa region we took some prisoners. To the east of Czernowitz our artillery successfully bombarded enemy battalions on the march. We observed that shells exploded among the enemy's guns and caissons.

"Caucasus front: Our advance continues."

THE LONDON REPORT.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, March 11, 10:37 p.m.—The official report from British headquarters in France reads:

"We exploded three mines east of Vermeulles with satisfactory results. The artillery on both sides has been active about Albert, Hulluch and Ypres."

THE FRENCH COMMUNIQUE.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PARIS, March 11, 10:50 p.m.—The following official communication was issued tonight:

"In Belgium destructive fires were directed against the trenches and underground works of the enemy in the region of Steenstraete and the environs of Bixschoote.

"In Artois, to the east of Neuville, we exploded a mine, the crater of which we occupied. Between the Somme and the Oise we bombarded German organizations in the region of Herbecourt, Laucourt and Beuvraignes. North of the Aisne a very lively cannonade has been maintained in the region of the Bois de Buttes, south of La Ville aux Bois.

"On the left bank of the Meuse the activity of the two artilleries was less spirited during the course of the day. On the right bank an intense bombardment is being maintained in the region west of Douaumont. It has not been so intense on the rest of the center or in the Woevre.

"The enemy did not attempt any infantry action along the whole of our front. According to the latest reports, the fruitless assaults launched yesterday against our trenches west of Douaumont were very disastrous to the enemy. The Germans attacked three times in columns of four, but were mowed down by our artillery fire and the fire of our machine guns. They were obliged to retire, leaving the ground covered with dead bodies.

"Today, in the region of Douaumont, one of our aeroplane brought down a Fokker machine which fell in flames inside the German lines."

The Belgian official communication reads:

"Last night was disturbed only by some artillery fire on the southern part of the front. There is nothing to report today except the usual artillery actions."

AMERICANS RESCUED FROM TORPEDOED SHIP.

Norwegian Bark was Sunk Without Warning, According to a Report from Our Consul at Havre — If so, the Offending Government will be Held to "Strict Accountability" by the United States.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, March 11.—Secretary Lansing today instructed Consul Osborn at Havre, France, to secure and forward immediately all available details of the sinking in Havre roads of the Norwegian bark Silius, from which seven American citizens were rescued. Consul Osborn had previously reported that the Silius was torpedoed without warning on the night of March 9. If a torpedo did destroy the bark, which was bound to Havre from New York with grain, the government responsible will be held to strict accountability. Such an act would be contrary to all assurances which the United States has secured.

Officials seemed inclined, however, to refrain from forming an opinion until it was known positively that a torpedo and not a mine sank the sh

Should Consul Osborn's investigation establish that a torpedo actually was responsible, the United States official indicated they will view the matter as even more serious than if a passenger carrying vessel was involved. The State Department considers that American seamen have even a greater claim to protection than passengers. A passenger travels at his discretion, while a seaman is compelled to do so by his occupation.

SEVEN OF THE CREW AMERICANS

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PARIS, March 11, 2:55 a.m.—Seven of the crew of the Nowegian bark Silius which was torpedoed and sunk yeserday, were Americans. The Silius left New York February 4 for Havre.

The Petit Parisien says that one of the Americans on the Silius was injured in his legs and was taken to the Pasteur Hospital. He is John Hartmann, 18 years old.

The Silius was a 1500-ton [illegible] master, formerly the British bark Helly.

It is reported that Capt. Syvertzen of the Silius was drowned and [illegible] sailors are missing. The rest of the crew was saved.

ANOTHER COUNT.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

NEW YORK, March 11.—There were only four Americans on the Silius, according to agents of the line here, and these were members of the crew. She carried no passengers.

The Americans were David [illegible] man of Bedford, Mass. John W[illegible] man of Philadelphia, Daniel [illegible] of Connecticut, and Henry [illegible] of Boston.

The bark, commanded by Capt. [illegible] B. Syvertzen, sailed from New York February 4 for Havre with a cargo of 2200 tons of barley shipped from San Francisco.

The local agents said the Silius' crew numbered seventeen men.

RELATIONS WITH JAPAN NEVER BEFORE SO GOOD.

[BY PACIFIC CABLE.]

TOKIO, March 11.—It is the belief of the Japanese Foreign Minister, Baron Ishii, that "a certain European power" in the past has endeavored to create differences between Japan and the United States to further its own ends.

This opinion was expressed by the Foreign Minister in a statement before the Association of America', Friends. He gave it as his opinion that the efforts of this European power were exerted for the purpose of serving its own aspirations for dominance. As that power now is occupied with its own troubles, the baron said, the source of intrigue has been removed.

Relations between Japan and America have never been so good as today, he continued, and their friendship will become even more cordial, as should be the case.

The semi-official newspapers point out that there is no reason at present why Japan should emphasize the excellent relations with America, but they assert that there has been German intrigue for the purpose of affecting Japan's relations with both America and Great Britain, and that it is necessary to call attention to it.

GERMAN LOSS AT VERDUN IS SAID TO BE SLIGHT.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

BERLIN, March 10, (via London, March 11.)—The German losses in the Verdun operations up to the end of last week, though accurately and officially still unknown, are said to reach a total of only a few thousand killed, wounded and missing, according to a statement obtained through an authoritative source.

Details of the attack on Fort Vaux, published here, show that the general attack began March 7.

Covered by a hail of shell which kept down the fire of the French batteries and infantry, German regiments pressed steadily forward until late in the night, when a brilliant storm gave them possession of Fort Vaux.

That the French later were able to eject the Germans from this position is declared here to be one of those incidents which always is to be expected in war without affecting the ultimate success of the operation.

Westward of the River Meuse, the town of Bethincourt still is in French hands, but German newspapers declared that the advanced positions of Dead Man's Hill, commanding Bethincourt, are in the hands of the Germans.

REQUEST OF AMERICA ANSWERED BY CARRANZA.

Gives Assent to United States Troops Crossing Border in Pursuit of Villa if Similar Permission is Accorded to the Mexican Army to Come into this Country on a Similar Errand.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, March 11.—Consul Silliman transmitted the following communication dated Guadalajara, March 10, which was handed to him by Jesus Acuna, Carranza's Minister for Foreign Affairs. It is a reply to the American government's representations for permission to pursue the Villa bandits with American forces.

"In due reply to your courteous note dated yesterday and transmitted today through Mr. John W. Belt (Silliman's secretary) I have the honor to inform you that having brought the above note to the attention of the First Chief of the Constitutionalist army and depositary of the executive power of Mexico, he has directed me to say to you, to the end that you in turn, transmit it to the Department of State of the American government, that he learned with regret of the lamentable incident which occurred in the town of Columbus, N. M., on account of the assault suffered yesterday from the bandits led by Francisco Villa.

"That, although there has been a sufficient number of forces in the State of Chihuahua to re-establish order and afford protection to nationals and foreigners, ever since Francisco Villa appeared in the mountains of the above State, at the request of the Governor of the State and of the Constitutionalist consul in El Paso, Tex., the First Chief ordered the timely departure of 5500 men commanded by Gen. Luis Gutierrez with instructions to actively pursue the bandits who had just crossed the line into American territory which they undoubtedly did, compelled by the tenacious pursuit of the above-mentioned forces. The above lamentable incident is similar to the incursions which were made in the States of Sonora and Chihuahua by Indians from the reservations of the government of the United States. Incursions into the State of Sonora occurred more or less about the year 1880, when Geronimo, the Indian chief, who died not many years ago in Fort Mount, Ala., led a numerous horde and invaded a part of the north of the State of Sonora, committing many murders and depredations of life and property of Mexican families, until after a long and tenacious chase by American and Mexican forces, the band of malefactors was annihilated and its chief was captured.

"The incursion into Chihuahua, led by the Indian Chief Victoria, commanding about 800 Indians, took place between the years 1884 and 1886. Then the bands of marauders committing also many crimes, went into the country as far as the villages of Tejolochic or Tres Castillos, very near the capital of Chihuahua, and during the first formal encounter between them and Mexican forces, after having lost their chief, they were dispersed.

"On these two occasions, through an agreement between the governments of the United States and Mexico, it was decided that the armed forces of one and the other country might freely cross from the territory of one to the other in pursuit and for the purpose of punishing the above-named bands of marauders. Recalling these precedents and the good results for both countries on account of the above agreement, the government presided over by the First Chief, anxious to exterminate within the least possible time the hordes led by Francisco Villa, who has been recently placed beyond the law, and to capture him, to apply condign punishment, applies to you as confidential agent, and addresses the government of the United States, requesting the necessary permission for Mexican forces to cross into American territory if the incursion which took place in Columbus should unfortunately be repeated in any other part of the boundary line. The Mexican government would greatly appreciate a prompt and favorable reply from the government of the United States.

"Please accept, Mr. Confidential Agent, the assurances of my high consideration.

"JESUS ACUNA.

Secretary, in charge of the Department of Foreign Affairs."

PERSHING SAYS INVASION IS REALLY FRIENDLY ACT.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

EL PASO (Tex.) March 11.—Pursuit and capture of Villa is the sole purpose of the punitive expedition into Mexico, declared Gen. John J. Pershing, commandant at Fort Bliss and one of the leaders of the expedition today in a formal statement issued to quiet any excitement on the part of the Mexican people in his section.

Gen. Pershing's statement follows: "It should be deeply impressed upon everybody that the only effect of the despatch of American troops into Mexican territory at this time is the pursuit and capture of Villa and his band of brigands.

"It is a most friendly act of assistance on our part. This should be fully recognized by all true friends of the de facto government on both sides of the line.

"It is no time to indulge in idle theories about invasion. I give the Mexican people too much credit for common sense to think they will not gladly accept our aid in eliminating an international law outlaw."

PATROLS ARE DOUBLED ON NATIONAL BOUNDARY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NOGALES (Ariz.) March 11.—Patrols along the international boundary near here were doubled today. Wild rumors prom[illegible] invasion of the United States as well as invasion of Mexico were spread through the crowds which filled the streets in Nogales, Ariz., and Nogales, Sonora, just across the border.

Both towns were tranquil tonight. The Carranza soldiers at Nogales, Sonora, strolled the streets or lounged about the plaza where band concerts were given. On the American side an artillery drill by American soldiers was conducted back of the town, hidden from the view of many Mexican refugees. This measure, it was said, was taken as a precaution against exciting peaceful Mexicans. Col. William H. Sage is in command.

CHAPLIN'S NEW CONTRACT INVOLVES OVER MILLION.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 11.—Charlie Chaplin has signed a contract to appear exclusively in the releases of the Mutual Film Corporation.

The announcement was issued from offices of the corporation Monday at the close of negotiations with the comedian, pending over a long [illegible]

Chaplin will receive a salary of [illegible] for his first year's work under the contract. The total operations forming the Chaplin Producing Company involved the sum of $1,530,000. This stands as the biggest operation centered about a single star in the history of the motion picture industry.

The closing of the contract ends a war of negotiations involving unending conferences and diplomatic exchanges for weeks. In this time five or six motion picture concerns and promoters have claimed Chaplin.

The new Mutual-Chaplin's will be produced in studios now being equipped in Los Angeles, Cal., where the comedian will begin work March 20, or at an earlier date if conditions permit.

PANAMA CANAL IS SAFE FROM EARTHQUAKE SHOCK.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, March 11.—The Panama Canal will not be swallowed up by an earthquake in the future and the troublesome slides now being encountered [illegible] be conquered, in the opinion of Donald F. MacDonald, former canal geologist and now connected with the Federal Bureau of Mines. The results of his studies on [illegible] are embodied in an official report to the bureau made public [illegible]

Although seismic disturbances [illegible] earth's crust on the whole [illegible] rising at the rate of three [illegible] hundred years, this will only [illegible] little additional expense in [illegible] the big waterway, Mr. MacDonald [illegible]. The cause of this rising, [illegible] the sinking of the [illegible] outside the isthmian [illegible]

Discussing the slides, Mr. MacDonald states that in many cases the immediate cause was the oversteepness and height of the slopes, the blasting and other work attributable only to man. He adds that the geologic conditions were not sufficiently considered in the first plans for digging Culèbra cut.

Recent reports that the Gatun rocks would in time soften into mud, when Gatun Lake filled, and thus the locks and dam would sink, have not the slightest foundation on geologic data, declares Mr. MacDonald.

French at Verdun.

tween, and where had a man shown himself his physiognomy could almost have been recognized.

The Germans had tried a little annoyance in the early morning, and instructions had evidently been given that the French should reply, as they usually do, with double or triple payment. The French gunners searched the German trenches yard by yard, just as one has seen an expert rifle shot pick off bottle by bottle in a shooting gallery.

The idea that every bullet has its billet and every shell its result in casualties is, of course, nonsense. The modern artilleryman must have the patience of the angler, and a supply of shells that demands the service of hundreds fo miles of light railways that have now been constructed by both the allies and the Germans for the purpose of bringing these deadly khaki-colored cones of death close up to the guns at Verdun.

BRAVE ENGINE DRIVERS.

The bravery of the engine drivers of these little trains has been wonderful indeed, it is such noncombatants as these, with the surgeons and the stretcher bearers, who are, in my opinion, among the real heroes of the war. Like our mercantile marine, our mine layers and our mine sweepers, these gallant people do not get the recognition they should.

For a long time the Germans at the point I am describing did not respond and then suddenly, "whang, whang, whang, whang," a rapping angry response came of the German 77's, which are about the same as the British three-inch gun. But the accuracy in this particular case was certainly nothing like that of the French.

On the day before I had almost the same experience, five or six French shells for every German shell.

This does not give support to the stupid notion we once held that the Germans were short of ammunition, but it does mean this, that the allied defensive wall, right across France, in so far as attaining any definite military position is concerned, is absolutely impregnable. This remark may apply equally to the German line across France and Belgium. That, too, may be impregnable for all we know, but there is this difference, that Germany is being besieged, and that even the feeble blockade we have so far maintained has deprived her soldiers of proper clothes and her citizens of certain necessities, whereas the allies are as freely supplied with everything as in peace times.

It is to be regretted that the wonderful blockade, established on land by the French, English and Belgians should not be rigorously maintained at sea. Nothing can get across that wall of trenches and barbed wire into the German lines except a shell or a bullet and here and there a hand grenade. But directly we get to sea, which we are supposed to rule, endless commodities are still pouring into Germany. The Germans want many things we supply them with, and their soldiers need the steel helmets with which the French army is now practically equipped.

Much of the German army, as I have seen with my own eyes in examining the uniforms of the German prisoners and deserters, is now being clothed in material not at all suitable for winter. I am not an expert in clothing, but the cloth seems to lack wool. It has a hard, dry feeling.

One point I personally investigated along certain of the French lines I had not visited before was the question whether the Germans deliberately seek out hospitals and churches for objects of shell fire. Taking in my pocket the German propaganda book, explaining and excusing the bombardment of the cathedral of Rheims and especially of the archbishop's palace, which contained one of the most beautiful rooms in the world, I made two careful visits to the cathedral and its surroundings.

For days the attention of the whole German artillery was devoted to the great church and the archbishop's house. The Germans attempt to say that the cathedral tower was used for observation, which was untrue, and that a battery of 75's was placed in the street opposite the cathedral, which was impossible.

The archbishop's palace, which was about as high as an ordinary house, is totally destroyed and the Germans do not pretend to make any excuse for it.

The Germans now confine their attention to dropping asphyxiating shells among such parts of the half-deserted town as they know to be still inhabited by the civilian population.

A GREAT BAZAAR FOR WAR SUFFERERS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, March 11.—A bazaar said to be the greatest to be held in this country was opened in Madison Square Garden here tonight for the benefit of Teutonic war sufferers. The promoters announced that before the doors opened $200,500 had been realized from the sale of 56,000 tickets. They said they expected the affair, which is to last until March 23, would result in raising a fund of $750,000.

Count von Bernstorff, the German Ambassador; Prince von Hatzfeldt, Counsellor to the German Embassy; Baron Eric von Zwiedinek, the Austrian Charge d'Affaires; Stephen Panaretoff, the Bulgarian Minister, and the Consuls-General in New York of Germany, Austria, Bulgaria and Turkey occupied boxes at the affair. They were escorted there by members of several German societies and sailors from German ships interned at anchor in the harbor here. Teutonic sympathizers in Syracuse, Albany, Utica, Troy and other cities of New York State are aiding in the success of the bazaar, it was announced.

"HOW TO REDUCE HIGH COST OF LIVING"

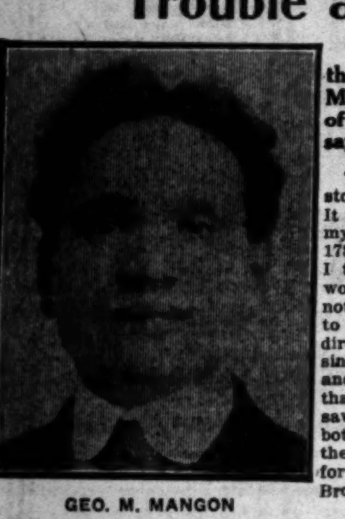
G.C.LUTZ TO GIVE FREE LECTURE

What Can Be Done on An Acre And How to Do It.

Gilbert C. Lutz will deliver a practical, instructive lecture on poultry, squabs and diversified small farming, which will be free to the public, Tuesday evening, March 14, at 7:45 o'clock in the ground floor lecture hall at 433 South Hill street.

Mr. Lutz will tell what can be done on a little land, and exactly how to go about it. He will explain how to make poultry pay, and just why some people fail in the poultry business. His lecture will be based on practical experience. A part of the evening will be devoted to questions and answers. This lecture will afford an opportunity to secure much valuable information at no cost. In view of the fact that the cost of living seems to be going higher and higher, hundreds of people are becoming keenly interested in ways and means of meeting this situation. Mr. Lutz believes that he has the solution of the problem.

Duffy's Relieved Stomach Trouble and Indigestion



GEO. M. MANGON

A newspaper advertisement was the means of acquainting Mr. Mangon with the medicinal virtues of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. He says:

"Four years ago I had a bad case of stomach trouble and nervous indigestion. It was impossible to retain any food on my stomach and my weight dropped from 178 pounds to 106 pounds in two years. I took treatment without success and worried myself to a physical wreck. I noticed your advertisement and decided to purchase a bottle. I took Duffy's as directed and have been taking it ever since. I have regained my weight and am now a well and powerful man—thanks to your great remedy. I know it saved my life, and I am never without a bottle in the house. I wish you could tell the whole world what Duffy's has done for me." (Signed) Geo. M. Mangon, 253 Broadway, New York.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

is recommended in tablespoon doses in equal amounts of water or milk before meals and on retiring as an aid to digestion. Sufferers from stomach trouble and indigestion with sensitive stomachs are able to retain Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey as it is made from health giving grains thoroughly malted and requiring little effort of the digestive organs. As a household remedy for use in emergencies Duffy's is unsurpassed.

COLONY OF MORMONS IS NOW OUT OF DANGER.

Apprehension in El Paso is Caused by Incursion of Large Numbers of Mexicans into Texas — Company of Infantry Sent to Ysleta — Troops Ready to go to Deming, Where Brigandage has been Rife.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

EL PASO (Tex.) March 11.—The Mormon colony of Casas Grandes, Chihuahua, is no longer in danger from attack by Villa bandits, according to Gen. Gabriel Gavira, commandant at Juarez. Gen. Gavira stated that sufficient reinforcements had been sent into the district to protect the foreigners there, and that the refugee train held in readiness to leave for the north probably would not be sent.

The only train expected tonight from the south was a special carrying Gen. Luis Gutierrez from Chihuahua to Juarez, where he is to confer with Gen. Gavira.

Juarez has preserved its usual calm. Gen. Gavira has cavalry patrols out during the night.

APPREHENSION.

In El Paso some apprehension was aroused among the authorities by the large number of Mexicans crossing over into Texas, but an investigation showed that they came to get out of the range of any conflict. Many declared they had seen enough of war.

Rumors concerning Villa recruiting agents operating in Juarez have not stood the test of inquiry. The leading newspapers in Spanish kept off the invasion question in their editorials, but several small sheets that are said to break out whenever a crisis occurs have been taken in hand by the police. Although the border is closely patrolled by the Americans, the main object is to catch any contraband arms that may be passing through to the Villistas. The regular army of Mexico is given every facility in the way of obtaining supplies, and Gen. Bertani has placed a large order in El Paso.

TROOP MOVEMENTS.

One company of infantry left for Ysleta and the two others made ready to go tonight to Deming, N. M., the center of a district which has suffered much from brigandage in the past. The two mountain mule batteries at the fort are awaiting orders to move over the roadless haunts of Villa. The company operating the field wireless expects to be among the first to leave for the front.

Reinforcements are expected here before the expedition gets under way, to relieve for active service the seasoned men now on patrol on th border.

The forces on duty in this section consist of two mule batteries of the Fourth Artillery, a field battery of the Fifth, nine troops of the Eighth Cavalry with the Thirteenth at Columbus, and the Sixth, Seventh, Sixteenth and Twentieth Regiments of Infantry besides signal corps and hospital detachments.

GEN. HERBIERTO JARA TAKES GRAVE VIEW.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

VERA CRUZ, March 11.—Gen. Herbierto Jara, Governor of the State of Vera Cruz, when informed today of the intention of the United States government to send troops into Mexico in pursuit of Villa, took a grave and regretful view of the situation. Gen. Jara declared he had heard nothing relative to the expedition and would say nothing further in the way of comment.

GIRLS! BEAUTIFY YOUR HAIR WITH "DANDERINE"

Get a 25 Cent Bottle! Freshen Your Scalp! Stop Falling Hair! Remove Dandruff! Grow Lots of Wavy, Glossy, Beautiful Hair—You Can!

If you care for heavy hair, that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine.

Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, heavy healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its luster, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots famish, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast.

If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or too oily, get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter; apply a little as directed and ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment you ever made.

We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised, that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and lots of it—no dandruff—no itching scalp and no more falling hair — you must use Knowlton's Danderine. If eventually—why not now?

VILLA GENERALS RAID GUADALOUPE.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

TORREON (Mex.) March 11.—Ten Villa generals in command of only 100 men raided San Juan Guadalupe, in Zacatecas, and captured a German named Weiner, whom they held for ransom at 10,000 pesos. His compatriots here raised the money for his release.

As soon as Weiner was freed, Gen. Gonzales, in command of the Carranza troops, sent a brigade under Gen. Elizondo in pursuit. Three Villa men were killed in a running fight. All trains arriving here are protected by military escorts.

THRILLING STORY OF VILLA'S RAID.

LOS ANGELES SALESMAN ON COLUMBUS TRAGEDY.

Traveler for Millinery Firm Describes Houses and Buildings Burning All Over the City and Cavalrymen Firing Revolvers Through Streets During Melee.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 11.—A. Landfieldt, a traveling salesman for a Los Angeles millinery firm, brought to Chicago today a thrilling story of scenes in Columbus, N. M., following the massacre by Villa's Mexican bandits.

He said he passed through Columbus a few hours after Villa had fled before the onrushing troops.

"Houses were burning in all parts of the town and cowboys and cavalrymen rode pell-mell through the streets firing their revolvers," he said. "There were several bodies in the streets, and many persons could be seen suffering from wounds. I saw one woman, apparently half crazed, rushing from one burning house to another, her hair streaming behind her. She was shrieking something, but I could not hear what she said.

"In one part of the village there was a pile of bodies burning. Hats piled near the pyre showed that the bodies were those of Mexicans who had been slain by cowboys and soldiers."

His tale of the horrors of the massacre were corroborated by Lester E. Bowers of Columbus, O., and G. E. White of Boston, both discharged soldiers. They reached Chicago at 10:15 a.m. over the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad on a train which left Columbus Thursday.

MEXICO CENSORS ALL U. S. MESSAGES.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, March 11.—The Mexican government has imposed a censorship on all telegraph and cable messages from the United States into Mexico, it was announced here today by the Western Union and the Mexican telegraph companies. The only land messages which the Mexican government will receive must be routed through El Paso and be written in English or Spanish.

This information was conveyed by the government authorities in Mexico City to the Mexican Telegraph Company's officers here, it was stated.

FUNSTON'S REPORTS NOT MADE PUBLIC.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, March 11.—Gen. Funston tonight reported various troop movements along the border but the dispatches were not made public. The general's requests as to supplies and auxiliary troops of the special corps were promptly complied with, but details of these requests were kept secret, too, since it was thought possible they might indicate the route of the expedition into Mexico.

MAUDE ADAMS QUITS TO JOIN MOTHER.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK March 11.—Miss Maude Adams terminated a theatrical engagement here today and will leave tomorrow to join her mother, Mrs. Annie Kiskadden, known on the stage for many years as Annie Adams, at Salt Lake City, where she is seriously ill. Mrs. Kiskadden has been in poor health for some time, but she has failed so rapidly in the last few days that Miss Adams felt it was necessary to go to her bedside.

HISTORIC CHURCH IN CINCINNATI BURNS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CINCINNATI (O.) March 11.—The most spectacular fire Cincinnati has experienced in years was seen today by thousands of people when the Old Trinity Methodist Church on Ninth street, between Race and Elm streets, one of this city's most historic structures, was practically burned to the ground.

The cause of the fire has not been determined.

MOREHEAD A CANDIDATE.

OUT FOR VICE-PRESIDENT.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

LINCOLN (Neb.) March 11.—Petitions requesting that the name of Gov. John H. Morehead of Nebraska go before the Democratic voters at the coming Presidential preferential primary as a candidate for the domestic nomination for Vice-President were filed here today with the Secretary of State. Gov. Morehead gave his permission.

It was announced, on behalf of the Governor, that petitions would be filed in neighboring States.

BIG SEAGOING TUG TO ESCORT STEAMERS.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

ROTTERDAM, March 11 (via London, March 12.)—The Holland-America line has arranged for a large seagoing tug, carrying a large quantity of life-saving material to escort each steamer of that line across the North Sea to and from Kentish Knock lightship on the English coast. The arrangement began tonight with the sailing of the steamer Veendyke. The tug will wait at Kentish Knock for the Nieuw Amsterdam, which sailed from New York February 29.

Duration.

THREE TO FIVE DAYS TO ASSEMBLE CAVALRY

Regiment from Monterey, Cal., will Probably be the First to Reach the Mexican Border to Become a Party of the Army to be Sent After Bandit Villa — Speculation of the Army Officers.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, March 11.—Army officers estimated it would take from three to five days for the three cavalry regiments to reach the border. The regiment from Monterey, Cal., probably will be the first to arrive. While no announcement was made the order was construed to mean that Gen. Funston intended to employ the four cavalry regiments now on duty along the border both to the east and west of Columbus as part of his expeditionary force which, it is understood, will be under the direct command of Brig.-Gen. Pershing.

A regiment of mountain artillery with its twenty-four guns packed on mules, also is available in that district and this force with necessary engineers to repair railroad bridges destroyed by the bandits and possibly with aeroplane scouts probably will constitute the expedition.

The force would number, if composed of four cavalry regiments and a battalion of mountain artillery, approximately 4000 fighting men, exclusive of engineers and other auxiliary troops. In a recent report the department Gen. Funston estimated Villa's force at 3000, although some officers here have placed the figure as high as 5000.

It is taken for granted by officers here, however, that the Villa bands have already scattered among the hills, and they do not look for a pitched battle which, they say, would mean certain annihilation of the bandits.

Any movement the American troops make in the territory south and southwest of Columbus, which the raders fled, will be influenced by the location of water holes, pumping stations and places where horses and men can obtain water in a dry and sandy country. It was said here that the commander of the expedition probably would station guards at the water holes to protect them and also to prevent the bandits from making use of them.

Wall Street Rumor.

HEAR GERMAN MONEY IS BACK OF VILL

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 11.—Discussion of the latest turn in Mexican affairs was rife in Wall street today being aroused in part by the recurrence of rumors that Villa and his raiders had received ammunition and other supplies through purchases made with German funds.

It was remarked as a coincidence that offerings of German marks which began on Tuesday, slackened perceptibly on Thursday, the day of the Villa raid into Columbus, N. M.

Maurice Leon, who has been prominent in international financial affairs and legal discussion on the side of the allies, said: "The heavy sales of marks in this market lately, which remains unexplained, seem to point to a serious possibility that Villa and his band not only received a part of their proceeds, but also that the greater part is to be utilized to induce other Mexican 'leaders' to oppose by force our operations to suppress border outlawry.

"Whether the wagon train of ammunition which it is said was smuggled over the border at El Paso last night came from that annex of the Krupp works known as the Bridgeport Projectile Company, is a further question which the Federal authorities should investigate."

Efforts made tonight to find Heynen, who helped organize the Bridgeport Projectile Company, were unavailing. Mr. Heynen was for years German Consul-General in Mexico City and was one of the German officials who went to Vera Cruz to represent his government during the American occupation of that city. Mr. Heynen has been in New York for many months, and has an office at 60 Wall street, the same building in which Capt. Franz von Papen, the recalled German military attache, had offices up to the time that Secretary Lansing requested the German government to recall him. Mr. Heynen, Capt. von Papen and Capt. Boy-Ed were close friends.

Coup d'Etat.

ARREST OF CARRANZA BY OBREGON, RUMOR

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 11.—All is not well between Carranza and his commander-in-chief of military operations, Gen. Obregon. Information is said to have been received by Washington officials that Obregon is planning a coup d'etat against Carranza. The plan is to cause the arrest of the "first chief" of the Constitutionalists. It may be, it is stated, that Carranza is already the prisoner of Gen. Obregon.

Narrow Escape.

ANGELENO IS WOUNDED BY BANDITS IN MEXICO

WORD of the safety of Patrick O'Brien, former lieutenant colonel in Carranza's army and a local mining man, was received yesterday by his associates in Los Angeles. According to Joseph Culver, a wealthy ship broker and mining man of the Baker-Detwiler Building, O'Brien was supposed to be at Mulega, a mining camp in Lower California. Reports of trouble for Americans in that district have been coming to Los Angeles for several weeks past.

Yesterday morning Mrs. O'Brien, who has been residing in a West Sixteenth street apartment awaiting the return of her husband, received a message from him stating he was in the hospital at Nogales, Ariz. According to the telegram, O'Brien and his workmen were attacked by a band of bandits about a week ago. A terrific fight ensued in which six bandits and three of O'Brien's men were killed and several wounded, among them O'Brien.

Fearing that the bandits would return, O'Brien ordered the mine closed and disbanded his men. With two companions he fled. After days of hiding and riding from roving bands of marauders, O'Brien arrived at a border town. The wound in his leg had become infected and would have proved fatal had not medical assistance been secured within a few hours after his rescue.

According to Mr. Culver, Mrs. O'Brien, herself a native of Mexico, left immediately for Nogales, where she will assist in taking care of her husband. As soon as he is able to travel he will be brought to Los Angeles.

MILITARY HONORS PAID TO COLUMBUS VICTIMS

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

COLUMBUS (N. M.) March 11.—With the entire regiment turned out, military honors were paid today to the seven troopers of the Thirteenth Cavalry who were killed in action Thursday when Villa raided Columbus.

Captain S. M. Lutz, regimental chaplain, held services in front of the post hospital.

Led by Col. Slocum and his officers, the small band of American troopers who fought Villa's 2000 raiders and drove them out of Columbus, escorted the bodies of the dead to the station.

The regimental band, which suffered severely in the action, played Chopin's funeral march. Troop K, following, appeared with guidons draped in black. The chargers of Griffin and Kindvall, the two members of Troop K killed, were led in line, the saddles covered with crepe.

Gen. Bertani, leader of the Carranza forces which reached Palomas, Chihuahua, six miles south of the border, last night from Guzman, marched with the regimental officers. He had been sent by Carranza military authorities to join the funeral procession as a mark of respect for the Americar dead.

DEAD SENT AWAY.

The dead sent away today were:

Sergt. John G. Nievergelt, regimental band, aged 50.

Sergt. Paul Simon, aged 30, band; born Stettin, Germany, no relatives yet found.

Sergt. Mark A. Dobbs, machine gun platoon, aged 24.

Corp. Harry E. Wiswell, Troop G, born Mt. Washington.

Private Thomas Butler, Troop aged 26, born Syracuse, N. Y.

Private Fred A. Griffin, Troop aged 23, born Pickins, S. C.

Horseshoer Frank Kindvall, Troop K, aged 26, born Sweden.

Sergt. Nievergelt was killed trying to get his wife and daughter from their quarters in town to The women lay beside the body American troopers drove the out of range.

Sergt. Simon met death while ing orders from camp to the fighting at the border gate.

NOTED AVIATOR KILLED IN IOWA.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

GRINNELL (Iowa) March 11.—W. C. Robinson, one of the most prominent aviators and inventors of aviation appliances in the United States, fell and was killed near Ewart, Iowa, shortly before 5 p.m. today. Ewart is ten miles from here and details of the accident are not yet available.

Robinson left Grinnell shortly after noon. He had told friends here that he intended to try for an altitude record and wanted to test a new stabilizing device he had been working on at his factory here. He took with him instruments with which to register the height reached.

Reports reaching here from Ewart said the machine was demolished and indications were that Robinson died as the result of an engine explosion rather than from the effects of the fall.

Reports that he had fallen into a crowd of spectators were denied.

ADDS BIG TONNAGE TO AMERICAN NAVY.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

BOSTON, March 11—The superdreadnaught Nevada, the most powerful American warship ready for action, was placed in commission at the Charleston navy yard today. The Nevada adds a tonnage of 27,500 to the United States navy and an armament of ten 14-inch guns which constitute her main battery.

PORTER IS TESTED.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

ROCKLAND (Me.) March 11.—The torpedo boat destroyer Porter completed her standardization trials with five runs today and then started on a four-hour run at full speed of 29½ knots an hour, to be followed by the fuel economy test.

OKUMA CONDEMNS SHOTS AT BRITAIN.

[BY PACIFIC CABLE.]

TOKIO, March 11.—The recent criticism in the press of the Anglo-Japanese Alliance induced Premier Count Okuma today to give an interview in which he condemned what he characterized as petty efforts to create an agitation against Great Britain. The Premier declared unequivocally that there would be no wavering in Japan's fidelity to the alliance.

ARGENTINA FRIENDLY TO UNITED STATES.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

NEW YORK, March 11.—Dr. Romulo S. Naon, Argentine Ambassador to the United States who arrived here yesterday, returning from a leave of absence in Argentina, said: "I can not tell you how warm the friendship is which my country feels for the United States. They are making preparations at Buenos Aires and throughout Argentina to give a rousing reception to Secretary McAdoo and the other members of the International high commission when it arrives there on the cruiser Tennessee. I return to my work at Washington with a full determination to continue to represent my country's policies with as much ardor as before. The friendship between the two countries is simply inspiring."

Pyorrhea Cured

Dr. T. W. Young

Why do some very good Dentists claim Pyorrhea is incurable?

Because after they have received their decree in Dentistry they stop studying and do not keep up with the new methods of Dentistry.

We are now in an age of progress and it takes constant study and practice to keep up with the new discoveries in science.

I have been practicing Dentistry for fifteen years and have collected many new and practical ideas about the cure of Pyorrhea, and have cured numbers of cases. It would be impossible to print all testimonials in the newspaper. But I will examine your teeth and diagnose your case to the very best of my ability without charge.

I have modern equipped offices and all mechanical work is done in my laboratory under my special directions.

I also specialize on painless extracting under Vitalized Air which is pleasant to take and perfectly harmless when intelligently administered. No cocaine, gas or harmful drugs used, consequently the afterpains and sluffing of gum tissue is entirely eliminated.

I do all operating and therefore give each case my personal attention.

Prices reasonable within the reach of all.

Another Shoe Fact Is--

That when you come to the live "Baker" Stores your choice is not limited to the product of any one maker. Instead you have at your disposal the finest productions of a score of the foremost shoe manufacturers in America, embodying the best ideas of as many expert designers.

No one mind could conceive, nor one factory turn out all the style variations which we must carry to satisfy a patronage so large and cosmopolitan as ours. For to these great stores come men and women from every walk of life, from every business, trade and profession, each with his own particular preference and his own idea of the price he wants to pay.

So it makes no difference what kind of a shoe you want, there are plenty here that will fit your feet, suit your idea of style and please your purse---to say nothing of rendering more style, service and satisfaction than equal money will bring you anywhere else.

For Misses and Children we have carefully copied mamma's boots in materials and trimmings—but, of course, in shapes to fit the childish foot.

For Boys we have miniatures of daddy's boots—made sturdy and strong to withstand the hard knocks administered by all "live" boys.

Baker's is daily winning patronage by deserving it. We most cordially invite your inspection of our new Spring shoe styles.

LUCKY CAPTURE OF AN ALLEGED THIEF.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LONG BEACH, March 11.—One of a score of American Express Company's money orders of high demoninations, stolen from H. Peterson of San Pedro last July, is believed to have turned up here tonight.

A man giving the name of George Hayes, who is believed to be the man the police of several Southern California cities having been vainly searching for in the past several months, was arrested by the local authorities after an exciting chase participated in by C. C. Lord, a local merchant who cashed an American Express Company's money order for $50, tendered by Hayes, who is alleged to have forged the name of Peterson.

Hayes purchased a camera costing $16 from Lord and received the balance of the order in change. Lord then became suspicious of the transaction and notified the police. Hayes had dropped the remark that he was buying the camera for his sister who he said lives in Los Angeles.

Following this clew the police boarded the first car for Los Angeles. Lord accompanied them. Hayes had taken the precaution to hire a jitney to take him out as far as Willowville before he switched to the electric line. As he swung onto the steps of the car at Willowville he bumped into Lord.

Fearing he was being followed, he attempted to elude the merchant by jumping from the car while it was in motion. Lord and the detectives jumped, too, however, and soon overpowered him.

SEVEN-HOUR DAY FOR CLERKS WINS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, March 11.—Representative Borland's amendment to the Executive, Legislative and Judicial Appropriation Bill, which would require the thousands of clerks in the executive departments of the government here to work eight hours a day instead of seven, was stricken from the measure in the House today on a point of order. Mr. Borland then introduced another to reduce the number of clerks by 10 per cent. on June 1. It will come up next week.

During debate on the bill today, Republican Leader Mann made an attack on the annual appropriation for automobile expenses for Cabinet officers. He objected specifically to an item for repairs for a new car for Secretary Wilson of the Labor Department.

PROTEST SEIZURE OF STEAMER EDNA.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, March 11.—Protest against the seizure of the American steamer Edna by a British cruiser was placed today before the State Department by Representative Kahn of San Francisco on behalf of the vessel's owners. Mr. Kahn said the Edna was chartered to W. R. Grace & Co. of New York. The department took steps to begin at once an inquiry into the facts through consular agents with a view to making representations to Great Britain. The Edna was taken to Port Stanley, Falkland Islands.

PRESIDENT SEES PRIZE SHIP APPAM.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEWPORT NEWS (Va.) March 11.—The President and Mrs. Wilson, on a week-end cruise aboard the yacht Mayflower, spent an hour today walking about Newport News. Towards sunset the yacht dropped down to Old Point and anchored for the night.

The Mayflower stopped here near the German prize ship Appam, which the President's party viewed with great interest. The yacht is expected to remain at Old Point until late tomorrow.

BARLEY AND HOP GROWERS IN NO FEAR OF EMBARGO

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 11.—Private advices from England today carrying assurance that the United Kingdom was unlikely to place an embargo on imports of barley and hops elated California dealers and commission men.

E. Clemens Horst, president of the great hop concern of that name who has been keeping in close touch with the situation, received a private cable today declaring an embargo was unlooked for.

"The person who sent the [illegible] is very close to a member of [illegible] British Parliament," said Mr. [illegible] "and is therefore enabled to [illegible] pulse of that body regarding [illegible] ley and hops embargo.

"Needless to say the barley and [illegible] men of California have been [illegible] anxious seat lately. Until a week or even a few days ago it [illegible] that an embargo would be [illegible] Now, however, I am very [illegible] think England will stop with [illegible] embargo."

An average of about [illegible] barley is exported to the [illegible] Kingdom yearly from California.

EXPORTS FROM NEW YORK JUMP MILLIONS A WEEK

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, March 11.—Exports from the port of New York thus far this month average about $55,000,000 weekly, as compared with $38,000,000 in February, and $51,000,000 in January and December, according to statistics issued today by the foreign trade department of the National City Bank. The increase is said to be remarkable in view [illegible] fact that the scarcity of [illegible] on the Atlantic Coast has [illegible] shippers to the Orient to [illegible] goods by rail to the Pacific [illegible] ment for western ports. [illegible] ments, while intended for [illegible] no longer included in the [illegible] ments of the port of New York.

TO EXAMINE SAFES OF SERVICE BOARD.

NEW YORK SUBWAY INQUIRY GROWS WARMER.

State Senator Thompson Appoints Subcommittee to Inspect Archives in Order to Ascertain What has Become of Letter Written by Shonts Relative to Traction.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, March 11.—State Senator George F. Thompson, chairman of the legislative committee investigating the Public Service Commission and the awarding of contracts for subway and elevated railway construction in this city, today appointed a subcommittee to "look through" all the safes of the Public Service Commission.

A letter written by Theodore P. Shonts, president of the Interborough Rapid Transit Company, to former Chairman William R. Willcox of the commission, which admittedly was a tentative offer by the corporation to build the subway without aid from the city, caused Senator Thompson to take this action. The letter was not in the regular files of the commission and the fact that it existed was not made known to the Thompson committee until today.

Travis H. Whitney, secretary of the commission, denied there were any secret archives kept by the committee.

Another letter introduced at the hearing today was from Timothy Williams, president of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company, in which he charged that "the uptown office of the Interborough was at the City Hall."

The letter, written after the late Mayor William J. Gaynor had decided to favor the granting of a subway contract to the Interborough instead of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company, virtually accused the late Mayor of being the "representative" of the Interborough.

A clash occurred today between Mr. Williams and Frank Moss, counsel for the committee. President Williams charged Mr. Moss with having given out wrong and misleading statements about him "in connection with the $100,000 I received from the company."

"I have not made any misleading statements about you," Mr. Moss replied.

"You're a liar," shouted President Williams.

Friends came between the men and the controversy ended. Mr. Williams denied that the $100,000 in question was a bonus received for services in negotiating a $1,000,000 contract with the city. He declared that nothing savoring of "graft or crookedness" could be imputed to the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company.

Senator Thompson announced that the "B.R.T. would be investigated, whether anyone liked it or not."

OFFERS TO RAISE COWBOY REGIMENT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BILLINGS (Mont.) March 11.—An offer to raise a regiment of cavalry enlisted from cowboys of Montana and Northern Wyoming, was tonight wired to Secretary of War Baker by Paul McCormick, Jr., a cattleman of this district.

McCormick, who is a son of Col. Paul McCormick, a noted Indian fighter, was trained in an eastern military school and for six years was a captain of the Montana National Guard, being promoted to major before his retirement. He is personally acquainted with most of the cowpunchers of this region.

The [illegible] population of this former [illegible] stronghold, says Castro, prefers order and is interested more in [illegible] ing than in revolutions.

DON'T TALK SHOP, PARKER WARNS.

Man Who Works Seven Days a Week Liable to be a "Superbore."

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, March 11.—[illegible] man who works seven days a week and who thus becomes [illegible] absorbed in himself and [illegible] work that he can talk [illegible] but "shop" was characterized [illegible] a "superbore" by former [illegible] Alton B. Parker in a paper [illegible] pared by him to be read [illegible] meeting of the Democratic [illegible] here today. "Socially," [illegible] Mr. Parker, "we need our [illegible] fashioned Sabbaths more [illegible] any of the institutions or [illegible] tions to which the social [illegible] of our daily newspapers are [illegible] voted. What we do when [illegible] meet socially does not count [illegible] so much as what we are. [illegible] wants to meet a man whose [illegible] is down on his work seven days a week?" James M. WHIPPED BOY DIES.

Doctor's Examination Tends to Free Teacher of Blame in Sensational Redlands Case of School Chastisement — Spinal Meningitis.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

REDLANDS, March 11.—Ambrosio Barrios, the boy whose parents claimed that a whipping at the Lugonia school brought on a serious illness, died at the home, on Herald street this morning.

Dr. J. W. Callnon, head of the County Hospital, came to Redlands late this afternoon and with doctors here conducted a post mortem examination of the boy's body. He said tonight:

"So far as we could ascertain, and we made a thorough examination, the whipping of the boy had nothing to do with the illness that caused his death."

The doctors say that spinal meningitis caused the death of the boy. This afternoon at 2 o'clock there will be an inquest held here. Among the witnesses to be examined will be the boy's parents; Miss Anna Hansen, the teacher who punished the boy; Miss Elsie Hassan, the teacher who witnessed this, and the doctors who examined him.

JUDGE DENSMORE DIES.

Noted Superior Court Jurist of Riverside County Suddenly is Stricken Again by Apoplexy After Partially Recovering from First Attack.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

RIVERSIDE, March 11.—Judge F. E. Densmore died suddenly this afternoon as the result of a stroke of apoplexy. He was apparently on the road to recovery from a first shock suffered on February 17. He regained the use of speech and was sitting by a window talking to one of his children when again stricken.

Judge Densmore was 49 years of age and had presided in the Riverside Superior Court since August 20, 1906, when he was appointed to succeed the late J. S. Noyes, resigned. He was elected to the office twice following his appointment.

Judge Densmore was a lifelong Republican and stood high in the California judiciary. He leaves his widow and three children and an aged mother.

It is expected that Gov. Johnson will name a successor to Judge Densmore at an early date. Since he was first stricken judges from other counties have been called in to preside for him.

CAR RUNS WILD.

Driver Thrown Out, Auto Runs Block and Meets Disaster.

J. O. Ernst, 40 years of age, No. 2566 Griffith avenue, was seriously injured early last night and his automobile was wrecked as the result of a strange accident near Twelfth and San Pedro streets. Mr. Ernst was treated at the Receiving Hospital for a possible fracture of the skull and other injuries.

According to police who investigated the accident, Mr. Ernst lost control of his machine and ran it into the curb on the right-hand side of San Pedro street near Twelfth. He was thrown to the pavement.

Then the car started away on its own account and wandered along the street. After running nearly a block it crashed into the curb on the left side of the street and was wrecked.

BUSINESS MAN DIES.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

MONROVIA, March 11.—Thomas Jerome Campbell, aged 26, second vice-president of the Starr Piano Company of Richmond, Ind., died yesterday at his home in Monrovia after a short illness. Mr. Campbell was a graduate of Cornell University, prominent in social and business circles both in Indiana and California, and a member of the S.A.E. Fraternity of Cornell. In addition to his wife and daughter he leaves a host of friends. His parents, called here by his illness, were present when death came. The funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Long Beach.

DREDGE HARBOR BY HYDRAULICS.

Fire Engines Wash Away Silt from the Channel.

Long Beach Commissioners to Accept Land Deed.

Industries Work Day and Night to Fill Orders.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LONG BEACH, March 11.—Affording temporary relief to the industries hardest hit by the clogged channel, Slip No. 3, the most important and most frequently used of the sea passages, was cleared today of silt by a hydraulic system to a sufficient depth to allow the approach of small boats to the potash plants.

This novel method of dredging, merely an experiment at the outset, proved a most successful means of removing a good portion of the silt bar that blocked the channel.

A force of men under the direction of Commissioner of Safety Williams, Mayor Lisenby and Fire Chief Shrewsbury operated the hose, through which a forceful and effective stream, pumped by the most powerful fire engines of the city, plowed away the accumulated mud so that a clear path was made for the small boats to get through from the ocean.

With the City Commissioners promising action in the matter of immediate dredging of the harbor of silt deposited by the January storm waters at their next meeting Monday morning; the announcement of the resumption of operation by a full force, working night and day, at the Golden State Woolen Mills on the harbor, and the signing of a contract to furnish an eastern concern $500,000 worth of potash from the Sea Products Company, another channel industry, the harbor situation is clearing up to the satisfaction of everyone concerned.

WILL ACCEPT OFFER.

That the City Commissioners would accept Monday the offer made by the Los Angeles Dock and Terminal Company to give the city a deed, free from all incumbrances, of a strip of land valued at $50,000 in exchange for the release of the $50,000 harbor bonds is the opinion of those in close touch with the situation tonight.

By accepting this proposal, the city would practically be paying nothing for dredging the harbor. It would merely be buying a strip of valuable harbor frontage that, in years to come, can be expected to increase many times its present value.

DAY AND NIGHT.

Manager R. G. Wilbur of the Golden State Woolen Mills stated today that he is running both night and day shifts at his plant on the harbor for the first time in six months. An exceptionally heavy demand has been placed on the output of the looms, according to Manager Wilbur, on account of war orders.

The company is now $125,000 behind in orders. The weekly pay roll of the woolen mills is $5000. For the first time the mills will be kept running full capacity through the summer months.

TRIPLED OUTPUT.

Officials of the Sea Products Company today announced that they had the second unit of their harbor plant in working order, tripling their output of potash. This was made necessary because of the closing of the deal for a single order of potash to the amount of $500,000, one of the largest single orders for any commodity made in this city.

The third unit of the Sea Products Company is expected to be in readiness for use in another month, when the entire output capacity per day of green sea kelp will then reach 125 tons.

AN ORPHANS' HOME.

With the taking out of the necessary State and county permits for such institutions, Long Beach will, within two weeks, it was announced today, become the site of an orphans' home. The necessary building and grounds for such an institution was donated to the National Benevolent Society of the Christian Church by L. J. Massie, local capitalist. The home will be located on Signal Hill.

CLUBBED AND ROBBED.

Attacked by two Mexicans armed with clubs, Vernard Collen of No. 609 East Second street was badly beaten early last night and then robbed of $3 in cash and his watch. He was treated at the Receiving Hospital. Mr. Collen told the police that the Mexicans sprang upon him from behind a billboard near Second and Alameda streets and threw him to the pavement before he could cry out.

Retired Chemist Makes Discovery

Retired Chicago chemist now living in Pasadena makes valuable medicinal discovery in the form of an external or pore treatment. The new remedy is for the relief of rheumatism and all kindred ailments, and is said to outrival anything of the kind ever found for the purpose; in fact, it takes the place of internal medicines in the treatment of almost every ill.

Blood and bodily impurities drain out through the pores, never through the stomach. The new treatment is designed to assist nature in cleansing itself of the poisons absorbed by the blood and tissues. When the pores become clogged or do not work freely, the poisons accumulate and inflammation sets in. Rheumatism, neuralgia, nervousness and many forms of skin diseases are all more or less the result of clogged or congested pores. The treatment is ideal for sore throat, sore lungs, bronchitis, and is simply magical in the relief of nasal catarrh.

The new remedy is called Know-doc Pore Treatment, and is now being placed in drug stores in both small and large sizes.

MOTHER! LOOK AT YOUR CHILD'S TONGUE

Give "California Syrup of Figs" If Cross, Feverish, Sick, Bilious, Constipated--They love it

Watch Children Now! Guard Against Colds, Grippe, Sore Throat and Sickness by Keeping Liver and Bowels Free from Poisons

A laxative today saves a sick child tomorrow. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, which become clogged up with waste, liver gets sluggish; stomach sour.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, or your child is listless, cross, feverish, breath bad, restless, doesn't eat heartily, full of cold or has the grip or a sore throat or any other children's ailment, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," then don't worry, because it is perfectly harmless, and in a few hours all this constipation poison, sour bile and fermenting waste will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. A thorough "inside cleansing" is oftimes all that is necessary. It should be the first treatment given in any sickness.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. See that is is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Don't merely ask for Syrup of Figs, but ask for "California Syrup of Figs." Remember, "California."

RUN DOWN ON ROAD.

Two Pasadena Men Seriously Injured in an Automobile Accident.

MacD. Snowball, a Pasadena business man, and Dr. B. O. Coates, police surgeon, were seriously injured in an automobile accident at Slauson Junction yesterday. They were returning to Pasadena from Torrance when the roadster, in which they were driving, was struck from behind by a large machine. The compact was of such violence that the smaller car was whirled completely over in the air and left a wreck.

An X-ray photograph will be taken of Mr. Snowball's injuries to determine their nature. He has a fracturned collarbone, his arm is injured, his face is terribly cut and he is suffering from bruises and wrenches all over his body.

Dr. Coates is suffering great pain, his spine having been seriously injured. His hip is also painfully injured, but as yet the extent of his injury is not known.

The big car was at first in front, when Dr. Coates sounded his electric signal and then started to pass. Just as it was passing the other driver suddenly turned, striking the Pasadena machine. The driver's name was not learned. The two Pasadena men were brought home in a car which was passing. Officers are trying to locate the driver of the other car.

Snow on Grayback Melted by Hot Weather of Last Few Days—Road Rerouted Because of Flood Damage—Park Built at Banning.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

BANNING, March 11. — The hot weather of recent days caused the snow on Mt. Grayback and other local peaks to melt rapidly. The Whitewater River at once started on a rampage and made impossible the usual traffic between this city and the mining district on account of lack of bridges due to previous floods.

Banning business men took hold of both horns of the dilemma and joined in building a substantial bridge over the turbulent stream.

ROAD REROUTED.

To combat the ravages wrought by floods, the road through San Timoteo Canyon, between Banning and Redlands, will be rerouted for some distance, along the Southern Pacific track. The plan includes the purchase of a strip of land alongside the well-known El Casco ranch, near Redlands.

RAILROAD PARK.

The Chamber of Commerce and the Southern Pacific Company are co-operating to establish a partk on railroad land opposite the station here. The grounds are being now prepared under direction of W. G. Martin, railway landscape gardener, who will plan the park, and the people of Banning will maintain the attractive place.

There was a time whe nthe photographer who put the highest polish on his picture was considered the best. Many today judge the quality of photographs from the most immaterial standpoint, the mount, the surface, or the background. The individuality and living representation of the subject to them is lost. Mr. Steckel caters to those who know and it is admitted that this feature of his portraits is of the highest class, for by his system, satisfying results are assured and parents who once have had their children's pictures made by Mr. Steckel marvel at the results. TODAY'S BEAUTY HINT.

It is not necessary to shampoo quite so frequently if your hair is properly cleansed each time by use of a really good shampoo. The easiest to use and quickest drying shampoo that we can recommend to our readers may be prepared very cheaply by dissolving a teaspoonful of canthrox, obtained from your druggist, in a cup of hot water. This rubbed into the scalp creates a thick lather, soothing and cooling in its action, as well as very beneficial to scalp and hair. After rinsing, the scalp is fresh and clean, while the hair dries quickly and evenly, developing a bright luster and a soft fluffiness that makes it seem very heavy.

Cured His RUPTURE

I was badly ruptured while lifting a trunk several years ago. Doctors said my only hope of cure was an operation. Trusses did me no good. Finally I got hold of something that quickly and completely cured me. Years have passed and the rupture has never returned, although I am doing hard work as a carpenter. There was no operation, no lost time, no trouble. I have nothing to sell, but will give full information about how you may find a complete cure without operation, if you write to me, Eugene M. Pullen, Carpenter, 419B Marcellus Avenue, Manasquan, N. J. Better cut out this notice and show it to any others who are ruptured—you may save a life or at least stop the misery of rupture and the worry and danger of an operation.

THE WEATHER.

[Official Report.]

LOCAL OFFICE, U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, Los Angeles, March 11.—[Reported by Ford A. Carpenter, Local Forecaster.] At 5 o'clock a.m. the barometer registered 29.97; at 5 p.m., 29.93. Thermometer for the corresponding hours showed 73 deg. and 82 deg. Relative humidity, 5 a.m., 38 per cent.; 5 p.m., 29 per cent. Wind, 5 a.m., northeast, velocity 11 miles; 5 p.m., southwest, velocity 4 miles. Highest temperature, 88 deg.; lowest, 67 deg. Rainfall for season, 19.29 inches; last season, 14.76 inches. Barometer reduced to sea level.

WEATHER CONDITIONS. — The western area of high pressure has coalesced with the eastern area and there is now forming a widespread area of high barometer which covers the greater portion of the United States. Very little precipitation occurred during the past twenty-four hours. The maximum amount, .28 of an inch, fell at New Orleans. Freezing temperatures are general north of Tennessee and Oklahoma. Except rain at Seattle, the Pacific Coast weather is free from precipitation of any character. It is cool in the Northwest and warm in the South. Temperatures above 90 deg. were of common occurrence in Southern California Friday, except in the coast districts of Orange and San Diego counties. Fair and warm weather will continue in Los Angeles and vicinity, but the temperatures will not be so high Sunday.

LOCAL FORECAST.

For Los Angeles and vicinity: Fair Sunday; not so high temperature; northeasterly winds.

For Southern California: Fair Sunday; continued warm.

STATE FORECAST.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 11.—Weather forecast: San Francisco and vicinity: Fair Sunday, with fog in the morning and at night; not so warm; light northwest wind.

Sacramento, Santa Clara and San Joaquin valleys: Fair and continued warm Sunday; light northerly wind.

Southern California: Fair Sunday; not so warm; light southwest wind.

TODAY'S AID TO BEAUTY

An especially fine shampoo for this weather can be easily made at trifling expense by simply dissolving a teaspoonful of canthrox in a cup of hot water. Pour slowly on scalp and massage briskly. This creates a soothing, cooling lather that dissolves and removes all dandruff, excess oil and dirt. Rinsing leaves the scalp spotlessly clean, soft and pliant, while the hair takes on a glossy richness of natural color, also a fluffiness which makes it seem much heavier than it is. After a canthrox shampoo arranging the hair is a pleasure.

PROF. C. IRVIN ALTHOUSE,
NOTED ASTROLOGER AND PALMIST OF NATIONAL FAME AND REPUTATION.
STUDIO PARLORS, 621 S. BROADWAY.
A RESIDENT OF LOS ANGELES 31 YEARS.

PROF. ALTHOUSE is an experienced practitioner in the science of modern ASTROLOGY, by which he has made many REMARKABLE PREDICTIONS. The horoscope shows the powerful influence of the planets in ALL AFFAIRS OF LIFE. It shows diseases, deaths, love and marriage, financial affairs, investments, changes, talents, environments, about children, relatives, when and where to travel, who to seek or avoid, when in danger of losses, troubles, etc., etc., also your good periods coming—GIVING DATES of these events for the FUTURE.

PROF. ALTHOUSE read E. H. Sothern, Nat Goodwin, Schumann-Heink, Gadski, Admiral Schley, David Starr Jordan, ex-Gov. Pardee, ex-Senator Clark, Senator Smoot, Baron Rothschild, Gen. Chaffee, Edison, Sousa, Modjeska, Capt. Hobson, Julia Marlowe, Anna Held, Jefferson, Sembrich, Lillian Russell, Calve, Admiral Evans, H. E. Huntington, etc. EXPERT PALM READINGS, READINGS BY MAIL.

DR. J. A. LARSON writes: "Your reading was the most satisfactory I ever had in my life. I know a great deal about these sciences, and I consider your work is the most THOROUGH and RELIABLE of any reader in the United States."

MY SKILLED work must not be classed with other readers. Therefore do not waste your money on the idiotic advice and warning of HUMBUG astrologers, palmists, psychics—those doing dishonest work.

PROF. ALTHOUSE'S wonderful proficiency in the casting of HOROSCOPES and in HAND readings has brought him a LARGE and SUCCESSFUL PRACTICE. The most private confidences are reposed in him, and his advice is sought in the most difficult and critical circumstances. Personal attention given. STRICT PRIVACY. HIGHEST GRADE OF WORK that skill and many years' experience can produce. HIGH-CLASS PATRONAGE SOLICITED.
Daily and evenings, Sundays, 10 to 4.
STUDIO PARLORS, 621 S. BROADWAY.

PSYCHIC FORCES.
DOES YOUR FUTURE INTEREST YOU?

50c 50c Readings Readings Readings 50c 50c

During the time PROF. MURDOCK has been located in Los Angeles, his parlors have been crowded with the best people of the city and vicinity. His indorsements are of the highest from all over the State. He is recognized as a master in the science of PSYCHOLOGY; one visit to him will prove all that is claimed of him. His power is not meant to gratify the idle curious, but to direct, advise and help men and women in trouble and suspense concerning the every day affairs of life.

50c 50c Readings Readings Readings 50c 50c

He gives a careful and complete revelation of your love affairs and domestic life, your friends, changes you are about to make, and he advises what is best for you to invest in, buy and sell. There are strange and mighty forces men and women can use to better their conditions, they are the latent power that all possess and when properly developed will rule your future, for happiness and success.

50c 50c Readings Readings Readings 50c 50c

If you have been a failure it is because you have not had the key of knowledge at your command. A five-cent car fare will enable you to consult PROF. MURDOCK and probably change a life doomed to failure into happiness and success.

MRS. MASSON,
the noted palmist of London, England, may be consulted at 322 SOUTH SPRING STREET, by those desiring CAREFUL, CONSCIENTIOUS AND SCIENTIFIC HAND READINGS, FROM ONE OF THE FOREMOST PALMISTS OF THE DAY.

The earnest student and thinker will soon learn in his investigations along psychological lines that that which pertains to occult phenomena proper can readily be distinguished from crude and oft-exposed SLEIGHT-OF-HAND TRICKS, the most common of which is the telling of the subject name, age, etc., AFTER HE HIMSELF HAS WRITTEN THAT information.

PALMISTRY HONESTLY PRACTICED WILL NOT tell your name, but it WILL give you information of considerably greater value in everyday life.

Your vocation, your present line of work, matters of health and domestic life, financial conditions and ways and means of climbing out of a rut of ill luck into wide paths of success and prosperity can all be told you through scientific palmistry, WITHOUT A SINGLE QUESTION, WRITTEN OR VERBAL.

MRS. MASSON DOES NOT APPEAL TO IGNORANT SUPERSTITION, BUT TO THE FINEST INTELLIGENCE.
HIGH-CLASS PATRONAGE SOLICITED.

RED TAG WEEK—

GREER-ROBBINS,

USED CAR DEPT.

It's going to be a hummer. The greatest clean-up of snappy looking used automobiles ever pulled in Los Angeles.

By the time our Red Tag clean-up week has speeded by there'll be a big bunch of happier and wiser auto owners in these parts.

Nothing reserved. Big cars and little ones. They've all got to sell this week. The low priced Red Tags will make them sell.

Every standard motor car. Startling terms. Prices banked to pieces.

HUPMOBILES—1914 and 1915. Several nifty 4 and 5-pass. like new, at prices that will satisfy. Overhauled and refinished.

OVERLAND 40—full electric equipment; demountable rims, extra tires; good all through, and looks swell. For $475.

CHALMERS 30—demi-tonneau; a conceited little car that is absolutely right; Kelly-Springfield non-skids like new. Electric lighted.

STUDEBAKER—1914 Studebaker Six, electrically equipped and tires in fine condition. Seven passengers. $650 this week.

CHALMERS 36—5-pass. cars, that are snaps, six-speed transmission, some have seat covers and starters. $400 up.

MERCER raceabouts. We have a couple that are big buys. A Mercer and Stutz Bear Cat cars that have enough pepper to make you chill. Price away below value.

CHALMERS, 1913. 7-passenger, overhauled and refinished, tires like new, self-starter and electric lights, $475.

APPERSON—A 5-passenger Apperson, Gray & Davis lighting system; wonderful condition, $425 and it's yours.

STUTZ—1913, 4-passenger, overhauled, refinished, extra good tires. Only $650.

BUICKS—A bunch of these popular cars, roadsters and touring; 1913 25 roadsters, only used 6 months; 1913 5-passenger 25, in elegant shape; 1913 5-passenger, 32-H.P., just as good; and others ranging in price from $450 to $750.

SEVERAL 1914 32 Hupmobiles, exceptional bargains; Westinghouse lighting and starting, Bosch magnetos; up to the minute and the most popular car on the market; $650 and up.

A DANDY COUPE, it's a beauty; with everything expected in a car; your friends will envy you. Selling for less than one-third original cost. Unscratched, and run less than 5000 miles. The car and price will both surprise you.

THE BALANCE of our splendid stock is equally as fair priced and startling in value. All standard makes. Easy prices, and terms to responsible parties.

FOR SALE—HERE ARE A FEW LATE MODEL cars with electric starters, lights, etc., that have been taken in trade on the Chandler Six in the last thirty days. They have all the mechanical improvements that you will find in a 1916 car and as we are not used car dealers, we are going to offer these below market.

Velie, 1915, 5-passenger touring car, $750. It's there with all the good things a Velie reputation stands for.

Overland 1916 model, been used just three months and really better than a new car. Cost $865 as equipped. Light five-passenger 30-horse-power, $595. Electric starter and all possible improvements.

Cadillac 5-passenger touring car, 1913 model, with electric starter, etc., $550.

Studebaker "25," light five-passenger touring car with electric starter, lights, etc., and practically as good as new, $475. Late 1914 model.

Buick "37," five-passenger touring car, late 1914 model, with electric starter, lights, etc. If such a thing is possible, this runs better than a new car, $600.

Reo the "Fifth," light five-passenger touring car with electric starter, lights, etc., $450. Looks like new, runs like new and is as good as a new car.

Studebaker 35, late 1913 seven-passenger with electric starter, lights, demountable rims, generator, etc., $385. The only car in today's paper with electric starter at the price. Easily worth $550.

Hudson "Six 54," with electric starter, lights, etc., 7-passenger car, in perfect condition, for $650.

Overland, 1914 model, with electric starter, generator, etc., light 5-passenger, in good condition, $400.

We have many more coming and at least twenty others of lesser price now on the floor. If you appreciate a straight talk as to condition, etc., it will pay you to look them over. INVESTIGATE THE STUDEBAKER USED CAR DEPARTMENT.

WE HAVE THE RIGHT CAR FOR YOU!

Over fifty cars to select from—everything from a Ford to the highest priced machines. Notice especially, the splendid selection of slightly used light cars with starter and lights.

OUR PRICE IS RIGHT!

The value of the new Studebaker car is so remarkable that cars are traded in to us at lower prices than to any other dealer in Los Angeles. These bargains are passed on to you with no profit added. We are looking for volume for our used car department—NOT PROFIT.

A SAFE PLACE TO BUY!

The Studebaker name is a watchword the world over for fair dealing. We must keep good that reputation. Obviously, a bill of sale by Studebaker, with its $54,000 worth of assets, is a real bill of sale.

"AMERICAN FACTORY REBUILT" MEANS A class of typewriters such as no other concern does or can rebuild as we do. It is an identifying term used to distinguish OUR TYPEWRITERS from the great mass of machines offered under the name "REBUILT" that are simply repaired. It means that when you purchase an AMERICAN "REBUILT TYPEWRITER" you get a "FACTORY" reconstructed machine with new parts where necessary; a machine equal to NEW in mechanical quality. Take these points into consideration when you compare prices.

No. 11 Remington visible	$45.00
No. 1 Royal visible	25.00
No. 5 Underwood visible	37.50
No. 10 Smith Premier visible	32.50
No. 7 Remington	17.50
No. 2 L. C. Smith visible	25.00
No. 5 Oliver visible	25.00

Other makes at reasonable prices.
We rent first class typewriters at 3 months for $5.00 and up, and the initial rental applies if you purchase. Typewriters shipped out of the city subject to approval. Get our latest catalog free.

GAY COLORS BEWILDER.

BALLET-OPERA MIXED BILL IS OFFERING AT MASON.

By Edwin F. Schallert.

The tavern of Lilias Pastia was a merry place last night. You would, however, have found it rather difficult to discover its location in this neighborhood, unless you happened to be at the Mason. There it was quite plainly apparent as the closing scene of the mixed bill offered by the Boston Opera Company and the Pavlowa Ballet Russe, consisting, in order of presentation, of the first scene from "I Pagliacci," the Elysian fields scene from Gluck's "Orpheus," and the second act of Bizet's "Carmen."

Quite the center of the bewildering mass of color, tuned to the merry Bizet rhythms in a hardly to be forgotten way, was Maria Gay, and a gay Carmen she was if you will forgive a little pun. She is also a buxom Carmen who eats apples and throws the core at the Captain of the Guard, one who blows her nose to punctuate a scolding she gives Don Jose, who chatters continuously to everybody from Pavlowa herself down to the merest "prop" soldier.

She just naturally romped through the act in a big-hearted way that quite captured your fancy with its happy freedom.

Never has there been such a mass of color as in the ballet part of this dance. There were all moods expressed from the vividly brutal one of the bullfight to that full brilliance of Spanish love making. Pavlowa was a flame of life in her first Spanish number, that moves with the giddy velocity of sharply contrasted color—orange, green and black—expressed in her costume. Volinine was elegance and grace personified in her numbers. Miles. Plaskovietska, Kuhn, Fredova, Crombova, Butsova and a host of others filled the whole with such a mass of color as left an impression of dizzy richness.

QUIETER MOOD.

You could see the earth behind those mists at the back of the stage from the Elysian Fields in "Orpheus." It looked quite blue and still, and not a bit warlike or prepared. You could be quite sure you were not in the realm of reality from these things, even before the fairy-like dancers in their soft gray and yellow and white began to invade these fields of pink roses.

Softly sweet the forgotten music of Gluck pervaded the whole. Mozartian in its divine simplicity and of a purity transparent, it leaves behind a message of rest and peace—a background of loveliness for Orpheus's search for Eurydice, his soft songs to her, and their final departure together for the material world again.

The scene, as it progressed, gained increasing color from the bevies of dancers that gradually filled the stage with a soft luxurious glamour. Maria Gay and Bianca Saroya were picturesquely fascinating in the roles of Orpheus and Eurydice.

Thunderous applause greeted Zenatello and a garden of flowers Felice Lyne at the second performance of the first scene of "Pagliacci."

"BUTTERFLY" TODAY.

A special popular matinee of "Madame Butterfly" will be given this afternoon with Madame Tamaki Miura in the title role.

GROTTO INSTALLED.

Masons Hold Ceremony for Institution Here of Mystic Order of Veiled Prophets of the Enchanted Realm — W. W. Howard Elected Deputy Monarch.

More than 300 prominent Masons enjoyed a delightful programme last night at the installation and banquet of the Jinnistam Grotto, Mystic Order of Veiled Prophets of the Enchanted Realm, in the banquet hall of the Broadway Department Store.

The ceremony of the institution of the grotto was conducted by Charles E. Lansing, Past Grand Monarch and one of the founders of the order. Mr. Lansing, who is a brother of Secretary of State Lansing, is a member of Azim Grotto, No. 7 of New York.

The following speakers were introduced by Toastmaster W. W. Howard: Rev. C. C. Selecman, Dr. S. E. Burke, J. H. Bean and William H. Fischer. The musical programme was given under the direction of Ben. Laletsky.

It was announced that a drill team and a patrol, with twenty-four members and three officers, will soon be organized, under the direction of Maj. Harry B. Light. A band will be organized by Mr. Laletsky.

The officers elected last night were as follows: W. W. Howard, Deputy Grand Monarch; H. W. Reynolds, Monarch; John Kemp, Chief Justice; Harry Andrews, Master of Ceremonies; B. P. Glenn, Treasurer; L. W. Claybough, Secretary, and J. H. S. Sheridan, Registrar.

Last Club and Gold Offer.

80,000 Extra Votes.

Candidates in The Times famous automobile and prize event are herewith apprised of the last big club offer of the campaign — 80,000 extra votes on each five-year club of new subscriptions to the Daily Times.

This is the last chance to club new subscriptions together and gain thousands of bonus votes. The magnificent offer opens tomorrow and continues for ten days, closing promptly at 9 o'clock, Wednesday, March 22.

The subscriptions must be new;

Of any length from one months to two years;

and to the Daily Los Angeles Times.

All regular votes issued on each subscription as usual; the 80,000 bonus votes are extra.

No limit on number of clubs each candidate may secure.

Don't hold back your subscriptions; turn them in as fast as you secure them so the subscribers may secure their papers.

The Campaign Department will keep an accurate record of all receipts and special ballots will be mailed to all candidates entited thereto at the expiration of the offer.

Nothing bigger is coming; the present offer makes new subscriptions more valuable than they will ever be. It is positively the last club offer of the campaign.

How You Can Enter Now and Win:

A new yearly subscription to The Daily Times entitles you to 40,000 votes. Five of them total 200,000 votes. They likewise constitute a five-year club, thus making in all 280,000 votes. Or, two new 2-year subscriptions, (100,000 votes each) and a yearly, will give you a grand total of 320,000 votes.

Just one club is enough to equal the standing of the leading candidate.

Perhaps an hour or two—or even a day—will suffice to make up a club among your friends who are not now taking The Times.

This offer lasts ten days—plenty of time to top the vote column and build a snug reserve. There still remain eighteen days of this great campaign, a period long enough to see all your friends and wage a race that will win one of the sixteen beautiful automobiles for you.

If you have not yet started, clip out the nomination blank in the lower left-hand corner of this page—good for 5000 free votes. On the first subscription you turn in will be added 15,000 more free votes. Such a start will send you well on the way to victory. YOU might just as well have one of these automobiles.

Make the beginning now!

$75 in Gold Free

Owing to the great success thus far, the management is prompted to liberal offer of $75 in gold free to the candidate who turns in during the the largest sum of new subscription payments to the Daily Times. Every has a chance to win this gold—at the same time gaining the thousands votes given on clubs. It is positively the last gold offer.

Every candidate whose name is listed on this page has an equal out in the end. The few thousands of votes that may separate one from no barrier to a determined candidate, for, with this 80,000 offer as a vancement, many thousands of extra votes—the winning votes—are

This is the eleventh-hour opportunity. You can get enough votes your name to win the Mitchell Six, the Moon, or any one of the sixteen automobiles. Besides, there are an even dozen $100 Tiffany diamond rings like number of $75 phonographs.

The Times campaign is rapidly drawing to a close. Those who will be left behind by the young women who will sweep everything before Determination can do wonders, if the will is only there, and just as surely didates put forth the best there is in them now, they will find this special stepping-stone that takes them right up to the platform where the stand.

All votes received up to 10 a.m. yesterday, are included in the count tabulated on the Burroughs adding machine.

Offer opens tomorrow and closes March 22—Ten days of opportuni

THE EVER-HIGH TIDE.

XXXVth YEAR. SUNDAY MORNING, MARCH 12, 1916.

FACT AND COMMENT.

Real estate men, builders, bankers and capitalists are beginning to speak in a spirit of optimism of the change that has taken place in the business and financial situation since 1916 was ushered in. It is a change that has been so gradual as hardly to be noticeable, but its cumulative results are giving all close observers something to talk about. The most cautious and conservative dwell in terms of cheerfulness upon the outlook. Others more enthusiastic, but known for their soundness of judgment, predict a revival that will wake everybody up within from thirty to sixty days.

The improvement is evidenced in many ways. It is strikingly shown in the increased volume of bank clearings from month to month as compared with the figures for the corresponding period of a year ago. The industrial development of recent months has been without precedent. The pronounced picking up in building operations also tells a story of renewed progress. Real estate sales and exchanges of importance are also becoming more and more frequent, and the number of transfers of all kinds is increasing. Ten inquiries for property are reported today for every one that was heard of this time last year. Stores and other rental holdings are taking in the for-rent signs. Apartments, hotels and flats are filling.

Readjustment.

It is well and good that our prosperity and activity have been returning in just the way they have, rather than with a bang and a hurrah. It means that everything will be on a more solid basis when things are in full blast once more. It means that everything that was awry will have been put through a wholesome and healthy process of readjustment. The surplus will have been gathered in, the oversupply of houses and lots taken up and everything placed back on good solid earth again.

Los Angeles, it is now realized by thoughtful persons, had begun to lose its head about the time that the dull period from which the country at large has now emerged first came on. Too many houses, too many stores and too many apartments had been built and too much money was tied up in more or less speculative subdivision enterprises of all kinds. Everything was lovely as long as the general feeling of prosperity was at its height and people were in the mood for investment, but the first signs of retrenchment found the builders with lots of houses for which there was little sale, and the owners of property with property that was dead on their hands.

The comparative inactivity of the market in the past two years and a half has given those individuals and corporations that had overbuilt a chance to dispose of their holdings. Steadily from month to month the number of buildings of all kinds has been filled, and slowly but surely the vacant stores, flats and apartments have been filling up. The result is that the owner who has wisely withheld his property from the market during a time of sacrifices and forced sales may now place it on sale at a reasonable figure with some assurance of finding a buyer.

Advance.

It is true that many have had to suffer loss in this period of readjustment, but they have been paying the penalty of having been led by their enthusiasm into overdoing things. Those who have bought property at exceptionally low figure, have made the profits they expected. Everything considered, values have held remarkably well throughout the depression, the trying period since having been a sort of crucible test of the underlying prosperity of the community. Los Angeles has stood that test well.

The fact that things may be in a state of readjustment does not mean of necessity that a community may not be going ahead. Los Angeles has made substantial progress right through the business and financial lull. Change and readjustment are things that must be expected in the best of times.

The men who are coining money today managing gasoline stations would have starved to death yesterday trying to eke out a living by any such method. Businesses and professions go out of style like clothing. The fact that several of the old-time small theaters that used to dot the streets no longer exist is no reflection on the prosperity of the city. The movies have taken their places and the managers who knew just when to quit the old business and go into the new are still doing business with profit to themselves.

The principle of readjustment has had admirable illustration in recent months in downtown Los Angeles. Something like a groan of despair has gone up several times when some well-known firm or other has given up an old-time location and moved to new fields, and yet in several notable instances new concerns of an entirely different character have taken the same sites and made a huge success from the first day. Locations play out for certain businesses and are ripe for others. The change in the needs of districts is something always to be expected.

Healthy Signs.

The readjustment in all lines in Los Angeles during the past two years or more has been a healthy readjustment. Everything has been done more cautiously than if times had been so prosperous that no one had thought anything of taking a chance. Everybody has been learning something. The weak points in many plans and undertakings have been spotted. Many past mistakes will never be repeated.

Los Angeles as a city has learned one big lesson that it will never forget and which has already borne fruit. That lesson is represented in the knowledge that its greatest need is a mighty manufacturing development for the utilization of raw materials found in Southern California and for providing the working population of the present and future with steady jobs. It has also caught the idea of the importance of patronizing home industries of all kinds.

The city has seen that it could not afford to depend so much on real estate and building activity and the rents and other moneys received from the tourist. The people of Los Angeles have come to realize that the really wonderful industrial growth that the city has enjoyed in past years is after all the progress that has counted above everything else. Industry is receiving the encouragement of the whole people as never before. That is the healthiest sign of all our auguring future prosperity.

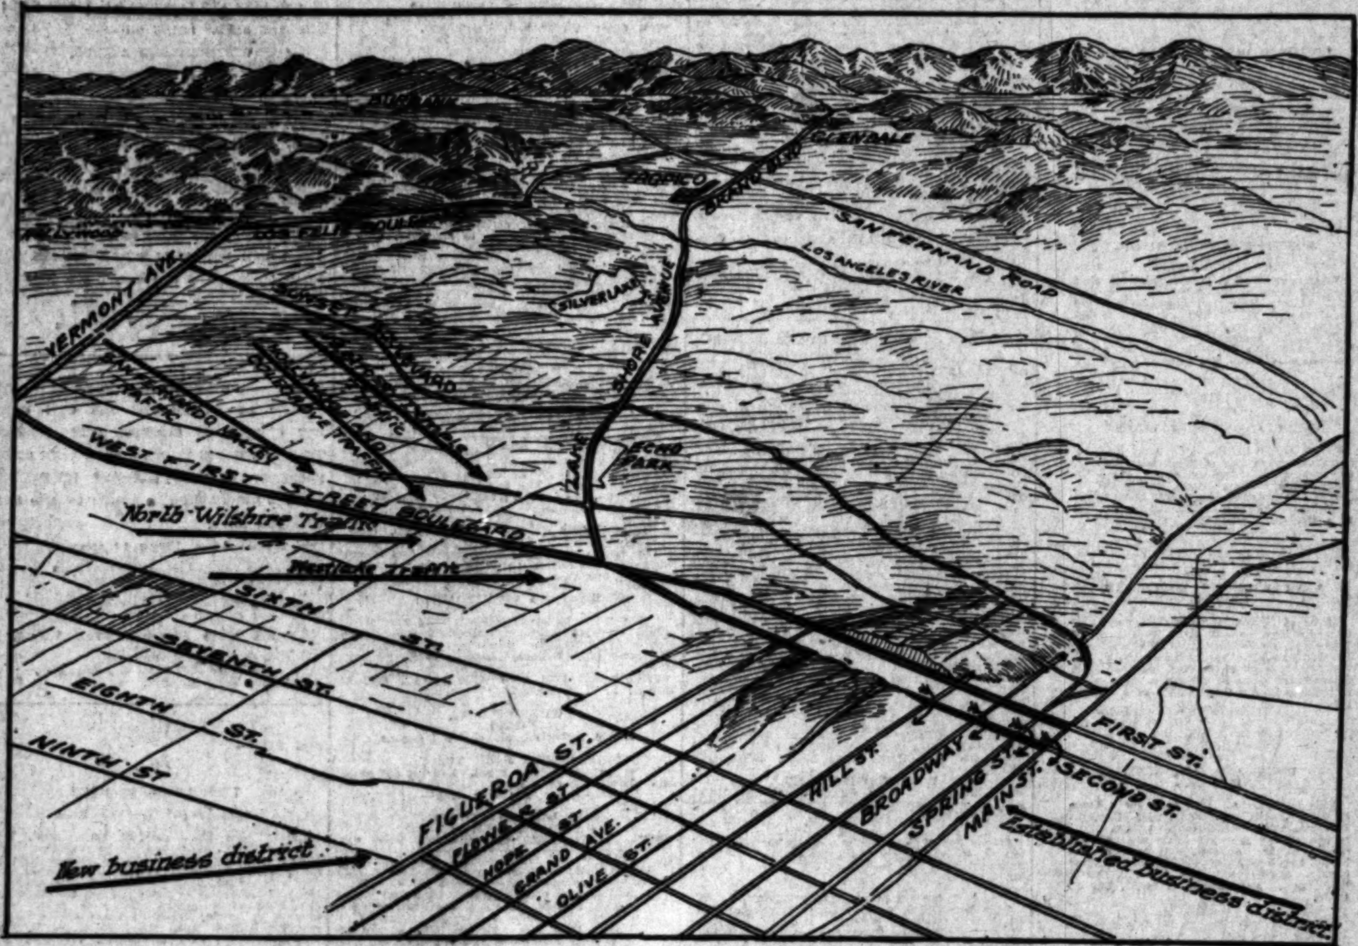
TO LARGER QUARTERS.

Manufacturers of Shell Products Lease Space on Los Angeles Street.

The W. Ross Campbell Company, represented by J. C. Thomas of its leasing department, has leased for the Los Angeles Notion Company, to the Wilson Manufacturing Company, a large loft on the top floor of the Lanco Building at No. 738 South Los Angeles street. The Wilson company is composed of Alfred, George and Will Wilson, and was established twenty-six years ago. The company manufactures jewelry and novelties from abalone shells and is declared to have originated the well-known "blister pearl." It is at present at No. 334 South San Pedro street. Increasing business made larger quarters necessary.

Mr. Thomas also reports that the Moore-Watson Dry Goods Company of San Francisco, represented here in the Grayco Building at Nos. 752-756 South Los Angeles street, has renewed its lease on its present space for a term of years. The renewal by the Alexander Smith's Sons Carpet Company of New York of its lease in the same building is also reported.

The Bunker Hill Open Cut and Its Relation to Traffic.



How the owners of the established business district may conserve and advance their seriously-threatened interests.

The map shows the distance to be saved by bringing the present and future traffic of West and Northwest Los Angeles and their outlying territory directly through the projected Bunker Hill cut into the north and south retail thoroughfares, instead of forcing it to go around the hill and double-back again. It also shows the strategic position of the new business district that is being created south of the hill for catching and holding all this traffic, in case no such outlet is provided. The West First-street boulevard and the new air line boulevard to the Glendale district, both assured, will concentrate the enormous volume of traffic that now straggles by many routes around the hill and will bring it to the corners of First and Figueroa and Second and Figueroa. The property owners and business men of the established shopping center can, by pushing the open cut to completion, grab the rich prize away from all possible competition at these two pivotal points. Otherwise, the whole tremendous flow will turn abruptly down Figueroa street and empty into the east and west streets south of the hill. Unless the older retail section a quarter of a mile farther east can continue to offer shopping inducements so superior to those of the new business district as permanently to draw this traffic the rest of the way over to Hill, Broadway, Spring and Main, which hardly seems likely, it will suffer a material loss by comparison with which the cost of the projected open cut would be as nothing.

BUYS FACTORY SITE.

Machine Company Acquires Ground for Plant in Laguna Bell Tract.

The Cochise Machine Company, which has plants on Aliso street in this city and Cochise, Ariz., has purchased five acres of land on Boyle avenue, south of Vernon avenue, from the Laguna Land and Water Company and will consolidate its manufacturing business at that point. The company has laid about half a mile of switching tracks preparatory to the starting of building operations.

The land is on a portion of the Laguna ranch 2700 acres, beginning at Vernon avenue and Downey boulevard, extending southward past Huntington Park and east several miles along the Pacific Electric line and Baker avenue. It is in a part of the ranch known as the Laguna Bell tract, where a considerable area has been set aside for industrial purposes.

F. C. Wood, who is handling the Laguna Bell property as sales manager, reports recent sales of several houses and lots in the tract. The Laguna Land and Water Company is now building five houses for the market.

Serious Situation.

TRAFFIC PRIZES WILL GO TO HIGHEST BIDDER.

Established Business District Must Exert Itself for the Bunker Hill Outlet or Risk Losing the Present and Future Trade of Northwest and North Los Angeles and All Outlying Territory.

AN ENORMOUS and growing volume of traffic, calculated of itself to give a real impetus to any portion of the far-flung retail area of downtown Los Angeles into which it might conceivably be diverted, but hitherto hopelessly scattered over roundabout lanes of communication, will soon be concentrated into one broad air-line-travel artery and delivered to the highest bidder.

The rich prize consists of the present and future Los Angeles-bound traffic from Glendale, Tropico, Burbank, Edendale, La Crescenta and their vicinities, together with that from a considerable portion of the San Fernando Valley and parts of Eagle Rock and York valleys, all of which will soon be coming straight south into Los Angeles over a fine highway to be formed by linking Brand boulevard in Glendale with Lakeshore avenue in this city.

The competition for this traffic is limited to two sets of bidders. One set is represented by the property interests of the older, established business district, bounded by First, Ninth, Hill and Main streets. The other comprises the energetic owners and developers of the striding new retail section that is now in process of formation to the west of Hill street and south of Seventh.

The former can have the prize in perpetuity, even as they can have all the traffic that will one day flow eastward in a mighty stream over the projected West First street boulevard—for the taking. Unfortunately for their aspirations for new traffic and new business, nature has erected a barrier in the shape of a hill that stretches like a wall along the west side of the modern retail and office section, cutting off direct access from much of west, northwest and north Los Angeles and their outlying territory.

If these owners in what has come to be known as the "established" business district want to be sure of all this new traffic, or, indeed, even of the traffic that now comes to them from the same vast and constantly developing regions by out of the way routes around Bunker Hill, it is plain that they will have to exert themselves. Some serviceable outlet for this ever-growing influx of shoppers will have to be provided through Bunker Hill and directly into the north-and-south thoroughfare of the central business district, or the rival retail section that is now springing up below the hill will undoubtedly claim a large share of it.

The developers of the brand new business area are, in fact, already bidding for the traffic that is being forced their way by building modern store and office blocks. They really have the jump on their rivals, as things now stand, and will continue to have until the projected open cut, or some other form of outlet through Bunker Hill, has actually been completed and put in use.

Until such an outlet has been completed, the combined traffic from the residence areas now denied direct access into the older business section, and a volume of traffic of incalculable magnitude, yet to be developed, will actually be forced to pass through the new retail area, with its increasing attractions for the shopper, in transit to the older shopping marts of Broadway, Hill, Spring and Main.

In the event that the Bunker Hill open cut project is defeated, there are those eminently capable of judging who declare that the shoppers who have been traveling around the south end of the hill and doubling back again into the present retail center, together with all who in the future might be forced to follow the same roundabout trails in order to trade in their accustomed shops, will find it more convenient and in other ways equally advantageous to stop off in the new retail zone.

THE WAY OUT.

The property interests of the established business district, on the other hand, have the opportunity not only to pull themselves out of a precarious situation that threatens them with gradual extinction, but to further increase the security of their heavy investments by seeing to it that an outlet through Bunker Hill is made an early reality. Such an outlet would shorten the routes for a large part of the traffic that now enters the downtown district, would facilitate the entrance of new traffic and would constitute a permanent insurance that all this present and future traffic would never be headed off and appropriated by rival developers.

The price of all this coveted traffic can almost be computed in dollars and cents in so far as the property owners of the present business center are concerned. The share of the open cut cost apportioned to the downtown district under the assessment plan agreed upon is a little over $2,000,000, or two-thirds of what competent engineers estimate as the probable necessary outlay for the project. The postcard vote now being taken among property owners by the City Council will determine whether the majority frontage holders in downtown Los Angeles think the prize worth the amount they will have to bid for it.

The traffic and business situations, as they exist in Los Angeles today are in fact probably without parallel in the history of American municipal growth. It may also be doubted whether ever before in the history of any large and growing city questions

Home Industry.

TO MAKE CITRUS FRUIT PRODUCTS.

LOCAL COMPANY WILL OCCUPY LARGE FACTORY.

Modern Five-story Structure to be Built at Ninth and McGarry Exclusively for Manufacture of Marmalades, Jellies, Extracts and Confections.

A large and thoroughly modern factory to be given over entirely to the manufacture of various products and by-products from oranges, lemons and grapefruit will be started within the next few days at the northeast corner of Ninth and McGarry streets for the California Orange Jelly Company. Plans for the structure, which will be five stories high and of brick, concrete and steel construction, have just been completed by Charles E. Shattuck.

The building will be erected by R. H. Arnold, being leased by him to the manufacturing concern for a long term of years. The details of this lease were concluded during the past week through the agency of F. W. Kadletz, manager of the leasing department of W. I. Hollingsworth & Co.

The conversion of citrus fruits into different products of commerce is a comparatively new industry in Southern California, notwithstanding the fact that this is the home of the orange and its kindred crops. The citrus fruits produced in the Southland have from the first been loaded almost bodily into iced cars and shipped to the East, there to be consumed as fresh fruit or manufactured into marmalades, jellies and the like.

The California Orange Jelly Company was organized about a year ago for the purpose of manufacturing the various citrus products of commerce at home. The company, of which W. J. Wilson is president, now has a plant occupying a single floor of a building on East Boyd street. The steady growth of its business has necessitated greatly-enlarged quarters and these will be provided in the new structure at Ninth and McGarry.

The architect of the new plant has devised several unique arrangements for facilitating the company's operations, these including a gravity system for conveying the different fruits to the machinery, thereby eliminating all handling by human hands. All the machinery will be electrically driven by individual motors. The cooking will be done by steam. Sanitary provisions throughout have been made a feature of the planning. Special attention has also been given to the comfort and welfare of the employees, dressing-rooms, rest-rooms and dining-room being provided for their use.

SOUTHWEST SALES.

The McCarthy Company reports the sale of three bungalows in the south and southwest parts of the city, as follows: To Mrs. Amanda Weiss, bungalow at No. 1360 East Fortieth street, $3000; to Mrs. Mary M. Quinn, bungalow at No. 1107 West Forty-eighth street, $4000, and to F. L. Kingsbury, bungalow at No. 1443 West Fifty-first street, $3500. The company also report the sale of a lot on Sixty-ninth street in the Main-street Villa Tract, to R. L. McKenzie. In the McCarthy company's Garden Acres tract near Inglewood the sale of a lot 81x304 feet in size to G. W. and L. E. Ryman is reported. The buyers, it is stated, will build a bungalow. The price of the lot is given at $800.

Here is a real bargain in a high class home that is located close-in, yet is in a restricted district, and surrounded by equally fine homes. The lot, 60x147, was appraised at $6500. The house is two story and a half and contains 12 large sunny rooms and three bathrooms. The grounds are finely improved with lawn, several fine shade trees, and many pretty vines and flowers, all well cultivated. Has cement driveway and roomy garage.

An unusually fine opportunity for anyone desiring an attractive high-class home that is situated close-in, yet having desirable environments. This is an absolute sacrifice at the price asked and will bear the closest investigation. Mortgage of $7000 can remain. Absolutely no trade considered as the tremendous sacrifice is for spot cash. Must be sold. Call Monday.

FOR SALE—
MAGNIFICENT WILSHIRE HOME.
$12,000. WAY BELOW VALUE. $12,000.

This beautiful home is within a stone's throw of Wilshire blvd. and represents the best value obtainable in the district in this class of house. The main rooms are finished in solid mahogany, hand rubbed to a piano finish; the spacious library or music-room being paneled in this beautiful wood. One of the most pleasant features of the house is the glassed-in fernery, which opens through French doors from the end of the living-room. It in turn opens onto a rear pergola porch, overlooking the garden, highly improved with rare shrubs and flowers. An upstairs reception hall or sitting-room with coved and beamed ceiling is another unusual and attractive feature. The bedchambers are all unusually large, with an abundance of closet room. But you must see this beautiful home to appreciate its many advantages and realize its real value. A phone call will place a courteous salesman and machine at your service.

FOR SALE—
SHOW PLACE BUNGALOW WAY BELOW ACTUAL COST.

Here's an opportunity for securing one of most attractive bungalow homes around Los Angeles. Six large beautifully finished rooms in main building with three bedrooms. Large living room, unique dining room with all built-in effects, commodious front and side porches, hardwood floors, unique electric fixtures, pergolas, complete cabinet kitchen, garage, building, including servants' quarters; lot 150x170, with 220 feet width in rear. Over $1500 was paid an expert landscape gardener to lay out the grounds, which are unusually beautiful—a veritable tropical garden, with rare roses, plants, various foliage and flowers, and terraced front lawn. Over $12,000 has actually been spent on this place. Reasonably worth $13,000. Must be sold this week, and want offer. Terms if desired. Oneonta Park district, high ground (meaning health and comfort) beautiful view mountains and valley, only twenty minutes out with finest car service in Southern California. Home in same block valued at $35,000. The number is 5656 VERIDIAN AVE., near Sierra Vista. Either go yourself or phone me and I will take you. It's good.

COLONIAL TYPE.
A RARE BARGAIN.
A HOUSE THAT APPEALS.
WILSHIRE DISTRICT.
PART CASH, BALANCE EASY.

Seldom has the public been offered an opportunity to purchase a home of this type at such a low figure. Designed and finished along the lines of the OLD COLONIAL mansions, this house is distinctly different from the general run of Wilshire homes.

Absolutely new and modern, this home consists of dining-room paneled in Peruvian mahogany with silk tapestried walls, large reception hall, living-room, and library; also finished in mahogany, breakfast-room, kitchen and fine butler's pantry finished in white enamel.

Upstairs contains four large airy sleeping chambers, all finished in white enamel with mahogany doors. Wall decorations the finest. Large tile bath and pedestal bowl and basin. Also extra tile bath for guest's chamber. Furnace and heater included.

Big roomy double garage, large lot, lawn and flowers, front and rear, wide cement drive, and in fact, everything that goes to make a modern up-to-date home.

Will take small payment cash and balance easy. This will not last long. Phone OWNER, 56048.

FOR SALE—

FONTANA LANDS.

Groves of orange, lemon or grapefruit trees, 1 to 5 years old, all kinds, and assortments.

Sold on very easy terms, six years to pay.

ORANGE GROWING PAYS. It is the most profitable line of farming which a man can follow in Southern California. We know it pays because our own groves are paying. The Fontana Citrus Association has sold this winter one car of grapefruit for $1461, and one car of lemons for $1142.16. A crop of a carload to the acre from a matured grove is not an unusual production.

Etiwanda, our next neighbor, with the same climate and conditions, took first prize at the National Orange Show for Lemons. Fontana took second—and the competition was keen. Fontana lemons are the LONG KEEPING KIND. They are the kind that PAY.

THE PARTNERSHIP OF THE ORANGE AND THE HEN.

The Fontana Poultry Plan provides immediately a way for a man to make a good living while his trees are maturing. All interested in poultry should see the model houses at Fontana, and look into the methods of the Fontana Poultry Association.

We believe we can take care of the man with a little working capital, and get him started to owning a really productive, orange grove home, with all that makes Southern California delightful—high foothill location, boulevards, pure water, gravity irrigation, electric cars, railways—better than in any other place in California. It is worth looking into.

The "FONTANA PLAN" cares for the trees of a nonresident, so he can keep on working and saving while his trees are growing.

FOR SALE—

PERFORMANCES, NOT PROMISES.
NORTH WHITTIER HEIGHTS.
ORANGE, LEMON, WALNUT AND AVOCADO LANDS AND GROVES.

The universally favorable opinion which is held of our North Whittier Heights citrus and walnut land subdivision by the orchardists of the Whittier and other adjoining sections is easily accounted for in the fact that the owners of this choice holdings have accomplished much in the way of development and have not tried to boost their property through extravagant promises of big things to be done in the future.

Approximately 1200 acres of this property has been planted to orchards, since the spring of 1912, by the owners and purchasers of the property, which record speaks for itself.

It is being sold in unplanted tracts of 5 acres and up or in tracts planted to one, two and three-year-old orchards and on easy terms if desired. We will also contract to plant or care for orchards for those who wish to have us do so.

If you are in the market for a safe investment and a desirable location for a suburban orchard home, we shall be pleased to show you the property by auto any day. Call, phone or write for full information and descriptive folder. See Russell or Maple, with

BUSINESS INVESTMENTS—

$10,000 INVESTMENT—

A going and paying manufacturing concern, organized under the California Blue Sky law, finds it necessary to greatly enlarge their output capacity, owing to the vast increasing demand for their product. Having no competition on the Pacific Coast, and being able to greatly undersell the Eastern manufacturers on their own ground, owing to the availability, and cheapness of the raw materials here, we find our present equipment and organization is not able to handle the business. We require a man in our organization who has character and force coupled with executive ability—this man to take a responsible position in the management and control of the company. We require that the man applying shall be able to invest $5000 in cash now, and have available $5000 more when required. He may have control of the expenditure of this money, and the interest given for his investment in the concern will be adequate and entirely satisfactory to him. He will be paid a salary of $200 a month, and furthermore will have a very good proposition made to him. Quick action is necessary. Address P. T., box 561, TIMES BRANCH OFFICE.

J. J. DORAN COMPANY.

UNITED NORTHERN. BUY THIS STOCK AT THE market, for this reaction will, in our estimation, be only short lived. We predict that it will be only a short time until the stock will be selling several points higher.

SUNNYSIDE. One of the best buys in the Oatman district is being overlooked by a large majority of the investors. These people are quietly and steadily progressing with the development of their property, and we look for the news to be suddenly cast among us at some future date that Sunnyside has struck rich ore, and then you will realize the opportunities you are letting slip by. Buy this stock at the present market. DON'T WAIT.

GILT EDGE. After a radical reaction yesterday morning on the Exchange, this stock started upward, caused by heavy buying, and closed with many thousand shares in demand at 14¼c. As it has not been five days since this stock sold at 13c, we consider that such performance is wonderful. REMEMBER, we advised the purchase of the stock at 13c; we now advise the purchase of it anywhere up to 14¼c.

TOM REED JUNIOR. This stock, so we are informed, will be listed soon. Initial price 20c. As we understand there are only 50,000 shares to be sold, we advise that you place your order immediately in order to be sure you will get in at the lowest price.

We will be pleased to execute all orders for the above or any other listed or unlisted stock or bond which you may desire to buy or sell.

The Glory Hole Bonanza stock.
Starting price 7½ cents per share.
It ought to rapidly increase in price.
It has merit as practical mining property.
It has practical mining management.
You are invited to investigate this.
It looks good to us, it will look good to you.
A limited amount only for 7½ per share.

We have mining property for sale at right figures. Five claims within limits Oatman field, cheap. Ground floor offering. Oatman district exceptional opportunity. Property near producing basis and half stock underwritten.
MACDERMOTT CO., 625 S. Spring.

BUY THE OATMAN STOCKS—
GOLD RANGE MINING CO.
I especially advise purchase of this stock.
Market price 15 cents a share.
Adjoins the Tom Reed and Ivanhoe.
On the main vein system.
The superintendent wires, "Rock in bottom of shaft assays six dollars twenty cents, shaft now 122 feet."
Will make 5 feet a day after installation of compressor.
This stock should show handsome profits in the near future. I firmly believe this property will make one of the Oatman mines.

PLANTING ACTIVITY.

Large Tracts in Vicinity of Calipatria Now Being Developed by [illegible]

Planting operations in the vicinity of the town of Calipatria in the Imperial Valley have been greatly stimulated as the result of the big land purchases recently made in that vicinity by Balfour, Guthrie & Co. and by Leroy Williams. The former partnership is joint owner with [illegible] and Williamson of 10,000 acres and on this tract a small army of [illegible] with 400 mules is now turning the [illegible] 3000 acres of which has already [illegible] graded. A hundred mules are [illegible] used in the grading and planting of the Little tract of 5000 acres, [illegible] acres being now in crop.

The Pacific Cotton Company has secured a 10-acre site in the industrial section of Calipatria and will build on the ground a long staple gin and a cotton seed oil mill. Work on the structures, it is announced, will be started within the next thirty days.

PLANS AUDITORIUM.

City of Santa Ana May Vote Bonds for Large Assembly Hall.

The city of Santa Ana proposes to build an auditorium that will seat between 2500 and 3500 persons and to cost in the neighborhood of $60,000. It is planned to make the building one that can be used jointly by the schools of the city and for conventions and community gatherings.

Santa Ana has a fine high school group, but this has no assembly hall. The need of such a hall has become pressing, and the Board of Education has named committees to make investigations into the cost of building one.

The board also has under consideration the advisability of adding more classrooms to the High School, the attendance at which has increased from 450 to 850 in four years. Two or three new grade schools are also needed by the community. Bonds covering the cost of all the contemplated improvements will probably be voted on.

Cash and Trade.

APARTMENTS SOLD.

Valuable Income Property at [illegible] and Alvarado Streets Brings Large Consideration—Lot in Pasadena Involved in the Deal.

The sale of the Acacia Apartments at the northwest corner of West [illegible] and Alvarado streets, for a given consideration of $75,000, is reported by W. B. Merwin & Co., as agent. [illegible] Strickler was the buyer and [illegible] Johnson the seller.

The property occupies a ground area of 60x150 feet and is a three-story brick structure of modern construction and appointment. Mr. Johnson received a lot in Pasadena as [illegible] as cash for the holding.

OUTING FOR SCOUTS.

Lads Have Day of Sport in the Open and in Evening See Workings of "The Times" Plant—Band Attracts a Crowd with Street Concert.

Yesterday was field day for the Boy Scouts who congregated at Sycamore Grove, under the leadership of Scout Executive Pollard, assisted by Scout Masters McNitt and Gray. After the affairs at Sycamore Grove the [illegible] proceeded to the Courthouse square, where they formed in a column and marched to The Times Building and inspected the plant at the invitation of the management.

The lads, whose training emphasizes the advantages of system and [illegible] were intensely interested in the orderly appearance and organization of the big plant. They were shown every department and the operation of machinery and handling of [illegible] ing forces were fully explained, particularly were the youngsters [illegible] by the battery of big presses below the street level. The Scout band gave an impromptu concert at The Times Building during the [illegible] hour of the early evening and attracted a large audience.

At 2 o'clock p.m. the bugle sounded the assembly call at the grove and the programme for the afternoon, which consisted of a relay race, a water-boiling contest and an observation contest, was begun. The Eagle Rock troop won the banner with a score of nineteen and a half points. Glendale took second place with seventeen points, and Whittier State School was third with nine.

The water-boiling contest was an interesting affair. Each team was composed of eight boys chosen from a troop. At a given signal the members gathered wood, started fires and brought pails of water to a boil. The time of the Eagle Rock troop was six minutes and fifteen seconds.

FOR THE BOOSTERS.

Railroad Building at Exposition [illegible] Los Angeles Headquarters.

It was announced yesterday that the spacious building of the [illegible] Union Pacific lines at the San [illegible] exposition will be turned over to the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce for headquarters on March [illegible] room and all possible accommodations will be provided for the boosters.

IN BERKELEY SQUARE.

Capitalist Acquires Site in Exclusive District and Plans Fine Home.

One of the most important transfers of vacant residence property recorded in this city in several months was closed during the past week when the Title Insurance and Trust Company, acting as trustee for a syndicate of owners, sold to W. W. Gray, a local capitalist, approximately an acre of ground in the exclusive Berkeley Square subdivision. The deal, which was closed through the agency of H. R. Kells, manager of the house and lot department of the Wright-Callender-Andrews Company, involved a given consideration of $[illegible]000 in cash.

The site has a frontage of 150 feet and is 250 feet in depth. It lies directly across the street from the beautiful estate of Lee A. Phillips. It is Mr. Gray's intention to build a mansion costing in the neighborhood of $[illegible]0,000 and to make this his permanent home.

TO OPEN CAFE.

A high-class cafe is to be established by M. P. Kressich at No. 423 South Spring street, as soon as extensive alterations to the store and basement at that location can be made. Mr. Kressich has taken a five-year lease on the space from Percy and Frank Schumacher. The interior decoration will be in charge of Plummer & Feil and will be of an elaborate character. Both a main dining-room and semi-private booths will be maintained.

HOTEL LEASED.

The Palmer Hotel, a three-story brick building of eighty rooms at No. 538 South Wall street, was leased during the past week by the Title Insurance & Trust Company, as trustee, to E. K. Albrecht, a local hotel and apartment house broker. Mr. Albrecht secured the property for a period of ten years and will place a manager in charge. The total rental is given at $57,600.

SEVERAL NEW HOMES.

The recent completion of a number of new homes at Bellflower is reported by the developers of that tract. Recent purchasers who have just built or who are now building are announced as follows: Arthur Leroy, J. M. Hale, J. E. Huls, George Taylor, Cyrus Snyder, F. L. Ziegler and Herbert Smith. Others, it is stated, are now planning to build in the subdivision.

WOMAN AT HEAD.

The Robert B. Armstrong Company announces the placing of Miss C. M. Ashley at the head of its house rental department. Miss Ashley was for five years manager of the rental department of the Edward D. Silent Company.

RENEWAL OF LEASE.

The McCarthy Company has released to the Brown-Ashe Printing Company the store at No. 213 North Broadway, in the New Hotel Broadway building, now occupied by that concern. The renewal is for the period of a year.

VERDICT FOR DEFENDANT.

The jury in the case of Mrs. Elizabeth Gard against the Southern Pacific Railroad Company, wherein she sought to recover $50,000 damages for alleged neglect resulting in the death of her husband, H. E. Gard, at Indio, brought in a verdict for the defendant yesterday afternoon. The original action was started in the court of Riverside county but was transferred to the Federal Court by the Southern Pacific Company. This hearing of the case has been before Judge Trippet and this has been one of the hardest fought personal injury cases ever heard in the United States District Court. Mr. Gard was well known in the Coachella Valley. At the time he was killed Miles W. Shaw was burned to death.

BAD CHECKS CHARGED.

[illegible] Davenport, 19 years old, was arrested at the home of her father, [illegible] B. Davenport, at No. 342 West Twenty-fourth street, yesterday afternoon by Pinkerton detectives, charged with having passed fictitious checks to the amount of $230. Miss Davenport admitted at the City Jail she had passed various checks for amounts of $10 to $25 to get money with which she might visit the cafes and have a good time. Her father is employed by the Santa Fe.

Traffic Prize.

of such vital importance to the community as a whole have ever hung on the result of a straw vote.

The real situation cannot be appreciated without a careful study of the ground. Maps do not tell the story, for they give no adequate conception of the topography of the vast region affected and no conception at all of the nature of the development already accomplished or feasible in that area. Suffice to say that approximately a quarter of residential Los Angeles is today denied direct access to the shopping center of Los Angeles because of the barrier of Bunker Hill and that its development has suffered and is suffering on that account, even as the downtown business district itself is suffering.

WHO'LL GET IT.

With the view to providing a vitally needed travel artery in this comparatively isolated region, a movement was started two years ago for a boulevard extending to the city limits on the line of West First and Temple streets. This boulevard will tap the cross streets in a vast territory extending westward from Figueroa and taking in nearly all of the area between Sunset boulevard and West Sixth street. It is planned to carry it eventually on westward through Beverly Hills to Santa Monica.

Active steps have been taken for the grading, widening and paving of much of the route between Figueroa and Vermont avenue. West of Vermont the boulevard will follow the line of Temple street and a strong movement for this part of the work has just been launched, with every assurance of a successful issue.

This boulevard, carrying most of the growing Northwest Los Angeles traffic that is now forced by different routes around the base of Bunker Hill, together with much traffic that now enters the business district by other ways, will come straight eastward to the corner of First and Figueroa streets, where it will bump into Bunker Hill. If an outlet is created for it from Figueroa street eastward through the hill, it will continue straight on to Hill Broadway, Spring and Main, thence swinging southward to be distributed along these thoroughfares from First to Ninth, or, as many predict, on down as far as Pico. If no such outlet is provided, it will turn abruptly south on Figueroa, skirting the western side of the hill and flowing into Sixth, Seventh, Eighth, Ninth and other east and west streets a quarter of a mile west of the western line of the established business district.

THE GLENDALE ROUTE.

The situation and posibilities with reference to this local traffic from the west and northwest have been often discussed. The new traffic situation to be presented by the concentration of all the city-bound traffic of the Glendale-Burbank-Tropico section into one travel artery coming down the west side of the hill will, however, come as a revelation to most persons.

The building of a $20,000 bridge across the Los Angeles River at Ivanhoe is the one thing needed to make the project possible, and this bridge was assured last fall when the City Council agreed to include it in the 1916 budget. The plan will be brought up for action in a few days by Councilman Topham, as chairman of the Public Works Committee of the Council.

Lakeshore avenue in this city has been widened and paved as far north as Alessandro street. Brand boulevard in Glendale and Tropico has been brought south as a wide paved avenue to the river. Three short dedicated streets connecting end to end and requiring only grading and paving fill in the gap between the river and the end of Lakeshore avenue, a distance of less than two miles. Preliminary steps have already been taken for this work.

That this new highway when completed will carry all the traffic of the Glendale-Tropico-Burbank district is made certain by the fact that it is such a distance saver. It will cut four miles from the present nine-mile route over Los Feliz boulevard and Vermont avenue and three miles from the route by way of San Fernando road. Its popularity as a travel thoroughfare will be farther enhanced by the fact that it will pass through the beautiful wooded hills back of Edendale and along the shore of Silver Lake. It is bound to result in a great subdivision activity in the sightly districts which it will make easily accessible to downtown Los Angeles.

Immediately the highway has become a reality, the traffic flowing through it will be brought straight down Lakeshore avenue and through Second street to the corner of Second and Figueroa. It will of necessity turn southward on the last-named street unless given a direct outlet into the business district through Bunker Hill.

The corners of First and Figueroa and Second and Figueroa, it will therefore be seen, will soon become the real pivotal points in a new traffic situation of tremendous significance and posibilities. Both streets now bump into Bunker Hill. Figueroa street, running as a smooth paved thoroughfare on southward down the side of the hill is the only course which the traffic coming eastward on First and Second streets can take for all time to come unless Bunker Hill is opened to travel or flying machines take the place of street cars and automobiles as a medium of general transportation.

QUESTION OF TIME.

A careful study of the situation will reveal that even were there no such thing as a question of rivalry between two distinct sets of property owning and business interests for the possession of all this trade-bringing traffic, the projected open cut through the hill would be of tremendous advantage as a distance-eliminating and time-saving factor for those using either of the great travel arteries mentioned in getting to the present retail section.

The saving in actual distance would range all the way from a block for a shopper bound for Seventh and Broadway to many blocks for those wanting to go to points farther north on Hill, Broadway, Spring and Main. The saving of time, which is of infinitely more importance, would be very great.

If First and Second streets were continued through the hill there would be no interruption of the traffic on either street by the cross currents of travel that make rapid movement on Sixth and Seventh streets so difficult. Traffic coming through the open cut would move on a straight line without a single turn and would not need to halt until it had reached the business streets.

Other cities have spent tens of millions in subways, elevated lines, viaducts, regarding projects and elaborate systems of boulevards designed to solve similar problems and have considered the money well expended. The cost of the Bunker Hill open cut is trifling by comparison with the results to be obtained.

The annual convention of the Pennsylvania State Motor Federation will be held in Altoona, April 15. Delegations of members of motor clubs from all over the State will attend the sessions of the convention.

FREER OFFERS FROM THE SOUTH.

MARKET FOR COTTON IN NEW YORK SHOWS A DECLINE.

Buying is of an Indifferent Character and for the Most Part Emanated from the Shorts—Spot Advices Continue to Display a Bullish Tendency.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 11.—Under the weight of freer southern offers and week-end realizing sales, the cotton market declined. Buying was of an indifferent character and for the most part emanated from shorts. Spot advices continue of a bullish charcter, fairly large sales at many points in the South having taken place. Most of this buying of the actual is said to be for European account, demand being ascribed to the flourishing condition of the cotton trade in Japan and to diminishing supplies in practically all the European countries.

Liverpool cables due 2 higher on March, 1½ higher on May and July, came as due on March, ½ lower than due on May and 1½ lower than due on July. Spots were dull; prices easier; sales, 3000; receipts, 30,000; American, 30,000; middlings, 7.80; futures opened dull.

Spot cotton quiet; middling uplands, 11.80. No sales.

PRICE OF WHEAT IN DECIDED SAG.

BEARISH ESTIMATES AFFECT EXPORTING COUNTRIES.

Torpedoing of Norwegian Steamer with Americans in its Crew has Influence on Prices on Chicago Exchange—Considerable Irregularity in Oats.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, March 11.—Wheat underwent a decided sag today, influenced by bearish estimates of stocks in the chief exporting countries and by the torpedoing of a Norwegian steamer which has Americans in its crew. The market closed weak 1⅛ to 2⅜ net lower with May at 1.09⅜ and July at 1.08⅜. Corn finished unchanged to a sixteenth higher, oats varying from ⅛ off to ⅜ advance and provisions up 2½ to 27½. Downturns began in the price of wheat as soon as trading opened. Corn displayed relative firmness throughout the day as compared with wheat. Considerable irregularity developed in the oats market. Speculative buying, specially in the last fifteen minutes of the session rallied provisions from an early decline. At first the market had lacked support, and was inclined to give way owing to a setback in the price of hogs.

MEXICAN SITUATION AFFECTS STOCK MARKET.

Trading Element in New York Views Developments with Increased Misgivings While the Investors Hold Aloof. Crucible Steel Leads List in Brief Advance, but Falls Back—Bonds are Steady.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, March 11.—Mexican affairs clouded today's short session, the trading element viewing these developments with increasing misgivings, while investors held altogether aloof. Prices were mainly higher at the opening but as usual gains were almost wholly restricted to specialties and denoted manipulation rather than actual demand. Crucible Steel led the list on its brief advance, but fell back later when the market receded under selling of Reading, New York Central and Southern Pacific. Metal shares were temporarily lifted to higher levels, with especial activity in American Zinc and Butte and Superior but these issues also lost ground. The last half of the session was extremely apathetic, with material recoveries from minimum prices of the first hour, chiefly as a result of short covering. United States Industrial Alcohol was prominent among the high-priced specialties, gaining 4¼ points, but losing more than a half of this later. Total sales of stocks amounted to 238,000 shares. Steadiness was shown by Americans in the London market. Local bank loans showed an actual decrease of $18,464,000, with an increase of about $31,000,000 in demand and time deposits and a slight decrease of reserves. Bonds were steady on very light offerings. Total sales, par value, were $1,110,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call during the week.

BROADER MARKET ON LOCAL EXCHANGE.

BUSINESS IMPROVES AT SATURDAY MORNING SESSION.

Big Jim Leads the Advances in the Oatman List—Buyers Continue to Absorb Gilt Edge—Union and Associated Oil Bring Firm Prices. Los Angeles Investment Weaker.

For a Saturday morning session, yesterday's meeting of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange was unusually lively. Outside of Investment all the activity was distributed between the mining and oil lists. Big Jim was very strong, sales being recorded at 1.70 and closing bids of 1.68 showing the present position of the security. Boundary Cone made its daily advance, and 4500 shares changed hands at 54½, with speculators still trying to pick up sixty-day buyer options at 90. Gilt Edge continued to sell in large quantities, and the price paid for the stock at the close was considerably higher than at the opening, when 6000 shares sold for 13¼, exactly 2 points below yesterday's high. In all 105,500 shares were transferred, which makes a total of almost 300,000 shares in two days. Fifty shares of United Eastern sold for 4.00, the lowest price that has been paid for this stock in some months. Among the oil issues Union accumulated a little strength at 71.25 and Associated brought 67.25. Rice Ranch was active to the extent of 500 shares at 1.30, but the stock was not in great demand. Los Angeles Investment was a trifle weaker, sales of 67 representing a loss of one point over night.

THE EASTERN MARKET FOR DRIED FRUITS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, March 11.—Evaporated apples dull. Prunes easy. Apricots and peaches firm. Raisins steady.

CRUDE OIL ADVANCED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

INDEPENDENCE (Kan.) March 11.—The Prairie Oil Company today advanced the price of Mid-Continent crude oil 5 cents a barrel to $1.48, the highest price known in the field.

COMMERCIAL.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

Lower prices for peas and asparagus was the only feature of importance on the produce market yesterday. Both vegetables are becoming very plentiful and peas in particular are pouring into the city in ever-increasing quantities. The quotation was cut Saturday to 5 and 8 cents a pound, the differential representing mediocre grades to the fanciest shipping stock. Almost every dealer in the market has a different price on asparagus, but a fair range of quotations would be 13 to 17½ for white asparagus and 15 to 20 cents a pound on the green variety. In the fresh fruit list Bellefleurs are about wound up, many of the wholesalers being out of this variety, and others having but an insignificant supply on hand. Pomegranates are cheaper at $1.20 to $1.50 a half-box, with practically no demand for the fruit.

It is reported from reliable sources that the California nut crop this season will be considerably larger than the 1915 crop, and that the acreage devoted to the growing of almonds will be increased. In 1915 the State crop of almonds was about 3800 tons, and the walnut crop aggregated 13,250 tons, making a grand total of 17,050 tons for the year. The climate of Southern California is one of the best in the world for the growing of almonds, and it is strange that so far more attention has not been paid to the cultivation of this variety of nut.

Butter went lower on the Produce Exchange yesterday morning when 30 cubes of extras changed hands at 28 cents a pound, a loss of 2 cents over night. Eggs also had a tendency to weaken, although closing sales were recorded at the firm figure of 19 cents a dozen. Cheese was inactive although the bidding for eastern sorts was rather spirited. San Francisco quotations were unaltered. Most of the local brokers anticipate a heavy production of eggs in Southern California this season. The unusually warm weather we are having at present has certainly had an effect on the hens as they are laying better every day. According to Secretary Pickrell the receipts comprised 704 cases of eggs, 54,600 pounds of butter, 2800 pounds of cheese, 891 sacks of potatoes, 370 sacks of onions, 3 sacks of sweet potatoes and 1487 boxes of apples.

Union Pacific Chief, Here, Urges Need of Instant Railway Preparedness.

Plans for Large Army, Adequately Equipped for National Defense in Event of War, of Little Avail, He Declares, Unless Immediate Steps are Taken to Insure Means of Transporting It—Significant Figures.

POINTING out that the consummation of plans for raising a large army and adequately equipping it for national defense in the event of a war with a first-class power will be of little avail unless steps are taken at once to provide for its swift and unhampered transportation to any threatened part of the United States, B. L. Winchell, director of traffic for the Union Pacific system, who has been at the Alexandria for some days, yesterday recommended the immediate appointment of a joint commission of railroad officials and General Staff officers to formulate definite plans for the rapid and extensive movement of large bodies of troops and to arrive at a common understanding which would make it possible to carry them out at a moment's notice. A careful study of the situation and of the lessons of past experience has convinced Mr. Winchell that such a move should be given an important place in the programme of national preparedness.

As head of the traffic department of one of the most important transportation systems in the United States Mr. Winchell is as closely in touch with railroad problems as any man in the country. He believes that not only would the success of military operations depend almost entirely upon the ability of the railroads to mobilize at once sufficient equipment to transport to strategically located camps of concentration huge bodies of troops with their horses, baggage and wagon trains, etc., but that the very existence of people in thickly-populated localities would depend upon the proper functioning of the railroads in bringing daily supplies of food from the rural districts.

Declaring that he entertains grave doubts regarding the ability of present railroad facilities to adequately care for both civil and military necessities in time of war, Mr. Winchell called attention to present traffic conditions throughout the United States.

FACING THE FACTS.

"There are," he said "more than [illegible] freight cars in the East that belong west of the Mississippi River. Practically every eastern terminal is congested and the congested traffic condition is already bringing home to all concerned the necessity for additional railroad equipment and a careful study of the railroad situation in general. In the West, there is a scarcity of rolling stock and it is estimated that at least [illegible] of the freight cars tied up in the East are needed by western roads to properly handle their commercial business.

"For our first ten divisions we would need at a few hours notice at least [illegible] cars for men and animals, and their equipment. This does not include provision for shelter, food and ammunition.

"At no time after the war broke out would the burden on the railroads be lighter until the cessation of hostilities and the declaration of peace. To the contrary, as additional forces were put in the field the strain on the railroads would become heavier in exact proportion to the increase in fighting units.

"When you consider that food and munition supplies would probably be shipped to camp from localities several hundred miles away you see that cars might be in transit three or four days, that they might stand on the unloading siding at camp forty-eight hours before being unloaded and then be sidetracked and switched around so as not to get back to their starting point for three or four more days. That means that we must have a large amount of extra equipment so as to keep a steady stream of provisions and other supplies pouring into camp.

"As, with the passing of time, the war spread over greater and greater areas the distance supplies would have to be transported would increase. The greater the length of time the cars would be in transit the more equipment would be needed to maintain the stream of supplies.

MERELY A STARTER.

"An important factor to be constantly borne in mind is that we have been figuring on a baisis of but 225,000 men, when in fact ten times that number would probably be in the field under arms in less that a year if the nation could stave off defeat long enough to equip them. Multiply our previous figures by ten and you see the magnitude of the problem of transportation under those conditions. Figures recently issued by authorities set the number of men available for military service, that is, able bodied men between 18 and 45 years of age, at more than 10,000,000. That is more than seventy-one times the number we figured on transporting.

"So far we have only considered military necessities and have not taken into consideration the 100,000,000 civil population that must be supplied with food. We have not made allowance in our computation for keeping our munition factories supplied with material nor for hauling raw products to the factories that must manufacture clothing and other articles. With contracts for additional manufactured supplies which would be needed to equip a vast army these factories would be working over time and demanding more and more raw materials.

"It is said that New York, if cut off from the rest of the world, would be face to face with starvation inside of forty-eight hours. Undoutedly every large city in the United States would be facing famine in less than a week if cut off from their supply of food by the absolute cessation of commercial railroad facilities.

"If at the present time there is such a scarcity of reserve rolling stock that the least traffic congestion works hardships on all concerned, think what would happen when every available car had to be turned over to the use of the army.

GET READY NOW.

"There is but one thing to do. We must fact the situation, find out exactly what is on hand and make definite plans as to its use to the best advantage. Otherwise we will not be prepared when the emergency arises to act without that delay which might prove fatal at the very outset.

"The solution of the problem, it seems to me, lies in appointing a commission of railroad officials to work hand in hand with the government and formulate a definite policy. The English plan made it possible for that nation to take over by one act of Parliament, all the transportation facilities of the country without a single serious interruption in service.

"The railroads and other private interests required for use of the government knew what they would be required to do and knew what they would receive for doing it. A similar plan of guaranteeing to the owners of each property a net income based upon its normal earning capacity would no doubt work out satisfactorily here.

"As to the handling of equipment it would seem we should profit by the experience of foreign nations. When the war broke out, the capacity of every freight and passenger car in Germany was known to the military authorities. On the side of each car a stenciled table gave the number of men or the number of animals that could be accommodated. The table also showed the net tonnage that could be carried and told the amount and classes of field equipment for which it was best adapted. If we had the same system a quartermaster could tell at a glance the capacity of the equipment at his disposal, could make suitable arrangement for loading each car so as to economize space and no doubt save much valuable time.

"Fortunately for all concerned, in the event of a sudden declaration of war most of the railroad equipment would ordinarily be right where it would be most needed at first, that is, in the densely-populated communities. Every empty car and those that could be quickly unloaded would be requisitioned at once and placed at the disposal of the government for the first big movement of troops.

"For this first big move the railroads could probably mobilize enough equipment by draining the country to meet the requirements of the military men. That would leave the commercial necessities largely unprovided for for the time being. Successive military movements, if occurring rapidly, would probably be limited by the extent to which the people could be left without full commercial transportation facilities.

"In all probability sufficient time would elapse after the first move to permit the railroads to mobilize additional equipment, return the empty cars used by the first troops, and provide for the necessities of the civil population before the military authorities would be able to enlist and equip another large body of men and have it ready to be transported.

"Troops movements could be most readily handled by the railroads along

How troops are transported in war time.

These photographs were made in various parts of the country during the actual mobilization of armed forces under the most favorable conditions. Great difficulties were experienced in the transportation of even the small number of soldiers used in the demonstration against Mexico. In a real war they would be multiplied by thousands. In the absence of adequate railway preparation this would mean disastrous chaos.

WHAT RAILROADS WOULD FACE IN EVENT OF A SUDDEN WAR.

FOLLOWING is the situation which the railways of the United States would face if war were suddenly declared between this country and a first-class power, according to B. L. Winchell, director of traffic for the Union Pacific. In making the estimate he does not, for the moment, consider the greatly-augmented strain which would be thrown upon the country's civil traffic, already in a very serious state of congestion.

"Let us suppose," said Mr. Winchell, "that the railroads were called upon tonight to have in readiness within forty-eight hours enough rolling stock to transport ten divisions, or a mere 225,000 soldiers, with their equipment, to Galveston, San Francisco, Newport News or some other strategic coast point in danger of immediate attack.

"I am informed by military men that to transport the personnel of this first ten divisions would require at least 5260 passenger coaches, or approximately 7000 freight cars. In addition there would be 71,890 riding and draft animals to be shipped. Figuring eighteen horses to the car it would require 4995 cars for the animals. The field equipment of the organizations would include 480 mounted guns, 780 caissons, tool carts, etc., 400 machine-gun outfits and 7750 baggage and supply wagons.

"By dismounting the guns and taking down the wagons so as to economize on space this field equipment might be loaded into an additional 1000 flat or box cars. Roughly speaking, if every detail was nicely worked out beforehand and each car loaded to the limit with the kind of freight best adapted to its general characteristics so as to utilize to the best advantage every inch of space, the men, animals and equipment might be accommodated by approximately 13,000 cars.

"In addition, provision must be made to transport sufficient tentage to shelter the men, and food for men and animals en route and at least two days after they arrive at their destination. Army men tell me the daily ration weighs four pounds per man. For 225,000 men, 900,000 pounds of food must be carried for each day of the journey in addition to the 1,800,000 pounds required for the additional two days. Figuring the authorized grain allowance of 862,680 pounds and the 1,016,460 pounds of hay allowed daily under service regulations as army men give them to me, the weight of the ration allowance, the 225,000 men and 71,890 animals is 2,879,140 pounds per day, with an excess of 5,758,280 for the two additional days.

"In addition to transporting the food supplies there would be the enormous ammunition shipments to look after. The weight of ammunition is so great that but a comparatively small quantity must be considered a carload. The expenditure of ammunition in a modern battle is almost beyond belief. Not only must large quantities be held in reserve in extra cars ready for shipment to the front as rapidly as required, but at the scene of hostilities the ammunition might be kept in cars for some time without being unloaded, particularly if there happened to be a lull in the fighting."

WARNING NOTE SOUNDED BY H. E. HUNTINGTON.

Next Active Aggression May Plunge Us into War, Says Railway Man.

Extended Visit in East Impresses Him with the Strong Pro-Ally Sentiment and General Prosperity There. Urges Measures of Protection for American Citizens Under All Conditions—For Intervention.

PRO-ALLY sentiment in the East aroused by acts of the Teutonic belligerents, is so strong, according to H. E. Huntington, that another incident like the sinking of the Lusitania or an act of active aggression on the part of the Entente powers would probably result in actual hostilities on the part of the United States.

Mr. Huntington, who returned from the East yesterday after an absence of almost a year, declares the indifference of people in the West is as dissimilar to feeling in the East as day is from night.

"In the East," said he, "there are no neutrals. The people are ardently pro-ally. They feel almost as strongly as do the English and French regarding the principles at stake. The story of Belgium is something they cannot and will not efface from their thoughts. I doubt if they will ever forget.

"As I gather the current of thought here on the Pacific, the masses regard the titanic struggle with a great indifference. They are neutral with a passive neutrality. This is due, no doubt, to their interest in other things and because they are farther removed from the war."

TELLS OF PROSPERITY.

Financial conditions in the East, Mr. Huntington says, are better than in the history of the nation. Unbounded prosperity exists in nearly all parts of the country except locally. "The only place where business is not reported to be booming is in the West," he said. "It should be as good here as in the East but it isn't. I attribute this largely to the people's lack of confidence in themselves."

Mr. Huntington, who has large shipbuilding interests on the Atlantic Coast, says his shipyards at Newport News are so rushed with business that additional contracts cannot be taken except for delivery far in the future. He says 1918 is the earliest date the yards will be in a position to handle additional contracts. In addition to two new battleships under course of construction by the Huntington plant at Newport News, there are several smaller craft being built for the army as well as a number of vessels for commercial purposes.

He says business in other lines of industry is booming in almost the same proportion. The munition factories are working overtime, as are textile and other factories, he said. A considerable part of the articles turned out in the East are being taken by agents of the Teutonic powers and stored in warehouses in anticipation of the time when Germany expects to be able to re-establish her merchant marine upon the high seas.

ON MEXICAN SITUATION.

Probably the deepest interest evinced in any topic by Mr. Huntington was in reference to the recent invasion of American soil and the slaughter of American citizens by armed Mexican bandits. Speaking feelingly on the subject he said:

"Wanton murderers of United States citizens should be brought to justice and executed as promptly south of the Rio Grande River as north of Forty-niner Back Here After Sixty-six-year Absence.

Refused to Buy City at Fifty Cents an Acre; Marvels.

Noted St. Louis Flower-lover Finds South a Big Dream.

Leonard Matthews drove from the Southern Pacific depot to the Lankershim Hotel yesterday and rubbed his eyes like a man who had awakened from a long sleep. He found himself in the center of a big dream.

Mr. Matthews is from St. Louis, and he is here on his way from a visit to the Hawaiian Islands. His bewilderment on reaching Los Angeles was due to the fact that he once refused to buy the city at 50 cents an acre. He had been here before—back in 1950—and he stopped at the best hotel in Los Angeles, which was a log cabin on the Plaza. The rest of the city consisted of thirty-five adobe houses and cabins. The city did not make such a hit with him then and he thought San Gabriel a much finer place. Yesterday the only thing he could find that looked familiar was the San Gabriel Mission.

Mr. Matthews first reached California in August, 1849, having spent six months on his way here on a wagon behind some oxen that were not amazingly alert. He had a part interest in a boat which made trips between New York and San Francisco, but in September, 1851, he decided to sell out and go home. It was the year before that when he made his visit to Los Angeles to collect a bill of $2000 and they paid it to him in silver dollars. He carted the whole thing back with him to San Francisco.

When he returned to St. Louis he became a broker and a banker and is frequently referred to as the dean of all the brokers in the United States.

In one way he was the Russell Sage of St. Louis, and in another he wasn't. He made money and stuck to business, but he never was stingy and he knew when to quit. He retired away back in 1888, feeling that he had as much money as he, his wife and two daughters, would need to keep the pot boiling and the garden blooming.

This business of a garden was the thing nearest his heart, after his family. He was willing to turn over his bank to anybody who could run a bank, but the man did not live to whom he would trust his garden. That man hasn't been born yet, so Mr. Matthews, at 87 years of age, still does his own gardening, and he must do it mighty well, for they say he has the finest flowers in St. Louis and has had ever since anybody can remember.

It was a pleasure to him yesterday to meet an old friend and neighbor, Sarpy Carr Cabanne, who was also of St. Louis until a year ago, when his son, Christy Cabanne, now a noted director of a film studio, persuaded him that it might turn out some day that St. Louis had been a mistake but that Los Angeles, being an act of Providence, never could be disproved.

Mr. Cabanne did not tell Mr. Matthews yesterday about gardens in Los Angeles. He never even hinted that St. Louis is not the chosen city, but just chummed around with his old friend and showed him the sights.

Mr. Matthews, accompanied by his wife and daughters, will leave for their home, convinced that land has gone up here since his last visit.

COURT CRITICAL OF GRAND JURY WORK.

SARCASTIC ABOUT INDICTMENT OF SCHOOL BOYS.

Youthful Radio Operators Charged with Interfering with Wireless Telegraph—Pupils of High Schools had Failed to Secure Government Licenses for Stations.

Thinly-veiled sarcasm was in the remark of District Judge Trippet yesterday when discussing the action of the Federal grand jury in indicting six schoolboys on the charge of violating the national radio laws. The boys were arraigned in his court.

"I always thought it was the province of grand juries to indict for serious offenses. These boys ought to be spanked by their parents, instead of indicted." Four of the boys, Jack Hyams, Harry Blodgett, Richard White and Edmund Whiting, pleaded guilty to the charge; George Hawley and George Vodra pleaded not guilty.

The boys were indicted last December, on information furnished by Assistant Radio Inspector Stone, who appeared before the grand jury. Mr. Stone was sent here from San Francisco to investigate the complaints that radio messages were being interfered with by amateur wireless operators who were not licensed. It was estimated by Mr. Stone there were several hundred lads with instruments in Los Angeles and vicinity, and it was to impress upon these operators the necessity of securing a license that the indictments were returned.

The boys were pupils in the Polytechnic High School, the Pasadena High School and the radio school at the Young Men's Christian Association. Some had been engaged in operating wireless machines for as high as four years; all claimed they did not know a license was required of them. They had engaged in the enterprise for the purpose of becoming skilled in the utilization of air waves, and study.

Judge Trippet released the boys on their own recognizance, with the admonition to be in court next Saturday morning with their fathers. Little George Hawley said he had no father, but would bring his mother.

Assistant District-Attorney O'Connor said he doubted the wisdom of indicting the boys, but that the matter had been investigated by the Department of Justice, an officer of that department had furnished the data to the grand jury, that body had voted an indictment, and there was nothing left for the office of the District Attorney to do but prosecute.

THE WATCHMAN.

TREND OF CURRENT POLITICAL THOUGHT AND ACTION.

By the Sentry on His Beat.

Despite "concentration," as the Prohibitionists call it, their hope of again putting over Congressman Randall in the Ninth District is glimmering. He won two years ago by a scant majority when conditions were especially propitious for a candidate of his caliber, but times have changed with the Republican party in the ascendancy and any good Republican will easily distance the grape-juice exponent at the coming election. With Randall's elimination, the "Prohibs" are facing defeat throughout the State and their leaders are going into the fight half-heartedly. They realize that they have about as much of a chance of landing any of their candidates as they have of swinging California from the "wet" column. The Ninth District is overwhelmingly Republican and the voters are anxiously waiting the opportunity of sending one of their own to Washington. Who will he be?

At present two stanch Republicans are in the foreground—Attorney E. H. Hahn of Pasadena and L. L. Lastetter of Pomona. Mr. Hahn enjoys the friendship and respect of hundreds of people in his district and would surely make a formidable candidate. Mr. Lastetter is about the liveliest politician in his section of the county. No one can forget the fight he waged last fall against the non-partisan law, when his district rolled up the largest vote of any in the State, nearly all due to his efforts. He is a real vote getter. Former Mayor C. H. Windham of Long Beach has been mentioned as a candidate and he has some strong personal friends who would like to send him to the national capital, but the candidate who wins this year must have the solid indorsement of the Republican party and there is not much show for the man who walked out of the Republican delegation at Chicago four years ago and joined the Bull Moosers. That is not the sort of Republican the Ninth District will get behind, and certainly not the kind to win the support of the Republican Club of Los Angeles County.

There is furore in the camp of the Progressive-Republicans throughout California. Just like the Prohibitionists, they are fighting among themselves. Two weeks ago they called a "harmony" convention in San Francisco and fixed a slate of delegates for the Chicago convention and asked the stand-patters to recognize them. This, of course, was out of the question and the real Republicans met a week later and nominated a ticket of men and women of such high standing that there is no doubt about their election. Then came the revolt in the ranks of the back-sliders. Several of the men chosen by the rump convention publicly denounced the action of Johnson's henchmen and demanded that their names be stricken from the list. Others are to follow. This means an irreconcilable revolt which augurs well for the straight Republican ticket and gives assurance that California will be represented in the national convention by twenty-six men and women who will not waver when the test comes. They will go unpledged for any certain candidate, but with the understanding that they will be for a Republican. Assemblyman Bartlett, who is in charge of the campaign in the south for the Republican list of delegates, says most encouraging reports are received from every district and there will be no formidable opposition made to the choice of the Republican convention. The declaration of Capt. John D. Fredericks, one of the State's most stalwart Republicans, that the party will gladly welcome back into the fold all who deserted it four years ago, but will resent any attempt to displace any of the Republican delegation, meets the hearty approval of all loyal members of the G.O.P. "We want them to come back," the captain said, "but if they are unwilling and want to make a row we will see to it that there is a row and they must suffer the consequences." That is the attitude of the rank and file of the party, and nothing that the so-called Progressive-Republicans can do will change it.

If there is any doubt in your mind as to the standing of the various political parties in the State scan the totals of registrations reported at noon yesterday by Registrar McAleer. Republican figures surpass the hundred-thousand mark, the total being 100,880. The Democrats come next with 34,083, while the Progressives are hardly worth counting—only 12,657 of them. In fact, the Prohibitionists are within 2000 of them. Progressives, who have the temerity to say they are a wing of the Republican party, declare they are not to be discouraged because they will get the support of the majority of the 80,681 voters who have accepted the reprehensible advice of reactionary organs and refused to state their party affiliation. If their hopes were to be realized, then the Republicans would have a substantial lead; but it is beyond reason that even a fair representation of the non-stated class will go to the trouble of making special trips to the Courthouse to reregister. This they most assuredly will have to do if they want to take part in the August primaries. There is no question about the success of the referendum campaign, more than 25,000 voters having signed the petition up to date, and this means that the non-stated crowd will be disfranchised unless they register again. There will be no deputies in the field to take the registrations, either.

Scandal mongers and character assassins are at it again. They seem determined to drag the Mayor down into their own filth. During the past week they have been especially pernicious and succeeded in bringing forth an ill-advised public defense of the chief executive. So long as C. E. Sebastian is Mayor or others who in future years will accept that responsible position refuse to absolutely ignore the despicable gang of traitorous and fiendish whisperers, the talk will go on. It seems a pity that there is no way to silence such vicious moral lepers. Throw about a dozen of them in jail and the canker sore will be healed.

So-called newspapers are springing up like mushrooms in Los Angeles, for this is the year of many important elections and the field is chock full of candidates. It is the latter who will be expected to keep these "newspapers" alive. The publishers will promise exaggerated circulation of their periodicals and try to convince Mr. Candidate that he can only hope for election by reaching "my readers." If the candidates have the wisdom of a canary they will refuse patronage to any and all of them. It is all a hold-up; such advertising never did and never will do a candidate a whit of good. The same can be said of some political organizations that have been formed and are to be formed. They are out for the coin, irrespective of politics.

With the expected return of Willis H. Booth from New York today, interest will be augmented in the race for United States Senator. Mr. Booth has not formally announced his candidacy, but he has been widely mentioned and reports from various sections of the State are to the effect that he will be given a hearty support from the ranks of those who would have a return of national prosperity.

IMMIGRANT WOMEN GIVEN NEW HELPS.

THREE ADDITIONAD DINES OF SERVICE BY Y.W.C.A.

Exchange for Sale of Products of Handcraft is Opened, Store Conducted for Those Who Can Pay Small Prices, and Home Gardening Taught.

The Immigration Committee of the Young Women's Christian Association is opening up three new lines of service which are expected to be of incalculable value to the rapidly growing population of the city. With the completion of repairs necessitated by the recent fire at the International Institute at No. 1315 Pleasant street, the launching of these new activities is possible. They are the opening of an exchange for the sale of products of handcraft, in which foreign women are so proficient, the establishment of a store whose clothing and other household articles may be sold to those able to pay a moderate price, and the raising of marketable flowers and other garden products.

Mrs. W. B. Cline and Mrs. W. S. Caswell are in charge of the Handwork Exchange, and met the foreign women of the neighborhood Thursday. Each brought sample articles of the Italian pillow lace, Russian cross stitch, crochet work and other crafts for which the committee may solicit orders. Later in the afternoon, a number of prominent women inspected this well-equipped plant for community service and gave encouragement to the project by the placing of generous orders.

Another phase of this effort is to be the educational side of it. As needed, new patterns and methods will be taught the workers and new lines of craft work begun.

Mrs. C. H. Hartley, in charge of the home garden work of the city schools, and Miss Leila Laughlin, instructor in gardening of the Utah-street school, are co-operating with the Grounds Committee, of which Mrs. W. E. Horn is chairman, in producing the utmost possible in crops on the six lots comprising the grounds.

GETS THE LIMIT.

Coiner of Slot Machine Slugs Fined For Imitating Coins.

Arthur Nesbitt, charged with violation of the Federal laws in having in his possession a piece of lead, which might, with a stretch of the imagination, be considered a 25-cent piece, pleaded guilty in Judge Cushman's court, yesterday, and was sentenced to pay a fine of $100, the limit of the law.

Nesbitt was arrested at Needles, where, with another man, he was engaged in making "slugs" to beat slot machines in that city and Oatman. One side of the alleged coin looked like a quarter of a dollar, and it was a part of the game to slip this side face out in the machine so that the operator looking through the glass would imagine it was a silver coin. Nesbitt acknowledged his connection with the game, and it could not be shown that he had ever attempted to pass one of the coins, except to beat a gambling device. The pieces were so crude they could not be passed for money.

the Atlantic Coast where practically every road is double-tracked and where there are many parallel lines. Loaded trains could be handled over one track and empty equipment returned over another. Shipments of food and munitions could be handled over weaker parallel lines.

ON THE WEST COAST.

"If the country is attacked along the Pacific Coast, the Mexican border or at Gulf points, greater difficulty would be encountered. There are fewer railroads, few double-track lines and far less rolling stock than in the East. With the scene of hostilities along the Pacific Coast there would be grave danger of interrupted service west of the Rocky Mountains because of blown-up bridges or destroyed tunnels, and supplies from the East might be cut off over one or more roads.

"If any one road was blocked it would throw a most heavy strain on the remaining lines. If the improbable occurred and traffic was maintained on all roads, loaded trains could be brought in over all lines at first and later, east-bound empties sent back over the road which would distribute them to the best advantage in the rural districts. The other avenues of transportation would handle the loaded trains while branch roads and the weaker lines would be called upon to handle their share of the transportation of food and other supplies."

Unique Playhouse for Young Croesuses.

Some rich youngsters and where they play.

The wooden frame is that of the old Tournament of Roses float entered last January by the Hotel Raymond and now standing on the hotel grounds. From left to right, the children are, back row, "Billy" Dawson, Patricia Roos and John Mack Roos; front row, Jane Kuppenheimer, Louis Kuppenheimer, Mary Reed and Dorothy Ellis.

OLD FLOAT A FAIRY SHIP FOR WEALTHY KIDDIES.

NOVELTY, after all, is one of the strongest drawing cards in the whole game of life for it extends not only to grown-ups but to the little folks as well. It attracts them more strongly perhaps because they have not become satiated with the ordinary things and can always find a new angle at which to view the simple amusements.

Yesterday the little people at the Hotel Raymond, youngsters with toys of every description and nurses galore, romped and played for hours on a part of the Raymond float which had seen duty in the Tournament of Roses parade and in the sailing boat they made a trip on a lawn of green grass and took turns playing "captain and crew."

There is quite a colony of little folks at the Raymond and they certainly enjoy the warm mornings, playing in the sand pile or on the swings and slides, and when some one of the children happened to "discover" the boat part of the old Raymond float, nothing would do but it must have a place of honor in the children's playground. It was brought up and painted and made very attractive and is a mighty safe and delightful plaything.

Among the little folks who enjoyed the game of "captain and crew on the good ship Raymond" were "Billy" Dawson, son of W. A. Dawson, capitalist of Milwaukee; little Mary Reed, daughter of Mrs. Kersey C. Reed and granddaughter of John G. Shedd, president of the Marshall Field Company of Chicago; Jane and Louis Kuppenheimer, children of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Kuppenheimer of the Kuppenheimer Clothing Company of Chicago; Patricia and John Mack Roos, children of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Roos of Roos Bros., San Francisco, and little Dorothy Ellis, daughter of Mrs. Ruben M. Ellis of New York City.

The parents of the little folks are very sensible, notwithstanding many stories about wealthy children to the contrary. They all play together and are very happy babies and while, of course, they have the best that money can buy, they are invariably dressed for comfort and never for show. Many times little daughter's sport coat or sweater is made just like mother's, but always baby's comfort and health come first.

A BAZAAR OF NATIONS.

Pretty Girls in Costume to Feature Coming Church Affair.

Garbed in the costumes of many countries, pretty girls will preside over the booths at the bazaar of nations, which will be given Thursday afternoon and evening by the woman's circle of the Wilshire-boulevard Christian Church at the church building, corner of Wilshire boulevard and Normandie avenue.

To give the children of the church an oportunity to assist in the affairs, and also to incite interest, a Scotch doll, Sandy, will be given to the Sunday-school pupil who sells the most tickets for the bazaar. Tea will be served by the women of the church in the afternoon and dinner at 6 o'clock. There will be a musical programme in the evening.

The names of the booths and those who will be in charge of them follow: America, Mrs. Harlan E. Eckler; French, Mrs. E. H. Maury; Spanish, Mrs. C. L. Fontz; Scotch, Mrs. H. F. Dierker; Irish, Mrs. L. H. Hatfield; Japanese, Mrs. C. W. Whitmarsh; Swiss, Mrs. E. W. Overell; Holland, Mrs. C. M. Linyer, and Mother Goose, Mrs. C. B. Kimball.

Miss Ethel Coleman and "Sandy."

Attractive to the children, "Sandy" is to be given to the child selling the most tickets for the coming bazaar of the woman's circle of the Wilshire-boulevard Christian Church. Miss Coleman will be one of the women in charge of the Scotch booth.

Dresses for Afternoon and Street Carefully Chosen

We had to choose them carefully for this is a season when a woman may wear whatever pleases her.

No particular style dominates.

Individuality has its opportunity for expression and the result has been a large and varied assortment.

Taffeta, crisp and soft, is favored. Plenty of crepe georgette and crepe de chine, chiffons, charmeuse, nets and laces.

Lingerie is making its appearance, and in these as well as silks simplicity is the keynote.

Interesting Features of the collection are the Spanish influence in skirts manifested in the distended line below the hips and the Russian influence in the contrasts and harmonies of color.

Forty styles alone vary in price from $19.75 to $85, with nine prices between.

ALL BY HIMSELF.

The Ambassador from Mexico to Washington says that "his government" sincerely regrets the Columbus incident. He is to be congratulated that he has a government, because he is the only man of his nation who could lay claim to one.

BUILDING FOR THE FUTURE.

Young people of the Santa Monica High School gave a most creditable performance of "Quality Street" Friday night. This is one of the schools of Southern California that is performing the truly fine service of forming the good taste of the next generation. It is also developing artistic talent. The performances of its young people have shown study and ability.

INVERSE ECONOMY.

England's Chancellor of the Exchequer has given up his automobile as an example to the community in economy. It would be much more to the point if so busy a man as Reginald McKenna were given three machines in the interest of national economy, while a few idle kings and persons of less consequence did the walking. Of course, kings should avoid horses and save the country doctor bills.

ONE INSTANCE ENOUGH.

If this government had no other cause for going into Mexico than the story of Mrs. Maud Hawk Wright the grounds would be sufficient for any action the United States might take. The treatment of this American woman is atrocious beyond belief. Her husband was taken away and presumably killed; her baby was taken and given to a Mexican family and she herself was carried along on the march with the Mexicans as a captive of Villa.

PRESERVING THEIR SANITY.

The Japanese are developing into moving-picture fans without becoming decadents. They have taken to pictures, yet have preserved their taste. They sit solemnly through Charlie Chaplin, but laugh uproariously at American melodrama. This would suggest, however incapable the Japanese may be of dramatic production, they are entirely reliable in their judgment of the product.

STRAINING THE EAGLE.

That golden eagle, which has so long perched above the flagpole of the White House, fell to the earth Friday night. They say it was toppled by a gust of wind, but the chances are that it fainted from the shock of President Wilson's sanction of the prompt action already taken from Columbus across the line by Col. Slocum. An eagle that has watched and waited until his scream has rusted out naturally could not stand the pressure of something stirring.

SUCCESS ABROAD.

Los Angeles has every reason to be proud of Ruth St. Denis and Ted Shawn. They started their season from this city, which is their permanent home, and have met with finer success than their warmest admirers anticipated. In New York they turned away hundreds at every performance, and in Boston they were greeted with so much enthusiasm that the "Transcript" gave a two-column analysis of their work. In Baltimore they have been dancing to full houses. It was pointed out by The Times before they left that they were striking the note of a purely American creation, and the critics of the East have welcomed this view.

HIGH SCHOOL CULTURE.

Thirty young seniors of the Alhambra High School have organized a dramatic society, more for the purpose of studying the best things in the literature of the stage than with the idea of becoming actors and actresses themselves. In this day of the drama's peculiar state of transition young students can profit greatly by reading some of the masterly plays that have been published and that no longer appear to be in vogue. The young people of Alhambra have voluntarily taken upon themselves an additional course which will be of great value and pleasure to them all of their lives.

WASTED POWER.

If any nation ran out of munitions of war it would seek to discover some process for collecting and crystallizing the wasted power of high voltage words, turned loose upon the air currents to no purpose. It might happen that a national sense of economy and the use of speech would conserve national power to an unsuspected degree. It could be that the right combination of words would have the dynamic force of the rhythmic fall of many feet upon a bridge. No scientist yet knows what the control of vibration and the sounds might amount to. No philologist has yet understood the true significance of word formulas.

ANOTHER STREET TERROR.

We welcome all new inventions, but heaven preserve us from the era of the self-steering automobile. For the general good, efforts to make motor cars self-steering should be discouraged. We can feel no sympathy for the genius who was arrested for trying out his self-steering apparatus on a crowded thoroughfare. Luckily it didn't succeed. A near success in self-steerers would be more formidable than a complete failure. When the steering of cars is done by proxy at the sweet will of every chauffeurless automobile, for self-protection we shall choose to do our downtown shopping in aeroplanes.

INTERVENTION—THE WORK CUT OUT—AN ARMY AT LAST.

The conditions in Mexico have assumed an aspect which, although grave in some respects, are yet encouraging to the people of El Paso, Douglass, Nogales, Calexico and other border cities—not excluding San Diego—and which conditions will be welcomed by American investors in Chihuahua, Sonora and Baja California properties, which properties have been for years idle and unproductive.

"Intervention," says international law, "is justified when the state of affairs is such as to involve immediate and pressing danger to the safety of the intervening nation." Another ground on which such interference is said to be morally justified is "the prevention of gross acts of oppression and cruelty." (Hall on Int. Law, 4th ed., Sec. 88 et seq; Wharton's Dig. Int. Law, Sec. 45; Rivier's Droit des Gens., Sec. 389.)

If Carranza co-operates with the United States or acquiesces in the acts of the United States in pursuing and exterminating Villa and his bandit horde, that will clear Northern Mexico of disorder, and railroads there will be rebuilt, mines reopened and cattle ranges restocked.

If, as is not probable, although not impossible, Villa and Carranza shall unite to resist intervention and the invasion of Mexico, there can be but one outcome to such a condition, and that outcome would be as it was seventy years ago, a triumph of American arms and the acquisition of Mexican territory as indemnity, for Mexico would have no other means of payment than such cession.

The Times does not desire such cession and it earnestly hopes that Carranza will have the wisdom to accept our aid in crushing Villa and restoring peace and order to the territory he has devastated.

It is not likely that Carranza will be otherwise than powerless (even if he is well disposed) to be of much assistance to the United States in suppressing those whom he has cause to regard as revolutionists. Villa's adherents, unless he is quickly taken and promptly hanged, will amount to more than a bandit host. Were Villa a crafty statesman instead of an ignorant and impulsive peon, he could not have made a move better calculated to heighten his popularity among the masses and draw to himself a following than the raid into Columbus. "Death to the gringos" will be the rallying cry for thousands of peons; and so strong is this movement likely to become that Carranza will not only be more helpless than he has been, but may possibly be compelled to join against the American troops or else surround himself with them for protection.

Disagreeable as the prospect may appear, it looks as if the United States is in Mexico to stay for some time, probably for a long while. We cannot withdraw easily. We have started something; we must finish our work, and finish it well; for, no matter what regrettable features may attend the intervention, they are negligible beside the humiliation that would attend a futile and incomplete effort. Had there been on the part of the administration an inkling of the present firmness and decision in efforts for the punishment of innumerable other raids, the United States would not have been subjected to the insolent and murderous attack of a thousand Mexicans under the command of an outlaw.

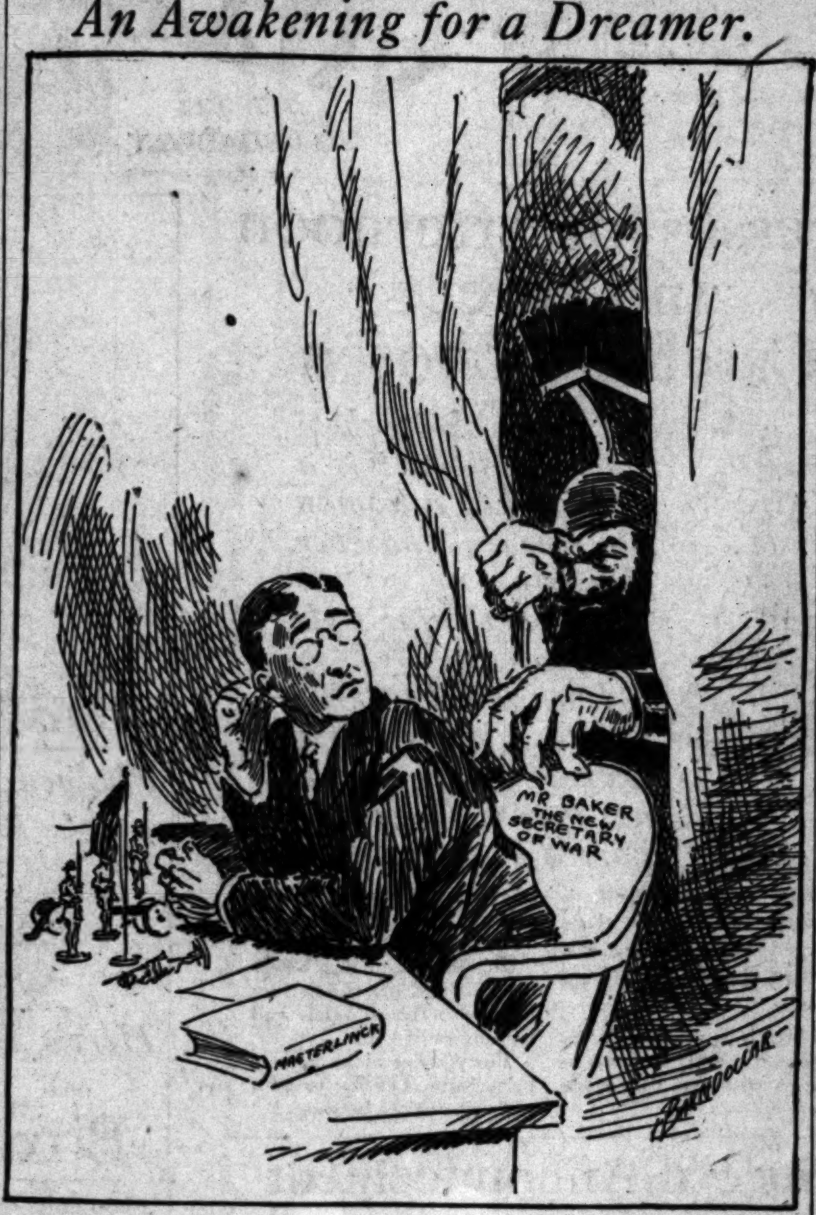
The administration seems determined to go through with the work. The command of the troops has been left in the hands of Gen. Funston, a "fighting man;" and this is in marked contrast to Daniels's "personal supervision" of the disposition and movement of the battleships during the days of Vera Cruz. This is a more serious effort than that abortive and preposterous bombardment, and the United States will not find it so easy to get out again.

The administration seems to have wisely determined to make war on Villa alone, and to consider him as nothing more than a bandit who will be tried and hanged like any other indubitable murderer. But while this attitude will appeal to Americans who are anxious that our entanglement shall not develop into war, the Mexicans themselves are not likely to make the same fine distinction. Unless his career is abbreviated promptly Villa will inevitably become a popular hero—and that will mean war, long, hard war, no matter what name the hair-splitting Mr. Wilson may substitute. It has been a rather rude awakening for Mr. Baker, the student and reader of novels, who has just assumed office as Secretary of War. A dreamer he is, somewhat addicted to parlor Utopianism; and he had not been in office a week before the ripping whirr of machine guns and pom-pom of "jackass batteries" were about his ears. For all the experience and general understanding of military affairs he brought to his office he might just as well have remained at home with Novalis and Maeterlinck.

But despite Mr. Baker's lack of experience, despite Mr. Wilson's dilly-dallying, despite the flamboyant peace-oratory of Congressmen who flutter about the spotlight as moths about a candle, this intervention is likely to result in more rapid strides toward military efficiency than the most enthusiastic advocate of preparedness has hoped for. It is bound to teach our army many things that could not have been learned in times of peace. We know already that American troops at Columbus were supplied with defective machine guns which, had they not "jammed," would have mowed the Mexicans down as fast as they came. And had it not been for Villa our army might not have discovered the defect until an expedition, instead of a bandit, was on our territory. People who know something of Mexico are also of the firm opinion that it will require many more thousands of men than is generally believed to accomplish the work undertaken. Months ago The Times declared it would take a half-million men and ten years to completely subjugate Mexico; and it will mean practically the complete subjugation if Villa meets with the support that is expected. A half-million trained and experienced soldiers accustomed to campaigning, under officers schooled in handling large bodies of men, would be about the most comforting acquisition America could have at the present time.

Some of our candidates for President talk as if they were full of Lady Baltimore Cake. Senator Fairbanks says he is very active. He'd have to be to avoid freezing to death.

An Awakening for a Dreamer.



MR BAKER THE NEW SECRETARY OF WAR
MAETERLINCK

HOW WE OBSERVE SUNDAY.

Sunday is the day of rest; for the busy world a blessing no argument will ever talk us out of. It is permanently rooted here, whether we regard it merely as the first born child of necessity or accept the Genesis version of the creation of the world. One day in seven on which for our own good we are instructed "to do no manner of work;" with the added injunction, "Six days shalt thou labor."

Unless we attend to this other important part of our instructions the Fourth Commandment is meaningless.

Of course the wheels can't stop spinning altogether. In some cases they can only be slowed down or allowed to run by their own momentum from Saturday midnight to Monday morning. Yet, even at that, 80 per cent. of the people of Los Angeles can rest from their labors on this one day in the week. Railroad men, amusement caterers, the clergy, the press and the garage owners cannot make Sunday a day of rest for themselves, but they do help to make it so for their fellow-citizens, and so, in an altruistic way, are keeping it holy.

Don't suppose that a day of rest was intended to be a day of stagnation. In and around Los Angeles Sunday hums with the coming and going of half a million animated human beings. On this day the street car companies register the heaviest runs, the stream of automobile traffic reaches high water mark, the seashores are trampled by a maximum of feet, the mountain trails echo to human music with the loud pedal, the space in churches, theaters and motion-picture houses is at the top notch of popular demand.

From dozens of suburban cities a roaring tide of travel sets toward the metropolis; from Los Angeles an opposite current surges into the country, the mountains, the valleys and to the seashore. It is as though an omnipotent foot had turned over a human ant hill and the ants start to scamper helter-skelter in every direction.

You may say that all this activity does not imply that we are making Sunday a day of rest. If so, you will be wrong. So believed our Puritan ancestors in old England, and they acted on this premise. In consequence, ever since the English have been proverbial for taking their pleasures sadly. But it was never the intention of providence that any man or woman should be a receptacle for gloom.

On the contrary, Los Angeles has made Sunday a real rest day—a day to fit its citizens for the better keeping of the main provision in the Fourth Commandment, "Six days shalt thou labor and do all that thou hast to do." To everyone, without the blessings of change, comes sooner or later that tired feeling, and in this frame of mind or body we cannot keep holy the Sabbath or any other day in the week.

To the man confined to a desk, a counter or a bench from Monday to Saturday, a tramp over the mountains, a plunge in the ocean, a whiff of fresh air from the seat in a motor car, or visiting an old friend on a valley ranch or foothill orange grove is the rest, the recuperation, the sanctification commanded by the fourth statute in the decalogue.

For rest means primarily change of some kind, of scene, of occupation, of environment; a new point of view for body or mind or spirit; a different experience, a novel sensation. That is why Christ told the multitude, "The Sabbath was made for man, not man for the Sabbath."

So our Los Angeles people, while making the most of the day for their tired bodies, do not neglect the rest of soul to be found within the doors of our many churches, hearing the voices of earnest men whose lives are devoted to noble purposes, listening to music that reveals for us in solemn harmonies the truth of immortality.

No, we do not neglect the spiritual side of Sunday. Yet this does not induce us to crowd out the hours we can give to health and movement and the company of friends from a distance. Rest is not rest unless it invigorates and refreshes. One has only to note the happy faces in every Los Angeles Sunday crowd to feel how truly we are keeping holy the Sabbath day. The old Puritan notions of Sunday become wonderfully expanded when viewed in the practical light of the Redeemer's interpretation.

Holiday and Holy-day are two forms of the same word. In Los Angeles we have cut out the hyphen.

LOS ANGELES STORE CONDITIONS.

That conditions for workers in stores are better in Los Angeles than any other town in which she has carried out investigations was the cheering report of Miss Weid, speaking before the Industrial Welfare Commission.

Miss Weid has recently devoted much time to investigating the conditions of labor in department stores in many of the principal cities of the United States. Much of her evidence has been discouraging, so that, she declares, it was with genuine satisfaction that she found the stores of Los Angeles so considerate of their people, so progressive in ideas of sanitation, ventilation, rest time and general good feeling. Hear, hear!

She is inclined to compliment the earnest women of Los Angeles for the satisfactory state of affairs, but is not unmindful of the ready co-operation of the men and the department store managements.

On the same day a traveling man from the East, representing one of the biggest wholesale concerns, declared that Los Angeles has better stores and is more progressive and far-seeing than most larger cities. While from a purely interested point of view he found that their independence and resourcefulness were not entirely good for his particular firm, he nevertheless appreciates the enterprise which had established wholesale garment making on this coast by which the latest styles were put on the market here at practically the identical hour that they were shown in New York. The newest designs are mailed here the moment they are conceived and our local houses have them in being and on display within an incredibly short space of time.

Los Angeles, it is generally observed, has a marked individuality in adapting the styles to the tastes of her people. Southern California is largely responsible for the smart sporting attire which has found so much favor during the last year or two—doubtless engendered by our climate—and many eastern firms have found it necessary to follow the California lead.

Altogether our local stores have been the recipients of many verbal bouquets in which we may all well take pride. There is no more metropolitan city in the United States than Los Angeles—none more advanced.

RIPPLING RHYMES.

BONEHEAD PLAYS.

We might, as graveward we advance, know naught but golden days, if we did not, at every chance, indulge in bonehead plays. For nearly all the ills we know, and all the pains and aches, originated long ago, in our own foolish breaks. Man labors, in his stalwart years, and when he draws his pay he blows it in for long cold beers, and that's a bonehead play. The schoolboy, mother's little pet, upon a summer day, learns how to smoke a cigarette, and that's a bonehead play. The damsel learns to paint and sing, to dance the night away, but sidesteps every useful thing, and that's a bonehead play. All carelessly man goes in debt for grub and clothes and hay, and knows, when lawyers make him sweat, it was a bonehead play. To buy a gaudy choo-choo cart man signs his home away, and says some day, with breaking heart, "It was a bonehead play." This life of ours should be sublime, our hearts should all be glad; but we pull boneheads all the time, and that's why life is sad. WALT MASON.

He Was Wise.

[Kansas City Journal:] Edith: I think Jack is horrid. I asked him if he had to choose between me and a million which he would take, and he said the million.

Marie: That's all right. He knew if he had the million you'd be easy.

CHILE CON CARNAGE.

BEING THE PARTICULAR PEPPER IN SOME PERSONAL OPINIONS OF Don Yo de Chiltepin.

Why is War? Why is THE War—as we call it; being creatures of the moment, and forgetting History if we ever knew anything about it? This is not the first nor the last nor the only war. It isn't the most Turrible nor the most Important—except in the headline of the Evening Shrieks. It's the shortest, thus far, of Considerable conflicts—and promises to be the shortest of its size. It is going still in its twentieth month. But that's an Infant! In terms of Home it took us from 1775 till 1783 to whip England out of the United States; and from 1812 till 1815 to teach Mamma again that Baby had a right to go out on Salt Water. It took us from 1861 to 1865 to make these UNITED States UNITED. Even our petty quarrels with Mexico in 1845 and with Spain in 1898 required much more time for adjustment than the European Fuss has thus far gone along. And all of them are mere A, B, C, to such struggles as the Thirty-Year war of three centuries ago, when France devastated Germany.

Only today we have telegraph and cable and wireless and newspapers and the Red Cross—so we realize more. And also pay more. All the wars in all the world's history, put together, never got a tithe so much good, friendly, pitying coin from outsiders to help the Innocent Bystanders of the fighting nations. Publicity is responsible for many of our sins—but also for many of our virtues. Thanks to the Press, we have given more to the "War Sufferers" of 1915-16, by about 1000 per cent., than we raised at the time for the widows and orphans and wounded of our own in 1861-65. Nearly all to the Allies—because they are the only ones that have begged help. I have never observed Germany with her cap extended.

But Why the War? Well, why is a Lawyer or a Cold in the Head?

Why, simply Misjudgment—either of the Other Fellow or of the Weather. If you frequent a cold bath every morning, your nose will be exempt. If the plaintiff would dine a few times with the defendant—the lawyers would have to Go to Work. If the North and South had been acquaint there would have been no four-year fratricide. If Europe knew its neighbors there would be no Neighborhood Row.

The present Fuss is primarily and essentially the first competent revolt of civilization against England's over-lordship of the seas. Her Empire—which it is her boast that "the sun never sets on"—has not been interrogated as yet. It is world-flung and wonderful. She governs her Possessions (mind that modest word "Possessions") with an equality that puts to very shame our own government of ourselves. But how did she get them? By house-breaking. What did she pay for them? The blood of the original owners. What does she get out of them? The golden sweat of the survivors.

I am very fond of England—with American reservations. Politically it is a better-governed country than our. Socially, it can give us cards and spades as to how to live. Intellectually, we still turn to it for many things—though for the Last Word in Music, Art, Medicine, Philosophy and all their kind we now pass on to study in Germany.

But I do not just perceive how any actual American can admire British world-policies as everyone must admire the British home-thought.

The War means that England no longer Owns all the Oceans—nor ever will again. She has the biggest navy on earth. What have you heard of it in this twenty months of war? Recall any English Superdreadnaught as Killing anything? Any idea where this World Terror is now in hiding? Remember any English warship of any kind that has done anything except to get itself sunk by some petty little craft manned by men who love THEIR country enough to get out and fight for it? Ready with the name of any English craft that in this twenty months has made a record like the little cruiser Moewe?

It's just as well to remember, now and again, the facts we all know to be such, if we stop to think.

Today we are Patiently Waiting—a hundred million of us—while England ravishes our shipping in the same way (or worse) that eight million Americans wouldn't tolerate in 1812—and they Impatiently Stopped Waiting, and whipped the self-appointed Mistress of the Seas to a draw.

Today we leave Germany to fight for our right to sail the Blue—and damn her for helping us. I know of nothing in history like our attitude, except a recent police case in Los Angeles when an Iowa granger literally fisticuffed with the officers who were trying to save his $10,000 from a swindle as old as the Gold Brick.

England is the Smartest Nation in the world, beyond any comparison. She is the cleverest in propaganda. She has waged more wars—and perhaps won more—than any other nation. But England herself never fights. Her Conquests are by Proxy. It wasn't Englishmen we walloped in 1776—it was the hirelings of the British Policy.

Same today. Notice any English victories? The ignominious retreat from the Dardanelles is the chief British military achievement in this war—they Didn't Lose Much! But the political achievement is the newest Wonder of the World.

The present War is not to Crush German Militarism (which isn't half as deep-reaching as British Navalism;) nor to avenge the neutrality of Belgium, nor anything else that Dear Old Lunnon tells us.

It's a War to let any old boat sail the circumambient seas—even an American boat—without danger of being Swallowed by little England.

And whatever the immediate outcome, this war will win the Freedom of the Seas.

And Germany is fighting it for herself and for us, against Europe.

Peaceful Civilization.

[Detroit News:] The United States has a new gun capable of firing a projectile twenty-five miles, which is about as far as any of us civilized countries have got toward world peace.

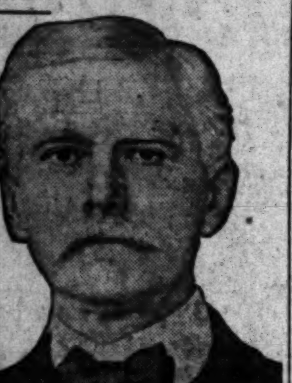
Well Known Remedy Relieves Chronic Case

Important to Dispose of Waste from the Stomach With Regularity.

People frequently attribute to failure of the digestive organs conditions that are primarily due to inactive bowels, and apply remedies that from their very nature are more apt to aggravate than to relieve the disorder.

When the bowels act regularly the stomach is in better shape to perform its allotted tasks and can usually be depended upon. To keep the bowels in condition there is no more effective remedy than the combination of simple laxative herbs known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin which is sold in drug stores for fifty cents a bottle.

Dr. Caldwell has prescribed this remedy in his practice for over a quarter of a century and it is today the standard household remedy in thousands of homes. Mr. Thos. DeLoach, with the Department of the Interior, Office of Indian Affairs, at Washington, wrote Dr. Caldwell recently that "Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the best laxative I have any knowledge of and the cleaning up guaranteed by its use relieves every organ."



MR. THOS. DeLOACH.

A bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin should be on hand in every home for use when needed. A trial bottle, free of charge, can be obtained by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 454 Washington St., Monticello, Ill.

If you do, then it is high-time to consult an Optometrist—to call here, where experience, skill and training may rectify errors of vision before too late.

You do not pay a doctor's fee of $10.00 to $25.00—that's the economy of the Howland & Dewey optical service.

If you are long sighted, nervous, troubled with headache, eyestrain, perhaps your eyes are at fault—it will pay to make certain and it will never pay to take the chance of not being certain.

WOMEN'S WORK AND WOMEN'S CLUBS

BY DOROTHY B. JOHNSTON.

LOS ANGELES can boast of the largest woman's dental society in the world, the Beta chapter of the Alpha Epsilon Pi Sorority, the members of which were entertained with a dinner by their newly-elected president, Dr. Mae Fontaine, at her home, No. 227 West Fortieth place, Monday night. Dr. Davis Long is secretary and Dr. Ida Boyd treasurer of the society, and through the concerted efforts of the women of Southern California great advancement has been made in children's work.

The next meeting, a dinner, will be held at Christopher's in April.

Big Hollywood Meeting.

The Hollywood Woman's Club, as the hostess club for the meeting of the Los Angeles district, C.F.W.C., from March 21 to 24, is busy making plans for the reception of guests.

Several convenient hotels have offered special rates and a cafeteria lunch will be served each day in the club dining-room at economical rates. Tea will also be served at the close of each session. An informal banquet at the Hotel Hollywood is to be held in honor of the visiting club women and their husbands on the evening of Wednesday, March 23, at 7:30 o'clock.

At the close of the Tuesday programme there will be a reception in honor of the officers and delegates and visiting club women. A twilight musicale is scheduled for 4:15 o'clock Wednesday afternoon under the direction of Mrs. Frankel.

Automobile riding is reserved for Friday afternoon, cars to start from the clubhouse and take tea at the Laurel Canyon Woman's Club. The Hollywood Board of Trade is cooperating with the Outing Committee.

There will be many interesting exhibits, art, literature, music, forestry, reciprocity, etc., and the works of popular California artists will hang in the auditorium, including those of William Swift Daniell, Helen Balfour, Henrietta Shore, Orrin White, Annie Pogson, F. W. Cuprien, R. A. Kirkham, Francisco Cornelo, Maurice Braum, Anna Hills and L. Prest Fergusson.

The following women will gladly furnish any desired information: General chairman, Miss Jessica Laurence, Holly 208; platform chairman, Mrs. Bessie Bartlett-Frankel, 57660; ushers chairman, Mrs. H. W. Cushman, 579658; pages chairman, Mrs. F. L. Hemming, 59675; publicity chairman, Mrs. J. F. Redhead, 57306; timekeeper chairman, Mrs. J. W. Stoddart, 59590; decoration chairman, Mrs. George Melville, 57597; exhibits chairman, Mrs. Peter Ferguson, 57466; information and hotels, Mrs. C. H. Connard, 59454; hospitality, Mrs. George K. Patterson, Holly 274; banquet, Mrs. E. W. Cason, Holly 78; afternoon tea, Mrs. Seward Cole, 59021; courtesies, Mrs. C. H. Lippincott, 59140, registration, Mrs. J. J. Steadman, 57194; outing, Mrs. W. C. Anderson, 579684; checkroom, Mrs. A. L. Bartlett, 57675; local badge, Mrs. John P. Gardner, Holly 1895.

"The New Patriotism."

The public is invited to the programme in the lecture hall of the Public Library Building tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock, when Mrs. Frank A. Stephens, chairman of peace for the Los Angeles district, C.F.W.C., will talk on "The New Patriotism."

Call to the Open.

With an enthusiasm that bespoke the love for her subject, Frances Conrad, assistant superintendent of nature study in the Los Angeles city schools, addressed the Business Woman's Civic Club last Monday on "In Touch with Nature." She spoke of the lure of our mountain trails, the call of the sea, the joy expressed by the song birds and the beauty of our California flowers, but most particularly of the glories of our winter skies, giving the stories of the constellations and describing the most prominent of the fixed stars and planets.

Woman's City Club.

"Inheritance Tax and Community Property" is the programme for discussion at the Woman's City Club Monday.

John S. Chambers, State Controller, who is touring the State discussing these questions, comes to Los Angeles for the purpose of speaking before the club.

The question of community property is one of such importance to all men and women that it is expected many who are not members of the club will be present to hear Mr. Chambers, whose information on this subject is authentic.

The club will have as luncheon guests that day Superior Judge Hewitt and State Senators Thompson and Benedict. Nonmembers may attend the talk on guest tickets or by paying 25 cents. Luncheon at 12, programme 12:45.

Ebell Club.

Members of the Ebell Club are looking forward with pleasurable anticipation to tomorrow afternoon's programme, when Prof. Edgar J. Banks of New York City, a noted author and explorer, will give a popular archaeological and scientific lecture, "The Bible and the Spade," which is to be illustrated.

Now that Ebell's beloved president, Mrs. W. S. Bartlett, is able to resume her duties, the big membership is very happy, though the wheels move so smoothly by virtue of capable officers who willingly assume the necessary tasks that there is never a noticeable hitch in affairs. Mrs. Chester C. Ashley makes an admirable official in the chair—just one of a perfect unity working for perfect harmony which stands as a monument for the wonderful success of the highly intellectual, well-poised organization of club women who are always found on the right side.

The Nibelungen Ring.

A realization of Wagner's significance as a dramatist came with compelling force to her audience Friday afternoon, when Miss Ida M. Leonard gave her interpretative reading of "Die Walkure," second in the series of the great "Ring" dramas which are fascinating lovers of literature who drop in for the reading hours weekly.

These master poems, wonderfully true to the ancient spirit, find in the local artist a powerful interpretative medium, who brings to us of modern times a lucid revelation of rich legends and poetry. Although versatile in the extreme, it is perhaps in her Wagnerian expoundings that Miss Leonard has won her highest praise from a discriminating public. Her voice, an instrument of marked beauty, her dramatic ability, richly backgrounded with poetic thought and feeling, all contribute successfully to these delightful hours of Wagnerian lore.

At 4 o'clock on Friday the series wills be continued with "Siegfried," concluding a week later, on the 24th inst., with "Die Gotterdammerung." The hours are held at her studio, 806--8 Y.W.C.A. Building, being preceded for a half hour with Wagnerian music on the Victrola.

Masquerade Ball.

The chairman of the subscription parties of the Hollywood Woman's Club, Mrs. Ralph Mallette Burdick, announces a masquerade ball for the evening of St. Patrick's Day. The grand march will take place at 9 o'clock, and unmasking will occur at 10. Those not en costume will be privileged to join the dancers at that hour.

In charge of refreshments and decorations are Mrs. S. Manley Lye, Mrs. A. J. Witherell, Mrs. John Rupp and Miss Mabel Wyckoff.

Tickets may be secured in advance from the chairman, at No. 1855 North Kingsley drive, phone 599256, or at the door if the limit of attendance has not been reached. Non-members may attend upon reference of club members.

Sierra Madre Woman's Club.

Miss Alma May Cook will give her lecture on "The Meaning of Art in Every Day Life" at the Sierra Madre Woman's Club tomorrow afternoon, and on Tuesday morning she will repeat the lecture before the Highland Park Ebell.

La Camarada Club.

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Hillis of No. 928 New Hampshire street entertained the husbands of the club Wednesday evening last. Mrs. George Black gave an interesting talk on the Yukon, of which her husband is Governor. A musical programme was given.

Bureau of Occupations.

The College Women's Club has a practical adjunct in the bureau of occupations by which they assist in securing positions for college women who need employment. They have much success to their credit. The committee includes Mrs. Samuel E. Epler, chairman; Mrs. George F. Bont, Mrs. C. E. Howard and Mrs. Frederick J. Perry.

Other women's clubs needing stenographers, secretaries, book-keepers, social workers, or members requiring companions, tutors, decorators, nurses, or women in any capacity are forming the habit of intimating their wants to this very useful department.

Audubon Society.

The next meeting of the Los Angeles Audubon Society will take place Thursday at 2:30 p.m., at Exposition Park Museum, when L. E. Wyman will talk on "Shore Birds." Anyone interested may attend.

Shakespeare Study.

The Mazie Fullman Garrett Shakespeare class will meet on Tuesday at 2:30 p.m. at No. 1732 Garfield place, Hollywood, when Act I of "Macbeth" will be studied and Mrs. Garrett will give an informal talk on the supernatural element in "Macbeth."

The Kate Tupper Galpin Shakespeare Club held a meeting last Wednesday at Cumnock Hall, when the programme, "Wallenstein," by Schiller, was ably handled by Mrs. Andrew S. Lobinger.

The South Side Ebell Club will hold a meeting of its book and conversation section tomorrow at 2 p.m. in the library parlor, when the subject of study will be acts 2 and 3 of "Hamlet."

South Side Ebell.

The art section, in charge of Mrs. Cynthia Monroe, will meet at 2 p.m. Wednesday and the Ramblers section, in charge of Mrs. Cora Wekall, will meet on Friday to visit the City Jail and the Florence Crittenton Home.

There will be a board meeting of the club on Wednesday morning at the clubrooms. The music section, under Mrs. Ralph Klages, will complete the programme with selections from Gounod's "Faust" on Thursday.

San Fernando.

The Ebell Club of San Fernando was entertained at the home of Mrs. A. C. Wisegarver on Friday, March 3, Mrs. T. J. Walker presiding. Baby week was the subject of discussion.

Practising of community singing in readiness for the Hollywood convention next week has been going on apace.

"Recent Poetry" was interestingly discussed by Mrs. J. F. Gill, who reviewed many famous poems. "Modern Literature" was dealt with by Mrs. E. T. Ingham, who suggested a course of suitable reading.

Glendora.

Mrs. Arthur Powell substituted for the postponed programme at the Glendora Women's Club last week, giving a comprehensive review of Zangwill's "Melting Pot," which was much appreciated.

The Million Club.

This club has shown itself highly capable of giving some highly successful dances and that at Payne's Academy last Wednesday was no exception to the rule, 150 couples taking the floor.

The Merry Widow's Club, of which Mrs. Eva C. Bresler is president, will take charge of the next Million Club dance, which is to be given one evening next month, date still to be decided.

San Pedro.

March 7 was federation day at the Woman's Club of San Pedro. Eigthy members presented themselves for the luncheon served by the board of directors, together with friends and numerous amiable husbands. The fact that the club membership now exceeds 100 was duly celebrated. And fifty of them have been enrolled since February 1. A tree was planted in honor of the president, Mrs. Richard Goodspeed, under whose leadership these achievements have been made.

Mrs. W. D. Moore, chairman of civics, had charge of the exercises. Mrs I. W. Gleason conducted a parliamentary contest in which Mrs. Robert G. Du Puy was the successful contestant and will therefore represent the club in the district contest.

Mrs. J. E. Brown spoke of the work and plans of the endowment fund and Mrs. D. M. Cate charmed her hearers with a declaration of faith "Why I Am a Clubwoman."

Thee Beautifull.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Baron were the hosts of the club on shower day, when a musical programme was enjoyed. At the next meeting, Friday, the club will entertain at Forester's Hall, 246 South Hil street, when a concert programme will be given.

Twentieth Century Club.

The Women's Twentieth Century Club of Eagle Rock had a March luncheon on Thursday when Mrs. W. J. Cook reviewed William Allen's "Woman's Part in the Government." The table decorations exclusively of California wild flowers evoked much admiration.

After luncheon there was a business meeting, and three addresses on the general subject "The Country's Call to the Twentieth Century Women," to which Mrs. G. E. Candee, Mrs. Eberhart and Mrs. Arthur Saul contributed.

Travel Club.

The Los Angeles Travel Club gave a card party at the Era apartments Monday afternoon, which was well attended. Mrs. Walter Lee, assisted by Mrs. J. J. Mather, Mrs. Robert Killefas and Mrs. Maude Grier, was in charge of the affair. Mrs. Harold A. Gillman won the federation pin for parliamentary drill on Friday.

The Channel Club.

Next Saturday morning the Channel Club of Los Angeles will hold its monthly meeting in the parlors of Hotel Clark. The programme is a Zona Gale morning. Mrs. Alice O. Hunnewell will read "The Dance," and Mrs. Samuel McClure will interpret the interlude from "Pelleas and Etarre." Sarah Traux, one of the new members of the club, will also interpret something of Miss Gale's.

At Van Nuys.

Although a small club, the Woman's Club of Van Nuys is progressive and steadily growing in numbers. It is planning many things to raise money for a new clubhouse. For the benefit of the fund Mrs. Rollin B. Lane of the Hollywood Woman's club has consented to help the good work along by giving the "Passion Play" lecture, illustrated with seventy stereopticon slides, at the hall of the organ company, the evening of April 12. Tickets 50 cents.

Hollywood Woman's Club.

Miss Macomber gave an interesting and scholarly programme Wednesday afternoon on "The Bible as Literature," illustrated with Hebrew musical selections. All felt that it was one of the best programmes of the year. Miss Macomber is district literary chairman of Los Angeles Federation of Women's Clubs.

About fifty gathered around the board for the civic luncheon. Mrs. Hummill gave a talk on "Armenia" and further discussion of the immigration question was led by Miss Lawrence and Mrs. H. T. Wright. Monday evening James W. Foley, the poet, lectured at the clubhouse to an appreciative audience.

The music section met Tuesday morning and finished the study of Tschaikowsky. Mrs. C. H. de la Plate, who has studied abroad three years, sang in German, "Omochtest du eimnal nock singen" and Nicht Worte, geleibter."

A unique feature of the programme was the interpretative dancing of little Miss Riley, who has recently come to Hollywood from London, where she lived and studied. Mrs. H. J. Andrews, an honored guest, sang the aria "Jeanne d'Arc," from Tschaikowsky, and the " B Flat Concerto," duet, was played by Mrs. Routt and Mrs. Leona Mannon of Whittier.

The drama section, recently formed, met Thursday morning, Bessie Bartlett Frankel, leader. This meeting occurs the second Thursday only.

The musical section is responsible for the next programme. Wednesday, when Miss Jessie Lawrence will repeat her talk on Boris Godonov, with Mrs. Kenneth Bissell, pianist.

The literary section is fortunate in having Mrs. G. G. Dexter as leader Wednesday at 1 p.m.

James M. Sheridan, in the service of the United States in the Phillipines 1898-1904, assistant to the Attorney General of the United States, 1912-1915, will speak on "The Phillipine Problem," Thursday evening, at the clubhouse.

The art section had a special meeting Thursday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. T. A. Thompson, to listen to a poem by Stewart Sterne, entitled "Angelo," a little gem. Pictures that Mrs. Thompson collected abroad were viewed and a social hour enjoyed.

Sorority Banquet.

Delta Gamma Sorority girls in all parts of the United States are celebrating the founding of their national organization this week. Local alumni are banqueting at the California Club on Saturday evening at 6 p.m. The guests will include women from the far East and North and many from the middle States as well as resident members. It is hoped that all visiting Delta Gammas will make their presence in the city known to the committee. Replies are to be made to Miss Grace Seward, [illegible] West Seventeenth street, or phone 23102.

Several interesting features will be introduced during the evening, one of the most pleasant being a solo dance by Hope Loring, known in New York as the originator of the Fox Trot for which the famous "[illegible] Trot" was composed.

Miss Maude Howell, dramatic instructor at Manual Arts High School, whose production of the "Bluebird" recently was so highly praised, will give one of her clever monologues.

The sole representative in California of the famous Dalcroze method of Eurythmic dancing, Miss [illegible] Kappes, will charm the guests with one of her story-dances, and Miss Roma Love, of the Hollywood School for Girls will give an original dancing sketch.

Delta Gamma women have made names for themselves for doing unusual and worthwhile things in many States. Some are lawyers, others are expert scientists, physicians and business women. The Deans of several colleges, including Smith College, University of Mexico, University of Wisconsin and the Philippine Normal School at Manila, are Delta Gammas. Two prominent D. G's., namely [illegible]die Bleekman Guldlin and [illegible] Davis Keefe are committee women on the National Federation Board of Women's Clubs.

Ruth Bryan Owen, wife of Capt. R. A. Owen of the British Army and daughter of William J. Bryan is a noted social worker and writer. Other writers of note are Harriet Connor Brown, Elsie Singmaster Lewis, Caroline Louise Hunt, and Blanche [illegible]ney Rasmussen. Grace Abbot of Hull House and Clara Kellogg of New York City, are among the active social workers.

Among the Delta Gammas who have become prominent in dramatic art are Auria Ellerbeck (Elsa Rendall) and Gertrude Workman and Maude Howell of this city. Several of the women are in foreign countries—one is assisting American Red Cross in Servia.

The toastmistress for the banquet will be Miss Marguerite Smith of Colorado. Miss Grace Seward of this city is chairman of the Committee on Arrangements.

Art of Holland.

The Westlake Fine Arts and Social Club will be entertained Tuesday at 3 o'clock by the first of four illustrated lectures on "The Art of Holland," by Georgea Wright Kelsey, at [illegible] Academy, No. 2018 Orange street.

For the Wounded.

Members of the Women's Auxiliary of the Allies Aid Association meet daily in rooms 1001-1002 in the Hibernian Bank Building. Hospital supplies are made and shipped from these headquarters to the clearing house in London, and from there they are sent to the hospitals of the allies over Europe. Workers are needed and those willing to give a few hours a day are very welcome.

Hostesses to Many Clubs.

Tuesday was Reciprocity Day at the Highland Park Ebell. The club entertained guests from nearly every federated club in the district, and in turn were most delightfully entertained by the hour of "Story and Song," given by Carrie Jacobs-Bond. The charm of her personality, the quick change from whimsical humor to tender pathos in her stories, and more than all, the exquisite harmony in thought and music in her songs made the programme one that will linger as a memory rare and fine.

The next programme will be a lecture on "The Work of the California Art Club," illustrated by stereopticon views. An exhibition of paintings by members of the Art Club has been hung in the club parlors.

A Busy Woman.

Lillian Burkhart Goldsmith appeared recently before the Contemporary Club of Redlands, with great success, and is now engaged with a series of literary matinees to be given under the auspices of Mrs. A. E. [illegible] of Altadena. Tomorrow Mrs. Goldsmith will appear before the Ebell Club, at Long Beach, and talk on "The New Feminism."

On Tuesday afternoon she will speak on "Realism in the Drama of To-day." The same evening Mrs. Goldsmith [illegible] appear before the [illegible] Five and Over Club, in this city. Wednesday the Wednesday [illegible] Club of this city will hear her [illegible] on "Iconoclasts in Literature." Friday afternoon, Mrs. Goldsmith will read "The Hour Glass," by William Butler Yeats, before the [illegible] the Holy Cross Church.

Dr. Mae Fontaine,

President of the Woman's Dental Society of Los Angeles, which has the largest membership of any organization of its kind in the world. Dr. Fontaine, with the other newly-elected officers, was entertained at dinner Monday evening by members of the society.

Your Limbs Unsightly Hair White Stockings

Most women do not realize that superfluous hair on the limbs shows through dark colored stockings as well as white. This makes it plain why well groomed women use De Miracle for removing hair from the limbs as well as the face, neck, arms and under arms. Pastes, rub-on preparations and imitations of De Miracle will usually remove any growth of hair from the surface of the skin, but only De Miracle has the power to devitalize hair. It does this by absorption. In other words, it attacks hair under the skin as well as on the skin and actually retards its growth. Avoid disappointment, buy De Miracle by name, and you will get the only depilatory that has a binding guarantee in each package which entitles you to your money if it fails. In 50c, $1.00 and $2.00 bottles at your dealer's, or direct, postpaid in plain wrapper. De Miracle Chemical Co., Dept. A-2, Park Ave. and 129th St., New York.

MODES says "I cannot praise it enough." Genuine magazines of the highest character endorse only De Miracle. Beware of so-called endorsements of bogus magazines, which are used to exploit the sale of questionable depilatories.

Rosy-hued.

CONSTITUTIONALIST VIEW OF THE REFORMED SONORA.

Owner of Large Interests in Near-by State of Southern Republic Tells of Change Wrought Through Enforcement of Prohibition by Gen. Calles and Declares Many Reforms Have Made Notable Progress.

BY F. E. MONTEVERDE, JR.

PRESENT conditions in Sonora, Mex., show a marvelous change as the result of reform brought about by Gen. Plutarco Elias Calles, Governor of the State, and are in striking contrast to those prevailing under past regimes.

Gen. Calles is a native of Sonora and is a man of considerable distinction and ability. One of his greatest qualities, which so aptly fit him for his present arduous duties, is his determination and tenacity of purpose. For many years previous to the present revolution he was a professor in the College of Sonora, the most important educational institute in the State. He is ably assisted by Lic. Enrique Moreno, Secretary of State. Lic. Moreno is a native of Sonora, and, as did Gen. Calles, he fought his way to the successes he is now enjoying. Previous to the revolution he practiced law and also successfully filled a number of important official positions.

The striking reforms which have recently been brought about in Sonora are due to the forceful character and [illegible] of that State's new Constitutionalist government.

Under date of August 4, 1915, Gen. Calles issued his platform, which consists of proposed and promised civil, [illegible] and political reform, all of which in text are admirable.

A synopsis of the purport of his [illegible] reforms follows with comment as to progress up to the present and the results of the remarkable [illegible] wrought.

ABSOLUTE PROHIBITION.

The prohibition decree is composed of four articles, a liberal translation of which follows: The importation, [illegible] manufacture of intoxicating beverages is absolutely prohibited in [illegible]. All liquors containing alcohol in any quantity whatsoever shall be considered intoxicating. Those guilty of infringement of article No. 1 [illegible] punished with imprisonment [illegible] years, which punishment shall [illegible] by the executive, until [illegible] power shall have been re-established; legal proceedings shall be [illegible] in which testimony for and [illegible] the accused shall be entered [illegible] records, and such proofs as may [illegible] shall be presented. Accomplices [illegible] punished. Those guilty of [illegible] shall be punished in accordance with the provisions of the [illegible] Code and also with summary [illegible]. This law to take effect [illegible] time of its publication and announcement by the military chiefs in [illegible] localities.

This rigid and forceful measure is [illegible] carried out to the letter. [illegible] the State the authorities [illegible] taken from merchants and in[illegible] all of the available supply [illegible] of liquors. Fine wines, [illegible], cognacs, etc., are stored [illegible] warehouses and re[illegible] for same, all of which [illegible] be either shipped out [illegible] State or disposed of in some [illegible] way. The poorer classes of [illegible] are turned into the gutters.

The effect of this enforced prohibition upon the State has been wholesome and remarkable. The police [illegible] to do, and the jails are [illegible] empty, whereas heretofore [illegible] numbers of inebriates, [illegible] and even murderers [illegible] never have been gathered [illegible] prohibition existed. The average laborer heretofore usually [illegible] his pay on liquor, [illegible] his wife and children, but [illegible] home with his full pay. [illegible] a better, cleaner and more [illegible] home. His family is now [illegible] hungry and neglected.

[illegible] a decree dated at Zarrilla, Sonora, on August 27, 1915, gambling in all forms was prohibited, to take effect September 1, 1915. The result has been little less remarkable than the suppression of the liquor traffic.

Under date of August 21, 1915, Gen. Calles issued a decree to take effect September 1, 1915, providing for the elimination of the system of usury heretofore indulged in by unprincipled and avaricious money lenders.

The old laws regulating lending of money contained no stipulation as to rate of interest collectable, and in many cases the farmer or merchant who found himself in need was often compelled to sign away his belongings and often his home for sums ridiculously less than their real value, which automatically reverted to the lender if the terms of the agreement were not carried out to the letter. In many cases the amount of interest collected for small loans was greater than the principal.

Under a number of decrees Gen. Calles has made provision for sweeping reforms, which are rapidly being carried out. One of the decrees, dated September 24, 1915, provides that at all ranches, mining camps or other places where groups of families may be residing either temporarily or permanently, and where there are twenty or more children old enough to attend school, there shall be established schools adequate to cover existing conditions with reference to grades, etc. This same decree provides that owners of the property where the groups of families reside shall be obligated to provide, at their own expense, an adequate night school for the benefit at all times of its employees. Such schools shall at all times be under the supervision and vigilance of the government. This decree went into effect on October 1, 1915.

PRISON REFORM.

The State penitentiary at Hermosillo has long been a nightmare. There are small narrow slits in the substructure of the enormous stone edifice, hewn out of solid rock, with the stone floor provided by nature. No opening to the fresh outside air has been provided, the means of ingress and egress being through narrow passageways also cut out of the solid rock. No light was admitted by these damp, medieval hell-holes, except when the steel doors were thrown open, other than a faint reflected ray which found its way past the tiny wicket through which food and water were passed, the food often consisting solely of bread and water. The ceilings of these cells are low and one cannot stand erect in them, but must either recline upon the floor or remain doubled at the waist line.

Gen. Calles has decreed to permanently close these dungeons and the tiers of cells immediately above the foundations.

Practically all officials of the municipal and district governments were appointed by the Executive, but Gen. Calles has decreed that in all cities, towns and villages of 500 inhabitants or more local officials shall be elected by popular vote. This will accomplish much toward abating unrest and will give the people a real taste of what it means to have actual suffrage in the governing of their own local affairs.

LAND LAWS AND TAXES.

Taxation upon land has been increased in such a manner that to the small holder the difference will be scarcely noticeable. A reassessment has been ordered made throughout the State and taxes will be collected in accordance with the new valuations or appraisements. For years owners of enormous tracts of land have been paying only nominal sums.

Urban, ranch and personal property of widows, other poor women and orphans, which does not exceed $2000 in value, is exempt from taxation: Mining and industrial properties are also exempt from this State tax, but not from the regular Federal tax. Church property of all creeds is also exempt. No land shall be appraised at lesser rate than $6 silver per hectare, except the mountains and lands in certain sections in other portions of the State.

ENFORCED CULTIVATION.

On January 15, 1915, Gen. Calles issued a decree affecting land throughout the State susceptible of cultivation and which is not being cultivated by the owners. Provision is made whereby the State government is authorized to lease the land to persons capable of planting, caring for and harvesting crops. The owner of the land suffers no loss other than for the time he is deprived of the land, but at such time as he may desire to again place the land under cultivation on his own account his property is returnable to him as soon as such crops as may have been planted by others is taken off. This ruling applies only in cases of absolute neglect and where the land and water are really and readily available.

No actual confiscations have been made in Sonora under the constitutional government. In some cases at the outset of the revolution certain known enemies of the cause were assessed with an emergency war tax, the amount depending entirely upon the income of the individuals. When payment was refused the government took over their holdings or part of them for the purpose of retaining the revenue imposed by the special war tax, all revenues in excess of this tax having been returned to the owners of the property. Practically all of the property so held has again been returned to its owners, and I can safely say that no actual confiscations exist in the State of Sonora. The central government recently returned to the Diaz family all of its confiscated property.

During the last few months the press has contained articles stating that foreigners would not be allowed to acquire interests in Mexico. This is an absolute fallacy, as foreigners are now allowed to make legitimate purchases at will. At one time a measure was enacted which purported to prohibit certain known enemies of the Constitutionalist cause from transferring their holdings to foreigners or foreign corporations, which the government looked upon as subterfuges to avoid the payment of the war taxes imposed. This disposition has recently been modified so that the personal interests of both natives and foreigners are in no way hampered. Foreigners are afforded every possible guarantee and liberty.

Gen. Calles heartily welcomes foreigners to Sonora and appreciates the prosperity and progress which always accompanies foreign investment.

Temperance in Sonora.

Gen. Plutarco Elias Calles, Governor of Sonora (above,) has put the State under prohibition and confiscated all the alcoholic liquors therein. The center picture shows what became of the mescal at Hermosillo. Below is Enrique Moreno, Secretary of State for Sonora.

PIONEER PASSES.

For Many Years Was Identified With Catering Business.

William B. Kunkel, for a quarter of a century a resident of Los Angeles, and for many years identified with the catering business in this city, passed away Friday evening, after an illness of many months, at his residence, No. 1016 West Forty-sixth street.

The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the chapel of Robert L. Garrett & Company, No. 1237 South Flower street, and will be under the auspices of the Elks and the Independent Order of Foresters. Interment will be in Inglewood Cemetery.

Mr. Kunkel was a native of Pennsylvania, but came West when a young man. In the early '80's he was connected with the Santa Fe eating house system, being manager of the Harvey House at Winslow, Ariz. In 1896 and 1897 he operated the Argyle Hotel, Second and Olive streets, and for many years thereafter he conducted restaurants in various parts of the city. He operated the first strictly dairy lunchroom in Los Angeles, this being located several years ago opposite The Times office, where he was familiarly known to a wide circle of friends and patrons as "Dad" Kunkel.

Mr. Kunkle was in Arizona in the early days when the citizens found it necessary to take the law into their own hands. "Bucky" O'Neil, captain of the Rough Riders, was a close friend of Mr. Kunkel's, they working together politically when it took men of steel nerve to back up their convictions.

Besides the widow he leaves four children, Mrs. P. D. Shupe, of Salisbury, Mo. Harry E., the eldest son, who is Adjutant of the Seventh Regiment, C. N. G., and connected with the Cass-Smurr-Damerell Company of this city Victor V., of San Pedro, and Clarence G., a young business man of this city.

RENEWS RESIGNATION.

Sidney A. Butler Desires to Leave Public Welfare Commission.

Sidney A. Butler, former Supervisor and present member of the Public Welfare Commission, who asked the Board of Supervisors to accept his resignation from the commission last September, has repeated the request in most emphatic terms. The matter of his resignation was originally taken under advisement, and never acted on. Mr. Butler states his time is fully occupied and he is devoting much attention to a public work, as member of the managing board of the Norwalk State Hospital for the Insane. In this letter filed with the board yesterday, he demanded that immediate action be taken in order to release him.

Odd.

SAYS CHILDREN ARE KIDNAPED.

Mother Asks for Extradition of Kiddies' Father.

Alleges They are Now on Way to South America.

Appeal may go to Department of Justice.

The supposed kidnaping of two children, their mysterious disappearance and alleged flight with their father to South America came to light yesterday morning when Mrs. Emma Saul applied to Deputy District Attorney Becker for a warrant for the arrest of John E. Saul and his extradition from Argentina.

Both Saul and his wife are rich. He was for a number of years in the cattle business in California and Arizona. When, in 1908, his wife sued for divorce and the custody of five children it created much surprise among even immediate friends of the family. He filed a cross-complaint to the action and the court refused to grant the divorce.

Separate maintenance was allowed Mrs. Saul, who was also given the three younger children, George, Dinah and Walter. The two older sons, Edward and John, were turned over to the father. Mrs. Saul took up her residence at No. 5920 Pasadena avenue, while her husband remained in the Highland Park home.

The children visited each other from time to time, but between the parents there was no communication. On February 18, according to an investigation made by private detectives, Edward, the oldest son, appeared at the Monte Vista School and asked that George and Dinah be permitted to go with him to the bedside of their aunt, a sister of Mr. Saul.

She was represented as in a dying condition, it is alleged, and the teacher gave them permission to leave. They were driven away in a large machine and that was the last seen of them. When the boy and girl failed to arrive home from school, Mrs. Saul became worried and finally notified the police. No trace was found of their whereabouts at the time.

Detectives say they finally discovered that they had been taken to the home of their father. The latter, it is alleged, they discovered, had converted practically all of his property into cash and left with four children for New York City. It was only two days ago that the group was traced to the steamship Verdi, which sailed on March 4 for Buenas Aires. It is due to arrive in that Argentine port on March 25.

Mrs. Saul asked the District Attorney to assist her in securing extradition papers, the authority of which may be sent by wireless to the South American metropolis in time to stop her husband from getting into the interior. She stated that she had learned of his intention to re-embark in the cattle business in Argentina.

Deputy District Attorney Becker took the matter under advisement in order to secure corroboration of the story. The children, who it is alleged, have been carried away without the consent of their mother or of the courts, are 15 and 13 years of age, respectively. Walter, the youngest child, who still remains with Mrs. Saul, is 11 years of age.

Should the local officials fail to grant the complaint permitting the issuance of extradition papers, the matter may be taken to the Department of Justice in Washington, according to Mrs. Saul.

MAY FIND A NAME.

Frank Brigham, Contractor, is Held by a Jury the Father of Frances Mello's Child and Friends of Young Mother Expect to Bring Action.

Frances Mello, dark-eyed baby daughter of Mary Mello, may have the privilege of taking the name of her father, Frank Brigham, in the near future. The jury held that Brigham was guilty of the statutory offense involving the girl and was therefore father of little Frances, the principal exhibit in Judge Wilbur's court during the past three days.

Before Frances was born, Brigham was tried for the same charge, but the jury at that time disagreed. When the case was called a second time, the evidence furnished by Providence was held substantial enough to cause the young contractor's conviction. Certain irrefutable marks delineating the features of the father were called to the attention of the jury on numerous occasions by Deputy District Attorney Stafford.

When the jury returned its verdict, it brought also the suggestion that instead of a penitentiary sentence, a County Jail sentence be given the defendant. Despite this request for amelioration of the possible sentence, attorneys for the defendant stated that they would bring action for an appeal on Tuesday, when Brigham comes up for disposition at the hands of the court.

Friends who have stood by the unfortunate 17-year-old mother, through her trials, stated yesterday morning, when the verdict was rendered, that suit would soon be filed against Brigham, to secure maintenance for the baby and its mother, and possibly also to change its name.

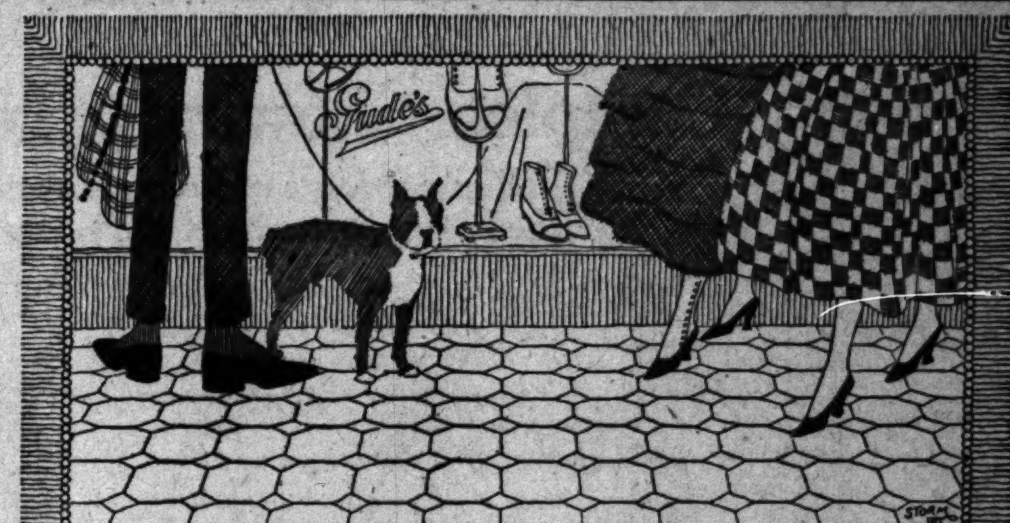
Didn't Expect to Live

In a letter to the Pinus laboratories, Mrs. G. O. Walker, of Walker, Lane County, Oregon, writes:

"I have been taking Fruitola and it has been a great relief. I suffered so with gall-stones my family and friends didn't expect me to live."

Fruitola is a powerful intestinal lubricant and softens the hardened particles that cause so much suffering, expelling the congested waste in an easy, natural manner, to the sufferer's great relief. A single dose is usually sufficient to clearly indicate its efficacy. To build up and restore the weakened, run-down system, Traxo is highly recommended as a tonic-alterative that acts on the liver and kidneys, stimulates the flow of gastric juices to aid digestion and removes bile from the general circulation.

Fruitola and Traxo are prepared in the Pinus laboratories at Monticello, Ill., and arrangements have been made to supply them through representative druggists. In Los Angeles they can be obtained at The Owl Drug Co.'s Stores.



—a reliable place to buy footwear is at Gude's.

That's what thousands of keen, thoughtful women and men say about this successful Broadway shoe house. They're told us so—face to face! We've worked hard for many years to build this reputation.

"What's What" in 1916 Boots

Fashion says "high boots" this season. We do not advocate the extreme effects—but recommend higher tops than those of last season. The famous Cousins Shoes for Women portray the authentic styles.

Laced boots will predominate. Buttons, however, are absolutely correct.

The smartest and most stylish effects are colored vamps with white tops—also the two-tone colors as shown in Cousins Shoes for Women.

White boots will be worn extensively—note the white effects in Cousins Shoes shown in our windows.

Spanish Louis heels will be universal. The new boots are dainty, light and extremely showy—particularly designed to attract attention to the feet.

Footwear from Gude's combines the utmost in style, workmanship and durability—at the very lowest price for which shoes of this type can afford to be sold.

Note the "vogue-ish," smart, foot-beautifying boots in our windows—all designed to accompany the 1916 fashions—for the street, boudoir, the theater, the dance, golf, etc.—the famous Cousins Shoes for Women and Korrect Shape Shoes for Men. Let us dress your feet with just the proper shoe in just the size to give you perfect comfort—something that will add style and distinction to your appearance.

"Dress up your feet" is Fashion's imperial decree for 1916.

General View.

GASOLINE PRICES HELD BY LAWS OF BUSINESS

Are Dependent not Only on Supply and Cost of Crude Oil, but Also on Refining and Transportation Facilities. What Companies in the California Fields are Doing at the Present Time.

IN CALIFORNIA 450 corporations, individuals and firms are engaged in the production of crude oil. About 100 of these are located south of the Tehachepi, nine are in the Santa Maria field, and 330 in the San Joaquin Valley, in Kern and Fresno counties. Of the 100 in the south of the State about twenty-five are operating wells in the old city field, some of them with a half-dozen wells with insignificant production, others with thirty or forty wells and fair aggregate output. Among the others are such substantial independent companies as the Union, a Standard competitor in every line where California oil is found or is sold; the Amalgamated, with a production of a few thousand barrels daily; the West Coast; the Rancho La Brea, owned by the Hancock estate; the Puente, an exclusively local company operating on part of the Rowland holdings; the Columbia, the Fullerton, and Olinda Land Company, all substantial dividend payers owned in and around Los Angeles; Otis Birch and A. F. Gilmore, individual local operators; the General Petroleum Company, a Statewide producer and marketer; the Petroleum Company, owned by a number of substantial oil operators formerly of Texas and Oklahoma, and the Standard Oil Company of California.

Of the 330-odd companies operating in the San Joaquin Valley, 150 belong to the Independent Oil Producers's Agency, of which organization the Union Oil Company is the largest member and the selling agent. In the supply of fuel and crude oil this body is, with the Standard, the largest marketer in California. It is organized for the purpose of competition to the consumer at a fair price to the producer. It is not a trust like the old Standard Oil combine. In fact, it is said no organization in existence comes more fully within the "rule of reason" as to trade combinations laid down by the United States Supreme Court in the Standard Oil and Tobacco Trust cases. Before this organization was formed, the producers were in no sense competitors for the business of the consumer, but simply had to sell to the Standard, Associated or Southern Pacific.

The Standard Oil Company of California produces itself and handles about 35 per cent. of the oil of the State—not much of a monopoly. It has four large competitors in the sale of fuel, road and many refined products. In the San Francisco Bay region, throughout the northern and central parts of the State, and in parts of Washington, Oregon, Hawaii Alaska, the Standard has as competitors the Union-Agency, the Associated and the Shell Company of California. In the region south of the Tehachepi range, it has to contest for the market with the Union-Agency, the Associated and the General Petroleum, besides a host of minor companies.

Fuel oil is today sold at about 70 cents delivered to the consumer. This is equal to coal at approximately $2.60 a ton. Before oil was developed railroads imported Australian coal and paid $9 a ton on delivery at Los Angeles Harbor and San Francisco. There is no monopoly, no extortion in this. Nowhere is fuel cheaper.

In San Francisco the Standard has competition in the marketing of gasoline, kerosene, engine and stove distillate, diesel and semi-diesel oils from the Union, the Associated and Shell companies, besides from several smaller refineries around the bay. The lesser manufacturers, however, are handicapped at San Francisco for the reason that the nearest oil fields are 200 miles away. In Los Angeles they are right at the city's gates, hence there are a dozen independent refiners operating in and around this city, while retailers and jobbers are so many as to be uncountable.

The following are the principal companies selling gasoline and similar products in Los Angeles, in addition to the Standard and in the sharpest competition with the big company: The Union Oil Company, the Ventura Refining Company, the Puente Oil, the Richfield Oil Company, the Wilshire Oil Company, the Rancho La Brea Oil Company, A. F. Gilmore, the Western Oil Company, the Densmore-Stabler Refining Company, the Pinal-Dome Refining Company, the California Oil and Asphalt Company and Doran, Brouse and Price. The General Petroleum and Amalgamated produces and sells tops to other refineries, and the General Petroleum makes several special grades of fuels but no gasoline. The marketers named above, with two exceptions own or lease and operate their own refineries. The two exceptions purchase their gasoline from others.

Besides eleven local refineries, right in and around Los Angeles, there are eight casinghead gasoline plants in operation. In the Ventura fields, besides the Ventura Refining Company, which sells in Los Angeles, there are two local refineries at Santa Paula doing business throughout the country in competition with the Standard. In Kern county the Standard has a refinery, and there are three local es- the market. Also there are several tablishments competing with it in casinghead gasoline plants. In the Santa Maria fields there are four or five casinghead gasoline plants, including the largest in the State, owned by the Union Oil Company.

In 1914 during the entire year there were 123,000 automobiles registered in California, and less in previous years. Notwithstanding this condition, gasoline sold in the State at 25 cents before that number of machines was reached. Capital saw the chance, and money went into the several new processes of producing gasoline. All the casinghead gasoline is the product of plants erected during the last four years, mostly during the last two years. At least, one more is to be built at once near Bakersfield and another in the Midway. The output of casinghead gasoline sold in the vicinity of Los Angeles is about 190,000 gallons a month. Three or four plants have been built within the last twelve months, others have been enlarged. The Ventura refinery was only completed a few months ago. Thus has the industry expanded to meet the market demands.

During the whole of 1915 there were 156,000 motor vehicles registered in the State, an increase of 33,000 over 1914, or more than 25 per cent. Now, this year to date, with barely sixty days of the twelve months gone, the number is 163,000, or 7000 more than all last year. The number registered for 1916 after only sixty days is thus more than 30 per cent. greater than for all 1914. Yet in the face of this, gasoline costs but 18 cents as against 25 cents about 1912, and is cheaper than it is anywhere else in the [illegible]

During the last few years, [illegible] there has been a large increase in the number of motorboats in use on this coast. There are no figures available but a visit to the harbor to [illegible] the fishing fleet will give one [illegible] idea.

Likewise there has been an enormous increase in the number of motor trucks in use. Nowadays goods are hauled from the harbor to Los Angeles on wagons in trains drawn by motor trucks. Hundreds of [illegible] motor trucks are used for rural deliveries and for hauling farm produce to market.

Inquiry among refiners, retailers and drivers of motor vehicles brings the fact that while gasoline is the fuel desired for passenger service when obtainable, still the use of distillate is becoming more common than it was. Such fuel is purchasable at [illegible] cents retail, and as low as [illegible] wholesale. Different drivers do not always report the same success when using distillate, even when using the same type of car. The opinion is being expressed that one of the [illegible] difficulties is to build cars capable of using with equal success different fuels. If one grade of fuel were in nation-wide use, the gasoline problem might be solved more easily by adopting lower grade fuel.

The recent report of Secretary Lane on the gasoline question completely disposed of all questions as to the causes of gasoline prices. It points out all the factors in the problem. No sane man would argue that the supply of gasoline is dependent upon nothing but the supply of crude oil. It is dependent also upon refining capacity, this last in turn is dependent upon the immediate supply of capital, upon the immediate supply of transportation, and the supply of both refining capacity and transportation facilities is dependent upon the supply of labor and upon the supply of material, such as steel, brick, etc. The supply of material available to build refineries is dependent largely upon the world-demand for these goods. For instance, today the steel mills are nine months behind with their orders, one thing that handicaps the building of new refineries. The supply of capital available for oil production and refining is dependent, too, upon its opportunities for investment all abroad the world.

Summed up, Secretary Lane finds that gasoline prices are fairly responsive to supply and demand all over the country, though not necessarily to the supply of crude oil [illegible]. Neither is the supply of bread dependent solely upon the supply of wheat, but also upon the supply of flour mills and bakeries. He also points out that big companies with lots of capital, in this as in all business, stand shortage of raw material by buying ahead and storing a supply when it is plentiful, better than the smaller men. This is elementary and a fact known to every person of common sense. A newspaper well supplied with money is better off than one near bankruptcy.

Secretary Lane's report gives the answer to every objection [illegible] against gasoline prices and shows there is nothing but the inexorable law of supply and demand affecting them. Newspaper bluster will not change that.

NEW STEP TO MAKE THE STREETS SAFE

UNIQUE "KEEP-TO-THE-RIGHT" SIGNS FOR MOTORISTS.

Automobile Club of Southern California to Instal Approximately a Hundred of Them at Intersections Where Collisions are Feared—Police Indorse the Plan.

Los Angeles is to be the first city to enjoy the distinction of possessing an entirely new type of "Better be [illegible] than sorry" street-intersection automobile signs.

Designed by officials of the Automobile Club of Southern California, approximately 100 of these new signs will be placed at street crossings where there is danger of collision between motor cars. A sample sign was made and presented for inspection to the police department, and the inspection was followed by a recommendation that at least 100 such signs be placed at once throughout the city.

Reading from any angle, the signs will warn motorists to "Keep to the right" when approaching a dangerous corner and thus avoid a collision with a car approaching from the right or left.

"With these new signs in place in the middle of the street intersections the dangers of intersectional [illegible] will be reduced 50 per cent," [illegible] Police Lieutenant Butler [illegible] "The Automobile Club of Southern California is to be commended for its progressiveness in securing these 'safety' signs for Los Angeles, and without a doubt other cities will follow the local lead.

"While it may be true that other cities have attempted something of this kind, nothing of this sort has been done on so thorough a scale as is contemplated for this city. There should be at least 100 of them placed here at once."

The signs will be painted blue and white, in accord with the Automobile Club's general system throughout the southern part of the State, and will stand at the centers of street crossings outside of the business district. A cast iron standard will be sunk into the pavement and into this will be screwed the white post upon which the metal sign is affixed, reading "Keep to the right."

One of the first of these will be placed at North Broadway and Sunset boulevard, at the northern approach to the new tunnel. Others will also be set at once at [illegible] avenue and Wilshire boulevard. The signs will stand about four feet in height, mounted on two-inch posts.

President Fred L. Baker of the club announced yesterday that the placing of the signs here is one of the first steps in the activities of the association for its new year, and that its work is in the interests of all motorists. He [illegible] club's efforts in this [illegible] supported by about 7000 [illegible] out of the 74,000 in Southern California, and that [illegible] be possible [illegible] increases.

ItCures Through the Pores

New Pore Treatment Takes Place of Internal Medicines in the Treatment of Almost Every Ill.

EVEN in chronic cases of rheumatism where the joints have become stiff, the pain is relieved and the inflammation reduced. It rids the tissues of disease by aiding elimination and restoring good circulation in and around the affected parts. It clears up pimply skins and sallow complexions almost in a single night. Rubbed over the nerve centers along the spine, it invigorates the nerves and relieves lame back and the worst form of lumbago. Don't fail to try the New Pore Treatment in all cases of sore throat, sore lungs, bad coughs or nasal catarrh. It relieves these dangerous ills in ten minutes.

It heals, soothes and relieves wherever applied, and there is no habit-forming or dangerous risk associated with its use.

POINTS TO REMEMBER: When used on face, hands or bottoms of feet apply lightly, let remain a minute or two, then wipe off with dry cloth or towel. When used for aches and pains apply liberally and let absorb. Ask for Know-doc Pore Treatment at any drug store. They now have it in both small and large sizes.

Women's Clubs.

ning of March 21, she will deliver an address before the Beaumont Woman's Club on "Poetry of Rabindra Nath Tagore." On March 22, in the forenoon, the high school students of El Centro, in Imperial Valley, will hear her speak on "Story Telling as an Art." That afternoon the Woman's Club of El Centro have engaged the operahouse and Mrs. Goldsmith will tell the members what she knows of "Child Labor and Prison Reform." In the evening, the Woman's Improvement Club, of Calexico, will hear her speak on "The New Sympathy in the Literature of Today." On March 28 Mrs. Goldsmith will appear before the Santa Monica Bay Woman's Club. Her subject for the afternoon will be. "The Poetry of the Bible," including the Christ motif in the plays of today.

Adelphian Club.

Every young woman who has ever been a member of the Adelphian Club of the Young Women's Christian Association is invited to attend a reunion Tuesday evening at the association. Miss Estelle Bowler and Miss Sigrid Johnson, with Rosamund Harker, president, have the arrangements in charge. They announce the following programme, in addition to reminiscences which will be a feature of the gathering:

"What It Means to be the Club Mother," Mrs. E. R. Smith; "Mother's Eldest Daughter," Miss Lottie Kimball; "The Adelphian Girl," Miss Amelia C. Johnson; "The Club Idea," Miss Cora L. Tatham; readings, Miss Gladys DeWitt.

The Adelphian Club is the pioneer business women's club of the city and has stood in the front rank of social service clubs for the past nineteen years. It numbers among its members many who have become successful business women conducting their own business or who have held positions of trust in the city.

At the regular meeting on Thursday night Mr. and Mrs. Matthews Chase gave a delightful talk on "Eastertide in Sicily."

Brownson House.

Population and poverty, theories of overpopulation, malthusianism, eugenics and hygiene were ably discussed by Rev. William E. Corr at the Brownson House weekly social science lecture last Tuesday evening.

Dr. J. L. Pomeroy, county health officer, will be the speaker next Friday evening. His subject will be "Problems of Health and Sanitation in Los Angeles, the Board of Health, Death Rate, Special Diseases, Ordinances," etc.

The regular quarterly meeting of Brownson House Settlement Association was held last Sunday at the Settlement House. The reports of the heads of the many departments of work showed an immense development of the settlement activities.

Friday Morning Club.

Here is the week's programme for the Friday Morning Club:

Tuesday—10:30, music conference, "The Pianoforte," study of its history with music of its precursors; 8 p.m., the art conference will be "at home" in honor of the California Art Club, guest of honor will be Thomas Moran.

Friday—"How Los Angeles Spends Its Money," H. A. Payne; general discussion.

The members of the Finance Committee of the City Council will be present and take part in the discussion on Friday. The following will speak: Fred Wheeler, Foster G. Wright and Martin Betkouski.

Overseas Club.

The British Overseas Club will hold a dance-social next Wednesday evening in the Fraternal Brotherhood Building, No. 845 S. Figueroa street. All Britishers are invited to attend.

The American Indian.

A. C. Vroman of Pasadena gave an interesting talk on the American Indian before the South Pasadena Women's Improvement Association last Wednesday.

Delegates to the Hollywood convention next week were elected—Mrs. Elizabeth Mumford, Mrs. James L. Longley, Mrs. E. H. Rust, Mrs. Robert Crosbie and Mrs. H. C. Packer.

Mrs. Willoughby Rodman spoke on behalf of Belgian relief, in which she is so keenly interested.

Sunshine Society.

Wednesday will be California State day of the International Sunshine Society, when a luncheon will be given in honor of Mrs. Cynthia Westover Alden, the president-general.

Mrs. Alden has been responsible for much real sunshine, particularly for the establishment of blind-baby homes, schools, nurseries and kindergartens which now exist in every State of the Union largely through her personal effort.

The Los Angeles branch will entertain on St. Patrick's Day with a ball at Kramer's, preceded by a formal reception in honor of Mrs. Alden. The Reception Committee will be composed of presidents and officers of various branches.

The committee for the ball will be Mr. and Mrs. Myers White and Miss Ellen Anderson, assisted by a large and competent list of deputy hostesses.

Co-eds will Debate.

Inspired by the success of Pomona College men, who have won out in every intercollegiate debate they have undertaken since 1912, the young women of that institution have negotiations now on between Pomona, the University of Redlands and Whittier College for a woman's intercollegiate debate. The exact date for this feminine battle of wits and words has not yet been fixed, but it will likely come off some time in mid-April.

D. A. R.

Eschscholtzia Chapter, D.A.R., which held its March meeting on Tuesday afternoon, last, was addressed on "The Inspiration of Colonial Architecture" by Arthur B. Benton, president of the Academy of Sciences.

Next Saturday afternoon the chapter will give a tea at the Alexandria Hotel in honor of the Regent, Mrs. James Hyde Forbes, who is departing the latter part of the month for Washington, D. C., to attend the national D.A.R. conference in April, visiting friends en route.

The Ushers Committee, of which Mrs. Melvin Brown is chairman, met last Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Edward Allen and sewed for charity. Much good work is being done by this committee, which meets every month in members' homes.

United Daughters of the Confederacy.

The John Reagan Chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy entertained with a benefit card party on Thursday last at 2 p.m. at the Golden apartments.

They are also planning a special St. Patrick's Day entertainment, which is in charge of Mrs. W. J. Sykes and Mrs. Ralph Ingersol, who promise some novel features.

The Robert E. Lee Chapter entertained with a luncheon at the Jonathan Club last week in honor of the State president, Mrs. C. E. Clay, other chapter presidents of the city also being guests. After luncheon the entire party attended the Ebell Club, when Mrs. Clay delivered an interesting address. Mrs. Clifford Thomas sang some much-appreciated songs.

Parent-Teacher Association.

The Loretta Parent-Teacher Association met on Thursday to hear the home talent programme planned by Mrs. J. H. Rice, and to spring a birthday surprise on Mrs. Rice herself, who is the president of the center.

Elaborate decorations, the school orchestra, and a children's chorus all contributed to a gay time and Mrs. Rice responded to a call to the platform to cut her own birthday cake.

The Avenue Twenty-one Parent-Teacher Association will hold an art discussion at their next meeting on Tuesday, when Miss Mary Gearhart, city art supervisor, will give an illustrated talk on art in the elementary schools. Music by the school orchestra and flag drill, and a short drama by Miss Prior's room will complete a very full programme.

Grand-avenue Parent-Teacher Association circle will hold its regular monthly session Thursday, the 16th inst., at 3 p.m., with the president, Mrs. Hart, in the chair. Mrs. Thomas O'Donnell will give a report on what happened on federation day, and Mrs. Ruth Hollenbeck will tell of the discussions on military training Saturday last. Miss May Gearhart, supervisor of drawing, is to give an illustrated talk on drawing in the elementary school. Coffee and sandwiches to be served.

The Annandale-school Parent-Teacher Association will meet at the Eagle Rock-avenue school on Tuesday, when Mrs. Frankland of Tropico will speak on the "Oneness of Humanity," and Mrs. Jonas will give some piano selections.

At Whittier.

Dr. Allison Gaw of the University of Southern California was the speaker before the East Whittier Women's Improvement Club Monday afternoon, taking as his subject, "The Celtic Ranaissance." Dr. Gaw declared that Celtic literature dates back to a time 500 years before Christ. The East Whittier clubhouse was beautifully decorated in green in honor of the day's topic. Irish folk songs were given by Mrs. Alfred Thompson.

Russian Drama.

The Ruskin Art Club this week enjoyed a delightful programme given by Mrs. N. P. Conrey, Mrs. W. E. Keepers and Mrs. Victor Stork.

Mrs. Conrey reviewed Gogol's greatest play, "Revizor." The play is a fine example of dramatic unity and one of the few examples of Russian humor. It is typical of what the masses of Russia demand in dramatic literature, and is a story of graft.

Mrs. Keepers discussed the development of the novel. The Russian writers are "saturated with common sense;" their writings all "smell of the soil," and express somberness rather than joy. Gogol expresses pure realism and humor, Turgenev human sympathy.

Mrs. Stork reviewed Gogol's best-known book, "Taras Bulba," which is a heroic and romantic epic of Cossack life in the fifteenth century. It is often called Homeric.

Next week Mr. Shimonesky will speak on nihilism.

The Immigrant.

At the monthly meeting of the Cambria Parent-Teacher Association, held Thursday at 3 o'clock in the school building, Miss Ethel Richardson was the speaker of the afternoon, telling of the survey which she recently made for the State Commission of Immigration and Housing, in ascertaining the number of immigrants in the city who cannot speak the English language.

She asserted that in order to educate the foreigner to be useful, Americans should welcome them, giving them opportunity to study for citizenship in its highest sense. Miss Richardson told of the splendid work being done by the city home teacher, Mrs. Chase, by going into the homes and teaching alien mothers the care of their households, under American standards.

Two piano selections were given by Mrs. Leslie Barrows. Miss Araxie Jamgochian offered a pleasing reading.

Mrs. L. P. Boyce, secretary of Cambria association, was indorsed by the executive board of the association for corresponding secretary of the Los Angeles Federation of the Parent-Teacher Associations, for which she is a nominee.

College Woman's Club.

The dramatic section of the College Woman's Club, in the clubrooms of the Little Theater Building, on Thursday observed "Poetry Day," the programme consisting of original poems of members. Mrs. Dodge, Mrs. Roger Sterrett, Miss Syble Jones, Miss Williamson, Miss Peterson and Miss Winifred Webb gave creditable contributions, and Maj. S. H. M. Byers, the Iowa poet, was also present and delighted the audience with four readings, concluded by a terse talk on lyric poetry.

Chi Omega.

The annual founder's day luncheon of Chi Omega Fraternity will be held this year at Hotel Clark on April 1. All Chi Omegas are urged to attend. Notify Lilian F. Rivers, Home 24707.

LESS MEAT IF KIDNEYS HURT OR YOU'RE BACKACHY AND RHEUMATIC

Meat forms uric acid which clogs Kidneys; causes Rheumatism and irritates Bladder

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.

Exponent of a New Kind of Sculptu

Miss Cecelia Kibre,

A Los Angles girl, who is making money supplying sculptured settings [illegible] motion-picture plays.

In Los Angeles.

PRETTY GIRL MAKES ART PAY IN DOLLARS

"MADE in Los Angeles" is becoming a famous phrase, perhaps some day to cover the entire range of human endeavor. Each day its significance is widening and from every contingent of the cosmopolitan population are coming contributions emphasizing the diversity of intellect and artistry that find inspiration in the land "where sets the sun."

With the rapid development of the motion picture industry to include scenes from ancient Greece and Rome came the demand for replicas of the architectural masterpieces of these historic places. Producers insisted on exactness to the last detail. A Corinthian column had to be one, and nothing else—so far as the eye could detect, on the screen. And this passion for accuracy in picture settings paved the way for the development of talent until then latent.

Among the first to respond to the call for this new creative power was a Los Angeles High School girl—all of 17 years old—whose skill in drawing was marked and whose ambition to do modeling amounted to an obsession. This was two years ago. Today Miss Cecilia E. Kibre, now 19, slender, dark and pretty, is busy daily at ornamental architectural modeling in the studio of her aunt, No. 939 West Seventh street. She is the daughter of [illegible] and Mrs. K. Kibre, No. 815 West [illegible]tieth street, who came from [illegible] York eight years ago to make [illegible] home in the Southland.

She might have cards [illegible] "sculptress for the leading [illegible] picture studios of Los Angeles" [illegible] she doesn't. Sometimes she may [illegible] ness a screen production in which [illegible] cleverness of her own brain [illegible] fingers are in evidence, but [illegible] modest. She critically analyses [illegible] work in the picture settings and [illegible]ly resolves that her next effort [illegible] be more artistic, more perfect [illegible] nearer her lofty ideals, for she [illegible] genius in sufficient quantity to [illegible] with it the valuable correlative [illegible] stabilizing attribute of modesty.

For two years, ever since [illegible] high school, Miss Kibre has [illegible] and studied. So well done were [illegible] earliest attempts at ornamental [illegible]tectural modeling that they found [illegible] ready market, most of her customers being the motion-picture [illegible] Now the demand for her work [illegible] steady and the youthful aspirant [illegible] fame is nibbling at the first [illegible] of success.

Here is the story of many [illegible] girls in Southern California in [illegible] has been stirred the desire [illegible] something worth while, rather than [illegible] contented with the homage [illegible] maids that nature has dealt with [illegible]ishly.

Rivals the Alps.

HIGHWAY TO REACH TOP OF LOFTY MT. WHITNEY

IN ORDER to secure a magnificent scenic highway from the shores of the Pacific to the top of Mt. Whitney, the highest peak in California and fountainhead of the water supply of Los Angeles, the Kern county Board of Supervisors yesterday filed resolutions with the local Board of Supervisors, asking assistance in convincing the government that an appropriation for such a road would be advisable.

A preliminary survey of the route shows the top of the famous peak can easily be reached by a road that will not cost an excessive sum. The good roads all the way from Los Angeles to Kern county call for the completion of less than fifty miles of road through a mountain territory far more wonderful than can be found in Switzerland or any other portion of the Alps.

According to data prepared by the Kern county supervisors, and the commercial organizations of various communities in that county, the road would pass by easy grades through forests, over streams and along lakes that would open an almost unknown territory to the tourist. From the top of the mountain, 14,501 feet above sea level, an expanse of country hundreds of miles in extent can be viewed, [illegible] other scenes a bird's eye view of [illegible] famous Death Valley, 276 feet [illegible] sea level.

The cost of the road would be [illegible]paratively small, and the road [illegible] even be turned to a profit for [illegible] government, if the work is [illegible] taken, say the Kern county [illegible] Large, and at the present, [illegible] sible, timber plots are located [illegible] the proposed route. In order to [illegible] duce fire risks, these should [illegible] thinned. COUNTY SANITATION.

Expect Permanent Commission to Result from Meeting Tomorrow.

Another step in solution of the county sewer problem will be taken tomorrow morning, when representatives from every municipality in the county are expected to be on hand at the meeting of the Board of Supervisors and the Commission of Sanitation Engineers. The board, in issuing the call for the meeting, asked that representatives sent should have full power to act, in order that authorization for the establishment of a permanent commission be secured. This commission, consisting of the same engineers who made the preliminary survey, stated that in order to draw up a comprehensive plan, it would require a year's work and cost the county approximately $45,000. Each community will be asked tomorrow whether willing to pay a pro-rate share of the expense.

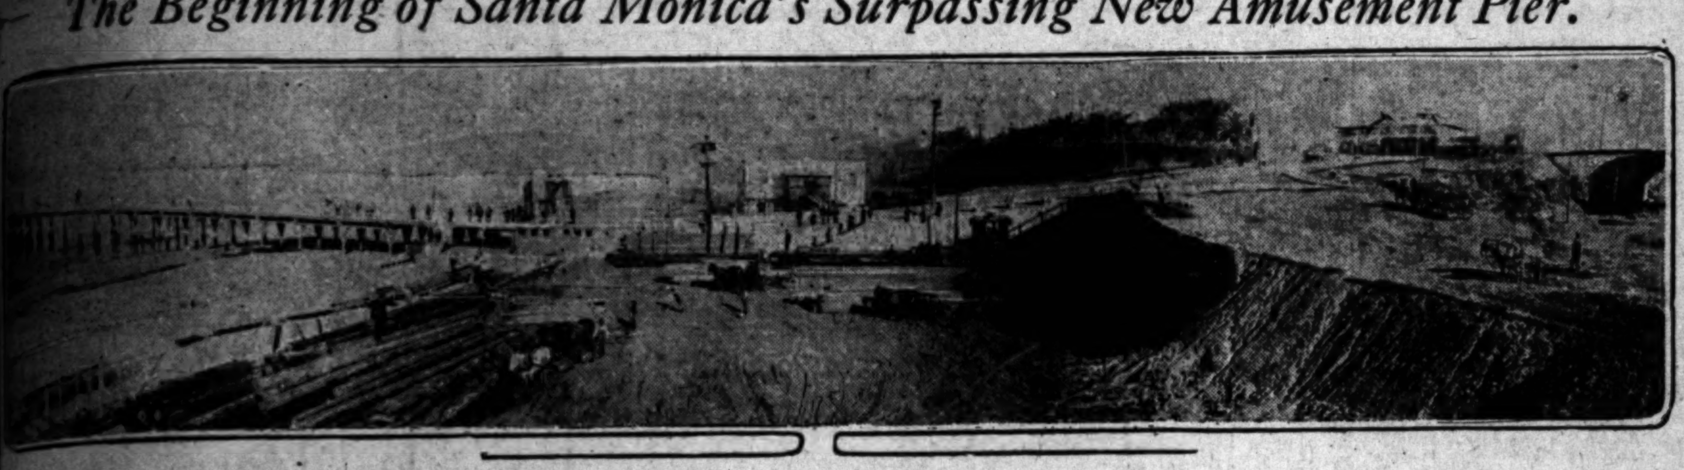
The Beginning of Santa Monica's Surpassing New Amusement Pier.



A photographic panorama of shore land and ocean front that is brimful of significant action.

The piling and lumber at the left are a part of forty-seven carloads going into the mammoth sea-going pleasure structure to be built by Charles I. D. Looff, paralleling the Santa Monica municipal pier at the foot of Colorado avenue. The freight cars are standing on the recently completed extension of the Pacific Electric's Santa Monica Air Line, which, when the amusement pier is completed, will become the first electric line on the Coast delivering beach-going passengers directly at the surf line. The line was made possible by E. P. Benjamin and B. N. Moss, as a part of their extensive development and improvement operations on the site of the historic old Southern Pacific terminal, an activity that is in part revealed in the glimpse of the dirt shifting and grading seen at the center and right.

FLYING SICKNESS.

Is Not Comparable with Mountain Illness in Several Respects.

[Boston Transcript:] Mountain sickness and the sickness which follows work in caissons during bridge building are familiar enough, but "flying sickness" is a sufficiently new condition to be interesting from the point of view of the mere layman.

In an article on "The influence of altitude on the nervous system," the Lancet discusses the condition at some length. The abiding symptoms are described in the language of Edward Whymper as "profound lassitude, intense headache, feverishness, accelerated respiration, and occasional spasmodic gulping of air, just like fishes when taken out of water, palpitation and tinnitus." The Lancet comments:

"It is clear, we think, that flying sickness is not comparable in the strict sense with mountain sickness, in spite of the fact that some of the symptoms are more or less identical. Hitherto we have had little direct evidence of what occurs as the result of rapid transference from high to low altitudes, for the laborious ascent of the mountaineer into rarefied air is very different from a speedy return to normal pressure, while the climb of of a flying machine is hardly so rapid as to cause any ill effect. The pilot who is lifted from his machine, after a fast volplane, in a semiconscious condition, falling thereafter into a deep sleep, shows a phenomenon not met with either in mountain sickness or in caisson disease.

"Nevertheless we believe that some light may be thrown on this by another consideration. In his "Scrambles Among the Alps" Whymper states that on one occasion he slipped and fell some 200 feet in seven or eight bounds. Curious as it may appear, though conscious at first, he 'was like a patient under chloroform and experienced no pain,' albeit badly cut about the head. The bounding through space did not feel disagreeable. He says that in his opinion in no very great distance more consciousness as well as sensation would have been lost, and on this he bases his view that 'death by a fall from a great height is as painless an end as can be experienced.'"

What the Shell Did.

[Punch:] Old Lady: So, William, you've come back to us wounded, I hear. How did it happen?

William: Shell, mum.

Old Lady: A shell! Oh, dear, dear! And did it explode?

William: Explode, mum? Not likely. It just crept softly up behind—and hit me!

Development.

MATERIALS RUSHED FOR GREAT AMUSEMENT PIER.

Activities at Santa Monica Ocean Front Confirm Rumors that Giant Structure is to be Put up by Widely-known Operator — Building Layout Extensive — To be Finished in the Coming Summer.

SISTENT rumors of a gigantic amusement pier to be constructed on the old North Beach nta Monica ceased to be rumors ing the past few days, when car of creosoted piling and heavy began to appear on the ocean t just south of the Santa Monica pier. The pier is not only added to the long list of im development projects of the for 1916, but it is to be a complete reality as soon as of workmen, serving in relays, rush it through. Its projector, confidently declares he will the huge structure ready for during the coming summer.

is undertaking is to be carried out by Charles I. D. Looff, an man of national reputa has established famous re Providence, R. I., Seattle, Francisco, New York and Dallas, who now has a winter home Beach. Mr. Looff has for planned the establishment Southern California coast of a resort and a short time ago this intention by buying of ocean frontage, with all on the North Beach Since then his plans have with startling rapidity.

THE FRONT FOOT.

initial investment in the enter will be, it is understood, in the of $400,000. The gigan to be erected now, it is will be but the first unit larger pier going much far into the ocean. Plans for building layout are now prepared under the supervision and the full details of structures will, it is an be made public soon.

FAMILY AFFAIR.

is known among the of the country as a wholesome resorts. projects are financed by managed by himself and The Looff enterprises, in affairs in every sense Mr. Looff having associat three sons and two sons of the sons is an engi another an architect, and supervision is done himself.

resort of the Looffs and is notable among centers. The their own passenger from Providence to and one of the features of the place is a monster dining-hall seating 2000 persons. The Looffs were also the creators of Luna Park at Seattle, which resort was recently sold by them to a syndicate.

Mr. Looff has extensive property holdings in Southern California, including the Hippodrome at Long Beach and considerable real estate in that city and elsewhere. He was formerly owner of the Ocean Park Hippodrome, which was destroyed by the fire that devastated that place a few years ago. Newspapers reported a few days ago the purchase by him of the water plant supplying the city of Fullerton. He and his family have factories at both Providence and Long Beach for the manufacture of amusement resort equipment.

WHAT ARE PLANS?

Considerable speculation exists in Santa Monica as to what Mr. Benjamin and Mr. Moss intend doing with the remainder of their extensive beach holdings there. The two have been associated for the past four years in the acquisition and ownership of several beach properties, their shoreline holdings in the vicinity of the municipal pier having amounted to 700 feet at the time of the sale to Mr. Looff. Of this 347 feet lay south of the pier and the rest to the north.

The most important purchase made by them was that of the old air line terminal holdings of the Southern Pacific, lying between Ocean avenue and the shore line and along the south side of Colorado avenue, amounting in all to about five acres. It was a portion of the ocean front of this property that was transferred to Mr. Looff, the sellers retaining 100 feet of ocean front and all of the land east of the Ocean Promenade.

Mr. Benjamin and Mr. Moss have already done a considerable amount of development work to the land portion of this holding. They began by filling in the entire east half of the property to a height approximating that of Colorado avenue and by carrying Appian way northward across the tract to a junction with that street. This has made Appian way a part of a street which will eventually be improved from Santa Monica Canyon to Redondo Beach, proceedings for all of this work having already been instituted and much of the route having been completed.

RAILWAY PROJECT.

The two developers have also made a roadbed for an extension of the Pacific Electric's air line from Sixth and Main streets, made by the electrizing of the old Southern Pacific steam system, under the Ocean-avenue viaduct and along the north side of their property to the Ocean Promenade. This line, which passes under the extension of Appian way, is the only electric system on the Coast with provisions for taking passengers directly to the surf line and will land the visitors to the Looff resort at the very edge of the new pier. Another important improvement that has been carried out is the construction of a wide approach of easy grade from Colorado avenue to the site.

Mr. Benjamin stated yesterday evening that he and Mr. Moss have not as yet brought their own plans for future developments to the point where definite announcements can be made. It is understood, however, that they have in mind important improvements not only on the old terminal grounds, but for their frontage north of the municipal pier.

FOLK SONGS OF SERBIA.

Express Devotion of People for Their Country.

[Kansas City Journal:] The folk songs of Serbia are less known outside the borders of that country than the songs of any other nation, but some day a great musician is expected to arise and make the Serbian music known throughout the world, just as the composers of Austria, and Russia have made their folk songs known.

It is in these folk songs that the Serbians express chiefly their devotion to their country and their intense patriotism. There are, of course, love songs, death songs and harvest songs, but it is in these wild patriotic outbursts that the Serbian spirit is best known.

For the Serbian is intensely patriotic. As a nation it is home-loving. The principal industry is agriculture and the natives, on account of the mountainous regions, have much of the spirit of the Swiss patriots. They are very industrious and the women work in the field with the men in harvest times.

It was less than one hundred years ago—in 1817—that Serbia was freed from the yoke of Turkey and became an independent nation. It has passed through storm times since then, but through it all this love of country has manifested itself among the natives.

Those best acquainted with Balkan affairs declare the Serbians are the highest type of the races there and that though the Serbian armies have been driven from out its borders the nation will never lose its identity.

AGED AND INFANTS OF FRANCE IN NEED.

WOMEN FROM WAR ZONE HERE TO SEEK AID.

Pitiable Condition of Those too Young and too Old to Fight—Resources of Country Rapidly Being Exhausted, with the German Army in Control of Productive Districts.

That all industry in France is paralyzed and conditions among the workers in the rural districts are but little better than in the slums of the cities, was stated last night by Miss Florence M. Schofield of Paris, who arrived at the Alexandria, accompanied by Miss Ellinor Fell of London. Equipped with scores of letters from prominent officials of France and England, they have been conducting a campaign for funds for the French war orphans.

"The old and infirm are unable to operate the industrial machinery of France with any degree of success," said Miss Schofield. "All the rich mining districts and the fields from which the raw products come are held by the Germans, and, in those parts where the Germans have not yet obtained a foothold, there are no men to till the ground or raise food for the old people. France's plight is indeed pitiable. The government has exhausted its finances and the small pension of 10 cents a day allowed the war orphans is pitifully inadequate, although it is fast becoming a burden on the nation."

Miss Schofield and Miss Fells are organizing campaign forces in the larger cities to canvass for funds. A donation of $36.50 per year will provide food and clothing for a child for that time, when added to the similar allowance made by the French government, according to the campaigners. San Francisco is campaigning for enough to care for 10,000 children. Philadelphia and Chicago have already nearly reached that goal, and Boston has passed the 10,000 mark, and is planning an additional campaign, they say.

Each of the visitors has had interesting experiences at the war front. Miss Schofield, as a nurse in the hospitals in France, and Miss Fell, during aerial raids on London. Miss Fell is the sister of Brig.-Gen. Robert Fell, who was recently decorated and awarded the degree of Commander of the Bath for meritorious conduct in Flanders, where he was severely wounded. Another brother, Col. Matthew Fell, Royal Army Medical Corps, is fighting with the English troops in France.

In all, Miss Fell has five brothers engaged in the war. The other three are Thomas Fell, too old to enlist in the regulars, but went as a stretcher bearer to the Dardanelles; William Fell, also past the enlistment age, who found service with the French army as an orderly, and Bryan Fell, a clerk in the House of Commons, who has charge of a search-light detail in London.

What to Eat.

PURE-FOOD SHOW OPENS THIS WEEK.

EXPOSITION IS TO CONTINUE TILL FIRST OF APRIL.

More than One Thousand Provision Men of Southern California Wholesale Grocers' Association Directly Interested—Special Features for Each Day and Evening.

The third annual Pure Food Exposition, under the auspices of the Southern California Retail Grocers' Association, will open next Wednesday forenoon at No. 239 South Broadway. Neal P. Olson, secretary of the association, is the manager. The exposition will continue until the close of April 1.

More than 1000 grocers of Southern California, who are members of this association, are directly interested in the exposition. Its object is to place clearly before the public, quality standard staples and home products. There will be more than 125 separate exhibits and it will be the largest show of its kind ever held in the West.

The doors will be opened at 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon and close at 10:30 o'clock at night during the entire exposition.

Many special features have been arranged. There will be cooking classes every afternoon and evening. A baby contest will take place on Thursday afternoon and several hundred silver cups will be given to pure food babies. More than 350 babies will be entered in this contest. Concerts will be given every afternoon and evening, and there will be special programmes every day in honor of various industries represented, and special days for fraternities and other organizations.

The formal opening will be preceded by an inspection of exhibits by the officers of the association. The evening programme on Wednesday will be in charge of Mr. Olson and there will be addresses by Mayor Sebastian and Jules V. Riviere, president of the association.

Wild Animals and Some not so Wild.

When the four-ring circus comes to town.

At the top are Joko and Toodles getting the money. Theirs is among the clever animal acts of the Al G. Barnes circus, which will be here next Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Below is the troupe of bears, dogs, lions and tigers working together.

At the Circus.

WILD ANIMALS EXHIBIT TALENTS AS PERFORMERS.

UNUSUAL feats of animal training permeate every part of the programme given by the Al G. Barnes big, four-ring, wild animal circus. While the large, wild animal acts probably attract the most notice, there are others of a quiet, dignified character which are well worth giving the closest attention. The circus will be in Los Angeles next Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

A company of monkeys in a buggy-riding scene is cleverly done. Their carriage breaks down—a wheel comes off. The monkeys make the repairs and resume their journey.

Spunk, a miniature Shetland pony, gets into a regular bed, pulls the covers over his body, places his head on the pillow and goes to sleep.

A troupe of fifty dogs do many interesting thing. They are acrobats, riders, tumblers and comedians. In high diving and jumping they hold the world's record.

Twenty Rocky Mountain goats give an exhibition of climbing and dexterous foot work. Riding galloping horses is a part of their act.

Beautiful midget Shetland and Arabian ponies dance and gallop through a maze of brilliant military drills and dances. Many of the world's prize-winning ponies are among the lot.

Proud, prancing high school horses display their education in exhibitions of fancy posing, dancing and marching. Bob Chocolate, the tango dancing stallion, is the star of the class.

Denver, Romeo, Cuba and Marcus, Arabian stallions, said to be the most beautiful and best educated ponies known, have a prominent part on the programme. These ponies have been presented in their act in all parts of the world—they are the very great stars of ponydom.

A quartette of mules, Maud, Danger, Dynamite and Mileaminit, appear in some of the most comical stunts imaginable. A dollar per minute is paid to anyone who can ride Dynamite.

The Barnes animal-acting troupe consists of over 1000 members, presenting sixty-five big acts and features.

Performances are given at 2 and 8 p.m. and the new-feature, mile-long parade at 10:30. Doors open 1 and 7 p.m. The show grounds will be at Praeger Park.

For Little Folks.

NOTABLE EXHIBITS AT THE BABY SHOW.

CLOSING DAY OF EXPOSITION FOR CHILD WELFARE.

Demonstrations of Work of King's Daughters Day Nursery and the Maternity Cottage Prove of Deep Interest to Many—Their Efficient Labors are Set Forth.

Yesterday was the closing day of the Baby Show at No. 239 South Broadway and it was a big day. Club women of Los Angeles discussed plans for better babies, and the slogan of the day was, "Better Babies for Los Angeles."

Mrs. E. K. Foster of the Friday Morning Club delivered an address upon "Growth and Development of the Child." Mrs. Katherine N. Rail poke on "Mental Training."

The King's Daughter Day nursery had an extensive exhibit at the Baby Show, through which the methods employed in the care of children, the means by which the homes of people who wish to adopt children of the institution are investigated, and many other features were explained in detail.

This organization is the oldest day nursery on the Pacific Coast, as it was established April 15, 1895. The present quarters, at No. 132 North Clarence street, are large and sunny. They include a big outdoor playground and other features calculated to aid the development of the little ones in its care. The children are cared for from the time they enter the home until they are placed in private families. The nursery is supported by volunteer subscriptions. The institution is nonsectarian and has no racial distinctions. During the summer months the children are all taken to the large cottage of the institution at Manhattan Beach, where they remain during the summer vacation. Among the valuable branches of this organization is a mothers' free employment bureau.

The maternity cottage exhibit at the show attracted considerable attention because of its comprehensive nature. At present there are fifteen babies in the quarters of the institution at No. 127 South Utah street. This day-and-night nursery is one of the finest nurrseries in the city. Its home is large and commodious and it has a large and competent staff of nurses. Its laws are such that emergencies of many kinds may be met. A widowed or deserted mother, or a father and mother who are unable to support their child, may leave the child at the home until it becomes 2 years old, after which time it is considered a public charge, and may be adopted by a private family if it remains unclaimed. If the parents can aid the child by the payment of small sums they are accepted, but if not the child is as welcome as any other.

NOBLES AWAIT HIGH OFFICERS.

Prepare Festivities in Honor of Imperial Potentate.

Council Journeying Here for Spring Ceremonial.

Al Malaikah Shrine to Spread Mysterious Feast.

"Out where the West is in the making,
Where fewer hearts with despair are breaking,
Where there's more of giving and less of taking—
That's where the World begins.
Where there's more of singing and less of sighing,
Where there's more of laughing and less of crying,
Where a man makes friends without half trying—
That's where the West begins."
—[From Al Malaikah's ceremonial book.

There will prevail gay humor and much honor, not a little grateful to Al Malaikah Nobles at the Spring Ceremonial, on the evening of March 18 at Shrine Auditorium.

Much feasting and pleasant surprises that will etch in memory deeply.

Al Malaikah Temple will be honored by an official visitation by North America's Imperial Council and J. Putnam Stevens, Imperial Potentate, Ancient Arabic Order Nobles of the Mystic Shrine.

Many festivals and rejoicings, which no tongue now ventureth to mention, are to occur after the arrival of the stately caravan over the Santa Fe trail, Friday evening, March 17.

Five score candidates await the hour of their pleasures.

The Imperial visitors and their consorts will revel in exquisite delights through rounds of trystings and gay suppings at liquors never before touched by Imperial lips.

W. O. Washburn of St. Paul is in charge of the Imperial chariot.

Arrangements are being made for a moving-picture film of the august host at Universal City.

F. B. Silverwood, Potentate of Al Malaikah Temple, left for Chicago Wednesday evening to escort his guests to Al Malaikah's sun-bathed oasis.

The illustrious members of the Imperial Council are:

IN FULL REGALIA.

"In respect to the distinguished guests all Nobles of Al Malaikah will attend the ceremonial in regulation Shrine attire—full dress and fez. If impossible, come anyway,' says our Potentate.

"After a visit to Oakland, the Imperial Potentate, J. Putnam Stevens, intends to bestow a visitation to Aloha Temple, Honolulu, and many of Al Malaikah's Nobles will attend the Imperial party."

J. Putnam Stevens,
Imperial Potentate of the Shriners, who will pay an official visit to Al Malaikah Temple of this city at the spring ceremonial next Saturday.

On the trek westward the party will stop in the Oasis of Kansas City and honor Ararat Temple's ceremonial.

Wednesday El Maida Temple, El Paso, is to royally receive the distinguished Nobles.

At Phoenix, the Imperial Council and Imperial Potentate Stevens, pay an official visitation to El Zarebah Temple's ceremonial actually out on the desert.

The stately caravan leaves Los Angeles Monday night on the second section of the Lark, from a farewell banquet in the afternoon at the hospitable hands of Al Malaikah's Potentate. Many of the local Nobles will accompany the Imperial visitors to Oakland.

LINING UP NATION FOR ORANGE DAY.

CELEBRATION IN EVERY HOME, OBJECT OF WORK.

Enormous Publicity Secured Through the Trade and Magazines and Newspapers Stirs Interest in the Golden Fruit and its Big Day, Next Saturday.

The California Fruit Growers Exchange, through its advertising department in Chicago, has undertaken no less task than that of acquainting every family in this country with the fact that the 18th inst. is Orange Day. Special advertising—hundreds of full-pages of it—will be used this week. Thousands of circulars mailed to the jobbing and retailing trade throughout the country have heralded "A real orange celebration on March 18th," and suggested practical methods for conducting sales, arranging attractive displays of oranges and stimulating an increased demand for the king of citrus fruits.

The inside cover of the Saturday Evening Post, which appears on the stands on the 16th, has been secured for a full color-page announcement of Orange Day, in which prominence will be given to three reasons "Why Orange Day is the day to buy oranges." This medium alone reaches 2,000,000 homes. A full page featuring Orange Day will appear in 360 newspapers the 17th and be seen by many millions more.

No less than 1800 retailers have already agreed to advertise and feature oranges on this day and hundreds more will run special ads through the solicitation of the 360 newspapers now enlisted in the publicity work. Through its seventy offices and staff of dealer service men the Exchange has placed over 50,000 pieces of window display material with the retail fruit trade.

Large orange stickers announcing Orange Day will be posted on 40,000 orange boxes as they leave the auctions in Boston, New York and Philadelphia, and an additional 200,000 will be circulated through the mails and other channels. The circulars outlining Orange Day plans have been mailed to 100,000 fruit retailers and 2500 jobbers, and special letters have been addressed to all prominent fruit interests.

It is estimated that 175,000 of the new orange juice extractors will have been distributed before Orange Day, and, in connection with this "drink an orange" campaign, display cards are being circulated and personal work done with the drug stores, soda fountains and restaurants where this beverage may be served.

Hundreds of orange recipe booklets are being distributed and hotels, railroads and cafes throughout the country have been asked to feature oranges on their Orange Day menus.

The mayors of the large cities throughout the country where the Exchange agencies are located are being solicited to issue proclamations regarding Orange Day, and already the press has announced these in several of the largest cities.

SMUGGLERS ACTIVE.

Federal Authorities Take Extra Precautions Against Outlaw Trade.

Recent activities of an alleged local smuggling ring have been such that the Federal authorities have taken additional and new steps to locate the contraband.

Two employees in the office of the collector of customs have been detailed to the special duty. The greatest secrecy is maintained as to the identity of these men. It will be their duty to take up instantly "pointers" furnished by the office and the special agents of the Treasury Department.

In spite of the efforts of the departments, there is steady increase in the illicit trade. Arrests are of almost daily occurrence, and the Federal courts are now handing out penitentiary sentences to those who plead guilty or are convicted, but even that does not curb the traffic.

Under the new arrangement these men will be placed instantly on the trail, when it is known that some of the smuggling talent is coming north from the Mexican boundary line. This city is honeycombed with places where opium can be successfully disposed of, and unless officers are early on the scent, the chances are that future operations, that in some cases are not begun for days afterward, amount to nothing.

Warning Note.

it. Paying as they do, taxes for protection, the people of this nation should demand that, if necessary, the armed forces of the United States take a hand in securing this protection. We should have intervened in Mexico long ago.

"If the de facto government there cannot or will not protect law-abiding citizens of the United States in Mexico, or does not speedily bring to justice murdering bands that ravage and pillage in our territory and then flee for a refuge back across the boundary, the United States would not be doing its duty if it failed to cross the line and take necessary measures to see that there be no recurrence of these acts."

HEALTH IMPROVED.

Because of his ill health which confined him to his New York residence for almost six months, Mr. Huntington says he has left a large amount of the active control of his enormous interests in other hands. Dr. L. C. Williams, the New York specialist who attended him during his serious illness in New York last autumn, accompanied him on the westward journey and is retained to look after his health here. Dr. Williams says Mr. Huntington is in the best health he has been for some time and he expects that California will work wonders for him.

The Huntington party was met at Riverside by Mr. and Mrs. Howard Huntington early yesterday morning and arrived at Lamanda Park at about 9:30 o'clock in the private cars San Marino II and the Guadalupe. Mrs. Huntington, who has been in the East with her husband, has enjoyed good health, but because of Mr. Huntington's illness curtailed her social activities to a great extent. Mr. and Mrs. Huntington say they have no plans for the immediate future and will remain at the Huntington residence indefinitely.

PRIVATE DETECTIVES PUT TO WORK ON FREESE PUZZLE.

Wealthy Alhambra Man Provides Funds for Furthering Discovery of Assailant Who Fatally Wounded His German Gardener—Funeral is Postponed Pending Investigations.

When city and county sleuths began to show signs of discouragement yesterday in their search for the assailant of Christopher Freese, a German gardener who died from a mysterious wound at the home of George C. Fetterman in Alhambra, several private detectives were added to the corps of investigators. If the guilty one is found, as is the earnest desire of the Fettermans, it will be as a result of patience and perseverance on the part of the officers, backed by the influence and money of the wealthy real estate dealer.

Information gained by the officers yesterday indicated that the German was attacked in a motor car in Los Angeles. An associate of the Prussian veteran was found in Alhambra who was able to give this much information. But the number of the car or other details have not been obtained.

The officers have visited all of the known haunts of the gardener in Los Angeles and Alhambra and they have talked with all persons known to be his friends. The little information concerning his injury which the German gave to various persons has been pieced together by the investigators. The sum total of the information gathered from all sources is small in the aggregate.

Utter & Allen, Alhambra undertakers who have the body, inquired of Coroner Hartwell yesterday for further instructions, and were told to delay the funeral a while longer in the hope that the investigation may yet yield definite results. The Fettermans are insistent that the search be vigorously continued.

FIGHT "STRAW BONDS."

Warrant for Former Constable Charged with Pledging as Surety Property not His Own—Crusade Against Professional Bondsmen.

William McLaflin, at one time a deputy constable, is being sought by former associates on a charge of perjury. The complaint alleging this crime was issued yesterday morning by Deputy District-Attorney Powell, and results from the determined effort being made by the District Attorney, judges and other county officials to eradicate "straw bondsmen."

At the same time the complaint was issued G. W. Gilbreth, a local contractor recently arrested for alleged embezzlement of funds from the company bearing his name, was called into court on a bench warrant issued by Justice Forbes and notified that the bond furnished by McLaflin would not be sufficient.

In going on the bond of Gilbreth McLaflin is alleged to have perjured himself by declaring he owned certain pieces of property. Investigation by the District Attorney's office is said to have revealed that this property was not in McLaflin's name.

It was intimated yesterday that this is only the forerunner of several other similar complaints which may involve men prominent in local business affairs. The crusade against "straw bondsmen" has been under way for several weeks, and the warrant for McLaflin is the third that has been issued. Up to a late hour yesterday he had not been located.

WANTS MOTHER FOUND.

Woman with Whom Strange Child Was Left Notifies Police.

The police were requested yesterday afternoon to search for the mother of a pretty, blue-eyed, 2-year-old boy who was left in the care of Mrs. Anna Higgins of No. 910 Court street last October. At that time a well-dressed young woman left the child with Mrs. Higgins with the understanding its board was to be paid.

Months passed and neither money nor word was received from the strange woman, who said she was "Mrs. S. Smith."

"When she left the baby she wept a little and appeared loath to go," said Mrs. Higgins yesterday. "I later discovered she had tried to leave the boy with other families in the neighborhood, giving her name at that time as Mrs. Krebs."

HIGH SCHOOL BOY WINS.

Takes Prize for Dress-Up-Week Poster in Keen Competition.

John Oshanna, a pupil of Manual Arts High School, yesterday was awarded the $25 prize for the creation of a poster for Dress-Up Week. The award was made by Mayor Sebastian, art editors of the daily papers, the Dress-Up Publicity Committee and M. C. Adler, chairman of the association. There was keen competition for the prize and honor, by professional and amateur artists.

The posters will be displayed throughout the city this week. It will be eighteen inches by fourteen in dimensions, printed in a rich, springy, dark-green on cream stock.

The aid of various organizations of the city has been solicited in the campaign for "clothes-consciousness." At the Monday luncheon the following organizations have been invited to listen to the campaign's outline, make suggestions and offer support: The Chamber of Commerce, Advertising Club, Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association, Cirgonian Club, Parent Teachers' Association, Retail Dry Goods Association, Jovian Electric League, Rotary Club, Associated Credit Men and merchants not directly interested in the movement.

The Automobile Trade Association, Philadelphia, is vigorously contesting the proposed plans of the police department, to drive parked cars from the city streets.

DIES ON THE CURB.

Alexander Blake, 55 years old, No. 3423½ South Vermont avenue, was riding home on the rear of a delivery wagon driven by George Ryan yesterday afternoon. As the wagon rattled across Grand avenue at Jefferson street Mr. Blake called to the driver to stop. Getting down, he staggered to the curbing and sat down. When Mr. Ryan hurried to see what the matter was he discovered Mr. Blake had died of heart failure. The body was taken to Bresee mortuary.

WAR MAKES 'EM HUNT UP JOBS.

Even Peace will Bring Palmy Days no More to Many.

Their Incomes Cut off, Poor Remittance Men Work.

Austrian "Pickle King's" Son Driving Livery Auto.

Pity the poor remittance man. He has had to hunt a job.

From heights of plenty and a life of ease the war has plunged him into want or, perhaps worse, has forced him to work if he expects to eat. So the horrors of the European conflict have been pressed home in Los Angeles, which is among the world's major refuges for European income-owners who prefer other places to "home." The strain has been felt in very many pockets, at fashionable hotels, at the cafes and bathing beaches.

The reason for all the trouble is two-fold—actual wiping out of incomes, and an embargo on sending of more than limited sums of real money from belligerent countries. Wherever the remittance man is today, in America, the Orient, the Antipodes, his plight is the same. If he is one of the many who have always worked faithfully at professions or trades, he views the situation at least with calm. If he be one of the many others who have worked at nothing but spending the remittances, he is a sad man, indeed.

INCOMES CEASE.

"Judge" Griffith Jones of the Sunrise Court, himself a remittance man, son of an emininent British jurist, yesterday received notice that his income from England has ceased and the further disquieting news that sending money out of that country under certain conditions is prohibited.

In handling the cases of hundreds of men in Sunrise Court, "Judge" Jones has on a number of recent occasions discovered prisoners were remittance men, "down and out" because of the tie-up of money due to the war and seeking a night's lodging in the City Jail until something should "turn up."

Many of these Los Angeles remittance men, who are for the most part persons of superior education, have had no difficulty in securing employment. One youth who is a son of the "Pickle King of Austria-Hungary," purchased a $5000 automobile with a part of his last remittance. Then came news that further payments had been withheld, pending the outcome of the war. Unable to secure employment and having saved nothing but the car, he went into the livery business and the once conspicuous figure of Los Angeles and Pasadena society is now hauling passengers on Broadway in the best car of its kind in [illegible].

Several men with families of position "at home" have been reduced to breaking rocks on county roads. One is a prisoner in the County Jail because he thought he could still sign his name to a check, although his funds were long ago depleted, and others are clerking in fashionable [illegible], giving music or dancing lessons or eking out a living in one way or another.

PERMANENT LOSSES.

Los Angeles and its environs have more remittance men to the square mile than any other spot in the world. Many are known where the white lights shine and for a few weeks after the remittance arrived, have been much sought after by cafe [illegible]. Then when the funds grew low, they retired and lived a frugal life until next remittance day. For some of them remittance day will never come again. To the ears of their friends the story of want has been whispered. A factory blown up, a vineyard ruined or a village destroyed by invading troops and gone is the remittance man's life of ease.

Then there is the personal equation. While other young men are going to the war, many of the remittance men have failed to indicate a desire to fight for king and country. It is believed these will receive scant consideration in the days of reconstruction. Other remittance men on the first call left for home and the war. Some were rejected and returned to America.

NOT ALL HIT.

There are, indeed, some whose families have been enriched by heavy sales for certain commodities in the war zone, and these are only temporarily embarrassed by present conditions.

The poverty of the remittance men has been felt at the leading hotels, in the cafes and at the bathing beaches and other refuges where money was once freely spent.

The term "remittance man" came into disrepute years ago when the European pensioner of fiction was generally pictured as a ne'er-do-well, [illegible] from home for his country's good or because he had brought disgrace on the family. However, the [illegible] remittance men form but a small part of the army of Europeans who have received incomes from their home countries. Many students, professional men and workers of every kind are entitled to monthly sums from "back home," their just proportion of estates that may be too small to support them or else, are left behind because the income-owners prefer other parts of the world to "home."

Gave Her Fair Warning.

[Chicago Journal:] A physician tells this story of a bright boy, his son, who had reached the mature age of [illegible], after an early career marked by many wild and mischievous pranks: His restless nature had made him something of a torment to his teacher [illegible], and one afternoon not long ago she kept him after the others were dismissed and had a serious talk with him. Perhaps she was a little [illegible] that her admonitions were falling on stony ground. Anyway, she finally said:

"I certainly will have to ask your father to come to see me."

"Don't you do it," said the boy.

The teacher thought she had made an impression.

"Yes," she repeated, "I must send for your father."

"You better not," said the boy.

"Why not?" inquired the teacher.

"'Cause he charges $2 a visit," said [illegible].

Two Points of View.

[Philadelphia Public Ledger:] Mrs. [illegible]: Mrs. Stringer is the most [illegible] woman of my acquaintance. [illegible] she frankly admitted that her [illegible] not as smart as ours.

[illegible]: Candid, fiddlesticks! That [illegible] a base hypocrite!

You can own a Farm in the rich Palo Verde Valley -easy terms

LOOK over California from the North clear to the South, and investigate it as you will—but don't buy until you see the Palo Verde Valley, for if you do you will be disappointed. This great green garden—this "Valley of the American Nile"—with its constant growing season of 365 days in the year, its rich river-silt soil averaging 20 to 80 feet in depth, its wonderful system of gravity irrigation canals and ditches, offers advantages to the farmer so great as to be hard of realization without a personal inspection. In spite of all this, and that the new railroad is fast nearing completion, you can now buy splendid farm lands at $100 an acre with water—all the water you can use.

We want you to see this land and invite you to come and let us give you the fullest details—the plain, simple facts. Easy terms, if you want them.

OUR repeated statement that Goodyear users far outnumber the users of any other single brand is confirmed by the overwhelming Goodyear preference revealed in the tire census of seventy-one leading cities.

These figures show more than twenty-one per cent of the tires used in these cities to be Goodyear; and they may be accepted as indicative of the Goodyear standing in the country at large.

The basis for this emphatic public preference cannot be price; for dozens of tires sell for less than Goodyear.

It is found in Goodyear quality and in Goodyear features of construction, which make Goodyear Tires last longer, go farther and so cost less in the end.

SEES PERIL IN STEPHENS BILL.

Publisher Scores the "Price Maintenance" Measure.

Tells City Club it Would Aid a Few Manufacturers.

At Expense of Business from Factory to Consumer.

Scoring the Stephens "price maintenance" bill as an attempt to injure business generally from factory to consumer at the expense of a few manufacturers, Jason Rogers, publisher of the New York Globe and member of the Executive Committee of the National Trade Association, addressed the City Club yesterday. The bill in question, Mr. Rogers explained, is fathered by Congressman Stephens of Kansas.

"This bill is an extreme example of some of the pernicious measures that are introduced in Congress and sometimes passed without warning being given the men in the various lines of business which they injure," said Mr. Rogers. "It is for the purpose of defense against such legislation that the National Trade Association is organized and we propose to establish headquarters in Washington, with a paid secretary in charge, who will see that business men are allowed an opportunity to appear before proper committees before such legislation is passed."

In citing the Stephens bill as an example of unjust and foolish legislation, Mr. Rogers said:

"This bill is without doubt one of the boldest attempts recorded in which a small group of misinformed business men seek to obtain special legislation to legalize practices which the courts have uniformly decided are bad business policy. Unlike almost all recent Federal legislation, which has been aimed to protect the consumer and the public from the exactions of business combinations, this measure seeks to legalize higher prices for commodities than are now paid, and, if enacted into law, would add greatly to the already high cost of living.

"If the government is to give the manufacturer the right to regulate the profits of the retailer and wholesaler, it should also regulate the profits of the manufacturer. If the government is to protect price maintenance it should insist upon the fairness of the price demanded. Otherwise, demands for cost investigations will be numerous and embarrassing.

"It is against all honorable practices to permit the manufacturer to change his prices at will, even after he has stocked up a dealer, while the dealer has no privileges in this regard whatever. Present laws permit contracts for the control of prices between two individuals and no new legislation is required to provide reasonable protection.

"The consumer must pay the price set upon an article by the manufacturer, regardless of the ability of one retailer over another, through superior merchandising or efficiency, to sell it to him for less money. This bill places the government in the position of compelling the consumer to pay any price which the manufacturer stipulates, regardless of the intrinsic value of the goods. It is nowhere provided that the government shall protect the consumer, as to the fairness of the price demanded by the manufacturer.

"This bill would increase the cost of living for the benefit of a few manufacturers who are afraid or unable to meet open and fair competition. The bill prohibits wholesalers and retailers from making any allowance or discount, rebate or commission, grant of any compensation or any other discount device whatsoever. There would be no differentiation between cash, credit or installment purchases to the consumer. It would prohibit the use of all inducements for trade stimulation or advertising.

"The proposed law provides rigid compulsion for the retailer while extending unlimited license to the manufacturer. The retailer is to be reduced to a mere automaton for the convenience of manufacturers who want to get the highest possible price for goods regardless of quality."

Mr. Rogers said he is an earnest advocate of newspaper advertising as the best selling force in the country, and he cited an instance to show that newspaper advertising, properly handled, is a sure return-getter for the investment. He said a New York newspaper, at a time when real estate was moving slowly, provided a test wherein $1800 was spent in advertising property on Staten Island that had been dormant for years. The result of the $1800 investment in newspaper advertising was the sale of $106,000 worth of lots in one week.

The City Club voted to increase the number of its directors from seven to fifteen and the question of amending the by-laws to provide that no subjects shall be presented for vote of the club until approved by the board of governors, was referred back to the club's special committee.

FIREMEN'S BAND BALL.

Event to be Given in Shrine Auditorium Friday Night is to Raise Funds to Purchase Instruments for New Organization. Will Have Fifty Players.

The firemen of Los Angeles have an ambition to create a highclass firemen's band. They have organized an association for this purpose, all of the companies of the department being interested, and have much available material in the way of embryo players. They have fully seventy members from which to select in organizing a band of fifty instruments. A. Frankenstein, member of the Fire Commission, and director of the Orpheum Orchestra, will be the leader.

For the purpose of raising funds with which to purchase the instruments, the firemen's band will give its first annual ball Friday night in Shrine Auditorium. Elaborate preparations are being made for this event and the firemen are now selling tickets. The dancing will begin at 9 o'clock and the grand march will start at 11 o'clock, led by city officials. An array of prizes has been secured to be awarded to best costumed characters. The prizes are on exhibition at the Holmes Music Company's store, No. 422 South Broadway.

The Executive Committee is headed by Chief Eley, and the Reception Committee by Mayor Sebastian and members of the Fire Commission.

COUNCIL CHARGES INCONSISTENCIES.

CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION IS ASKED TO EXPLAIN.

Members Want to Know Why the Board Denied the Mayor's Request and then Waived Residence Requirements When Examination is Called for Stenographers.

By unanimous vote yesterday the City Council requested the Civil Service Commission to explain why, after denying the Mayor's request that the residence requirements be waived in the examination for executive secretary to the Mayor, the commission has seen fit to waive all residence requirements in the call for an examination for male stenographers. Several members of the Council spoke on the subject, declaring that the action of the commission has been inconsistent, to say the least.

Councilman Topham read the Civil Service Commission bulletin issued Friday, announcing that the examination is open to all male citizens of the United States between the ages of 21 and 50 years, without regard to residence.

"Only a few days ago the Mayor wanted the commission to waive the residence qualifications in the examination for a private clerk. The position is one that should be filled by a person in whom the Mayor can rely absolutely, and he had excellent reasons for his request. The Civil Service Commission turned him down and now they call an examination for male stenographers and do what they refused to do for the Mayor. I saw Secretary Dee of the commission last night and he walked with me for two blocks trying to explain. He said it is impossible to get male stenographers in Los Angeles. I went to my office and called a number of places where stenographers are registered. One place had six or eight on the waiting list, another had ten or twelve, another fifteen or twenty. The ways of the Civil Service Commission are certainly past understanding. I asked Mr. Dee to be present this morning to explain the matter to the Council, but I don't see him here. I offer a motion that the Civil Service Commission be requested to explain its action in this matter."

The motion was seconded by Councilman Wright, who stated the circumstances of the Mayor's request which the commission denied. Councilman Wheeler called attention to the report that there are many applications for positions filed by male stenographers with the Municipal Employment Bureau. The resolution was supported by Councilmen Langdon and Roberts, who said they believed it is a virtue, though it may be wanting in many instances.

Later, in anticipation of the Council's request for information on the subject, the Civil Service Commission issued a statement which shows that since April, 1914, five examinations for stenographers have been held by the commission. A total of 215 women and eighty-two men have taken these examinations. The records of the commission show that in all of the examinations for stenographers held since August, 1912, 284 women and 101 men have been examined.

Councilman Wheeler obtained a report from the Municipal Employment Bureau showing that in the last few days the bureau has placed about fifteen male stenographers. Two have been placed at $100 a month, four at $75 a month and four at $70 a month. The positions which the city offers are four in number, at salaries ranging from $75 to $85 a month, and the bureau now has twenty-seven applications for positions filed by men stenographers.

ON TELEPHONES. INITIATIVE IS PROPOSED.

Representatives of the Federated Improvement Association, the Socialists, the Single Tax Association and the Retail Grocers' Association met yesterday and formed an organization to conduct a campaign for the purchase of the Pacific telephone system when the company's franchise expires next fall. C. H. V. Lewis was elected temporary chairman and George W. Graydon was elected secretary. The organization will meet Thursday night of this week to start preparation of an initiative petition to submit the question of a bond issue to cover the purchase of the telephone company's property. In the meantime, the Council will be asked to order condemnation proceedings before the State Railroad Commission and to provide for a bond vote at the charter election in June.

HIS DESTINATION. COUNCIL POINTS IT OUT.

At the suggestion of Councilman Wheeler the Council voted yesterday to require City Assessor Mallard to complete the purchase of $342 worth of maps and records prepared by the Joint Appraisal Bureau. The form of the resolution was that Mr. Mallard "be requested to read the Council's action and to act accordingly," but in presenting it Councilman Wheeler said:

"I understand the City Assessor is playing horse with the Council and, for childish and frivolous reasons, or lack of reasons, he says he does not understand what the appropriation was for. I think he ought to be told where to head in."

More Appointments.

William S. Baird, who was appointed a member of the Humane Animal Commission, declined yesterday to serve on the board, and Mayor Sebastian announced that he will appoint "Jack" Wilson to the place. The appointment of Mr. Wilson will likely go to the Council tomorrow. The Mayor will also appoint Mrs. Florence S. MacCormack a member of the Industrial Commission, succeeding Mrs. R. W. Richardson, resigned.

ARMED FOR DEFENSE.

Boy Goes a-Courting Carrying Gun Against Attack from Rivals.

An effort will be made to have dismissed the charge against Ira Bauer, 18 years of age, who was arrested for carrying a concealed weapon. The case will be heard in the Juvenile Court next Wednesday, before Judge Reeve. A plea will be made that the boy carried the gun for self-protection. Mr. Bauer, who lives at No. 1930 Michigan avenue, had been threatened several times, it is alleged, by the "Owl Gang" of Belvedere Township with injury because of his attentions to a young lady of the neighborhood, and carried the gun to prevent, if possible, injury to himself.

BENCH WARRANT FOR [illegible] OF KATHERINE CHASE.

Mother Suing for Divorce [illegible] Husband Forcibly Entered [illegible] in San Pedro and Carried [illegible] Daughter—Dispute Over Alimony Results in Sensational [illegible]

Judge Wood yesterday [illegible] bench warrant for Charles [illegible] who is accused in the affidavit of his wife, Bertha Chase, of forcibly [illegible] ing a house at San Pedro and taking away her daughter, Katherine [illegible] Chase, 6 years old, last Thursday night. The warrant was placed in the hands of Deputy Sheriff [illegible] for service.

Mrs. Chase is suing for [illegible] When the case was before Judge Wood recently, she charged that [illegible] Chase pretended to pay her alimony but that after he received the receipt, made out in advance, he did not give her the money.

Mr. Chase showed the receipt [illegible] the court as proof that he had paid the alimony. Later when it was shown by his pay envelope that he had not given his wife the money, he admitted he had not stated the facts. When the alleged abduction took place, Mrs. Chase was [illegible] at the home of C. W. Craig.

NOT LIABLE, ACTION TOO LATE.

The suit of the Spring Street Company against G. N. Floersheim and John G. Orth, tried recently [illegible] Judge McCormick, involving a stockholders' liability covering the [illegible] of a store at Ninth and Spring [illegible] resulted yesterday in the court [illegible] ing that the action was barred by the statute of limitations.

It was found from the [illegible] bearing on the question when the obligation of the lease was [illegible] that a stockholders' liability [illegible] not be enforced against either Mr. Orth or Mr. Floersheim.

RESOURCES. MEASURE OF ALIMONY.

Mrs. Jennie Billington wanted [illegible] increase in the allowance ordered by the court, but Judge Monroe yesterday indicated that unless Theodore Billington had more money than he clamed two years ago he would deny the motion. The matter will come before the court next Saturday for further consideration.

Mr. Billington is a retired [illegible] who formerly lived at Covina. He asked that the allowance be reduced, claiming that he had lost property worth $20,000. Mrs. Billington was granted separate maintenance two years ago, when both parties were denied a decree of divorce. Mr. Billington was ordered to pay her [illegible] month.

All Dressed Up.

By Eugene Brown.

"What's this I see in the papers to the effect that a careful dresser will change his [illegible] eight times a day?" queried I as I sat in the lobby with our eminent friend, [illegible] Hay. "You ought to be an authority on the subject. How do they do it [illegible]?"

"Twelve changes, I believe, are about the proper number in the average day of a [illegible] of busy leisure," remarked the visitor pleasantly.

"Holy smoke! How can it be done?" said I in amazement. "If I switched my [illegible] a dozen times a day I'd look like a pinwheel and I'd have writers' cramp in my [illegible] button thumb. Say! I know people of leisure who don't change their uniform [illegible] a week."

"I can't really imagine it," said the squire with a shudder. "Distressing, isn't it?"

"Yep; it's terrible. But the biggest half of the world is made up of two-suit men—[illegible] they have on and one in the police court. When they're having a button sewed [illegible] the fringe clipped they have to stay in bed. They never even wore pajamas and [illegible] lucky to have a cotton nightie when they climbed into the hay. I met one guy [illegible] who said he would never wear a union suit. He was a southerner, and had [illegible] of 'em in the Civil War. There are millions in Africa who never saw a silk vest [illegible] Greenland there are thousands who never wore a plug hat. Anyhow, clothes [illegible] to be mainly a matter of custom, environment, or fashion. It's the way you get [illegible] to it. Some folks can switch often and enjoy it, and others are so lazy they just [illegible] they moult. It is also a matter of season. As the poet says:

"In the spring the young man's fancy
Lightly turns to thoughts of clothes.
When he brushes up his pants he Dons a pair of purple hose.

"But I think if I had to shed my toggery a dozen times a day I'd be liable to miss a [illegible] and my cribbage game would get rusty. As it is if I show three suits in a [illegible] either think I get money for writing poetry, or else some innocent woman [illegible] under suspicion. How can you do it anyhow? How does it feel to be all garnished [illegible] a stuffed goat? Do you run your valeting in three shifts? Don't you sometimes [illegible] betwixt and between? I should think you would have to change twice in your [illegible] anyhow."

"Nothing like it at all, my dear man. It is all distressingly simple," explained the [illegible] Chesterton. "Possibly I rise at 8 o'clock—I'm an early riser, you know, and [illegible] get the air. After I put off my pajamas I jump into my gymnasium suit and take [illegible] for half an hour—pulleys, clubs, the medicine ball, and that sort of a thing, [illegible] you know. After that I take a shower and put on a lounging suit for breakfast. [illegible] then I will put on plaids and take a walk. If I am to lunch at the club I may [illegible] a short frock. In the early afternoon I may go shopping with Mrs. Hay and will [illegible] longer frock or a dark sack suit tightly buttoned. After this I motor, golf or go [illegible] riding and dress accordingly. Toward evening I may make a call or two [illegible] tea and a long black diagonal frock is good form. At dinner I usually wear a [illegible] jacket. After that I may don another street suit and go to the movies—I'm [illegible] you call a film fan, don't you know."

"So long as you are not a flim-flam it's all right," interrupted I jestingly.

"After that," continued the squire, "it's the opera, the cabaret or the ice rink, and [illegible] with the normal full dress, flowered satin vest and opera hat. I don't like to [illegible] dress suit, and if I am going to make an evening of it I dress accordingly."

"It would be awful, I suppose, if you or your valet got rattled and you should turn [illegible] links in your dinner jacket?"

"It would be distressing," admitted the distinguished Chesterton.

"Do you wear a different lid with each shedding?" queried I.

"What's that?" said the squire as if puzzled.

"Do you change your roof every time you switch your regalia?"

"I don't quite understand?"

"I mean," said I, in desperation, "do you put on another sky-piece, dome-shield, [illegible] cupola, belfry, dicer, helmet?"

"Oh," exclaimed Hay. "You mean a hat."

"Yes," said I disgustedly. "Some people call it that."

"[illegible], sir, —"

"[illegible]" said I.

Hay Dinner.

[illegible] Chesterton Hays entertained the following relatives at an informal family dinner [illegible] "Table de Hay" at the Hotel Hayward, on last Chews-d'hay evening—Old Fodder and his good wife, Mrs. Hay, nee High, who, though reported not in the best [illegible] during the rainy weather last week, has been taking sun baths and is now [illegible]; four sons, Balaam Oldy Hay, Oldfield O. Hay, Hall D. Hay, and Biglow [illegible] three daughters, Mrs. Ima Hay Stack, Mrs. Inda Hay Baylor and Mrs. Iona [illegible] whose husbands were unable to be present on account of pressing business, [illegible] daughters-in-law, Mrs. Vera Cutting Hay and Mrs. Williby Eaton Hay, both [illegible] With the aid of several young blades who grew up with Hay, and who [illegible] the evening proved to be anything but a tame affair.

S. M. GREENE.

The Poets' Corner.

REDLANDS (Cal.) Feb. 28.

To the Public: Sir, I wish to shed some light on this Hay that L. A. is going dippy over. I knew Hay, sir, during the Spanish War. I was top sargent of Co. H. It was called the Hay Co. Upon looking thru the role book I find quite a number of Hays in it. It will show up a guy that is living under an alias. Sir, I will read the names of the Hays on the role book.

Hay, Alfalfa.
Hay, Barley.
Hay, Clover (now Chesterton.)
Hay, Damaged.
Hay, Foxtail.
Hay, Good.
Hay, Loose.
Hay, Marsh.
Hay, Native.
Hay, Oat.
Hay, Pressed.
Hay, Rye.
Hay, Straw.
Hay, Timothy.
Hay, Wheat.
Hay, Young.

Some of the above have had dishonorable discharges from the army for good of service and others for other reasons. The only one I can remember now is C. Hay. Hay was the canteen sargent. He made near $135,820 by watering the beer and whisky before he was found out. Hay states, with pride, that he was in stocks. If it was me I would be ashamed. It was like this, sir, Hay was called before the C.O. for trying to grow a bit of hair on his lip while in service. Before the C.O. he brought his hand smartly to his head, with the thumb extended (not flat as the little book says) and he remainded in that position as the officer did not notice him. Some one outside gave the command, "Head and eyes, right!" Hay did the "head and eyes, right," without taking his hand from the position of salute. This brought his hand in front of his nose. Just then the C.O. looked up. Hay got ten days in the stocks. This is enough for Hay, sir.

Sir, you want a rippling rhyme about love? I don't know anything about love, sir, but I will take a chance on this:

L—For lovelight, so bright,
O—For ooings and cooings, they made.
V—For the vows they take.
E—Is eternal, they fight.

Sir, I had forgotten, one thing more about Hay:

There was a guy, named Hay,
Who lived in the East, they say.
But Old McBride,
Said they had lied,
For he came from Yucalpa way.

Sir, I expect there will be wild storms of protest from Yucalpa.

Sir, I am yours truly,

Still Coming, J. L. DERFUS.

Neither One Wasted.

I once knew a damsel named Grace,
Whose home was in Loce Onga-lais.
She padded and primped,
And her skirt-lengths she skimped;
And her stays were so tight
That her shape was a fright;
Yet it wasn't much worse than her face.

She met up with a gink they called Pete,
And together they pranced down the street.
His tight pants were cut short,
And his shoes were cut flat.
And his forehead was not half
As high as his hat.
So let 'em get married—
Why should we care for that?
Ish ka bibble! Neither one will be beat.

S. M. GREENE.

Just for Love.

There was a wild man from Hollywood,
Whose work reeked of murder and blood.
When the film was done,
He put up his gun,
And hike home to wifie, he would.

Try These on Your Trombone.

A pretty young maiden named Flora,
Who lives in the town of Glendora,
Declared with a gush,
"I think I will rush
Out and see the gorgeous aurora!"

The Happy Thought Club.

The Happy Thought Club has quite a waiting list, as might be expected from an organization made up largely of poets, and whose expansion is limited to one new member a week.

The blissful California landscape is thickly dotted with bards and bardines. Every bush shelters a magazine contributor and every bungalow a scenario writer. According to figures compiled by the bureau of animal industry, the population of poets here is 187 to the square mile—which is greater than the average of all mankind the country over. Poetry, poultry and politics are three of the lively industries of the Golden State. Verse making is taught in the schools, and there are kindergarten tots who have got as far as 'Ostler Joe. The consumption of fountain pens and malted milk is proportionately heavier here than at any other distributing point in America. It is not unusual to find youngsters whose heads and thumbs are alike calloused from the thinking and transcribing of great thoughts.

In this felicitous environment the Happy Thought Club could not fail to thrive. It was really founded by Percy Algernon Lamb, the pink-eyed singer of Pierian Spring. He was also known as Spring Lamb, because of his tender moods and passion for mint sauce. Although he is almost an albino, he loves to monkey with the great rhymesters. When he was 20 years old he fell passionately in love with a manicure artist and wrote the deathless lines of "Her Hand Met Mine." This poem first appeared in the columns of the Halcyon Hour and at once aroused ecstasy in literary circles. Artesia Waters, the famous critic, wrote of him: "A singer has indeed came." Four years ago Percival moved into our community to accept a position as night watchman at the stone quarry. One day while watching the crusher at work he remarked to the timekeeper: "Isn't this an awful grind?" The timekeeper turned. "Happy thought," said he with a smile. "I have them quite often," returned Percival with some pride. "Better have 'em framed," countered the other.

This gave Percival the great idea. He hastily assembled a few fellow-poets and formed the Happy Thought Club. The members met at occasional luncheon, and each contributed an original thought to the symposium. What was voted to be the better one was written on a slate and hung upon the wall. The author would be awarded a nut sundae. In case of a tie—which was frequently the case with every member voting for himself—the decision was left to the handsome waiter.

As time passed the club members adopted a constitution and elected officers. They had business sessions Saturday afternoons and were finally invited to use the poet's corner at the Times Building as a meeting place. Epictetus Tootles, the barber bard, was elected president, and Al Falfa secretary. Tootles is known as the barber bard, because most of his stuff is composed while wielding the razor. This accounts for its keen, cutting character. The secretary has the soul of a butterfly and the frame of a walrus. Besides being a gentle and tearful poet he is an eminent artist, having executed portraits of Chesterton Hay, Simon Legree, Lydia Pinkham and other eminent personages. He is also one of the few living artists who have done Rockefeller in oil. This was accomplished by his getting twelve gallons of gasoline without paying for it.

To be admitted to this sunny circle it is highly important that the candidate be an all-around bard and able to write verse with either hand. One should not only be familiar with the airy forms of the rondeau and the sonnet, but with the more stately and sonorous blank verse and blankety-blank verse. Each applicant is required to pass the examination, which includes the contribution of an original happy thought and the offering of an original poem of at least eight lines.

At the last meeting a committee composed of Harry Kipling Bowling, J. Wordsworth Foley and the secretary was appointed to pass upon the qualifications of Florence Goodfellow Dodgers, the passionate poetess of Pasadena.

She has contributed the following as her poetic offering to the club:

Heritage.

While Youth is mine give me the joys of youth,
Nor wait 'till Time has set a famished tooth
In the ripe vintage of my heritage.
I do not ask for power nor slothful ease,
Nor favors in high places—these
Are honors justly due to reverend age.
But while the hot blood races in my veins
Adventure give me so that I may feel
The pounding blood when swift my charger speeds—
The vibrant thrill when clashes steel on steel.
Then grant me Passion's flower for all my pains—
An ample guerdon for courageous deeds.
Tomorrows count naught if today redeems
The radiant promise of Youth's maddest dreams.

This was received with favor, and the barber poet was heard to remark that she must be a warm baby. "Sh-h!" whispered Constance Kidd. "She's only a good fellow-[illegible]"

The Pasadena poetess had not contributed her happy thought, however, and the committee decided to hold recognition in abeyance until that was received.

The secretary was instructed to receive designs or suggestions for a club button to be worn by members or conferred as an honor for especial excellence in aisles of poetic thought.

The first button will be awarded to the winner of the tournament for a poetic medley. This medley must be made up of at least eight lines, each taken from some well-known poems, and making rhyme and coherence as a whole.

All appreciations for membership, all contributions, designs and suggestions should be mailed to Al Falfa, Poets' Corner, Times Office.

Looking Ahead.

SEES AMERICA AS REBUILDER.

Thinks International Empire in Europe Possible.

Great Role Coming After War, Says Belgian Senator.

Predicts a Sharp Trade Clash if the Germans Win.

The people of the United States do not realize the important part this country will play in Europe at the end of the war, according to Hon. Henri La Fontaine, for twenty years a member of the Belgian Senate, a lawyer of worldwide repute, and one of the organizers of the Central Office of International Organizations, located in Brussels. Senator La Fontaine, who is in Los Angeles for a short visit, is staying at the Belmont Hotel.

Discussing the future of Belgium, he said, "Undoubtedly, if Germany wins in the present struggle, Belgium will be organized as a vassal state. The monetary and tax systems of Germany will be imposed and in all probability a member of the royal German family will be placed at the head of the Belgian government. Austria, the Balkan states, Poland, will be organized into a central empire, subservient to Germany. Germany will make an effort to secure control of all the European colonies in Africa, and a conflict between Germany and the United States for preponderance in South America and Asia will ensue. Germany, as the central power of Europe, would engage in a bitter contest with the United States for commercial supremacy. The autocracy of German militarism would rule Europe.

"It is impossible for the average person to consider what Germany has risked in this war. The conflict at present is a matter of balance. Whichever side has the most weight will win in the end.

THE OTHER SIDE.

pire in Europe than that of any other restored and again take her place among the progressive nations of the world.

"The United States is not aware of the important role which will be accorded her if the allies are victorious. The machinery of France, England and Germany is being operated at such high speed that it will wear out. It may disintegrate before the end of the war and it may not; it is a matter of how long the war shall last. When the machinery is gone the United States will have to replace it and also furnish materials for the rebuilding of Europe."

An international empire in Europe is one of the possibilities Senator La Fontaine sees in the future. Of it he said:

"The organization of the United States is nearer to requirements for the arranging of an international empire in Europe than that of any othcountry in the world. As a means of facilitating commercial relations, the monetary system of the United States may be taken as the basis of an international decimal system. At present millions of dollars are lost annually in the interchange of currency in the old world.

"The United States must make the first move in an effort to establish an international empire in Europe."

FOR DISARMAMENT.

There can be, in Senator La Fontaine's opinion, no permanent peace until there is disarmament, and this can come only, he says, through such reorganization of Europe along new lines, in which organization he believes this country would play by far the most important part.

Expanding the conception he said: "The United States would probably be the first meeting place of a great world-judiciary which might be aptly termed a Supreme Court. In the reorganization, the various nations would bring before this body all their affairs, for settlement. A nation which refused to comply with the terms of settlement would be completely shut off from the world. A blockade of her ports would be effected and she would virtually become a prisoner within her own borders."

Senator La Fontaine will leave next week for San Diego and go from there to Washington, D. C. He announced yesterday that his new book entitled, "The Great Solution," will appear at the end of this month. In this volume, Senator La Fontaine says, he has not advocated new ideas, but tried to co-ordinate those on world problems that have been advanced since the outbreak of the war.

TWO KINDS OF PROFESSORS.

Those Who are Noisy Sophists and Those with High Ideals.

[Rochester Post-Express:] A member of the professional staff of Columbia University reminds a New York newspaper that there are two kinds of professors. The world cannot do without professors, but it can dispense with the noisy sophist who makes illogical and extravagant statements for the sake of notoriety. The professor who in discussing the war cannot properly distinguish between good and evil, right and wrong, may mislead the thoughtless and the half educated. But there are many professors who are more interested in the special studies to which they devote their lives than in "ravening politics scorned by the wise" or in schemes for the overturning of the universe. A Jowett or a Mahaffy can do more for the enlightenment of posterity by showing what Greece did for civilization than any professorial advocate of socialism can do by writing books which are only crude attacks on wealth on the assumption that its possession is a crime.

The really great professors have ever preferred cloistral seclusion to a spurious and evanescent popularity. They live in high ideals, rather than in the manias of the hour. Their efforts offset the errors of those who, while incapable of adding to the knowledge or wisdom of mankind, console themselves for their lack of erudition by striving to win the applause of the unthinking.

Women Run Electric Cars.

[Boston Transcript:] Women train conductors have now appeared upon the electric cars of Leeds (England) Corporation Tramways. The first corps, composed of twenty young women, dressed in blue serge tunics and skirts with red facings and wearing uniform caps, has proved satisfactory, and it is stated that the number to be employed may reach 200. The rate of pay proposed is the same as that of the men, 5½d. (0.11) per hour, which for full time means 27s. 6d. ($6.65) per week.

MUSICAL

This Week.

ALDA IN RECITAL.

FRANK LA FORGE TO BE HEARD WITH NOTED PRIMA DONNA.

The caviar of the Boston opera season now being practically a thing of the past, the music-loving public will once again settle down to its customary but satisfying diet of the daily round of musical events, with an occasional banquet dish to lend variety and zest. In this latter category notable enjoyment is promised this week in the recital of Frances Alda, prima donna from the Metropolitan, assisted by Frank La Forge, the favorite pianist-composer. They will be heard twice, namely, Tuesday evening and Saturday afternoon at the Trinity Auditorium.

Mme. Alda paid Los Angeles a concert visit some three years ago and achieved distinct success with her fine lyric attainments. Her voice is of exceptional beauty and purity of tone, lending itself admirably to the requirements of the concert hall, while she brings with her from the operahouse something of that dramatic quality which pervades the stage.

A native of Australia, Alda attained her first great success in Belgium. Following this she sang at London and on the continent. Finally she came to America, where she has been a popular artist of the Metropolitan company.

Following are the programmes for the two concerts:

Tuesday evening: Nocturne, F Sharp Major (Chopin) and Etude de Concert (MacDowell,) by Mr. La Forge; "Je ne suis qu'une Bergere" (Philador,) "Amarylli" (Caccini,) "Nymphs and Shepherds" (Purcell) and "The Lass with the Delicate Air" (Arne,) by Mme. Alda; "Im Kahne" and "Dein Rath ist wohl gut" (Grieg,) "Les Papillons" (Chausson,) "Fantoches" (Debussy) and "Ouvre tes yeux bleus" (Massenet,) by Mme. Alda; Romance (La Forge) and "Etincelles" (Moszkowski,) by Mr. La Forge; "Morning Hymn" (Henschel,) "I Came with a Song" and "In Pride of May" (LaForge,) and "In quelle trine" and Minuetto from "Manon Lescaut" (Puccini,) by Mme. Alda.

Saturday matinee: Nocturne, D Flat Major and Prelude (Chopin,) by Mr. LaForge; "Lungi dal caro bene" (Secchi,) "M'ha presco alla sua ragna" (Paradies,) "My Lively Celia" (Munro) and "Pastorale" (Carey,) by Mme. Alda; "J'ai pleure en reve" and "A des ciseaux" (Hue,) "Tes Yeux" (Habey,) "Tausend Sterne" (Blech) and "Wir mir's weh thut" (Rachmaninoff,) by Mme. Alda; "Liebestraum" (Liszt) and "Gavotte" (LaForge,) by Mr. LaForge; "Retreat" and "Expectancy" (LaForge,) "My Heart" (Randagger,) "Vissi d'arte," from "Tosca," and "Un bel di," from "Madame Butterfly" (Puccini,) by Mme. Alda.

"Butterfly" Performance.

Starring Mme. Tamaki Miura, the Boston Opera Company will be seen in a farewell performance of "Madame Butterfly" this afternoon at the Mason. Mme. Miura has captured all her audiences with her realistic portrayal of the role of the little Japanese heroine.

Popular Programme.

The regular popular concert of the Symphony Orchestra, to be given next Saturday evening under Adolf Tandler's baton, promises even greater interest than the last delightful programme given a few weeks ago. Soloists are to be Mrs. Catherine Shank, lyric soprano, and Axel Simonsen, 'cellist. The orchestra will play, among other things, a composition by Morton F. Mason, local composer. The Prelude and Love Death from "Tristan and Isolde" and the Intermezzo from "Fairyland" will be among the numbers given.

Programme in English.

Edwin House, whose choir work has won him many admirers with the music-loving public, is to be heard in recital the 20th inst. at Blanchard Hall. The programme is to be given entirely in English, although Mr. House sings in several different languages. James Campbell will be accompanist. Numbers by Homer, Handel, Loewe, Messager, as well as the War Trilogy" by Gertrude Ross, will be presented.

Dramatic Singer.

An unusually interesting evening of German lieder is promised in the coming concert of Mae Helen Thorner at Trinity Auditorium the evening of the 21st inst. She is a singer of striking dramatic power, which is combined with rich lyrical potentialities, and has been heard with much favor on previous occasions in this city. Her programme will have a group of numbers in English and she will also give arias from "Madame Butterfly" and "Cavalleria Rusticana."

Musical Morning.

The second of the quite distinctive series of musical mornings being given under the direction of Henri La Bonte at the Alexandria Hotel will occur next Tuesday. Olga Steeb, whose art has won her more friends than ever during the past year, is to play piano selections. This is the first time in many months that Miss Steeb has been heard here. Mr. La Bonte, assisted by Will Garroway at the piano, will sing several groups, principally of French and English songs. The composers will include Martini, Claude Debussy, Henri Duparc ("Extase,") Poldowski, and Campbell-Tipton (four sea lyrics.) Miss Steeb will render the gavotte (Gluck-Brahms;) Rigaudon (Rameau;) "L'Hirondelle" (Daquin;) Caprice (Gluck-Saint Saens;) Prelude in A minor (Debussy;) "Claire de Lune" (Debussy;) "Sposalizio (Liszt;) "Rigoletto," paraphrase (Verdi-Liszt.)

Repertoire Recitals.

Miss Goetz will present the Frances Aldo and Florence Hinkel song programmes in two students' recitals, the one Tuesday at 11 a.m., and the other Friday at the same hour. She will be assisted in the rendition of the various song and piano numbers by Misses Grace James, Edith Davis and Grace Morgan. Franklin Newman will play the accompaniments. These programmes are designed especially for students of music who wish to learn something about the songs offered on the noted singers' programmes.

Original Offerings.

Frieda Peycke has been giving a series of her clever and original programmes recently before various clubs in Southern California, including two for the Glendora Woman's Club, one for the Story Tellers' League at San Diego, and another before the Valley Hunt Club at Pasadena. She has gained increasing popularity in this work.

Fifty-fourth Concert.

The First Congregational Church orchestra will give its fifty-fourth popular concert next Friday evening at the church auditorium. In the rendition of the programme the orchestra will be assisted by Mrs. Florence Mead Sparey, soprano. There will be special numbers for Miss Elenore Heller, Gilbert Green and E. C. Teague, members of the orchestra. William H. Mead will direct.

A feature of the programme will be the Largo from the Bach Concerto for two violins, Messrs. Green and Teague being the soloists. A concert selection from "I'Pagliacci," Spanish suite "La Feria," by Lacome, and other numbers will also be included. Mrs. Sparey will sing an aria from "Il Re Pastore," by Mozart, with violin obbligato by Miss Heller, the orchestra accompanying; "The Nightingale," scherzo for voice and flute, by Giardi, with Mr. Mead playing the instrument and Miss Guelph McQuinn at the organ, and also songs by Roy Lamont Smith and C. E. Pemberton.

Wagner Lecture Recitals.

A series of lecture recitals devoted to the Wagnerian operas is being given by Mrs. May MacDonald Hope before her class in musical history at her residence, No. 2004 South Union avenue. The subject last Friday afternoon was "Tristan and Isolde," and two weeks previous "Die Meistersinger von Nuremberg."

Pupils of Mrs. MacDonald Hope were heard in recital last Friday evening, the following taking part: Florence Karp, Margerie Botsford, Halesia Hoffmeister, Marcella Ringemann, Evelyn Ringemann, Wilma Botsford, Margery Stewart, Clement Stewart, Leonard Capelli, Roberta Lauman, Gail Cheverton, Gladys Bidwell, Mary McConnell.

At the Majestic.

Marie B. Tiffany, who has brought so much additional pleasure to audiences at the Majestic Theater by her songs during the past few weeks, is to close her engagement this evening. The recitals at the Majestic are to be continued, however. Mrs. Minnie Hance, one of the best-known contraltos of this city, is to be heard beginning Monday. She will sing a group of songs every afternoon at 3 o'clock and evening at 9.

Matinee Musical Club.

Youthful achievements of high quality marked the recital given by high schools of this city under the auspices of the Matinee Musical Club last Thursday afternoon at Blanchard Hall. The programme was of the creative character and showed very interesting talent on the part of the students in the field of composition. Students of Manual Arts, Polytechnic, Los Angeles and Lincoln high schools took part, chairman of the recitals being Mary Esta Groves.

Included in the programme were some unusually attractive orchestra and glee club numbers. Solos of very strong merit and of pleasing quality were presented by Alpha Sigfrid of Manual Arts, Ardis Olds and Josephine Heintz of Polytechnic and Mildred Aranz, assisted by Howard Martindale, 'cellist. The Manual Arts string quintette gave a tone poem by Thelma Robbins with the composer at the piano. Virginia Kelsey and Louis W. Curtis were the other high school musicians whose work was heard.

Addresses were made by F. W. Blanchard and Mrs. Gertrude B. Parsons.

The next programme of the Matinee Musical Club Thursday afternoon will be in the Celtic mood. Miss Mathilde Turrish and Miss Oley Morrison will convey the national spirit in their harp selections. There will be songs by Mrs. Fred Weed Poor, soprano, and a one-act comedy produced under the direction of Frank Egan.

Mrs. Bond at Beverly.

Carrie Jacobs Bond will present a programme of her own songs and stories this evening at the Beverly Hills Hotel, as follows: Old songs—Stories of My Old Man; half-minute songs, and children's songs; "Shep-

SURPRISE WEEK AT MAJESTIC.

Keystone Fun Makers to Appear in Person at Theater.

This is to be surprise week at the Majestic. Monday night, the daring Keystone star, Anna Luther, will appear in person, and Mack Sennett will provide her with about 1000 photographs of herself to hand out personally.

Tuesday night will be known as Keystone night. Every star of importance under contract with the Keystone company will take part in ten minutes of rip-roaring fun. This will give Keystone fans the opportunity of seeing all of their favorites in person, and of hearing their gentle voices calling for Mack Sennett to "start something."

Another surprise is announced for the latter part of the week, but the management just won't tell what it is.

CAPTURE EASTERNERS' FANCIES.

Ruth St. Denis and Ted Shawn Winning Many New Friends.

Ruth St. Denis and her husband, Ted Shawn, are making so great a success in their dance productions that they are to remain in the East until late in the season.

New York, Chicago and Boston have received Miss St. Denis's productions most appreciatively, and the dancer plans a longer tour for next year. According to her present plans she will spend next summer in Los Angeles preparing for the following winter's tour.

YOSEMITE CHARACTER.

David A. Curry, whose interesting talks and beautiful moving pictures of the Yosemite Valley and the high Sierras will be presented at the Little Theater beginning tomorrow afternoon, is one of the well-known characters in California, having been closely identified with the Yosemite Valley for twenty years. His pictures were taken last summer by a photographer, who made a trip of 600 miles around the rim of the valley and into the high Sierras. One of the most interesting reels shows the Yosemite in the winter. As Curry talks on the history of the valley and describes the many trips to be taken while the pictures are being shown, two hours of interesting entertainment is provided.

PEACE SKETCH TOUR.

The United Booking Office producing department in New York is said to be supervising the production of a peace propaganda sketch to be sent on tour. Fifteen important roles are included, besides which seventy-five supers will be employed.

WEEK OF FRIVOLITY.

LIGHTER MOODS PREDOMINATE ON LOCAL STAGE.

Frivolous folk will be delighted with this week's theater programmes. There isn't a highbrow offering at any of the houses. Dropping down a few thousand feet, musical comedy will take the place of grand opera. Several musical comedy tabloids are to be shown at the vaudeville houses, and the famous Bessie Clayton will remain, while those who enjoy the intricacies of "sleuth-footing" will find much pleasure in "The Argyle Case."

Morosco.

"The Argyle Case," by Harvey J. O'Higgins and Harriet Ford, the play in which Robert Hilliard starred for two seasons in New York and the East, will be presented for the first time in stock at the Morosco Theater this week, opening this afternoon. The play tells a thrilling and intricate detective story, and the authors collaborated with no less a person than William J. Burns. Dictagraphs and other instruments that have figured in the biggest cases of this country are used on the stage.

The cast is a very large one, and the full strength of the Morosco Company will appear in the play. James Gleason and Nan Carter, both well-known actors, are new members who will have leading roles. Edmund Lowe plays the Hillard role and Ida St. Leon has the leading feminine part. The piece will be staged with great carefulness of detail.

Mason.

"Bringing Up Father," a musical comedy produced by Gus Hill, and founded on the famous McManus cartoons, will be the offering at the Mason this week, beginning tomorrow night. The amusing features and incidents of the original are said to have been reproduced in the musical comedy.

The music is said to be catchy, and the company an adequate one, augmented by a beauty chorus.

Orpheum.

This week's Orpheum bill promises to be one of the best in some time. Brandon Hurst, a recruit from the legitimate, will head the new bill opening tomorrow, appearing in a playlet entitled "The Girl," by Edward Peple. The playlet is unique in that though a girl figures prominently, no girl really appears. The play is said to be beautifully staged.

Others will be Grace De Mar, a dainty comedienne well known in New York musical comedy and vaudeville, in songs and gowns; Billy Sharp and Tiny Turek, "chocolate" dandies; Sam Barton and his decrepit bicycle, and the holdovers, including Bessie Clayton, Tom Smith and Ralph Austin, Billy McDermott and Corelli and Gillette.

Pantages.

"The Office Girls," said to be a corking musical comedy tabloid, starring William Craig, Dixie Harris and Belle Montrose, will be the Pantages headliner for the week beginning tomorrow.

Others will be Ed Gallagher and Bob Carlin, in a nautical travesty, "Before the Mast;" Rucker and Winnifred, black and tan comedians; Boggy Harris and Harriet Nolan, pianists; Keagan and Ellsworth, in a flirtation comedy, and Bessie Harvey, singing equestrienne.

Hippodrome.

A regular old-fashioned vaudeville farce comedy and acrobatic show is promised at the Hip this week. With the exception of a serious one-act play entitled "Conscience," the bill is a comedy one from start to finish.

The headliner will be Jack Bornholdt in "Curse You, Jack Dalton," a farce in which motion pictures are used; Menetti and Sidelli, knockabout comedians; Blanche Colvin, comedienne; Nyman Meyer, pianist; Lilly Lenora & Co., continental dancers, and Cadieux, wire walker.

Republic.

The Helen Carlos Trio, skating artists, will headline the new Republic bill which opens tomorrow. They are said to be in a class by themselves, and to represent the skating craze which is sweeping the East.

Others on the bill will be Bulger's Barnyard Circus, in which chickens, pigs, sheep and dogs take part; Frank Shields, acrobatic lariat manipulator; the Whiting Duo, in a singing and dancing turn; the Musical Alexanders, in a melodic act; Gerard and West, in "A Breeze from Musical Comedy," and the photoplay, "The Final Curtain."

A WONDERFUL STAR.

The Giant Sun, Canopus, Just Above the Southern Horizon on These Clear March Evenings.

BY WILLIAM H. KNIGHT.

A VISION only vouchsafed to those residing in southern latitudes will be presented to the student of the skies for a few weeks. True, it is only a point of light, and remains such under the most powerful telescope, but when we learn some of the interesting facts regarding that brightest star of the southern hemisphere, known to the ancient world of the Orient as Canopus, our curiosity is stimulated and an ardent desire for accurate scientific facts is awakened.

Fifteen miles east of the Greek city of Alexandria, centuries before that city was founded, there once stood on the banks of the westermost mouth of the Nile a flourishing Greek seaport called Canopus, so named for the pilot of Menelaus of the Greek legend. Thus the ship Argo was placed in the heavens and its bright star named for the vessel's mythological master.

When Alexandria became a busy mart its wealthy merchants and cultured citizens made their homes in the suburban city of Canopus, which bore the same relation to the oriental metropolis that Newport does to New York, Evanston to Chicago and Pasadena to Los Angeles.

Considerable progress had been made in the study of astronomy, and important facts had been learned about the annual march of the constellations across the heavens, the paths pursued by the visible planets, and even the precession of the equinoxes had been discovered.

There were two stars that dominated those oriental skies—brilliant, fascinating, and the frequent themes of poetry, oratory and prose. They were our superb winter brilliant, Sirius, harbinger of the Nile floods which annually covered the valley with fertilizing silt, and that magnificent star in Argo Navis which had been called from time immemorial, Canopus.

What are the lates conclusions of scientific men regarding the distance, magnitude and physical condition of this giant sun? When the parallax of Alpha Centauri was ascertained, and that this bright southern star was found to be four and one-third light years away, and later, when the parallax of Sirius, the brightest star in the heavens, was measured, showing that it is eight and a half light years distant, it was hoped that the distance of the other bright stars could be similarly obtained. But further researches did not justify these hopes. Two faint stars, Sixty-one Cygni and Eta Herculis, were found to be somewhat nearer than Sirius, while the parallax of such bright stars as Rigel in Orion, Antares in the Scorpion, and notably Canopus, the chief brilliant of the southern hemisphere, utterly defied the most painstaking researches of astronomers.

Most conspicuous among these aloof brilliants is the giant sun Canopus. When a base line consisting of the diameter of the earth's orbit, 186,000,000 miles in length, fails to disclose

AMONG THE STORES AND ADMIDST THE SHOPS.

Along Our Dazzling Streets, where Dame Fashion's Shopping is Done.

BY OLIVE GRAY.

Now is the time to buy:

Rice, which it is predicted will go higher in the retail market, following an advance at wholesale. Not enough rice is eaten in the average household. As a food, rice has nearly all the required elements and few of the deleterious effects of potatoes and other substitutes.

Green peas, which are really most wholesome and which have gone down in price, bringing them within easy reach of even the largest family.

Eastern cheese will soon be plentiful in the market, it is predicted, large shipments having been sent in. This will be welcome news to the economical housewife, who uses a pungent cheese both as a condiment and in making many of the most palatable dishes for her table.

Practical Suggestion.

For the Lenten breakfast try codfish prepared thus: Shred fine, pieces from the whole cod and soak over night. To each one-fourth cup of fish add one-half cup of cream or white sauce, and a beaten egg. Fill individual ramikins with the mixture, having placed a bit of butter in each dish. Cook by placing the dishes in a pan of boiling water on top of the range. When firm, sprinkle on top of each a dash of pepper and a bit of chopped parsley. Serve with brown buttered toast, or schweibach.

Rug Restorer in Big Store.

When you visit the "great white way" of easing housework, that exhibition in progress in the basement store of that big store on lower Broadway, do not fail to pause before the booth where the man is revivifying rugs and carpets. Almost incredible is the way in which right before your eyes, the most soiled of these floor coverings are restored to pristine appearance. Just a few strokes with a brush and lo! the brilliance of the original colors has returned! The preparation, so easy to apply and so wondrous in results, is declared to have absolutely no injurious effects. In fact the man tells me that he has cleansed some of the most valuable collections of oriental rugs in the United States—collections which the owners were afraid to allow to have sent away from their homes, so valuable were they—and that the results were absolutely satisfactory. I well believe this, judging by what took place before my eyes. This marvelous cleanser is valuable, it is averred, for restoring garments to first favor, and for treatment of upholstery, as well as for floor coverings.

Not Those!

"What!" I exclaimed, "not those! You do not mean to tell me that those slippers will be in the sale on Monday?" I was looking at satin slippers with beaded toes and at strapped and beaded slippers quite dressy enough for wear upon any occasion and it seemed to me incredible that they should be offered for the price named for that sale. "Are you not afraid of inaugurating a precedent which none can follow?" I asked. "That is just what we mean to do—to inaugurate!" the man replied. You see it is that kind of a sale.

Horns and Hooks.

Yes, of course, you do usually associate hooks with horns, especially if the horns are bovine; but these are not. These are horns not for hooking and yet hooks which are for use with horns. If you cannot possibly guess my meaning, just pay a visit sometime during the week, to the shoe department of that store which is quite seven times as popular as are some other stores on Broadway, and you will discover my meaning. You will also become the proud owner of the aforesaid articles—in case you also become possessed of a pair of shoes or so. You may "need a shoe horn" to wedge into the place—for it is quite likely that many will be there before you.

Wide Sailors.

Not necessarily navigators are they, but sailors none the less and wide! wide! wide! Why the brims are actually as much as fourteen inches in width, upon some of these newest sailors! The straws from which they are made are of finest weave and the trimming is—well, almost nil. Some have puffed or plaited crepe underneath the wide expanse of brim, but on top there is usually but a single item and that something very novel in the way of hat trimming. A huge cabachon. In some instances a big pearly affair rimmed with jet. Again it may be a greenish "stone," toning with the hat's underbrimming. It may possibly make a pretense of holding the crown pinched downward toward the brim as though it were a mighty finger clutching the two; or it may simply terminate the hat band which is not there.

Name It!

Your pockerchief should, if it would be the latest of its kind, bear your signature in full. You should write the name and "they" will do the rest, for but a few cents per dozen, embroidering the letters exactly as you have traced them upon the linen. Distinction and individuality are thus lent to the possessions.

For the Floweret.

In one of the advertising offices, where girls—and very clever girls—abound, I have been interested in observing that there is always, somewhere and somehow, that delightful feminine touch which I have always believed women should take into business life. It may be in the shape of a bowl of violets set where it will gladden the eyes of all; or possibly a wee dish containing a single blossom, so placed that the incoming breeze from the window will waft a whiff of perfume to nostrils hungry for the out of doors. It is always something, and usually something different and interesting. As one nears that door one begins to wonder what the dainty touch will be today. And that reminds me of the tiny floweret holders which I saw in a little shop where so differents are the rule. These were slender glasses, such as would comfortably hold a single violet and its leaf, and they were implanted in either a curling leaflet of metal, or when intended to grace the card table, were implanted upon card emblems—an ace of hearts, or spades or clubs. I thought them clever for use in any spot where space was available for but a single flower.

Boxed and Chosen.

What a luxury it always seems to be able to purchase a box of silk stockings! It sounds so opulent, so queenly—one might say. "I buy my stockings by the box." Time was when only the very few could say this. And, in fact, few buy thus, even now; but next week, and in Los Angeles, and in that store which does things a la the French capital, you and I—and even she!—may purchase stockings by the box and pick out the kinds and colors to fill the box! And we may do all this for as little—yea, for less—than is usually paid for just buying stockings a single pair at a time.

Robes of Corduroy.

You may say: "Too late! The weather is becoming warm." But you do not know what I am talking about, so do not say "No" too soon. I refer to those robes of corduroy which are such a fad for use as house robes. They come in all the popular and dainty shades, and are just the thing for early mornings and for cool evenings when you are not quite ready to retire, but wish to lounge around to "talk it over" with your girl friend or to "run the cards of fortune" before turning in to dream. Those robes which you and I have been wanting ever since they became popular are to be had this week in that big store for—well for far less than we dared to hope earlier in the season when they first came out.

Told on Fashion's Fingers.

The long coat is as indispensable as the one-piece frock. It can be three-quarters, seven-eighths or full length.

Taffeta, silver cloth and metal lace will be largely used for evening frocks throughout the spring and summer.

Long coats made of light materials will be favored. They have somewhat the effect of a one-piece tailored dress.

Circular veils adapt themselves most accommodatingly to adjustment, especially being thrown over the crown of the hat.

Sometimes a fitted corsage with rippled shoulder capes and tiny peplum is worn with a flowered silk skirt with lace balayeuse.

Skirts will be trimmed with ruffles and flouncings, ruchings and petalings and many other kinds of trimmings not mentioned.

'Round the Shops.

Plain and novelty blouses in crepe and georgette, values $5.00, $6.00 and $7.00, are reduced for this week to $3.75 at the Tiny Waist Shop—704 So. Hill street.

Another exceptional offer for this week—Frilly new models, in georgette and crepe, for only $4.75. You simply should not miss this opportunity.

An opportunity like this does not come often. Mr. Nathanson, the Ladies' Tailor, at 504 W. 7th Street is offering, beginning Monday, special suits for $35.00. He has a splendid range of new fabrics. Something very nobby and new in a black and white check, a beautiful piece of goods too; and in the delicate shades, one, a light tan, almost a cream, with a faint suggestion of blue in a hair-line stripe. Another, a dressy grey with green lines. There are many who would appreciate the value of Mr. Nathanson's exceptional offer, and should take advantage of it.

For some splendid values in brilliant combs, and you know how popular they are just now, go to Weaver Jackson's, that up-to-date specialty store at 429 So. Broadway.

You will surely find there, something to suit your fancy in casque and side combs, barrettes and pins, in those pretty peacock shades or brilliants for 50 cents.

Call at 502 Laughlin building and try the White Cross De-Pila for removing superfluous hair. Guaranteed and harmless.

In a shop that is filled with pretty baby things you'll find some of the sweetest styles in pique sunbonnets and hats. That's the Baby Specialty Shop at 734 So. Hill Street. Sunbonnets, daintily faced with blue and pink chambray, then all white hats with a big soft bow of blue ribbon—others with blue and pink facings of poplin, and trimmed with smart little black velvet bows for 25c, $1.00 and $1.15.

A new and exclusive line of French models may be found at Milady's Shop, that smart little hat shop just up West Eighth street—823—altogether original sport hats in striped crepe and la jerz silk, all jaunty, are being shown.

The only shop in the city of Los Angeles which specializes particularly in women's and misses' suits is the Maison Lefur.

Specializing in this way, and their low expense, because of their location, enables them to give you better prices than is asked in nearly all downstairs stores. From $10.00 to $20.00 less.

They have no show windows, but you will find the shop on the second floor of the Parmelee-Dohrmann Bldg., opposite Myer Siegel's, at 444 Broadway, is just the place to buy your new spring suit.

Superfluous hair can be removed, roots and all, permanently. And one can use the treatment at home. Phone Broadway 990 or 53102, or call 825 West Ninth street.

St. Patrick's Day—Friday—that brings suggestions of shamrocks and hats and other green favors. The Jones Book Store, 619 South Hill street, is showing a splendid line of favors in novel designs—paper plates and napkins too.

With a method that is entirely different the Scientific Hair Parlor, No. 515 Fay Building, Hill and Third streets, specializes in dyeing the hair.

George Christensen, No. 710 South Hill street, makes a specialty of hand wrought jewelry. He fashions it from your old gold and uses for his subject your favorite or birth flower combined with any of the semi-precious stones.

Bake in Glass

—quicker, better, cleaner, cheaper baking

To the brisk, capable housewife, what a picture this suggests—cleanliness, shining surfaces—sanitary, durable, efficient.

Demonstrated BY Mrs. A. B. Chamberlain

March 13 to 18

Each day you may actually see baking in glass demonstrated—you may study its economy and practicability. Mrs. Chamberlain is the official Pyrex Demonstrator.

"Pyrex" Glass Baking Dishes

—you actually see the food while baking

Sanitary: Glass is acknowledged to be the most sanitary material for any utensil requiring constant cleaning. It shows the slightest trace of dirt, and does not absorb odors or flavors.
Durable: Pyrex Dishes, if used in the oven and handled with reasonable care, will last for years.
Efficient: Pyrex Dishes stand for better, more efficient baking because they combine the two great advantages of quick baking and high heat capacity.
Economical: Food in Pyrex Dishes bakes quicker than in metal or earthenware, thus saving time and fuel.
Attractive: Pyrex Dishes are graceful and attractive. They look well on the table and harmonize with any scheme of decoration.

Final Announcement---The Closing Out of Arts and Crafts Furniture at Cost by the "California"

Every piece of Arts and Crafts or Mission living-room furniture in the fumed oak must be sold this week. Every piece is marked at actual cost. The furniture is from the foremost shops of America and carries the "California's" unqualified assurance of desirability and excellence.

Absolute need of the room now taken by the Arts and Crafts furniture for other and more important purposes is the sole reason why the "California" is selling this furniture at cost.

Those who know that the policy of the "California" is absolutely opposed to so-called "special sales" of any sort, will recognize in this complete closing out of our entire department of Arts and Crafts furniture a most unusual buying opportunity. This is the final announcement.

Jubilee Singers.

There will be a concert by the Tus Jubilee Singers this evening at Westlake Presbyterian Church at o'clock. The following programme will be given: "Good News Chariot's Coming," "My Lord What a Morning," "When Malinda Sings" (Dunbar,) Charles Minta Wood; "Walk Jerusalem—Just Like John," "Swing Low Sweet Chariot," "Heav'n," "Go Down Moses," "Lily of the Valley" and "River of Jordon."

Glee Club.

The Pomona College Glee Club has just completed a short concert trip, having appeared in various smaller towns in this vicinity, among them [illegible] and Whittier. Paul Blaisdell, manager of the club, recently returned from San Francisco, where he went to arrange dates for a trip north.

Monday evening, Miss Wilhel Kent gave a violin recital at Hall, assisted by Miss Mabel West, pianiste.

Musicale.

Under the direction of Miss Alice a programme was given at the apartments recently by Miss Ciesielska, soprano, and Mrs. Bush, pianiste. Charles Wakefield Cadman and the Princess Tsianina lent their delightful talents to the occasion by rendering a group of Indian songs. James Foley presented some original verses that pleased greatly. Miss Ciesielska was much enjoyed by her hearers in songs by Quilter, Lord, Percy Elliott, Gretschaninoff, Sinding, Debussy, Dvorak, and others. Mrs. Bush gave pleasing piano solos.

MUSIC NOTES.

A concert will be given by Margaret McKee, whistling artist, and musical people of note, next Sunday afternoon at Temple Auditorium. Among those who will take part are William Reher, violinist, formerly with the Munich Symphony Orchestra; Ray Hastings, organist; Lorain, harpiste, and George 'cellist.

Bellini's opera, "Norma," will be presented in analytical form by Clem Burbank Shaw, at the Musical Hall Blanchard Building Friday evening next. Miss Ethel Summe, pianiste, Miss Georgia Mitchell, soprano, Mrs. Thomas Askin, baritone, will assist. The public is invited.

A Wonderful Star.

a parallax equal to one-thousandth of a second of the celestial arc—the limit of the most delicate astronomical instruments—then it can be safely asserted that that star is not less than 500 light years away, and may possibly be twice that distance.

A recent authority, W. S. Ellerman, assumed that Canopus is at least 490 light years away, in which case, according to estimates deduced from the law of optics, it is 49,000 times as bright as the sun, its diameter is 134 times as great, and its volume would fill about nine-tenths of the space within the orbit of Venus. If it were placed in the center of the solar system the earth would be only 30,000,000 miles from the dazzling light and fierce heat of its flaming surface, and its great round disc would extend from the horizon nearly to the zenith. Needless to say, the earth's surface would be burned to a cinder. If it has a self-luminous companion or planet as large as our sun, it would only be visible at this distance in the most powerful telescopes.

What keeps up the fierce fires of Canopus? Perhaps in that glowing furnace all the molecular compounds known to chemistry are dissociated, and only the infinitesimal atoms are in incessant collision, and are swayed hither and thither in prodigious, unceasing convection currents.

This gigantic world may be nothing but an enormous puffball of hydrogen gas of extreme tenuity at the surface, but necessarily enormously compressed at the gravity center, but having, as a whole, an attractive force that would control a family of circling worlds a thousand times as large as that composing the solar system. With what a mighty power must it draw the meteoric and nebulous matter that is constantly drifting through the depths of space down, down, to feed its insatiate fires. How the great comets that are wandering from star to star would be swerved from their destined course and sweep down and around this vast body with unthinkable velocity

During the month of March Canopus, almost directly south of Sirius will be about 6 or 7 deg. above the horizon, and on clear evenings can be seen from the roofs of our tall buildings or from the neighboring hilltops. Watch for it.

MILITARY ASPECT OF VERDUN ATTACK.

Political Reasons More than Strategic Value the Probable Underlying Cause.

BY F. L. HUIDEKOPER,

Founder the Army League of the United States; Author of "Military Studies" and Other Critical Works; Author of "The Military Unpreparedness of the United States."

From a military point of view, the concentrated and unprecedented attack of the Germans upon the heavily-fortified French position at Verdun presents one of the most interesting situations that has developed during the present war. The military strategist finds it difficult to understand just why the Germans should elect to throw their forces in such desperate efforts against one of the strongest points in the allied line, since the only thing certain in advance was that under the most favorable circumstances these efforts were bound to entail losses that would be wholly out of proportion to any advantage that could be gained—at least, so far as may be foreseen.

German success at Verdun—full and unqualified—would not cause a break in the allied line and yield an open road to Paris. It would merely mean a falling back in that part of the theater of war, a straightening of the line of the allies extending from Rheims to Toul, a line strongly held on the extreme right and left wings, and further supported by the forts at Bar-le-Duc and the River Marne. A series of formidable entrenchments have already been prepared, and these could readily be occupied without serious hinderance from the Germans. The status would then revert to the trench warfare so common elsewhere, and the Germans would again be compelled to suffer tremendous losses if they assumed the offensive. Under such circumstances the road to Paris, much less to the channel ports and England, is still longer than the road to Tipperary now so celebrated in military song.

If the French had considered themselves sorely pressed at Verdun, and that the situation was critical, it is almost elemental in military tactics that this pressure might have been relieved by a strong counter-attack at some other point in the line, one presumably denuded of as much defense as could be spared in order to strengthen the German offense at Verdun. The fact that Gen. Joffre, who has thus far proved himself quite equal to the task that is before him, did not inaugurate such a counter-attack speaks for itself.

If the reasons for this attack at Verdun, with its probable enormous losses, are not clear to the military mind, it is necessary to seek elsewhere for the causes, and to gauge the motive. Public opinion in Germany must be judiciously fed with news of victories, real or alleged. It is not the time for Germany to read solely of defeats, either of its own forces or those of its allies, and it is not at all improbable that in the fall of Erzerum to the Russian forces may be found one of the reasons for the desperate attack upon Verdun. Thus there is now little question that the Russian success at Erzerum was in reality a great victory.

There is perhaps, however, a deeper reason for the attack that is of a political nature and yet of such paramount importance as to justify a great and otherwise useless sacrifice of life, even as against the purely military judgment of such German generals as Von Hindenberg and Mackensen. Verdun was selected at the very beginning of the war to be the center of the stage on which the Crown Prince should shine in the blaze of the limelight. And it seems to be well established, according to the most authoritative information, that all of Germany now realizes how much the Crown Prince and Admiral Von Tirpitz had to do with bringing on this war. It was the Crown Prince—heir to a throne which may not much longer be denied to him if the reports regarding the Kaiser's health contain even a small element of truth—who was to lead the victorious march of the German hosts to Paris, the spectacular goal of this war, via Verdun. For thirteen months he has been held in check with a probable consequent waning of popularity, so that a notable victory at this point was worth the hazard of German lives regardless of numbers or the military gain in prospect.

The Germans may or may not succeed in capturing the place eventually, but even if they do the indications are that the result will not be commensurate with the sacrifice they must make. Of course, the moral effect will be great both in France and Germany, but after seventeen months of such warfare nothing but the most crushing victory could be expected to take the heart out of the allies.

OVER THE SEA.

Lord Abinger's daughter, Dr. Ella Scarlett Synge, who has been reporting on the condition of English prisoners in Germany, holds no fewer than eight academic degrees.

So bitter is the hatred in Russia against everything German, since the beginning of the war, that the new Premier, Basil Sturmer, is, according to the Petrograd newspapers, taking steps to change his name to Flanin, on the ground that Sturmer not only sounds German, but is also of undoubted German origin.

Sir Clements Markham, the explorer, who was burned to death in his home recently in a fire supposedly due to his habit of reading in bed by candlelight, will be remembered as the man who made quinine cheap. During an exploration of Peru and the unknown forests of the Eastern Andes, his attention was attracted to the cultivation of the cinchona, or quinine, tree. In 1860, the date Sir Clements went to Peru to procure trees, quinine was worth $2.50 an ounce in London and $5 an ounce in Calcutta. But his proposals were treated with cold scorn by the wise men of England, even including Huxley. None the less, he took his cinchona trees to India and established their cultivation, which brought down the price of quinine to 25 cents an ounce in London and 2 cents in India. Out of his industry Sir Clements personally derived absolutely no profit.

Count Cheddo Miyatovich, special Ambassador of the Serbian government to the people of this country, is a sage, historian, diplomat and lawyer, who declares that God will settle the war in Europe. All his adult life, practically, has been spent in diplomatic service. At the age of 26 he was appointed special envoy to England, and served as Minister to the Court of St. James.

Reginald McKenna, England's Chancellor of the Exchequer, has been elected to an honorary fellowship of Trinity Hall. He was a famous oarsman when at Cambridge and rowed bow for the Light Blues in the memorable boat race of 1887.

Gen. Von Falkenhayn, said by his admirers to be the most powerful man of the hour in Germany, was at one time employed in a commercial house in China. When Field Marshal Von Moltke fell into disgrace, after the battle of the Marne, Gen. Falkenhayn was placed at the head of the General Staff. In his younger years, it is said, he was obliged to give up the army owing to ruinous debts which the young officer had contracted. It was then that he went to China. Since the war began his exceptional military ability has been amply proved, until today he stands out as one of the great figures developed.

The War Ran it Up.

[Marlinton (W. Va.) Journal:] While every available ship is speeding to Europe loaded with American iron and steel to supply the enormous demand, and with the French, English, Italians and Russians hurling hundreds of tons at the Germans every minute, our pig iron has reached almost as high a price as it was during the Taft administration.

Before the Underwood tariff was enacted No. 2 foundry was $13. Underwood made it $8.50; the war ran it up to $12.50.

OF ART AND ARTISTS.

BY ANTONY ANDERSON.

On Seeing the Elgin Marbles.

My spirit is too weak; mortality
Weighs heavily on me like unwilling sleep,
And each imagined pinnacle and steep
Of godlike hardship tells me I must die
Like a sick eagle looking at the sky.
Yet 'tis a gentle luxury to weep,
That I have not the cloudy winds to keep
Fresh for the opening of the morning's eye.
Such dim-conceived glories of the brain
Bring round the heart an indescribable feud;
So do these wonders a most dizzy pain,
That mingles Grecian grandeur with the rude
Wasting of old Time—with a billowy main
A sun, a shadow of a magnitude.

Public Opinion.

"Mischief, thou art afoot!"

Last Sunday I tried to voice, so far as may be, the verdict of the artists themselves on the question of the jury for art exhibits. I also ventured to express a modest opinion or two of my own on certain familiar fetiches. To my surprise, I find myself quite misunderstood and much misquoted. I begin to see, from some of the letters I have received, that all the artists of Southern California do not regard me as a friend and ally. I discover that some of our painters won't swallow anything but treacle and melted butter. In short, I bump up against their pet fetich, which is more deeply imbadded in the solid soil of prejudice than I had supposed.

Below are the letters that came to me. The first, which is from Guy Rose, needs an explanatory note or two. In his opening paragraph, Mr. Rose intimates that I had not taken the trouble to inform myself as to what I was writing about. He is mistaken. In his third paragraph he says that "there were no distinctions made between the East and the West." Here, though he was chairman of the jury, I must beg leave to correct him. Many men from the East were accepted hors concours—without trial by jury—but none from the West, except, of course, those "who have headquarters or agents" in what Mr. Rose calls The East.

Later on he says: "As to the picture by your unnamed friend which you consider better than pictures of his that have won prizes in the East, I think your judgment is at fault." My "unnamed friend" is no more a friend than Mr. Rose himself, and what I really said of him was: "This painter has won prizes in other exhibitions." Mr. Rose admits that the eastern men did not all accept invitations to send pictures, even though they would incur no expense and might have a chance to sell to the permanent collection of the museum. Many of those who did accept were content to send canvases that are by no means among their very best. Does not this argue a certain fine contempt for us? If so, why should we kow-tow to the New York fetich.

Here is Mr. Rose's letter in toto:

"I have read your article in yesterday's Times and am very much disappointed in it. Of course everyone has a right to his own opinion, but when one is writing for a public print one should take the trouble to inform himself as to the truth of his statements." [Have you taken this trouble, Mr. Rose?]

"The time in which to get up this first show was very limited but it was planned as far as possible on the lines that the Philadelphia Academy and the Carnegie Institute of Pittsburgh have found to be the most practicable, the object (which you have entirely overlooked) being to get together a selection of the best contemporary work from which to acquire pictures worthy of a permanent place in an important museum.

"There are certain noted painters who are always invited to send work to such exhibitions and all of our invitations were sent to such people. Contrary to what you state, there were no distinctions made between the East and the West, in fact some of the very best things shown are by men who have lived and worked out here but on account of lack of appreciation here, now have headquarters or agents in The East.

"Of the strictly local men none were invited out of deference to the silly idea that seems to prevail here that every painter in Southern California is the best in the world.

"A large number of eastern as well as western painters sent pictures to be passed on by the jury and in my opinion they were judged every bit as critically and carefully, and were refused if found below the standard we were trying to maintain.

"Your contention that they were judged by the way the paint was put on is, on the face of it rather foolish, for I think it would be rather hard to find five other painters out here who have more dissimilar ways of painting than the members of the jury.

"As to the picture by your un-named friend which you consider better than pictures of his that have won prizes in the East, I think your judgment is at fault. Of course, I do not know to which picture or painter you refer, but no matter what the man has done or can do, I am certain that no picture was refused that would be admitted to a really first class show elsewhere, much less win an honor.

The only pictures of a high order that were refused were when a better one by the same artist was accepted, in which case the second was not taken in order to give others a chance in the limited space.

What you say about the recognized big men's work not being better than the work done here makes me feel that you have not seen the pictures at Exposition Park, you know as well as I do that it is the artist and not the subject that makes good work.

As to the taxes the artists have had to pay to get this work out here they ought all, as I and others do, to consider it money well spent to enable them to see and study pictures of such a high standard and compare them with their own work. If taken in a big broad-minded spirit it is an opportunity of exceptional educational value, which we hope will be gradually made permanent by the acquisitions of the museum.

If the more important men had not been invited few of them would have contributed work as I know from personal letters, this would include nine now represented of whom five are among the very best; even as it was by no means all the invitations were accepted.

I think you owe it to the museum and to the jury to correct some of the statements you have made.

John Kendrick:

I am not a painter, but being a lover of art, I feel that you may not take amiss a few words from me.

I read with pleasure your article for last Sunday; it seemed to me a very just, as well as a very timely, critique of a most silly state of mind; but I confess I saw nothing in it to warrant the commotion it has caused.

As to the rightness or wrongness of certain juries, I naturally have nothing to say. But upon your attitude I am emphatic. There is certainly no reason for any man, group of men, or institution considering himself or itself above criticism. Ability to stand fair criticism and to profit by it is always a test of true worth.

Of course one may choose to dismiss the present "row" with a phrase, "tempest in a teapot," but to me it is indicative of much more than appears on the surpace. At risk of furnishing you with platitudes, permit me to say that petty jealousies and bickerings between artists show very plainly the caliber of the artists. A man cannot be at the same time a big painter and a small man.

Didier Pelee:

You deserve credit not only from artists but from craftsmen for your bold stand against a few perhaps prejudiced or incompetent judges passing on an artist or craftsman's work. This closed corporation method is apt to work an injury to those who have too much self-respect to use the influence of their friends or relatives to gain recognition. The man of real ability is always willing to let his work stand on its own merits.

I know of one most excellent craftsman who sent work to the late exhibition, some jewelry, and did not even receive the consideration of having his work labeled. Other able craftsmen refuse to send work to our craft exhibitions because they do not feel that they get fair play. This seems too bad, as it gives the public an erroneous impression of the work that is done in this city.

Helena Dunlap:

You are very hard on the poor jury, who debated so long and tried so hard to be fair, and at the same time give the public the best exhibition possible. I think the exhibition is well hung, though I do not know who did the hanging. I think it is the best thing possible for us painters out here to see the best work the world can produce, and to also compare our work—that means dissatisfaction with our work and greater effort to come up to the rest. I have always thought the place to grow was where one saw much better work than their own. We also need everything that is new and modern, that we may keep up with the progress of art. I am sure the jury did the best they knew how, and they were all broad, big men with no petty jealousies.

Louis Hovey Sharpe:

A jury is a necessary pest in the world of art, otherwise our exhibitions would take on the conglomerate appearance of a church bazaar. There is no doubt but that artists themselves are the best judges of contemporary art, especially from its technical side, but I believe they should be aided and abetted by certain laymen whose judgment has been proven sound, persons who are entirely outside the local art circle, and therefore unbiased by the petty jealousies which the artistic temperament seems to breed in most of us. Reprisals in war are to be expected, but artists should be above that. However, they are not. Thus, I firmly believe the solution is to elect a combination jury of artists and laymen by a vote (in the case of our present exhibition at the museum) of all those artists who have had works hung on its walls. I believe the action of the last jury to come under my notice, and which you refer to, is a disgrace to Los Angeles, and I am sure they did certain things for personal spite. If art is to prosper in Los Angeles we can certainly not have repeated such things as were perpetrated by the said jury. I, for one, will not submit, because I don't have to.

Ernest Browning Smith:

Glad to see how you dug up the dry bones in yesterday's Times. Good work!

Elmer Wachtel:

A juryman's lot is not a happy one. That jury thing is certainly one of the best and most helpful things you've done.

Jean Mannheim:

I have read your article in this morning's Times, and wish to congratulate you. It is splendidly written, and it is just.

Mary Stewart Daggett:

I liked what you said Sunday. I agree with you.

Contemporary American Painters.

The first annual exhibition of contemporary American painters opened March 3, to continue at Exposition Park to April 3. It is undoubtedly one of the strongest and most interesting exhibitions of pictures ever held in Los Angeles, and the Art Committee of the museum deserves great credit for its energy and acumen in gathering together so many good pictures. While not many of them can be ranked among masterpieces, there are enough excellent pic-

In Orient.

BIG FIELD FOR FILMS.

PICTURES FIND LARGE MARKET, SAYS UNIVERSAL HEAD.

By Grace Kingsley.

Pat Powers, one of the large stock owners in the Universal, announces he is planning a business trip to the Orient, though he is not yet fully decided in the matter.

"Yes, I am feeling inclined to take a trip to the Orient," said Mr. Powers yesterday. "Why? Because the Asiatic countries have taken an unusual interest in the photoplays, and the demand in that part of the world for our films has increased fourfold. It is practically new territory for most of the companies, although pictures have been going well in Japan and the Philippines for the past two years. China, also, is waking up in this connection, and Hongkong, Canton, Peking and all the other large cities of the land of our celestial friends are using a largely increased amount of American films in their theaters.

"It has greatly surprised me to note the popularity of the feature photoplays and the serials in the Orient. This popularity has helped the American companies wonderfully during these war times, the market in Europe having suffered to a considerable extent since the beginning of the conflict."

Plays Golf Anyway.

George Broadhurst, the eminent American dramatist, will make his initial film bow in the support of Dorothy Gish and Owen Moore in their latest dramatic Triangle play.

It so happened that Direct Paul Powell was taking some scenes on the golf links, and decided to use another character in the scene, but no one whom he found could play the part—or golf. At this moment Mr. Broadhurst stepped into his automobile to watch Powell work. He caught sight of Dorothy Gish, who, when a child played a part in his play "The Coward." They excahnged enthusiastic greetings, and Powell took advantage of the situation and asked the dramatist if he would appear in the scene, which the latter consented to do. He confessed that though he couldn't play for the camera very well, he could play golf, and it is in the character of the swatter of the small sphere he will be seen.

Some Scenery.

More than half a score of artists and experts were employed in the making of the Babylonian scene in "The Soul Market," which appears at the Symphony next week, with Mme. Petrova starred.

The scene referred to is an allegorical one, and shows the sale of twenty beautiful slave girls in ancient Babylon.

Emmeline "Films."

Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst will appear at the Strand this week in motion pictures. Of course, the photoplay has a suffragette plot. Why not let Mrs. Pankhurst do some "thrillers?" After what the lady has gone through, even the Keystone would have no terrors for her. Except, of course, the pie, which is so awfully American that it might be difficult for her to become acclimated to it, even as scenery.

Willard Mack, Too.

Willard Mack, Gerda Holmes and Clara Whipple will head the cast of a big Equitable feature entitled "His One Big Chance." It is a picture play of newspaper life.

Virginia Shifts.

Virginia Kirtley is to make her debut with the Mutual masterpiece de luxe, in "A Law Unto Himself."

Views Own Ghost.

George Beban, hero of "The Pawn of Fate," to be shown at Tally's Broadway this week, will view his own film ghost at the said theater, tomorrow night. Dustin Farnum and others will be in Mr. Beban's party.

Blue-Ribboners.

Miller's Theater announces a number of excellent features for the next few weeks. Among these are William Farnum in Hall Caine's "The Bondman," Robert Mantell and Genevieve Hamper in "His Wife's Sacrifice," and Vivian Martin in "A Modern Thelma."

Reel Hero is Bill.

Bessie Barriscale, who is starred in "Bullets and Brown Eyes," the Triangle Kay-Bee feature at the Majestic beginning tomorrow, narrowly escaped serious injury during the making of some scenes in the picture. Her ability to ride a horse alone saved her from a dangerous fall.

One of the most thrilling scenes is said to be that in which she is rescued by William Desmond, who plays the part of a dare-devil prince. When Director Scott Sydney ordered action on this scene, Desmond made the rescue that had been rehearsed, but as he was about to ride away, discovered that he had transferred horses in the excitement, and that the star was mounted on his horse, which bears a reputation as a bucker.

Desmond whirled the horse around only to find that the high-spirited animal Miss Barriscale had mounted, already was running away. He started in pursuit, and a thrilling race followed. The horse on which Miss Barriscale rode bucked and plunged, but the plucky lady kept her saddle until Desmond, in true hero fashion, rode up and grasped the bridle with a firm hand.

Art and Artists.

tures to make the contemplated purchase of two or three of them a matter of no particular difficulty. In fact, the paucity of the best will make the task of selection a comparatively easy one. Most of the canvases exhibited cannot be considered for a moment as "museum pictures."

The hanging, the unaided work of Everett Maxwell, the curator, as usual, has been most happy. The quiet dignity that comes from an intelligent striving for harmony prevails. Such a result is no easy task; indeed, it is so difficult that artists fight shy of the honor whenever they are asked to serve on hanging committees. So the man in charge has to do it alone and unaided. Fortunately for Los Angeles and its gallery, Mr. Maxwell's taste and judgment do not leave him in such a crisis. But the job is too big for one man, and our painters should no longer permit him to bear such an incubus.

All consideration of the exhibition in this column must be deferred until next week. I had intended to write half of it last week, and the other half this week, but my unfortunate, or fortunate, article on "Juries and Other Fetiches," with its subsequent voluminous correspondence, has cut off my available space. I will endeavor to do this fine exhibition full justice next week, commenting on as many pictures as possible, perhaps all. Meanwhile, I would suggest to my readers to go and study the pictures not once, but many times. They are well worth the effort, for they are the works of big men, East and West.

Etchings by Zorn.

Through this month an exhibition of twenty etchings by Anders Zorn is being held in the print gallery at Exposition Park, to be followed through the month of April by etching from the needle of Matisse, who should prove particularly interesting and enlivening.

Zorn, of course, is one of the greatest etchers, as well as one of the big portait painters of modern times, and it is more than probable that posterity will rank him among the masters. A man of today in every sense of the phrase, Zorn has a method that is widely at variance with the methods of men of previous generations, but it is absolutely sufficient in itself in that it is original and individual. As a draughtsman he is impeccable, and his work has a fine virility, a masculine directness, that compels your attention and your respect.

Some of his best-known prints are in the present collection — the portraits of Taft, Cleveland, Anatole France, Betty Nansen, with many outdoor nude studies of those robust Swedish peasant women that he has known since childhood and has found so pictorial. All Zorn's nymphs are Rubenesque.

Pictures by Turner.

An exhibition of about fifty pictures by Charles Louis Turner is being held at the Bentz gallery in Pasadena through the month of March. Half the pictures are European in subject, the other half Californian.

Mr. Turner spent his childhood in Southern California, but after a few years of study in art under Edith White he left Pasadena to attend the old Hopkins Institute in San Francisco, where Arthur Mathews was then holding classes. Then the young student when to Paris, and since that period he has been gravitating between Europe and America, finally deciding to open a studio in his old home, Pasadena. This was four or five years ago, and every year Mr. Turner gives an exhibition of attractive pictures at the Benz gallery.

The piece de resistance of the present collection is "From a Cardinal's Villa," lent by the Golden Gate Park Museum of San Francisco. It is a splendid, virile work, big and interesting in many ways. The color is rich and juicy, the famous old cypresses of Villa d'Este are finely massed, and beyond them we see the glowing Italian landscape, swimming in sunlight and air, and leading toward Rome and the dome of St. Peter's. And how like Southern California it all seems—how like the environs of Hotel Raymond, if you like!

A smaller canvas from Villa d'Este (the painter must have reveled in that garden of stately cypresses centuries old,) shows us the famous walk that leads to the gray-pink villa. Trees and box hedge are simply and firmly modeled. Above them broods the blue sky of Italy, so like the blue sky of California. "Autumn" was painted in the garden of the Luxembourg. The fountain is shown, and beyond it trees yellow and brown, richly glowing, their colors delicately suggested in the sunset clouds.

Mr. Turner's San Francisco studio was on Telegraph Hill, and from its windows he watched the wonderful bay in all its changing moods. "Spirit of the Full Moon" is one of the pictures of the bay. Riant female figures, all in pale pink and diaphanous blue, dance in a whirling ring, like the fairy figures in Corot's dreams of springtime. Below them lies the bay, turned to a huge pot of gold by the moon's necromancy.

A few months ago the artist spent some time at San Juan Capistrano painting the mission under varying lights. These pictures are now on exhibition in a hotel near the mission and the padres of the mission are contemplating the housing of future studies by Mr. Turner. From La Jolla we have the notable canvas called "Storm Passing at Evening," great bulging pink clouds in a pellucid sky above a low-lying sea and shore. The picture has fine action. From Paris we have "Autumn on the Seine" in a wonderful scheme of gray-pink tones. From Capistrano, again, two delightful studies of olive trees in serried rows, subdued and attractive in color. From Oregon, three very lovely studies of aspens, "Spring," "Aspen Trees" and "Evening," the latter with the color and poetry of a Cazin. From Hemet, "Gray Morning," an expanse of California valleys before mountains, the valley lush with the greens of winter, the mountains pale blue.

A still life study of unusual vigor in its handling and brilliance in its color shows us red apples and amethyst grapes arranged round a green vase. His success with it suggests the hope that the artist will paint more such pictures.

ART NOTES.

The pictures by Guy Rose which were recently shown in Exposition Park have been transferred, with a few important changes, to the Elizabeth Battey gallery in Pasadena, almost directly opposite Hotel Maryland, where they will remain for several weeks. The technical charm of Mr. Rose's work, the delicate poetic quality of much of it, was spoken of in this column when the pictures were shown in Los Angeles. These canvases are well worth a pilgrimage to Pasadena.

Another attractive exhibition now being given in Pasadena is that of Benjamin Chambers Brown, to whom has been thrown open the old Throop Institute, opposite the Stickney School of Art. The exhibition is large and thoroughly representative, including pictures from various parts of California and Europe. Mr. Brown's Venetian paintings, in oil and water color, done from sketches made in Europe many years ago, are as fresh and attractive as if the artist had received his impressions yesterday.

A third exhibition in Pasadena is that of water-color landscapes from the brush of the late Norman St. Clair, who was one of our ablest painters in aquarelle. The exhibition is held in the gallery of O'Hara & Livermore, No. 252 East Colorado street. Mr. St. Clair's able and well-studied interpretations of Southern California have always been popular among picture lovers, who feel their truth as well as their beauty.

An exhibition of marines by [illegible] W. Cuprien will open tomorrow [illegible] the Kanst gallery, and will [illegible] for three weeks. It is promised [illegible] this will be the most comprehensive collection of sea pictures from [illegible] Cuprien's brush ever gathered [illegible]er in Los Angeles, and that [illegible] include some of his very best [illegible]. In all there will be about [illegible] canvases, big and the product of [illegible] years of faithful study of many moods of the sea. This artist's faithful [illegible]ords are often attractive and [illegible]. In one particular, the painting of rippling waves under afternoon [illegible]light, he has few equals.

An unusually interesting event [illegible] be the reception tendered the members of the California Art Club [illegible] the Art Committee of the [illegible] Morning Club on the evening of [illegible]day, March 14. The committee [illegible] to show works by members of [illegible] California on this evening. These [illegible]tures, with others, are to be [illegible] in the music room of the [illegible] library, Metropolitan Building, [illegible] they will make small group [illegible]tions that will later go to various [illegible] rooms for the current year.

An exhibition of recent water color landscapes by Frances Hammel Gearhart will be held in Los Angeles High School, room 28, from March 11 to March 17, inclusive. Miss Gearhart's work has grown in harmony and strength through the past few years of close study of nature, and her exhibition cannot fail to prove very interesting.

A fourth exhibition for Pasadena through March is that of Louis Hovey Sharpe, who is showing his new landscapes and Arizona Indian studies at Hotel Maryland. These interesting pictures were recently exhibited at Kanst's, when they received full notice in Art and Artists.

Ernest Browning Smith is planning an exhibition of landscapes to be held either through the last weeks of March or the first weeks of April.

Among the exhibitors to the thirty-first annual show of the Architectural League of New York, held from February 6 to February 26, was Miss Daggett of Pasadena, who showed a wall fountain now in the garden of Mrs. F. L. Loring, San Rafael Heights. Miss Daggett's was the only piece of sculpture from California.

THE UNCHLOROFORMED.

Mrs. T. M. Baker, aged [illegible], of [illegible]ridgeweed, Me., was the fourth daughter in a family of fourteen, now lives in her son's house, where there are fourteen sons and daughters and sixteen grandchildren. In all, Mrs. Baker has more than 100 nephews and nieces.

Mrs. Lydia Botkin of [illegible], celebrated her one hundred and [illegible] birthday anniversary November [illegible]. She is in the best of health and would be taken for a woman not over 70. She can recall vividly historic scenes of years ago, which pass before her mind's eye as clear and distinct as a motion picture screen depicting a century's growth and progress.

Mrs. Betsy Storey Clark of [illegible], Ill., was 103 years old December [illegible] and celebrated the event by a quiet smoke and receiving her friends. Mrs. Clark never has ridden on a railroad train, nor has she ever worn a corset. Smoking, she said, certainly has not shortened her life, and, in her opinion, her common sense garb and simple, moderate diet have [illegible] her vitality.

Mrs. Maria Simpson Clingman of Cedarville, Ill., 100 years old December 12, has retained her mental and physical faculties to a remarkable degree and her conversation is as entertaining as it was a half-century ago. She is one of the oldest Methodists in the world, having joined that denomination when she was a child.

Pointed Cap, an Indian on the [illegible] Hills Indian reserve, Canada, is [illegible] years old. He has the distinction of being the oldest member of the Red Cross Society in the world.

David Eaton of Fond Du Lac, Wis., who has just celebrated his one hundredth birthday, is addicted to a pipe which he started smoking at the age of 75. He arises at 5 a.m. daily.

Former Senator Henry G[illegible] Davis, president of the Coal and Coke Railroad, came to Baltimore from Elkins, W. Va., to confer with [illegible] railway officials about matters affecting his company. Mr. Davis is [illegible] years old, and says he never felt better in his life. He is trying to establish a record of having served as chief executive of a railroad in America until he is 100 years old—a record not yet achieved by any man. Despite his advanced age Mr. Davis hustled around the financial district as though he had just turned 50.

ACTIVE WOMEN.

The rarely-awarded Lloyd's medal for saving life at sea has been conferred upon but one woman, Miss Kate Gilmour, for heroism in connection with the burning of the passenger steamer Sardina in 190[illegible].

Mrs. Kiyo Sue Inui is a [illegible] Japanese woman of California who cannot speak the Japanese language. She was born in Nevada, reared in Michigan and graduated [illegible] from Stanford University. She was an American citizen, but [illegible] vote by marrying.

Mrs. C. R. Springer, who was recently honored at Pioneers' Day by the Young Women's Christian Association at St. Louis, has been president of the Woman's Christian Association for forty years. She has been helping the young women since Civil War days, and helped found the first Woman's Christian Association in St. Louis in 1870.

Lady Ralph Paget will be the first person to wear the medal of honor of the New York City Federation of Women's Clubs. She has been awarded the honor owing to her refusal to desert her hospital while serving with the Red Cross in Serbia in the face of the Bulgar advance.

Mrs. Rose Hartwick Thorpe, who is now past 60 years of age, has just received the first money [illegible] poem, "Curfew Must Not Ring Tonight," which was written when she was but 17 years old, and has been not only recited by [illegible] young women, but has been translated into many tongues. It was written for a Detroit newspaper to which she had promised to send a poem a week for a yearly [illegible]tion.

The coasting here is [illegible] Karl Klawer, of Farmington, [illegible] is 88 years old, as she [illegible] hill on a bobsled with a [illegible] away with a whiz, [illegible] and carrying a bundle, too.

Miss Estelle R. Chubb has been appointed a deputy sheriff of Washington county, Pennsylvania, and is to carry a revolver and a pair of handcuffs.

The Bright Side of Sunshine Land—People and Their Doings—A Hundred Happy Affairs.

pretty just now. Saw her at the Alexandria to tea during the week, in a veritable hooped skirt of soft taffeta, which was quite electrically becoming.

Did you have pancakes on Shrove Tuesday? It is Lent now, monsieur, and it is to be hoped you are performing suitable Lenten sacrifices. We shall probably make a decorous show of keeping the season and not have any conspicuous parties for a week or two.

So long, Tom, dear,

Your subued but hopeful,

BETTY.

Society in tableau of Vanity Fair.

Los Angeles, Pasadena and visiting debutantes and swains are to appear in living pictures of vogue and folly at Tuesday night's Cafe Chantant at the Maryland for the benefit of the Children's Training School. The Misses Frances and Martha Charles are winter visitors from Evanston, Ill., while Miss Ada Reis is a Greenwich (Ct.) girl.

SOCIETY.

What with the Bachelors' Ball and irresistible Pavlowa with her Ballet Russe and the Boston Grand Opera to lure delightfully into Queen Amusement's enthralling embrace, the week was ushered in with two incomparably brilliant affairs which drew fashionable society with compelling force gaily onto the very threshold of the Lenten period.

Society is wavering between adhering strictly to the old-fashioned regime prescribed for the penetential season and being absolutely honest with itself and indulging in informal social diversions. Milady entertains and accepts invitations of various kinds, "but no one must know except those with whom they share their gaieties." Why follow old-time customs and retire into a shell with the strictest kind of seclusion if one truly is not so inclined, merely because of criticism?

While Lent may lay its ban on any widespread frivolity during the forty days of sackcloth and ashes, after all it is a thing of one or two weeks' duration, then gradually the usual interests are resumed, the usual pastimes taken up with wonted vigor, and before one knows it the regulation round of tea parties, luncheons, informal supper dances and dinners is in full swing.

There will, however, be this difference—society will sponsor no large or formal affairs, for the next seven weeks, but a little diversion is never taboo.

There is strong talk of a supper club being formed—to hold sway every blessed night, if you please. Some of the best known folk in town are agitating it, and have already talked it over with the Alexandria management. Details are expected shortly.

Society did not have to wait until Lent for well-doing in a charitable line, however, for the season of '15-'16 will go down in history for its numerous philanthropies.

First in the Lenten humanitarian benevolences is the unique cafe chantant, in which several Los Angeles, Pasadena and visiting society buds, augmented by dancing escorts, etc., will participate at Hotel Maryland Tuesday night for the benefit of the Children's Training School of Pasadena.

It is to be rather a revolution of effects, Bakst-like, in which Madame Vogue, impersonated by Mrs. George Rulany, Jr., will present a programme of ultra-living pictures chosen from covers of Vogue and Vanity Fair.

The Misses Florence and Marjorie Lacy, well-known society girls and daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. Lacy, and their brother, Dick, are to "do stunts," Miss Marjorie appearing in "La Tempet," while Miss Florence and Charles Lyle do a "Dos a Dos." Miss Anne Wilshire, prominent in the Southland, is to be Mr. Lacy's partner in "Apres de Ballet." The Misses Martha and Frances Charles of Evanston are to typify distinct pictures, the latter posing as "The Skating Girl" and her sister, with Stillman Jamieson, Jr., of Chicago, doing "L'Amour de Pierrot," as shown in the rather grotesque layout of pictures. Others are "Houppe a Poudre," Miss Ada Reis of Greenwich, Ct.; "Au Claire de le Lune," Miss Florence Harrington; "Cafe Chantant," Miss Helen Smith and William Reis, Jr.; "Pierrot Puni," Dorothy Riley and Hamer Jamieson; "Pierrot et Pierrette," Elena Perry and Julia Smith.

The setting will be a French cafe, the artists to appear a la "Folies de Begere."

With so many notables of the world here to grace the occasion with their presence, the ensemble is sure to be magnificent. Mrs. George Vanderbilt and her daughter, Miss Cornelia Vanderbilt, who spend most of their time on their Biltmore estate in North Carolina, and Mrs. Vanderbilt's sister, Mrs. Nicholas Brown of Newport; the Edward Swifts of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Finley J. Shepard of New York (the latter before marriage Miss Helen Gould,) accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Bancroft, who came West in the Shepard private car; the Baroness Hedy Alice von Frowein-Pardee and her American husband, Howard Pardee of Philadelphia, son of the Calvin Pardees of Germantown; Mrs. Robert Pitcairn of Newport and Philadelphia, and Miss Vida Macpherson of Quebec, who for her country, engulfed in war, will work in the shell-testing department of the artillery munitions factory upon her return home, are but a few who, it is expected, will grace the occasion for sweet charity's sake. Miss Macpherson, by the way, is reputed to be the richest girl in Canada, and niece of W. Molson Macpherson, one of the world's foremost bankers.

That Mrs. Edwin Frances Holmes, the beautiful Silver Queen of Utah, chose the second day of Lent for a big luncheon speaks well for her fearlessness in foregoing convention. She has always had things pretty much her own way, however. She wanted Amelia's palace in Salt Lake for a home, and presto, the mansion of Brigham Young's favorite wife was almost at once transferred to her. It is true she does not spend much time there—has become so weaned to Southern California that, but for a hurried journey to New York for shopping and the theaters or opera, almost all her time is enjoyed either in Los Angeles, Pasadena or Long Beach.

Thursday, at the Maryland, Mrs. Holmes presided over a lovely luncheon party, honoring Mrs. Nathan B. Scott, wife of the Senator from West Virginia, the large oval table being placed in front of a large window commanding an uninterrupted view of the Sierra Madre, and referred to as "the million-dollar picture." A Japanese plum tree in full bloom came from the center of the board to form a floral canopy over the heads of the guests—ladies from Los Angeles, the Crown City and visitors from many parts of the country. Around the base of the tree was arranged a garden in miniature, with rustic bridges, seats, paths, shrubs and terraced lawn, while favors of exquisitely-dressed French dolls and corsage bouquets of orchids were dispensed with a lavish hand. Mrs. Holmes furthered the dominating scheme with her gown, a Baer creation of white silk, heavily embroidered, with which she wore a plum-colored hat, shoes and hose. Seated at table were Mrs. M. B. Conway, Louisville, Ky.; Mrs. Ellis Bishop of this city; Mrs. Artemus Lamb, Clinton, Iowa; Mrs. Ross, Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Benner I. Smith, Mrs. H. D. Rockefeller, Chicago; Mrs. Theodore Shaw, Chicago; Mrs. W. E. Reis, Mrs. McNairy, Cleveland; Mrs. J. H. Queal, Minneapolis; Mrs. Orcutt, Mrs. La Fayette Lamb of Clinton, Mrs. Hannah Adams, Mrs. D. P. Bartlett, Mrs. George D. Gregory, Mrs. Sanborn, Mrs. S. B. Zeigler, Mrs. S. L. Mooney, Mrs. Moss of San Francisco, Mrs. T. N. Jamison, Mrs. Stillman B. Jamison, Mrs. H. B. Lamb, Mrs. F. A. Greenley, Mrs. Eli Lilly, Mrs. H. C. French and Mrs. Waldo Avery.

Mrs. Holmes is to entertain sixty or more guests at the Emerald ball at the Huntington on St. Patrick's Eve, and it has been rumored that she will wear her gorgeous emeralds—one of the finest collections in existence.

Beautiful Girl to Wed.

At a smart luncheon given by pretty Miss Marybelle Peyton, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Valentine Peyton of No. 857 Westlake avenue, yesterday, in compliment to two interesting house guests, Miss Kathleen Kimball and Miss Abbie Boggs of Spokane; an exciting bit of news was wafted on the wings of little Dan Cupid, perched from a mass of redolent spring flowers, of the engagement of Miss Peyton to an easterner, Henry Hanna Ziesing of Chicago.

The fair visitors have been in Los Angeles a week, and many are the social courtesies to be showered upon them. In many of these Miss Peyton will share. Not even the most intimate friends of the hostess were aware of the impending secret. Miss Peyton and Mr. Ziesing met in the East, after Miss Peyton had completed her studies at Miss Somers's School, Mt. Vernon, Va. Mr. Ziesing is a graduate of the University of Illinois, and a man who figures influentially in the business and social world of the eastern metropolis.

For yesterday's pretty event a wealth of spring flowers and pink tulle, softly covered candelabra in delicate pink and individual baskets tied in fluffy tulle bows added to the exquisite decorative motif, places being marked for thirty-five guests, as follows:

Mrs. Alfred Wright, Mrs. Charles M. Nebeker, Mrs. Malcolm McNaghten, Mrs. Harold Janss, Mrs. Raymond Bradford, Mrs. William Robert Munroe, Mrs. Louis Cass, Mrs. Charles Meyer, Mrs. Alfred T. Brant, Mrs. Harold Bayly, Mrs. Roy D. Bayly, Mrs. Jack Murietta, Mrs. Arthur W. Bumiller, Mrs. Arthur McFarland, Mrs. Morgan O. Adams, Mrs. Herman Henneberger, Jr., Mrs. Edward Lawrence Doheny, Jr., Mrs. Anson Lisk, Mrs. Charles Cotton, Mrs. Charles Gardiner Bullis, Mrs. C. L. The interesting marriage, which will take from the city one of the most prominent debutantes, will be in the not-far-distant future, though the exact date is not yet determined. It will be one of the really important fashionable happenings, on account of the family's standing in social and business circles in the Southland.

For a Visitor.

Mrs. Charles W. Kemmler, Jr., of Arrochar Park, S. I., just out of New York, will be given a large luncheon compliment by her mother, Mrs. Charles Rivers Drake, at the Virginia Hotel the 15th inst. Prior to her marriage the charming visitor was Marguerite R. Drake, a prominent society girl of this city, whose return is bringing untold pleasure to her scores of friends.

Honoring Miss Keith.

Miss Josephine Keith, the pretty Texas debutante who formerly was the house guest of Mrs. Turner Elmer Weatherholt of the Bryson, has been since the early part of the week entertained by Mrs. Donald Gray Keeler, a charming younger matron who resides at No. 617 Westmoreland avenue. Many are the social attentions being heaped upon the visitor. Miss Margaret Walker of the Rex Arms had a bridge tea for her Monday, with pink and white floral decorations predominating. Wednesday afternoon Miss Keith furnished the inspiration for a matinee party at the Mason, which had for hostess Mrs. A. S. Harris of the Bryson, and yesterday Mrs. Harry Chapman Williams entertained at a luncheon of twelve covers, followed by bridge, at the Hollywood Hotel. Spring flowers were abundantly employed on the resplendent table.

In the near future, in all probability the 18th, the Keelers are to give a large dinner party for their guest.

In Farewell.

Miss Dorothy Crumley, a petite Los Angeles High School student, entertained yesterday at her home, No. 2283 West Twenty-first street, with an informal card party as a farewell to Mrs. Thomas Campbell Tinsman, a recent bride and formerly Miss La Vere Bate. The hostess was assisted by Miss Ethelwyn Kendall, also a schoolmate. The decorations were

Beautiful Hair Tinting

Nothing so robs a woman of her good looks and attractiveness as gray, streaked or faded hair. And there is no more reason or sense in tolerating unattractive hair than there is in wearing unbecoming gowns.

The one hair stain that stands supreme is "Brownatone." It is simple and easy to use. No mixing. Just comb or brush it into your hair. It can not be detected, will not rub or wash off, acts instantly, and is absolutely harmless.

"Brownatone" will give any shade desired—from light golden brown to black.

Your druggist sells "Brownatone," or will get it for you. A sample and a booklet will be mailed you upon receipt of 10 cents, and your orders will be filled direct from our laboratories if you prefer. Mention shade desired.

Two sizes—25c and $1.00.

Insist on "Brownatone" at your hairdresser's.

SOCIETY.

most effective in green and white, and among those bidden were Miss Madaleine O'Kelley, Miss Eleanor Paul, Miss Elsia Gonzales, Miss Jean McNaughten, Miss Margaret McNichols, Miss Madeline Dolfinger, Miss Phyllis Grant, Miss Margaret Josenhaus, Miss Ariel Richardson, Miss Sadie Jessup, Miss Alma Grundy, Miss Mary Alice Miller, Miss Aleta Bennett, Miss Mildred Prather and Miss Elsie Ingram.

For Mrs. Gage and Guest.

Mrs. Lyman J. Gage and Miss Helene Richards of San Diego are guests of Mrs. B. C. Sutton of No. 1718 Middleton place. In their honor a violet luncheon of artistic setting was given by their hostess yesterday, among others present being Sarah Truax, the gifted actress and longtime friend of Mrs. Sutton, and Mrs. O. P. Davis.

Leap Year Party.

Four times as grand was the juvenile party given for little Malcome Eversole, son of Dr. Henry O. and Mrs. Eversole (who was Mary Clark) the afternoon of February 29, by his adoring aunt, Miss Lucy M. Clark, at the Clark home, No. 9 St. James Park. For, born on leap year, it so happened that this was the very first birthday the manly laddy could rightfully claim in a whole four years. So the important occasion demanded that much had to be made up by reason of former omissions, necessitated by the calendar. Now a first birthday party is always an event, particularly when one has four whole years of companionship with certain girl and boy childhood pals who are asked in to help celebrate, and Master Malcome proved equal to the happy task. It is true, the mothers of the sweet little guests were bidden, too, and that made the play all the gayer and merrier. When time came for supper, following a romp and teetering and spring-board play and all manner of wondrous games, the future buds and weighty financiers were seated for dainty refreshments at one long, low table in comfortable small chairs, pink and white flowers vieing in beauty with the human garden of children. Miss Clark proved that she knew just what a proper supper is in Childom, and everything best liked was included in the menus. The attendants averaged about 4 years of age, and numbered Clara Wheeler, Virginia McFie, Gertrude Louise Johnson, Jane McNaughten, Kate Ridgeway, Eleanor Logan, "Teedie" Coffey, Kelly Anthony, Harold Cook, Jr., Harry Logan, J. Ross Clark, III, Boddy Sallsbury, Billy Graves, Jr., and St. Claire Lott.

Mrs. Strong to Entertain.

Mrs. S. W. Strong of No. 721 South Bonnie Brae street will entertain as guests the members of the Pine Forest Whist Club with luncheon at Cafe Beautiful, Hamburger's, the coming week. Ladies of the coterie are Mrs. Viola Jeffries, president; Mrs. David Meekins, treasurer; Mrs. Rockwell, secretary, and Mmes. Morgan, Klous, Wagoner, Suber, Morehouse, Copp, Sylvester, Pascoe, Matthay, Gruber, McArthur, Hughes, Snow, Scott, Murphy, Fuller and Dick. Whist will follow.

Box-party Supper.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Emmett Whitley were hosts at a box party last evening. The gala performance of the opera and ballet Russe was followed by supper at the new Pig'n Whistle. Here table decorations of pansies and maidenhair fern had been tastily arranged to form a beautiful background for the unique place cards of Pavlowa in dancing poses. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Eltinge T. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Edward Bliss, Mr. and Mrs. John Gillman Blystone, Mr. and Mrs. Standish Low Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Cass, John Fowler Andrews, John Cobb MacFarland and Brant Freeman Elliott.

For Club Members.

The midweek bridge tournament of the Sierra Madre Club for members and their friends took place Tuesday evening in the ladies dining-room, with more than twenty-five couples participating. Prizes were won by Mr. and Mrs. Madison Morrell, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Swanwick, George E. Bentel and Mrs. B. F. Blinn and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hammond Beall.

The opening spring dinner dance at the Sierra Madre Club will be held next Saturday evening in the Dutch ballroom of the club's headquarters. The Entertainment Committee is arranging to make this a highly unusual event and reservations already indicate that it will be extremely well attended.

It was definitely decided this week by the Entertainment Committee of the Sierra Madre Club to hold the annual outing of members and their friends at the Hotel Potter, Santa Barbara, during the last four days of May. The club's pilgrimage to the seaside city last summer will be remembered with much pleasure by those who attended and the committee plans to have even a greater attendance on this excursion. As before, the club will have its own special train with tango, bridge and observation car. The Hotel Potter will be the organization's headquarters and arrangements have already been made with Milo M. Potter, its proprietor, for staging an unusual number of entertainment features for the visitors.

Wed in Chapel.

Lines were spoken by Father Conaty at 8 o'clock last Monday morning, which united in marriage Miss Minnie Mathias, a winsome young girl of much charm, and Edward Francis Cline, the ceremony being conducted at the Little Cathedral Chapel. The bride was attired in white taffeta and a veil thrown from the face was bound with a fillet of orange blossoms. The costume was completed with a bridal shower of lilies of the valley. Mrs. Howard Moehle, herself a bride of the week, was the only attendant, assisting as matron of honor. She was frocked in an old-fashioned ruffled pink-and-white striped gown, with trimmings of iridescent beads. Her slippers and stockings were of silver and she carried a golden basket filled with pink rosebuds. Mack Sennett assisted as best man.

In the evening Mr. Sennett entertained with a wonderful dinner-dance, complimenting Mr. and Mrs. Cline, to which 400 invitations were extended. During the evening Mr. Cline was asked to cut a huge wedding cake, from which an erupting volcano showered hundreds of little cupids about the room. Another feature was the grand march circling around the young couple, when Mr. Murray, in behalf of the Keystone Company presented Mr. Cline with a personal check for $150, and Mrs. Cline a personal check from Mr. Sennet for $50. A continuous vaudeville performance was also provided, the actors responding from the various theaters in Los Angeles.

Upon their return from their wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Cline will reside in Los Angeles.

Church Wedding.

One of the most impressive church weddings of the year was solemnized at St. Agnes Church the morning of the 4th inst., when Miss Ethel Stimson, the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Melvin Stimson, No. 2011 Fourth avenue, became Mrs. Harold Moehle. The ceremony was performed by Father Maloney at high noon, before relatives only.

The bride wore her traveling suit—a chic blue French serge tailleur, with trimmings of white. A large white picture hat, white top shoes and a huge corsage of bride's roses, lilies of the valley and fern fronds tied with showers of tulle ribbon completed the picturesque costume. Miss Naomi Stimson assisted her sister as maid of honor, and was stunning in a quaint old-fashioned frock of rose Georgette crepe with a hat to harmonize. Riley Moehle, a brother, stood with the groom.

That evening the father of the bride complimented the young couple with a dinner at Levy's, at which covers were laid for twelve. The board showed floral decorations of pale yellow—a bed of jonquils nestling in ferns, topped with huge bows of tulle. Candles in silver holders shed a soft light beneath their dainty shades of silk, and the water-color name cards were adorned with jonquils.

Mr. and Mrs. Moehle are now on a belated honeymoon trip, delayed because Mrs. Moehle waited to assist as matron of honor at the wedding of Miss Minnie Mathias to Edward Francis Cline, last Monday morning. In the interim they occupied the bridal bungalow at Beverly Hills. After April 1 they will be at home to their many friends at No. 1624 Hudson avenue, Hollywood.

St. Patrick Motif.

The decorative motif of the tea tables over which Mrs. Edward S. Butterworth presided at her home on Orange street, Thursday afternoon was reminiscent of St. Patrick and was particularly dainty. Shamrocks, pipes, hanging baskets of ferns, and showers of white carnations were used about the rooms, and the lights were shaded in green. The Emerald Isle was depicted on the cards, where scores were kept for games of Five Hundred, preceding the high tea, prizes being awarded to Mmes. Mann and Marxmiller. Those included were Mrs. Charles Mann, Mrs. Thomas Powell, Mrs. B. I. Price, Mrs. W. Wilson, Mrs. W. Stevens, Mrs. D. Dodds, Mrs. Fred Long, Mrs. C. F. Norton, Mrs. H. Barthelmew, Mrs. Don Porter, Mrs. P. Young and Mrs. Harry G. Marxmiller. The hostess was by her mother, Mrs. H. F. and this was the last of a pleasurable affairs given by charming hostess.

by buying this "Handy Volume" issue at $58.88, instead of paying $166.75 for exactly the same reading matter, illustrations and maps, in the larger-volume Cambridge University issue; or you can pay $1.00 down and $3.00 a month for a short time at a slightly higher price. Besides the difference in price the only difference is in size: the "Handy Volume" is 8⅜ inches high and 6½ inches deep. Both issues are one inch thick and in both there are 29 volumes to the set, 41,000 articles in all, 44,000,000 words, 15,000 maps and illustrations.

You'll Save Money By Buying Now instead of waiting until later on, because the present sale will not last much longer. Prices will soon have to advance. The publishers, after the present stock is gone, cannot supply more sets to sell at present prices. Manufacturing costs and costs of raw materials have advanced so much that the cost to make the sets of this "Handy Volume" is greatly increased. The end of the sale will soon be announced. Then the price to the public will be very materially advanced.

You Can Leave Your Order in our book department. You can see actual sets of the "Handy Volume" Britannica there; can examine print, paper, pictures, bindings; can compare the small-volume issue with the Cambridge set—and see for yourself what you are getting.

SOCIETY.

donned their same clever costumes Friday night, while the many distinguished out-of-town people at the hotel who were not in on the bachelors' dance had the fun for the first time in one week, at least. The costumes varied from handsome oriental things to character portrayals which required acting as well as appearance to carry out the part. A unique feature of the evening was exhibition dancing by little Lena Baskette, the 8-year-old child whose interpretative work is making a reputation for her. Several beautiful dances by the talented child were interspersed through the regular programme and greatly enjoyed by the guests. Dancing was restricted to those in costume until 10:30, after which many who up to that time had enjoyed being spectators joined the gaily-garbed throng, the ballroom then presenting a picture of many climes, many colors and many periods, present-day styles being rivaled by the picturesque attire of almost every other generation.

Mr. and Mrs. George A. Barraclough entertained at dinner at the hotel preceding the fancy-dress ball. Their guests were Mr. and Mrs. La Fon Brinker, Mr. and Mrs. Paul W. Quimby, Mr. and Mrs. W. Ross Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. O. Winnpenny, Mr. and Mrs. William Wyatt, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Ramish, Dr. and Mrs. William Hutchason and Mr. and Mrs. William Rightmire.

Miss Angelita Phillips, the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Phillips, also entertained a party of ten of her young friends from town at the dinner. The Phillips have recently closed their home in town and established themselves at the hotel for an indefinite period.

Luncheon Party.

Pleasant among the week's social happenings was the luncheon over which Mrs. E. J. Cook presided Friday, her guests being received at her home, No. 1155 Elden avenue.

At Mt. Washington.

For the luncheon which had for hosts Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Adams at Mt. Washington Hotel, Wednesday, Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Hatch, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Jones, Mrs. John Means, Mrs. William T. Brown and William Dickey were bidden. Cards furnished a happy diversion during the afternoon.

Altruistic.

Monday evening at St. Vincent's library members of the El Hogar Feliz Society gave a card party to raise funds for carrying on the settlement work at their place at No. 1449 North Main street. Peach and acacia blossoms decked the rooms, where were scattered small tables for nearly 200 players, and a group of attractive young girls served punch. The ladies have need of more workers and by the card parties create added interest and support.

St. Patrick Celebration.

The season's social gaieties will reach their height at the Los Angeles Athletic Club next Friday evening when the clubmen and their guests will gather for the much-heralded St. Patrick's Day dance and dinner. It is expected this dance will be especially notable for the number of private dinner parties, numerous well-known clubmen having arranged to entertain friends that night. The dance will be under the auspices of the "Mayor of Rowansburg" and his "Cabinet."

One of the larger dinner parties that night will be in the blue room, where Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Henchey of the Rampart will entertain about thirty friends. An incomplete list of their guests includes Dr. and Mrs. George H. Kress, Mr. and Mrs. Norman A. Heath, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Worthington, Dr. and Mrs. A. F. Godin, Mr. and Mrs. K. C. Mooers, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Finney, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Burgner, Mrs. O. C. Vandermark, A. B. Titus, Miss I. G. Sanford, Mrs. H. J. Fowler.

Others to entertain will be Mr. and Mrs. John F. Powers, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. C. Tatum, Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Bergin, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Barman, Jr, J. Walter Kays, Mr. and Mrs. William Beamish, L. V. Starr. Through the dining-room and other parts of the clubhouse, the color scheme will be green. Dancing will be from 9 o'clock until a late hour.

Several unusually attractive luncheons and dinners have added to the life of the club in the week just closed. Two enjoyable luncheon parties were given Friday, the hosts being W. W. Mines and W. J. Hunsaker. Mr. Mines entertained for twelve in the English room, and Mr. Hunsaker in the Sheritan room for four. J. C. Mondough was host at a luncheon Saturday for seven friends. This was given in the Sheritan room.

The activities in the ladies' annex gave that attractive section a gay appearance all week. Among those who entertained at luncheon were Mrs. Frank Ryan, Preston B. Byles, J. H. Lashbrook, Mrs. Thomas H. Ince, Mrs. F. C. Rounds, Mrs. G. R. Wilton, A. T. Bartlett, Mrs. Scott F. Sheldon, Mrs. Thomas A. Cole, Mrs. Fred V. Small, Mrs. W. H Roberts, Mrs G. D Edmonds, Mrs. Elfred Stern, H. E. Bellamy, G. Allan Hancock, Mrs. R. R. Deming, Col. J. B. Lankershim, G. Harold Janeway, Mrs. Don Morgan, Miss I. G. Sanford, Mrs. L. B. Carr, J. W. Bryson, C. P. Homan, Mrs. Frank Price, Mrs. E. W. Hopperstead, H. D. Ryus, Thomas R. Lamb, Mrs. Paul Harwood, Mrs. O. T. Snyder, Mrs. E. S. Skinner, M. J. Reynolds, Mrs. D. J. Frink, H. H. Braly, Mrs. A. L. Macleish, Mrs. F. C. Kingsbury, Mrs. J. Charles Harris, Harry M. Voorhees, Mrs. C. H. Whitman.

Lunch at Mt. Washington.

At luncheon at Mt. Washington as guests of Mrs. E. Farley Thursday were Mmes. L. L. Luttrey, Ella R. Potter, C. M. Trephagen, M. G. Hawken, E. C. Steene, S. V. Coulter, F. B. Sanford and J. Lecusson. The latter gave added enjoyment with piano numbers.

Editor is Guest.

Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Locke of Beverly Hills have as their house guest Mr. Locke's brother, Robinson Locke of Toledo, editor of the Toledo Blade. The Lockes are entertaining informally for their interesting guest. At a recent dinner party Mr. and Mrs. Tyrone Power and Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Hunnewell were those especially bidden to meet Mr. Locke.

Marshalltown Birthday Club.

At her home, No. 1657 Fifth avenue, Thursday, Mrs. B. A. Rhoades was luncheon hostess to members of the Marshalltown (Iowa) Birthday Club who are now living in either this city or Pasadena, or who happen to be visiting in the Southland. Mrs. Marion Welsh and Mrs. F. F. Kaufmann of this city, and Mrs. James Hall and Mrs. C. C. Binford of Pasadena assisted. A profusion of Enchantress carnations decked the dining table, while the library and living-room were in potted bird of paradise, baskets of freesias and blooming hyacinths and the hall showed jardinieres of lilies. The guests, besides members of the club, were Mrs. R. H. Bailey and Mrs. F. K. Ausfalel of Colton, Mmes. J. T. Upson, H. A. Church, Harry Church, Jr., C. C. Cottle, Charles G. Rhoades, S. W. Morgan, W. T. Johnston, R. H. Whinery, F. L. McKain, L. Parker, C. K. Gentry, Miss Grace Dering of Los Angeles; Mmes L. C. Norris and E. T. Palmer of Hollywood; Mrs. George Marsh, Glendale; Mrs. J. R. Shoudy, Hamilton, Mont.; Mmes. John Lander, Grace Lander Arnold, Rose Lander, G. W. McNelly and J. L. Carney of Marshalltown.

May Build for Winter Home.

Miss Amelia T. Stephens and her mother, Mrs. B. J. Stephens of Madison, Wis., arrived yesterday to spend the remainder of the season in Los Angeles. Mrs. Stephens and her charming daughter have not been here for several years, but they have many friends who will remember their former visits. The Stephens are at the Beverly Hills Hotel, where they have numerous eastern friends. On a previous visit Mrs. Stephens purchased a beautiful homesite in Beverly Hills, and may decide at this time that she will erect a home and at least spend the winter months here each year.

Baby Daughter.

With delight will the friends of Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt H. Mitchell of No. 697 South Serrano street learn of the arirval Sunday, last, of a fine baby daughter. Mrs. Mitchell was prior to marriage Miss Adelaide Pellissier.

To Wed in Turkey.

News from far-off Turkey of the coming marriage of a Southern California man, Cass A. Reed, who is a graduate of Pomona College, class of 1906, has caused a flutter of excitement among the many friends and acquaintances of the young man in Los Angeles and Southern California. He is now dean of the International College at Smyrna and is to marry Miss Rosalind McLaughlin, daughter of the president of the college.

Since his graduation from Pomona College, young Mr. Reed has had a remarkable career. He first went to Japan as a missionary teacher. Returning three years later he volunteered for life service in mission fields and was assigned to Turkey, where, it is reported, he is doing a wonderful work. Last October he was appointed dean of the college and, during these tragic times, he has stood firmly against the pressure of the Turkish government, which sought to banish the college unless it should abolish its rule that all students should attend and share in the religious service in the chapel. The young dean boldly declared that, rather than do this they would surrender the college itself and, up to date, although the government has threatened to close the [illegible] college is going on with [illegible]

Quartette Enjoys Southland.

Mrs. E. W. Shirk of Pasadena, Mrs. A. J. Webster and Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Kimberly of Redlands are spending the week at the Beverly Hills Hotel, from which point the party is enjoying motoring trips, particularly beachward.

Club Entertained.

Mmes. Alfred Bradley, W. H. [illegible], H. Acres, J. Crisp, K. Dossey, [illegible] Wright, C. D. Wagner, C. [illegible] Schultz, Ebey, Sanders, Acres of Pomona and E. J. Phillippi, comprising La Cercle d'Accord Club, were recently guests of Mrs. Dossey. Mrs. Alfred Bradley will next entertain.

Announcement.

A New York newspaper of [illegible] will contain an announcement of the engagement of Miss Mildred [illegible] Campbell of No. 51 North Washington street, Tarrytown, N. Y., to Hamilton C. Platt, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Platt of No. 162 [illegible] Sidney avenue, Mt. Vernon, N. Y.

Miss Campbell is the younger daughter of the late Rev. Dr. Campbell, for five years pastor of the [illegible] Methodist Episcopal Church of Los Angeles, the present building having been purchased during his pastorate. Miss Campbell is a native daughter, born at No. 931 [illegible] street in 1894. She is a charming young woman, educated at the [illegible] School at Briarcliff-Manor, New York, and Centenary Collegiate Institute, Hackettstown, N. J.

The engagement is announced by the bride-elect's mother, Mrs. J. [illegible] Campbell, who has resided in Tarrytown since Dr. Campbell's passing two years ago. All the family have a large circle of friends in this city who will learn of the news with special interest.

No date is yet set for the wedding.

At Beverly.

Mrs. George Sheehan, society [illegible] of Seattle, arrived in Los Angeles Friday and is domiciled at the Beverly Hills Hotel. Being especially well known here, Mrs. Sheehan will be extensively entertained during her stay.

Others who have joined the colony out at Beverley are Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence C. Phipps and two [illegible] children from Pittsburgh. The former is a steel magnate and here on vacation bent.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Black, prominent in the younger married set of San Francisco, have come from [illegible]lo, where they have of late been [illegible]ing, and will occupy an apartment at the hotel for the next few months.

Mr. and Mrs. Phil Lyon of Los Angeles, who, some time ago, closed their town house and moved with their two attractive kiddies to Beverly Hotel, have as house guests Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Fields of New York City.

Dine Before Ball.

Miss Ruth Kellogg and Mrs. [illegible] Kellogg of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Roberts, Miss Anna Roberts of Spokane, Wilbur Collins of [illegible] Mich., and a few of their friends formed one of the jolly tables at the dinner before the charity ball at the Hotel Virginia last Saturday evening.

Recent Bridge Function.

Jonquils were used by Mrs. [illegible] B. McLin for the bridge party given Friday of last week at her apartment in the Mathias. The hostess is from Wisconsin and many of her guests are from the Badger State, including Mmes. H. E. Nickerson, [illegible] P. Morris, E. E. DueFour, E. P. [illegible]bour, J. L. Bannister, G. L. Tomorrow the First Day of the Special

Exhibit and Selling Of Sports Apparel for Women

—Ready bright and early with more than a thousand different garments for sports and practical wear—and of a quality by no means to be found elsewhere in any such an assortment.

Ready With Fine and Stylish Sports Suits
Ready With Specially Selected Sports Coats
Ready With Striking Sports Skirts
Ready With Clever New Sports Millinery
Ready With Serviceable Sports Blouses
Ready With Riding Habits

—The magnitude of the apparel orders placed by this store make it possible for us to impose larger requirements than any other. We can have from the designers better selections of patterns for sport wear, better selections of colors, we can have better workmanship, we can have better styles and have them earlier. And, above all these things, we can have lower prices.

Better Styles at Lower Prices

There's the whole story—and so important a story that we've arranged this special showing for you to see tomorrow.

Sport Suits of Many Kinds and Materials, $25.00

—You will find quite a number among them that are copies of some very high-priced sport styles from the best makers in New York City.

—First come those of fashionable Jersey cloth in white, rose, Copenhagen, green, silver gray, gold, etc., in plain tailored and Norfolk styles. Then come striking plaids and black and white in combinations of green, tan and blue. Also sport suits of white gabardine and whipcord, navy serges, and serges in striking color combinations.

For Street and Every Day Wear

—Sports suits are not to be confused with styles that are only good for the country club, golf links or tennis courts; women like them so well that they buy them for more practical every-day wear for street, for shopping and for calling. Sports styles are practical styles at the New York.

Coats of Many Kinds and Styles, $14.75 to $35

—They are the styles a woman likes to slip over her shoulders when she sits on the porch of a country club, when she takes a morning motor ride, and there are styles that women are buying to wear over little evening dresses on the way home from informal dancing parties, etc.

—Wool jersey, chinchillas, corduroys, Angora cloth, most of them cut on loose-fitting lines; large patch pockets, shawl collars and many different kinds of buttons.

Riding Habits

—A very complete collection both for "astride" and "side saddle" use. One of the newest is a three-piece habit that has a separate skirt draped over the breeches so that it may be used for any type of saddle. Prices are $25, $29.50, $35 up to $65.

Sport Hats $5 Up

—Including a first showing of Panamas, the most ideal of sport hats. There are Vogue sport hats, too, with awning striped straws to match sport skirts in all shades. Also Java straws in all colors with fancy silk trimming.

New Sport Blouses at $2.95 to $5.75

—Women like the Sans Gene sport shirt at $5 best of all because the material washes like crepe de chine and looks so well, it is very different.

—There are striped crepe de chine blouses for sport wear, too. One very good model has box pleats and a pocket and convertible collar.

Corduroy and Wash Skirts for Sport Wear, $3.95 to $7.50

—Ordered six months ago. A fact that accounts in a large measure for the unusually good quality that is to be had at these small prices. Separate skirts have suddenly become so popular that prices in the market are much higher now.

—Awning striped skirts in rose, green, and blue with white, corduroy plain striped and checked in all shades. Pockets, belts and buttons feature the trimmings.

Nemo NEWS

Devoted to the HEALTH, COMFORT and BEAUTY of WOMEN

You Say This?

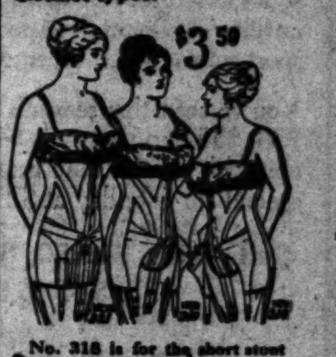
THOUSANDS of women who read this soliloquy will recognize it as their own:

"Yes, I cling to the Nemo because I have found a Nemo model that fits as though it were made for me, and because the Nemo is a REAL corset—never faddish or freaky.

"Of course Nemo fashion-lines change with the fashions; but the Nemo hygienic features never change—except when they're improved. I always know just what corset-service I am getting.

"Besides, I have found that the Nemo Corset will wear twice as long as any other."

There is a Nemo model for every type of figure, short or tall; stout, thin or medium. Here is a group of popular Nemo Corsets for stout women of three distinct types:



No. 318 is for the short stout woman, heavy abdomen; No. 319 is for the stout woman of medium height, flesh evenly distributed; and No. 321 is for taller stout figures. All Ego-Shape models, that fit without alteration—$3.50.

Special Stout Models

Each Nemo Corset performs some specific service for some particular type of figure. That's why you MUST get the model suited to YOUR figure, if you are to enjoy real Nemo corset-contentment.

These are two models for two different types of stout figure—both NEMO, but quite different. If one "just suits" you, you may be sure the other will not:

403 For women with full abdomen, and much flesh evenly distributed. Nemo Relief Bands take up, support and reduce the abdomen at once and permanently........ $4.00

No. 402 is a similar model, for short, stocky figures; and No. 405 is for tall, stately stout women—$4.00.

506 For women with much flesh, rather soft; full back and shoulders, incurved back, heavy thighs and buttocks. The elastic gores and bands comfortably persuade the flesh into even, shapely lines. A very popular model........ $5.00

No. 508 is a similar model for taller figures of same type—$5.00.

There is a Nemo model made just for YOU.

Mrs. A. Roos of San Francisco was the hostess at a beautifully appointed bridge luncheon given at the Hotel Raymond, where she is domiciled, the other day. Nine tables were placed for the players and later a tempting collation was served at the same tables, which were made spring-like with bowls of jonquils.

At a wedding ceremony of simple appointments Miss Grace B. Old and Wilber E. Oliver were married recently at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Anna Myler of Altadena. Rev. Robert Freeman officiated. Mr. and Mrs. Oliver will make their home at No. 1309 Lexington avenue, Altadena.

The St. Patrick's ball to be given at Hotel Green on March 17 promises to be a smart event. Favors will be given the guests and will include potted shamrocks which, it is said, have been ordered from Ireland.

As a fitting farewell to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Chambers, who have gone to Chino to make their home, Mr. and F. S. Williams and Mr. and Mrs. Warren Harbill entertained a few evenings ago at the Williams home, No. 1175 East Villa street. The guests present included intimate friends of the honorees.

Miss Rowena Stevenson entertained recently at her home, No. 1877 North Los Robles avenue, with a St. Patrick party. The decorations and refreshments carried out the St. Patrick motif. Her guests included Misses Emma Fretz, Marjorie Brown, Ruth Carlson, Marion Curtis, Lois Dunbar, Ruby Gray, Hazel Hall, Beryl Hill, Edna and Marian Hollingshead, Gertrude Miller, Pearl Newkirk, Helen Ogden, Pellia Painter, Wilhelmina and Helen Pollard, Maybelle Sackett, Elsie Siebenlist, Agnes Somerville, Nyra Smith, Rowena Stevenson, Iskah Thrall and Mrs. Beulah Hawkins.

At a wedding ceremony of simple, though beautiful, appointments, Miss Ella B. Michel and W. Ellis Macey were married at St. Mark's Episcopal Church last Tuesday evening. Rev. A. L. Hall, the rector, officiated. The bride's only attendant was her sister, Miss Edna Michel, who wore a becoming frock of dark blue taffeta with white accessories. Dewitt Macey was his brother's best man. The bride wore a street costume of dark blue cloth with a white hat.

The guests at the Raymond Hotel enjoyed a delightfully infomal dancing party last Wednesday evening. Among those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Brandt, Misses Grace and Florence Kelsey, Verity, Angel, Skinner and Barnard, Messrs. Seward Simons, James McBride, James Clapp, Charles Stimson, David Brant and Brant Elliott.

The feature of the novel "balloon" supper dance at the Hotel Huntington Wednesday evening was the cubic polka by Jerry O'Moore and his partner, Marie Border. Their costumes were most striking and Jerry especially made the hit of the season with his original style and his charming grace. His numbers were conceded by all to be the best on the bill that night, and his dancing the best seen in Pasadena this winter. There were many supper parties. Among the number entertaining were Baroness Pardee, Mrs. R. M. Weyerhaeuser, Col. French, Mrs. J. C. Hudson, Mrs. Charles Pardee, Eric Kobbe and numerous others.

At a pretty home wedding Miss Gail Harris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Harris of No. 458 East Orange Grove avenue, was married to William Lieberg Thursday evening in the presence of relatives and intimate friends. Miss Lenore Ong was maid of honor and Guy Harris served as best man. Rev. W. H. Deer officiated.

South Pasadena.

SOCIALLY, South Pasadena has been enveloped in a vast and holy calm during the past week. The warmness of the weather is blamed by some for the very noticeable slacking off in social activities, others see in the opening of Lent the primary cause of this peculiar condition. After a joyous winter period of frequent festivities the reaction has set in; the socially-inclined are now enjoying an era of respite.

The Beati Hora coterie was entertained on Friday by Mrs. I. L. Spencer of Monterey road with a daintily-appointed St. Patrick's Day luncheon. As is usual with all celebrations commemorating Ireland's patron saint, the decorations were in green. Various members of the congenial group entertained during the afternoon with readings from various Hibernian authors. Members present were Mrs. Elizabeth Breed, Mrs. Charles E. Carver, Mrs. D. A. Hamilton, Mrs. Wilbur J. Filley, Mrs. Edna Harter, Mrs. Mary A. Godfrey, Mrs. H. A. Kealer, Mrs. Mary Parsons Gates, Mrs. Don F. Gates, Mrs. Charles C. Gates, Mrs. Martin MacQuigg, Mrs. Florence Reber, Mrs. Marcus Godfrey and Mrs. Schermerhorn.

Miss Helen Pierce of Monterey road and Stratford avenue was hostess on Saturday at an informal afternoon tea given in honor of a few intimates. Her guests were the Misses Gladys Thacker, Violet Lacy, Marjorie

For Rough, Wrinkled, Freckled, Pimpled Skin.

As March winds, flying dust and dirt, are apt to injure any complexion, this information will be of special value right now. If you have any cutaneous blemish, don't use paint, powder or anything else to cover it up. Too often this only emphasizes the defect. Besides, it's much easier to remove the disfigurement with ordinary mercolized wax. Applied nightly, the wax will gradually remove freckles, pimples, moth patches, sallowness, red or yellow blotches or any surface eruption. The affected cuticle is absorbed, a little each day, until the clear, soft, youthful and beautiful skin beneath is brought wholly to view. Ask the druggist for one ounce of mercolized wax and use this like you use cold cream. Remove in morning with soap and water. Many who have tried this simple, harmless treatment report astonishing results.

If bothered with wrinkles or furrows, a wash lotion made by dissolving 1 oz. powdered saxolite in ½-pint witch hazel will prove wonderfully effective.

The Remarkable Experience of Mrs. Anna Johnson, 1232 E. 28th st., Los Angeles, Cal. She was Ordered to the Hospital to Have One Kidney Removed.

The ambulance was ready to take her to the hospital, and sympathizing friends were around weeping, as they feared the results, it being necessary for her to undergo a dangerous operation. The devoted daughter and friends, seeing the poor chances for her recovery, interfered and refused to allow the mother to go. As a last resort a bottle of McBURNEY'S KIDNEY AND BLADDER MEDICINE was purchased, one dose of which relieved her. Another dose was administered and the patient was improving. From the weak and emaciated condition the patient realized her improvement, and soon McBURNEY'S KIDNEY AND BLADDER CURE raised Mrs. Johnson from the deathbed of sickness, and today she is a well woman.

Inclose 25c in stamps to W. F. McBurney's Medicine Co., 2007 S. Vermont Ave., Los Angeles, Cal., and secure sample bottle, together with the history of medicine and testimonials. Express prepaid on receipt of price, $1.50. For sale by druggists. Established 20 years.

Combing Won't Rid Hair of Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.

Gillies, Frances Jacobs, Adele and Marie Axtman.

Yellow jonquils in profusion formed the attractive decorations of the attractive home at No. 622 Milan avenue, where Mrs. Frank Rush entertained with a luncheon on Friday. Sewing, fancy work and cards formed the pleasure of the afternoon. Those bidden were Mrs. Claude E. Neihart, Mrs. Charles Anderson, Mrs. John B. Merrill, Mrs. Earl Wise, Mrs. Charles Macdowell, Mrs. J. P. Johnson, Mrs. Stephen J. Van Meter and Miss Alva Gardner, with Miss Louise Grebst of Illinois as a special guest.

Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus H. K. Curtis of Philadelphia were the guests on Saturday of Mrs. E. L. B. Godfrey of No. 1139 Mound avenue. A motor trip to Riverside occupied most of the day. Mr. Curtis is internationally known as the president of the largest magazine publishing corporation in the world.

On Saturday evening William Weldon of No. 2455 Fletcher avenue entertained fellow-members of the high school senior class with a barbecue dinner at his father's ranch near El Monte. Nearly fifty young people partook of the pleasures of this affair.

Coming as a surprise to the college and high school set here, the marriage of Richard H. Gilman, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Gilman of No. 1514 Oxley street, and Miss Genevieve Boone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Boone of No. 1110 Glendon way, was solemnized in Los Angeles on Tuesday. The affair was a quiet one, only a few immediate friends of the bride and groom being present. Mr. and Mrs. Gilman, Jr., will make their home on a ranch near Arcadia owned by the elder Gilman.

Mrs. R. A. Thompson of No. 812 Brent avenue entertained a few friends with an afternoon of bridge on Tuesday.

A jolly coterie of young people were guests on Saturday at a well-arranged progressive dinner party. Miss Elizabeth Couts, Miss Gertrude Germshausen and Miss Vera Rogers were the successive hostesses. Those included in the affair were the Misses Mary Fisher, Marian Knox, Marian Brahams, Isabella Hazlett, Iva Stanford, Alice Dewar, Lucille Sperling, Louise McCormick, Kate Merrill, Veda Vestal, Florence Sutton, Gertrude Garmshausen, Olive Wheaton, Elizabeth Coutts, Ida Uzell and Elizabeth Siddall.

Eagle Rock.

ON TUESDAY last Mrs. Thomas J. Carey of North Central avenue entertained at luncheon in honor of her aunt, Mrs. Harry Howard of Oskaloosa, Iowa. A dainty three-course luncheon was served to Mrs. H. Howard, Mrs. G. F. Howard, Mrs. Elizabeth Carey, Mrs. R. R. Henderson and Mrs. Robert F. Howard of Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Henderson entertained a number of Iowa friends last Sunday afternoon and evening. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Lee Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Will Wilson and Miss Belle Smith, all of Washington, Iowa.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Young entertained on Wednesday evening at their beautiful home on Rock Glen avenue at a family dinner in honor of Prof. and Mrs. W. J. Cook.

Dr. and Mrs. Ellison of North Kenilworth avenue entertained at dinner last Sunday evening. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Harl of Oklahoma and the Misses Gault of Highland Park.

Mrs. S. S. Rhodes of East Park avenue gave a tea Sunday evening, and the guests were Mrs. Alice Winters and her cousin, Miss Taggert of Los Angeles, and Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Perry.

Miss Mabel Williams of Springfield, Ill., and Mr. V. Rickerts of Nevada were week-end guests of the Rev. and Mrs. Martin Post.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Ferdon had as week-end guests their daughter, Mrs. James Ferdon, and Miss Rhea Ferdon of Hollywood.

Mrs. F. A. Miller of West Sycamore avenue gave a tea on Friday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Sophia Lyons Fahs who leaves shortly for her home in New Jersey.

Colton.

PEACH blossoms and pink carnations were used attractively in decking the P. C. Corrall home on Saturday afternoon when Mrs. A. E. LaMoreaux entertained with a charmingly-appointed auction bridge party. After the card play, elaborate refreshments were served in which the pink color note was emphasized. Guests enjoying Mrs. LaMoreaux's hospitality included Mmes. D. W. Willets, R. H. Summers, R. L. Riley, A. E. Copeland, Samuel Andrews, D. G. Thomas, G. H. Jantzen, E. G. Palmer, T. C. Lanier, C. C. Johnson, A. S. Lewis, and the Misses Bessie Topp, Julia Parnell, Hannah Hughes and Florence Felton.

As a courtesy to Mrs. W. L. Rohrer of San Diego, who is visiting among Colton and San Bernardino relatives, Mrs. E. O. Stark was hostess on Monday afternoon to a company of former schoolmates of the honor guest. Masses of jonquils were used decoratively in the several rooms and for a beautifully-laid luncheon table whose smart accessories accentuated the yellow motif. Very happily Mrs. Rohrer participated in a reunion with Mrs. James Stoliker, Mrs. M. A. Bausch, Mrs. W. B. McGregor, Mrs. L. C. Newcomer, Mrs. Ralph Bailey, Mrs. W. R. Ellery, Mrs. B. F. Hopkins, Mrs. Hardesty of Los Angeles, Mrs. W. C. McCully and Mrs. Fred Roberts of Corona and Mrs. W. S. Shepardson of San Bernardino. Mrs. Richard Ellery, Jr., assisted in receiving.

Recognizing the approach of St. Patrick's Day, a green and white theme was very prettily carried out in house decorations and refreshment service by Miss Bessie Topp of the Terrace Villa, who entertained the Tuesday Afternoon Card Club. The company to play for the trophy of the auction bridge tournament included Mrs. Jacob Bohlander, Mrs. A. S. Lewis, Mrs. C. C. Johnson, Mrs. B. F. Hopkins, Mrs. Walter Hunsacher, Mrs. E. F. Van Luven, Mrs Swackhamer, Mrs. E. O. Stark, Mrs. S. L. Strock, Mrs. Grace Garner and Mrs. J. B. Dale of San Bernardino.

Mrs. Leslie Worthen, formerly Miss Erma Rowsey, was the honoree of a delightful little postnuptial attention given Wednesday by Miss Thelma Isbell and Mrs. Palmer Willets at the home of the latter. Scores of red hearts were employed to indicate a bridal atmosphere, while an inverted red parasol held the "shower" of mysterious gift packages as well as a deluge of red rose petals for the young bride. Numbered as guests were the Misses Ida and Ethel Paul, Elizabeth Ebert, Evelyn and Helen Harper, Edna Gorrall, Irene Schachleiter, Alta Rowsey, Dorothy Blum, Jessica Prindle, Ellen Corlett and Mrs. John Miller.

Hostesses at a Japanese tea on Tuesday afternoon in the library basement as a benefit for the Pastor's Aid Society of the First Presbyterian Church were Mmes. J. C. Goodfellow, James Barnhill, A. Lantz, C. A. Suitor and Clarence Mallory. Dressed in Japanese attire, Mrs. Palmer Willets and Miss Marion Lantz served the tea and rice cakes, while Miss Gladys Pepper and Masters Tommy McNeill and Leroy Pettijohn furnished a musical programme.

Previous to the business session of the executive board of the Woman's Club, the members had the pleasure of a 10-o'clock breakfast Monday with Mrs. D. W. Willets. Covers were laid for Mrs. R. H. Summers, Mrs. H. G. French, Mrs. A. E. Copeland, Mrs. C. E. Mead, Mrs. B. F. Hopkins, Mrs. G. H. Jantzen, Mrs. L. C. Newcomer, Mrs. M. A. Bausch, Mrs. C. F. Whitmer and the hostess.

DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

With Q-Ban. All Your Gray Hair Turns Dark, Charming, Wavy, Lustrous.

When your hair turns gray, streaked with gray, prematurely gray; or if your hair is falling; if you have dandruff and your head itches, a few applications of Q-Ban Hair Color Restorer will turn all your gray hair to its youthful dark shade. Entire head of hair will become clean, fresh, lustrous, wavy, thick, soft, full of life, evenly dark and handsome. Q-Ban doubles the beauty of your hair. Also stop itching scalp, dandruff and falling hair, and promotes its growth. Q-Ban is harmless—not a dye—but a delightful hair color restorer. Give it a trial. Sold on a money-back guarantee. Only 50c for a big 7-oz. bottle at McKay & Monkman Drug Stores, Los Angeles Cal. Out-of-town folks supplied by mail.—[Advertisement.

Norris of Nor[illegible] Smith was also [illegible] bridal wreath and [illegible] at a uniquely ar[illegible] given for Miss [illegible] afternoon. The home [illegible] bridalwreath and [illegible] one end of the [illegible] original wedding [illegible] cleverly concealed [illegible] some most [illegible] worked towels.

The afternoon was very pleasantly spent at auction bridge, following which delicious refreshments were in a beautiful color scheme of pink and white.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Akard and son Bryan went to Fullerton yesterday where they will enjoy the week end as the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hurly, who are entertaining their friends with a large week-end house party at the country home near there.

One of the most unusual birthday dinner parties of the season was given at the home of Miss Frances Jeffrey last Sunday. The affair was given to celebrate the birthdays of Miss Iris Jeffery, Mrs. Lillian Rury, Mr. E. R. Jeffery and Mrs. A. W. Jeffery, which come within a day of each other. An elaborate dinner was served at noon and a most enjoyable day was spent. Those present besides the guests of honor included: Miss Winifred Jeffrey, Miss Christina Rury, Mrs. A. W. Jeffrey, and Mr. and Mrs. D. Weinig of Huntington Park.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Lindley, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur M. Brown, and Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Hamlin were most delightfully entertained as the dinner guests of Dr. and Mrs. E. V. Rice at the University Club, Los Angeles, last Saturday evening.

Mrs. George Dunham, Mrs. William Brown, and Mrs. George Martens were entertained as the dinner guests of Mrs. Hannah Darling at her home in Los Angeles Wednesday.

Moneta.

MISS IRENE DAVIS of Norwalk spent Friday to Sunday visiting with former Moneta friends.

Herbert Patten, formerly principal of the Claremont public school, last week visited his old-time schoolmates, Miss Louise Lyde and Mrs. C. L. McCleery, on San Pedro street.

John H. Jamieson of Chicago called upon his friend, Mr. Henry Brinkman, last week.

Burbank.

ON TUESDAY evening at the home of Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Avery the members of the P.E.O. entertained the B.J.L.'s, the house being beautifully decorated with freesias and nasturtiums. Following a dinner served at 6:30 o'clock the ladies gave a leap year burlesque sketch and initiated the gentlemen into the order in a manner very pleasing to all concerned, Miss Viola Farrar being master of ceremonies and Mrs. W. A. Blanchard, Mrs. W. F. Craig and Mrs. A. O. Kendall guards. Old-time songs and contests were also enjoyed. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Kendall, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Salisbury and daughter, Mabel; Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Nickerson, Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Church, Mr. and Mrs. George Woods, Dr. and Mrs. H. X. Cline, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Blanchard, Mr. and Mrs. Paxton, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Fischer, Mr. and Mrs. William Beeson, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Humphrey, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Craig, Mrs. Frank Clark, Mrs. Amanda Oestergard and Misses Clara Clark, Theo Beeson, Olive Farrar and Anne Farrar, the host and hostess.

Mrs. Roy Pulliam and Mrs. Lou Solomon of Fresno are in Burbank, spending the week with their sister, Mrs. J. T. Bate, on Angeleno avenue.

Mrs. J. H. Anderson entertained on Thursday afternoon with a charming luncheon at which pink roses, ferns and smilax were used in the decorations. Her guests were Mrs. E. A. Knapp, Mrs. A. O. Kendall, Mrs. J. Barcome, Mrs. Frank Clark, Mrs. Ralph Lovejoy, Mrs. H. C. Humphrey and Miss Martha Knapp.

Mrs. D. C. Hicks and son, Gaylord, returned to their home in Santa Monica Saturday after a pleasant visit with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Halford.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Blanchard and son, Judson, motored to Santa Ana Saturday, where they were over-Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Stevens, the parents of Mrs. Blanchard.

Florence.

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM HEY and son Elton were dinner guests on Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Williams of Pasadena, the occasion being the forty-third wedding anniversary of the Williams. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Williams of Dixon, Ill., were also guests.

The members of the Philathea class of the Congregational Church held a social meeting at the home of Mrs. E. C. Cole on East Sixty-first street Thursday. The afternoon was spent in needlework, and light refreshments were served by the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Worthington, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Steves and Mr. and Mrs. Forest Steves, motored to Claremont Sunday and spent a very delightful day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Koch.

The Jonquil Embroidery Club met on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. William Ingles on Nadeau avenue. A bountiful toothsome luncheon was served, hand-painted china being used, and a beautiful bowl of violets occupied the center of the table. Covers were laid for Mrs. Joe Nadeau, Mrs. Louise Smith, Mrs. Dan Campe, Mrs. Joe Bailey, Mrs. George Nadeau, Mrs. John Day, Mrs. Ida Williams, Mrs. Hugh Johnson and the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Graves delightfully entertained the Wednesday Evening Whist Club at their home on Miramonte boulevard on last Wednesday evening. The prizes were awarded as follows: Ladies' first, Mrs. Smith; ladies' second, Mrs. Donaldson; gentlemen's first, Mr. Kemp; gentlemen's second, Mr. Smith. Light refreshments were served by the hostess. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kemp, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Donaldson, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Lloyd, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Fairchilds, Mr. and Mrs. James Flemming, Dr. and Mrs. F. E. Clark and the host and hostess.

About fifty friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. George Foster of Bell avenue gathered at their home recently to help them celebrate their thirteenth wedding anniversary. The visitors came uninvited, but soon the hostess recovered from her surprise and turned the house over to the company. The evening was spent with music and games, after which refreshments were served. Many beautiful gifts of lace were presented to the "bridal pair." The guests, on leaving at a late hour, felt that they had spent the evening most pleasantly.

El Monte.

FRIDAY night a delightful dance was given at the clubhouse by Mrs. S. C. Cope and Mrs. F. E. Church.

Mr. and Mrs. I. Asher of El Monte entertained Sunday with a dinner for relatives from Los Angeles. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Asher, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Hirshfelt, Miss Gertrude Asher, Alvin Asher and Mr. and Mrs. I. Asher.

The senior class of the High School gave a class party recently at the home of Miss Lillian Asher, president of the class. Besides the members of the class and their friends the faculty was also among the guests.

Mrs. A. O. Allen of Le Grange, Or., is visiting her brother, Dr. S. C. Cope.

Mrs. Robert Wood, Mrs. F. E. Church and Mrs. E. A. Farrington attended the Eschscholtzia chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution Tuesday at the Ebell Club House.

Mrs. I. Asher was leader of the El Monte Shakespeare Club Tuesday. The subject was Jane Addams and her work. An interesting programme was given.

Miss Emily Belcher, Mrs. George H. Martin and Miss Bell Martin are delegates to the women's Presbyterial annual missionary convention in Emmanuel Presbyterian Church in Los Angeles this week.

Miramonte.

DR. T. C. ROBINSON has sold his practice and is moving to Raisin City, Cal., where he will show the people of Fresno county what a real forty-acre ranch looks like. His successor is Dr. W. O. Blanchard, who is of the same school and will occupy the same residence and office.

Prominent among the social affairs of the past week was the stork shower given at the home of Mrs. O. J. Myers by her sister, Mrs. E. L. Jobson. The rooms were artistically decorated throughout and a delicious luncheon was served. Mrs. Myers received many handsome gifts. Those present were Mrs. F. Brooks of Newport Beach, Mrs. G. Fields and Mrs. M. Thompson of Artesia, Mrs. I. Fields and Mrs. D. Launders of Anaheim, Mrs. F. Munds of Watts, Mrs. B. Ellis and Mrs. E. L. Jobson of Los Angeles, and Mrs. J. F. Miller of Converse avenue.

Mrs. William Hutton of Miramonte boulevard was the charming hostess to a number of friends on Wednesday. The dining-room and living-rooms were most beautifully decorated with jonquils and ferns, and an elaborate luncheon was served, after which the afternoon was spent in informal diversions. The guests included four sisters of Mr. Hutton, Mrs. Louis Adams, Mrs. P. J. Winnett, Mrs. Marshall Wilkinson and Miss E. Hutton of Santa Monica; Mrs. Fields McMillan and Mrs. F. W. Langley of Pueblo, Colo.; Mrs. William Warden and Mrs. Harry M. Seaman of Los Angeles.

San Gabriel.

THE younger set of the mission town had a hearty welcome for Mrs. Guthrie Clark of Montalvo, who is here to visit her mother, Mrs. S. R. Burnes, and her mother-in-law, Mrs. Samuel Bootes. The young matron lives on a ranch and enjoys the out-door life. She has many friends in San Gabriel and her wedding in December, 1913, was an event of social interest.

The Guild of the Church of Our Savior was entertained Friday evening at the interesting old pioneer home of Mrs. Gervaise Purcell. Several features make the Purcell home one of the most picturesque places in San Gabriel. Part of the California house is as old as the mission. The century-old date palm in the back yard is one of the few trees of this kind in the United States which is old enough to bear cocoanuts. The spirit of hospitality which made California famous in the old days still lingers at this home and always is a joy to visitors. The guild of which Mrs. S. R. Burnes is the president will meet weekly during lent to sew for a missionary box which is to go to Alaska.

One of the interesting forthcoming events is the presentation of the three-act play, "Ann," April 7 and 8, in the auditorium of the Alhambra High School, under the auspices of the San Gabriel Charities Association. Dr. Ruth Purcell, president of the organization, has been promised the hearty support of the women. Mrs. Ross T. Hickcox is directing the rehearsals for the benefit. The play will be preceded by a one-act "curtain raiser," "'Op o' Me Thumb," in which the following will participate: Mrs. H. P. Reed, Miss Bertha Hague, Miss Iris Lawton, Mrs. A. F. Thornton and Mrs. D. R. Jordan.

Relief in Tuberculosis

depends largely on the sufferer's ability to upbuild a weakened system, and thus hasten a return of natural functioning throughout the body.

In this effort mch depends on the remedial value of fresh air—night and day—and rest and good food. The patient should refrain from work that overtaxes, and all sanitary precautions should be taken. These common sense measures are approved by doctors everywhere, but they do not always achieve the desired results unless aided by proper medication. It is here that Eckman's Alterative has evidenced its worth, for in many cases of tuberculosis it has effected lasting benefit.

Numerous cases of apparent recovery are recorded in its favor. In any event, its use is not attended with possible harm, since it contains no poisonous or habit-forming drugs.

Eckman's Laboratory, Philadelphia.

Sale New Trimmed HATS at $8.75

If hats were human—then these hats would grumble about the lowness of their price.

But no one is giving a thought to what the hats think. Everyone is thinking about and working to get that increase of $50,000 for March!

These smart hats we're to sell at $8.75 will do much toward keeping interest up to fever heat.

All styles, colors and materials included!

Second floor—Jacoby's.

Surely these DRESSES will cause a stir at $19.50

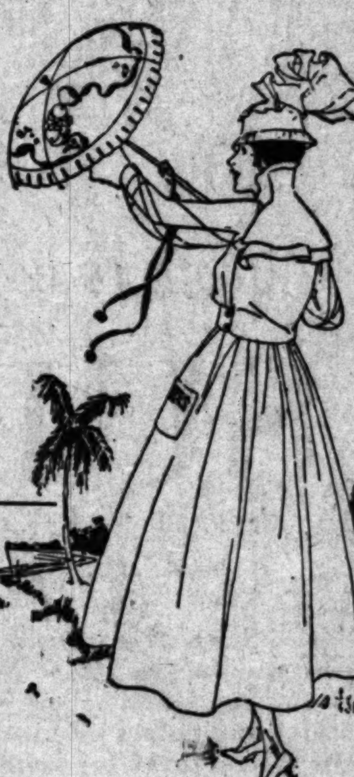
They are values that are really deserving of an advertisement a good many times the size of this one we have given them!

—It is not because the dresses are quite so much under their worth that we're so enthusiastic about them—it's rather because they're so new—so delightfully youthful in their appearance—

—There are nearly all of the wanted silks included in three shades of gray, three shades of wistaria, four shades of blue—and whites, resedas, browns and blacks—

—The trimmings are as different as can be!

3rd floor—Jacoby's.



—and what's more, we're getting it.

The sales for the first week in March are running 'way, 'way ahead of last year.

Prosperity, unlike so [illegible] other things and persons, [illegible] "come back."

Prosperity is Here and Now—Business is flying along at such a lively clip that it wouldn't surprise us if we made a gain of much more than $50,000 this March.

But it's not going to be all our gain. We're going to make it worth your while to help us get the increase which we want. We've inaugurated a big, helpful "PROFIT-SHARING PLAN."

Save Your Sales Checks

Bring them to the store on every Tuesday during this month and we will issue you a merchandise order for 2½% of the amount of all the purchases you have made.

Note, please, that these merchandise orders will be issued only on Tuesdays!

Come to the store on Monday—you'll understand why we're so optimistic—why we're so confident that March, 1916, is going to beat the March of 1915 by over $50,000.

This advertisement is but a brief and very incomplete catalogue of the values that are ready.

Wouldn't you be mighty glad to buy a stunning new Spring COAT at $14.50 and find it half price?

Well, that's just what you're going to have an opportunity to do Monday.

A coat maker who is famous the world over, has sent us his entire sample line of coats at less than ½ price!

And we're going to sell them Monday at half their worth and less—$14.50.

Different!

—Inauguration Month would not be Inauguration Month if it were not "Different"

—It could not be—

—For Inauguration Month is the First month of the New Year of Bullock's as a Business——And Bullock's as a Business is as Different as it is Sincere—

—For Bullock's was a Well Established Idea before it ever became a Business—And at the End of the Vista in the Mind of the Man whence came the Idea—was an Ideal—

Inauguration Month

—Comes annually to Bullock's the first month of the Store's New Year (dating from March 4, 1907—the first Business Day of the Business)—

—And Inauguration Month devotes itself to an Exploitation of the Idea—upon which Bullock's is founded—and which has grown to have everything to do with every detail of the Business—(Merchandise—Values—Systems—et al.) and the Idea is "Service." And this 9th Inauguration Month which is the first of the 10th year of Bullock's is emphasizing the Growth to which "Service" has Attained in Bullock's—through Merchandise—through Values—through that Spirit of Friendship which Pervades the whole store—

—And The Ideal of the business is "The Satisfaction of Every Customer"—

—And Inauguration Month, as it swings the New Year into the van of the years—is opening the way — and pointing the way to the Months to Come—

—As the Month which Bullock's Recognizes as the Particular Month of Opportunity for Intensified Endeavor—

—As a month in which there is so much of Sentiment and so much more of Service—Inauguration Month should be Opportunity Month for you—Needless to say, but a small part of Inauguration Month's News will obtain Newspaper Mention—

—There is so much to tell.

New Silks---Style and Value

—The New Silks are at Bullock's—Indeed they are—and the New Silks that are at Bullock's are beautiful—and different—and varied as they can be.

—Stripes, flowers, great magnificent plaids—and every color of the rainbow (almost.) Even those odd, lovely "between-colors"—the dainty blues, and pinks, and greens that one just can't tell about in words and be understood— Even paint can't match them (there's the shimmer of the silk—that fairly "goldenizes" dye—and defies the brush and pen.

—See them, Monday—these new silks, as they should be seen—the brilliant conceptions of Fashion and Her loom—

Then There Are Many Quite Startling Pricings on Quality Silks—Crepe Back Satins at $1.10

—that ought to be—(and probably would be were this not Inauguration Month)—1000 yards in old rose, king's blue, battleship gray, navy, wistaria, silver gray, golden brown, flesh pink, apricot, yellow, lavender and white—40 inches wide. Superb in luster and draping quality—more than superb at $1.10 yd.

—1500 yards of 40 inch Crepe de Chine at $1.10 yard—in a large range of colorings—a fine, firm quality—

—3000 yards of Fancy Silks at 95c yard—includes brocades, Persians, pencil stripe messalines and taffetas—

—Then there will be 35 inch Faille Francaise at $2.00—50 pieces—an even corded silk in every good color—

—Royal Chiffon Taffetas in evening and street shades—plain or shot warp—35 inch at $1.75—

—New Florentine Radium silk in gray, navy, myrtle, Belgium, floral patterned. 40 inch at $2.25—

—That is like this Second Floor at Bullock's—This Realm of New Silks—New Woolens—New Cottons—of Linens—of Needlework—

—and the "Branches Are Bending"

—So weighted are they—so filled—and crowded—and happy—and waiting for you.

"Marquisette!"

"Queen" in name and fact—and but 35c yard.

—A floral-patterned fabric of delicate beauty for Summer's airy frocks. White and tinted grounds, the stripes and floral designs in delicate shades. 3000 yards in the 38-inch width at 35c a yard.

Imported Gingham 25c a yard

—2500 yards of Quality Gingham in checks, stripes, plaids and embroidered effects that are quite out of the ordinary. 25c a yard.

—You should know the Cotton Weaves as Bullock's is showing them in these thousands and thousands of yards that are here. You should know the unusualness of the styles—the varieties and the attractiveness of the values, for they are important to you.

Straight into the Hearts of friends, lies the New Year way of Bullock's—and the desire of this Business is to be Sincere and True.

Gloves de Luxe

from the San Francisco Exposition

Tomorrow we will offer twenty-five dozen pairs of Novelty Trefousse Gloves that have had the honor of being exhibited at the Panama-Pacific Fair. Naturally, these gloves are the very finest that the famous house of Trefousse can turn out. That the styles will not be duplicated goes without saying. Don't fail to see them even though you do not care to purchase. Some may be slightly soiled from display, but that shortcoming is easily remedied.

$2.50 Values at $1.50

Short suede gloves in ivory and glace in putty and white, each stitched in pink, blue, emerald, wistaria, gold and other fashionable pastel shades. $2.50 values at $1.50.

$4.25 to $7.50 Values at $3.25

Among these long gloves are the most exclusive novelties, by far the most elaborate creations we have ever seen. White beaded and spangled and embroidered in designs reaching from the wrist to the elbow in gold, steel, jet, silver, vivid Bakst colorings and pea fowl shades.

Spring Hats

Have you seen them, the really, truly new creations that breathe the very air of green hills and wild flowers? Picture in your mind's eye a saucy tilt, a picot ribbon bow and a bower of flowers in the back and you have the Spring Hat. But the twist of the ribbon, the massing of colors and the oddity of the shapes—therein lies the art.

One of our newest creations from Cherese Impert is a poke effect of black horse hair with alternating rows of horse hair and ostrich, a black tip in front and a streamer of black picot ribbon.

One from Waters is of pink Angora braid, small roll brim and flowers—such flowers as only the Parisians know how, or would dare combine. The assortment is next to endless. Hats for misses, for matrons and for the elderly woman and Sports Hats for every true sportswoman.

—Third Floor—

Brighten Up With New Draperies

Really, it's astonishing how a little new, fresh drapery will brighten up a room, and how very little the expense will be!

SOCIETY.

before the several formal weddings that Dame Rumor whispers are to take place immediately after Easter is ushered in. One of the most delightful of the week's events was the reception given by the Glendale Garden Society in the headquarters on Broadway last Thursday evening. Under the direction of Mrs. J. H. Seaman, the rooms were converted into veritable bowers of floral beauty, and through the efforts of Mrs. H. C. Ackerman and her committee, the Hospitality Committee served dainty refreshments during the evening, assisted by a bevy of dainty flower-garbed buds of the winter season. During the evening the rooms were filled with friends of the members of the organization, and the occasion was one of the most delightful and felicitous of the month.

Honoring the eighteenth birthday of her daughter, Miss Mary Jane Evans, the home of Mrs. W. A. Hough of No. 216 West Tenth street was resplendent on Thursday evening in its floral decorations of pink and white, daintily interspersed with greens, in anticipation of the merry gathering of the young honoree's guests during the evening. The dining-room was particularly beautiful in its floral scheme of the same tones which prevailed throughout the other rooms, and the elaborate five-course menu was enjoyed by a merry and gladsome coterie of guests. Concluding dinner, the remainder of the evening was happily and informally spent in interesting diversions, and at a late hour the guests, who included Miss Dorothy Hobbs, Miss Katherine Lord, Miss M. J. Evans and Messrs. Wayne Smith, Montgomery Coole and Lewis Coole, departed after wishing the lovely young honoree many happy returns of the day.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Merrill of Elrose avenue was the scene of one of the prettiest parties of recent date, when, in honor of the natal date of their niece, Miss Teresa Kugel of Poplin, Mo., who has been wintering here, a most elaborate party was given to the fortunate group of young folks who have met Miss Kugel since her arrival here in January. The house was profusely decorated with quantities of acacia blooms and orange blossoms, and a most elaborate repast was spread for the [illegible]. Merriment prevailed during the evening, music and Five Hundred being the diversions specially offered to the gay contingent. From Los Angeles there were present the following: [illegible] J. E. Goodwin, Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. R. Raymond, Mr. and Mrs. George Sherman, [illegible] B. Burkhardt from Redondo, Miss Virginia Archer, Mr. and Mrs. William Warman, Miss Ethel Teel of Orange and Miss D. Trickey of New York City. Others present at the delightful affair included Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] Foss, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. [illegible] Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Brummell, [illegible] and Mrs. Charles Foss, Edith Foss and Mr. Miller Fishel.

The home of Dr. and Mrs. Charles A. Webb was the scene of a delightfully-informal dinner recently, when their guests included Mrs. Esther [illegible] Martin, Mrs. K. Kirk, Miss Mary Martin, Miss Margaret Martin and Miss Elizabeth Martin. The pleasant occasion was arranged in honor of Mrs. Martin of Des Moines, Iowa, formerly [illegible] the home of Dr. and Mrs. Webb.

One of the most brilliant affairs of the season was the informal party arranged for Friday afternoon as a compliment to Mrs. Benjamin Logan of Louisville, Ky., who has been spending the winter in Glendale as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. [illegible] Evans. Mrs. A. L. Weaver was the hostess at the affair, presiding with gracious dignity over the two-course luncheon that was served at the conclusion of a merry afternoon. The rooms were prettily decorated with daffodills and lilies, with a profusion of asparagus ferns, while homage was incidentally paid St. Patrick as evidenced by the plug hat and Irish green used throughout the rooms. Among the guests greeting Mrs. Logan and happily participating in the pleasure the day afforded were Mrs. H. D. Goss, Mrs. H. R. Boyer, Mrs. [illegible] E. Evans, Mrs. Walter Stamps, Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, Mrs. F. W. [illegible], Mrs. John Hunchberger, Mrs. [illegible] Jackson, Mrs. Charles Munson, Mrs. H. F. Cassell, Mrs. Frank Grosvenor, Mrs. Harry Lynch, Mrs. Albert Perry, Mrs. Harry Goodwin, Mrs. Wesley Brown, Mrs. Warren Roberts, Mrs. Oliver Clark, Mrs. E. W. [illegible], Mrs. A. W. Tower and Mrs. Louis Phillips of Los Angeles.

On Tuesday afternoon the home of Mrs. R. E. Trey of No. 1533 Pioneer drive entertained the members of the Pioneer Club most charmingly. A delightful programme was arranged and a merry social occasion was [illegible]

Inspired These New and Exclusive Hair Ornaments

Leon Bakst has not only mastered the harmony of colors, but he has created designs of inimitable beauty.

Daring, yes, but magnificent. And this, his wonderful art, was revealed in the costumes which were worn by the Ballet Russe at the Century Theater, New York, under the direction of the Metropolitan Opera Company.

It is from these gorgeous costumes that we have taken the designs and colors for these hair ornaments.

Bakst colorings expressed in will-o'-the-wisp Underwear; gowns, envelope chemise and petticoats.

Bakst Negligees of figured fabrics with real lace trimming and plain chiffon pantelettes.

Bakst Bags—Exquisite creations embroidered in the Bakst color harmonies.

Bakst Silks — Showing the influence of the originator in color and design.

joyed by the guests, of whom about twenty-five were in attendance.

Miss Mattie B. Provolt, who has recently been the guest of Miss Emma [illegible] of Park View, Los Angeles, has returned to her home on North Central after a delightful visit in the hospitable environ of the King home.

Alhambra.

THE social calm of Lent will be broken with a lively masquerade ball to be given by the Dos Robles Club in the Women's Club House on the evening of St. Patrick's Day. This is one of the most interesting of the forthcoming social events.

Mrs. Frank Ogilvy-Wood entertained sixty-five guests at bridge luncheon Thursday afternoon at her interesting colonial home "Woodhurst." Mrs. Wood, who is a Colonial Dame and a descendant of the George Washingtons, always is a charming hostess.

Two hundred and fifty persons attended a card party and ball given at the Women's Club House Thursday evening by the Catholic Club. The dancing was preceded by an informal literary and musical programme. The women's and the men's first prizes in the card games were won respectively by Mrs. A. McKeinnon and A. D. McAboy. Another event of interest, especially to the younger crowd, was a vaudeville programme given last evening in the auditorium of the High school.

A ball, given recently by the Elks in their clubhouse, was one of the especially interesting social events of the season. Nearly three hundred persons attended the dance and participated in the card games. The hall was beautifully decorated for the occasion, the official purple and white predominating in the color scheme. The music was furnished by an orchestra from Los Angeles. The billiard-room afforded amusement for those who were not interested either in the dancing or cards.

Duarte.

THE first two weeks of the month have been notable for the number of enjoyable spring social functions. Early last week the ladies of the Duarte Five Hundred Club were given a forfeit entertainment by the men of the club who took them to the Jonathan Club on Tuesday evening. After dinner the members of the club shared in the varied entertainments provided. The guests numbered twenty and the honorary guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Baird and Mr. and Mrs. Montie Gwinn.

Tuesday afternoon Miss Dorothy Davison was hostess to the ladies of the Foothill Bridge Club at the home of her mother, Mrs. C. A. Davison. [illegible] and freezias were used in decorations and luncheon was temptingly served at 1 o'clock. The afternoon hours were spent playing bridge.

Mrs. Park Densmore has as her house guest this spring Mrs. A. W. [illegible] and on Tuesday, assisted by Miss Dorothy Densmore, Mrs. Densmore gave a handsomely-appointed luncheon in her sister's honor. Covers were laid for Mrs. Alexander B. [illegible], Mrs. Joseph Fowler, Mrs. C. [illegible] Irwine, Mrs. W. K. Shaw, Mrs. [illegible] Ryder, Mrs. Frank Ferguson, Mrs. George Croxon, Mrs. J. E. Pernie and Mrs. F. H. Hunter.

Mrs. John Dickie gave a dinner Wednesday evening at 6 o'clock in honor of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Mil[illegible] of Los Angeles. The table decorations were in pink and green and covers were laid for Dr. and Mrs. C. [illegible] Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Walter B. [illegible], Mrs. W. H. Hoagland, Miss [illegible] Hoagland, and Messrs. Earl and [illegible] Dickie.

Thursday afternoon Mrs. Edgar A. [illegible] gave a tea in compliment to the ladies of the Allies Association, who are busily engaged doing needlework of a practical nature to be forwarded to the Red Cross Association on the other side of the Atlantic. The ladies were gathered in congenial circles to sew and visit and at 4 o'clock tea was served in pretty fashion.

Saturday evening the young ladies of the Pleasure Club were entertained with a card and dancing party by Miss [illegible] Taylor at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Taylor. [illegible] yellow acacia was generously used in decorating and the pleasure seekers were tendered an informal reception early in the evening which was followed by dancing and the serving of supper later. About [illegible] young ladies were present, accompanied by their patroness, Mrs. [illegible] Hunter.

Mrs. Ralph Partridge entertained Wednesday evening with a jolly birthday party for her daughter, Miss Ruth Partridge, the anniversary of whose natal day fell on that date. The living-rooms as well as the supper table were decorated in a lovely pink and white color scheme, fragrant spring blossoms being used to introduce the colors. Music was a feature of entertainment as well as games and frolics and the young hostess was liberally showered with good wishes and congratulations. The list of guests included Miss Ivy Anderson, Miss Ruth [illegible], Miss Mildred Marshall, Miss [illegible] Collopy, Miss Louise Vanzaghi, Miss Polly Edwards and Miss Irene Vanzaghi.

Redlands.

THE Casa Loma presented a scene as brilliant and gay as the street of booths in any oriental city when the charity ball was given on Tuesday evening. It was the last big affair of a gay winter season and it was fitting that the carnival spirit should reign supreme, for there will be no such big events for some days, during the season of Lent. The ball was for the benefit of the allies' Red Cross work, but all of those who are interested in society in Redlands were present whether pro-allies or not. It was a costume affair and while everyone did not dress, enough did to make the scene one of gorgeous brilliancy. The large pillars in the ballroom were wound with yellow and red bunting and overhead palms and bamboo made a covering that accentuated the oriental effect. Acacia blossoms were used in the parlors and in the dining-room where the supper was served. In the dining-room not only the ceiling but the walls were hid by the branches of bamboo and palm and several large baskets of fern were used in this room. Baskets of laurel were also used.

The grand march, which opened the ball, was led by Miss Amy Morrison and Morris Phillips. Those having boxes were Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Hubbard, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Lyon, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Wilder, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Townsend, Mrs. Rhoades, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Hatch, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Auchincloss, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Tripp, Mr. and Mrs. John [illegible], Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Burrage, Dr. [illegible] Moore, Mr. and Mrs. George [illegible], Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Burke, Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] Lefferts, Mrs. Meigs, Mrs. [illegible] Redford and Mrs. Alonzo [illegible].

During the evening the Misses Bettner and Girdlestone gave their Russian dance, which has been given in other places recently. Miss Lydia [illegible] and Donald Laurence gave [illegible] and Hawaiian dances and [illegible] Hubbard and Frank Gilchrist were seen in ballroom dances. [illegible] King and Kathleen Slater accompanied with ukulele music. A delicious supper was served at midnight.

Among those noticed in costume were: Mrs. Walter Rabbeth, a Persian costume; Miss Dorothy Robinson as Dolly Varden, in pink and white taffeta; Mrs. Herbert Hubbard as Queen Elizabeth; H. H. Garstin, a cubist in black and white; Mrs. Garstin in a Madam Pompadour costume of black and white; Miss Betty Burns as a charming Spanish belle; Dwight Lefferts as Pierrot; Mrs. Lefferts, in a gown of the 1850 period; Miss Sylvia Allen, a Pierette, in black and white; Mrs. Lyman M. King, an oriental costume; Mrs. A. Leipsic, as a Chinese woman; Miss Leslie Smith of Los Angeles, as a blue bird; Miss Amy Morrison was in a Will o' the Wisp costume; Mr. and Mrs. Russell Burrage were Russians; Robert Burke, a National Guardsman; Mrs. Bethel was a Carmen; William Bethel, a Pierrot, and Worden Bethel, a rajah; Mrs. F. P. Morrison, an oriental gown; Miss Pottenger was an Indian girl; Mr. Pottenger, Dudley Wynne and Volney Kincaid were Pierrots; Uhler Graham was a racing driver; Miss Marion Wilmot was a Pierette; Miss Bessie Burrage appeared as a valentine; Morris Phillips was in a Pierrot costume; Charles Ames and Robert Bonnell were Chinese, and Donald Laurence was in a Venetian costume.

Many dinner parties were given before the ball. Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Lefferts entertained with a dinner, covers being laid for Mr. and Mrs. John Gill, Mr. and Mrs. Eric Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Burrage, Katherine Williams, Lorraine Williams, Elsie Conduit, John Conduit, Berry Hewitt and Dr. W. P. Power. Mr. and Mrs. Halsey Allen and daughter, Miss Sylvia, entertained for Miss Mabel Hubbard. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hubard, Mabel Hubbard, Marion Wilmot, Dorothy Robinson, Bessie Burrage, Amy Morrison, Dorothy Bettner and Constance Girdlestone of Riverside, Walter Johnson, Harry Cook, John Repplier, Volney Kincaid, Robert Bonnell, George Reynolds of Los Angeles, Frank Gilchrist, Pasadena, and Harold Haver of Los Angeles. Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Clyde entertained a party of twelve at their home and Mr. and Mrs. Claire Osborne entertained with a dinner in honor of Miss Harriet Moore of New York.

Monrovia.

ONE of the smartest affairs of the social season was the announcement on Thursday afternoon of the engagement of Miss Viva Brainard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Frank Brainard of East White Oak avenue, to Louis Adsitt of Cherokee, Iowa. Mr. and Mrs. Brainard were at home to their many friends of Los Angeles and Monrovia, and were assisted in receiving by Mrs. J. Sin Foster of Los Angeles. A decorative color scheme of pink and green, with shaded lights and myriads of hearts in the dining-room, formed a beautiful setting for the happy occasion, while a great cake, adorned with tiny candles, occupied a place of honor and notified the guests that the affair was the celebration of Miss Brainard's birthday anniversary as well as the announcement of her coming marriage, which will be in June. The list of invited guests numbered fifty.

The members of the Green Lantern Club were entertained on Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Crandall on East Greystone avenue. Mr. and Mrs. J. Allen Munro were elected members. Nasturtiums were the flowers used in decorating. After an evening of whist, refreshments were served. A clever feature of the evening was a birthday surprise for Mrs. L. N. Wheeler, who was presented with a gift from each guest present, and also with a birthday cake studded with candles. Mr. and Mrs. Montie Gwinn were guests of the club.

One of the smart social events of the week for the younger set was the party given on Friday evening by Mr. and Mrs. C. Taylor Renaker at their home on East Hillcrest avenue, in compliment to their niece, Miss Pauline Munro, who celebrated her eighteenth birthday anniversary. The rooms were beautifully decorated with sweet peas and peach blossoms cleverly combined. The lights were pink shaded, while butterflies floated below the chandeliers. At 7 o'clock a six-course dinner was served. Pink candles were arranged through the center of a long table, with pink and white sweet peas scattered on either side. There was one candle for each year, and one to grow on in the year to come. Hand-painted butterflies marked covers for twenty-six guests. After dinner dancing was the diversion until a late hour, music being furnished by the T. E. Imes orchestra from Los Angeles. At 12 o'clock a birthday cake containing a ring, a thimble and a silver coin was cut.

Miss Madeline Wilk of Minneapolis and Harold Kiggins of Los Angeles were guests on Friday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bynum of East Hillcrest avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Arms of Highland place have as their house guests Mr. and Mrs. C. F. M. Niles and Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Russell of Toledo, O.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Knapp and family of Los Angeles spent the week-end at the home of Mrs. Knapp's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Armstrong.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Campbell and daughter of Los Angeles, Mrs. Jacob Rich of Dubuque, Iowa, and Mrs. Richard Campbell of Independence, Iowa, spent Monday with Mrs. Thomas Blamer of Wild Rose avenue, and at noon all were luncheon guests of Mrs. Blamer at Hotel 'Leven Oaks.

On Monday Mrs. Frank O. Eager was hostess to a party of Monrovia friends in a very enjoyable motor trip to Riverside, with luncheon at the Mission Inn, where Mrs. Eager and her friends were joined by Miss Lillian Burke of Hamilton, Ont., Can. Miss Burke, who is spending the winter at the inn, is an old friend of Mrs. Eager. Members of the motor party were Mrs. James Shultz, Mrs. Emelyn Graves, Mrs. George Newcomb and Mrs. Hal Siemons.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Thomas and his sister, Miss Laura Thomas, of West Union, Iowa, were visitors on Monday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. Y. Whitmore on Wild Rose avenue. Mr. Thomas is vice-president of the State Bank in West Union.

One of the most enjoyable parties of the week-end was given by Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Shafer of North Magnolia avenue, when they entertained a number of friends with a delicious turkey dinner. Following the repast a social hour was spent. Covers were laid for twelve.

Santa Paula.

A PRETTY wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Watson Wednesday morning, when Miss Jeanette Comerford of San Francisco became the bride of Mr. Herman H. Pearson, the Rev. Father Ylla officiating. The bride is a charming girl who has recently been the house guest of the Watsons, and the groom a well-known young business man here. Immediately after the ceremony, they left for New Orleans. After a leisurely honeymoon in the south, they will return to make their home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Beckley entertained with a handsomely appointed dinner party in honor of Mrs. E. E. Whaley of Springfield, O., who is the guest of her sister, Mrs. J. C. Strong. A Dutch motif prevailed in the decorations, narcissus and ferns centering the table, with place cards of little Dutch figures. Invited guests were Mrs. Whaley, Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Strong, Rev. and Mrs. G. A. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Briggs, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Cauch, Mrs. C. A. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Beckley, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Teague, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Clark.

A delightful evening of music with Miss Idamae Oderlin, contralto, and Miss Alice Bale, pianiste, the contributing artists, was the entertainment offered their guests Tuesday evening by Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Rice. An atmosphere of spring prevailed in the unusually pretty decorations which graced the beautiful home, yellow acacia in the living-room harmonizing delightfully with the yellow gowns of the musicians. The dining-room was a bower of peach blossoms. At the conclusion of the musical programme, which was devoted largely to songs of the Orient, a delicious buffet supper was served.

Mrs. J. D. Culbertson was hostess at a charming afternoon of auction bridge in honor of her house guest, Mrs. E. R. Milliken of Pasadena. The rooms were attractively decorated in spring flowers, and a dainty luncheon was served.

Young men of the Baraca Class and the bunch were guests of the young ladies' J.O.C. class at the home of Miss Lois Whiteside Tuesday night, when the usual social order was reversed in a leap year party. Prizes for merry leap year games were won by Dula Richardson and Seymour Faulkner, with consolation prizes to Miss Thelma Maybee and Mrs. M. E. Joy.

The marriage, quietly celebrated at St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Los Angeles, of Miss Helen Hoyt of Pasadena and Benjamin C. Hedrick of Santa Paula, added a well-liked couple to the younger married set of Santa Paula. The attending clergyman was the Rev. W. G. Mills, a former loved pastor of Santa Paula, who has known the groom since early youth. Miss Harriett M. Proctor of Pasadena and Mr. L. B. Bowker of Santa Paula attended the couple. After a delightful luncheon at the Alexandria, Mr. and Mrs. Hedrick went to San Diego for a short visit, and will soon welcome their many friends in a charming cottage on Seventh street.

Mrs. R. D. Whidden dispensed hospitality to members of the I.B.C. 23 Club at their regular meeting, when there were three club guests present, Mrs. Charles Carver, Miss Myrtle Warring and Miss Margaret Carey. A pleasant feature of the afternoon was a reading by Miss Mary Anderson with a musical accompaniment by Mrs. Winton. An art guessing game was also entertaining, and the well-known culinary skill of the hostess was apparent in the delicious refreshments.

Oxnard.

AMONG the prettiest of the early spring weddings was that of Miss Lena Goelz and Mr. Louis Kohler, celebrated Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Lutheran Church. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Goelz, the groom the son of Mrs. Mary Kohler. Decorations of green and white were carried out with ribbon streamers, flowers and greenery. The ceremony was performed beneath an arch of asparagus fern and carnations. The bride wore a beautiful costume of white crepe de chine and carried white carnations. The bridesmaid, Miss Augusta Goelz, sister of the bride, wore a dainty gown of light blue crepe de chine, pink trimmed, and carried pink roses. Mr.

HAVE DARK HAIR AND LOOK YOUNG

Nobody can Tell When you Darken Gray, Faded Hair with Sage Tea

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her haid took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use, for about 50 cents. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and beautiful. This preparation is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

Paint Without Oil

Remarkable Discovery That Cuts Down the Cost of Paint Seventy-five Per Cent.

A Free Trial Package is Mailed to Everyone Who Writes.

A. L. Rice, a prominent manufacturer of Adams, N. Y., has discovered a process of making a new kind of paint without the use of oil. He calls it Powdrpaint. It comes in the form of a dry powder and all that is required is cold water to make a paint weather proof, fire proof and as durable as oil paint. It adheres to any surface, wood, stone or brick, spreads and looks like oil paint and costs about one-fourth as much.

Write to Mr. A. L. Rice, Manuf'r., 415 North St., Adams, N. Y., and he will send you a free trial package, also color card and full information showing you how you can save a good many dollars. Write today.

To Make the Hair Grow Evenly and Luxuriantly

Secrets of Beauty, by Valeska Suratt, Whose Fame as America's Self-Made Beauty-Queen is World-Wide.

By MISS VALESKA SURATT.

Secrets That Will Not Fail You.

Valeska Suratt

NOURISHMENT and not stimulation is what hair cells and hair roots must have. With this, there is nothing which can prevent the most luxuriant growth, for hair is persistent in its increase when properly treated. I dare say there is no hair grower and dandruff remover known as effective and satisfying in quick results as my formula, made by mixing one-half pint of water and alcohol (or one full pint of bay rum, if preferred,) with one ounce of betaquinol, which can be obtained at any drug store. This formula makes a greater quantity of hair grower and at less cost than any ordinary prepared hair treatment, and it is positively unexcelled. Dandruff will disappear, your hair will stop falling, take on new life and vigor, and grow wonderfully. It is a real hair forcer, bald thin spots will fill out in short order, and your hair will grow long and silky. Try it.

MRS. B. O. R.—Try my following formula and you will see a wonderful difference in your complexion in a short time. The red spots, freckles and muddiness will be no more, and your complexion will be the envy of your friends, who are using more expensive creams and lots of labor in the effort. In a pint of water, mix one tablespoonful of glycerine and one ounce of zintone, which you can obtain at any drug store. This makes a beautiful satiny cream. Your skin will become exquisitely beautiful.

VIRGINIA D.—You can be positively sure of getting rid of those deep lines, crow's feet and wrinkles by using my formula made by mixing two tablespoonfuls of glycerine and two ounces of eptol in half a pint of hot water. I wish every woman in the land, old and young, could know of this extraordinary wrinkle remover. Any drug store will furnish you with the eptol and glycerine. This should be mixed at home.

MISS BETTY.—Development of the bust is a problem in many cases. No one can assure you of success. Nevertheless, the following is worth trying, as it is safe and has produced very decided results. Mix half a cup of sugar, two ounces of ruetone (obtainable at any drug store,) and half a pint of hot water. Dissolve thoroughly and take two teaspoonfuls regularly after meals and at bedtime.

THEODORA.—You will find this head wash has wonderful cleansing properties. One teaspoonful of eggol dissolved in half a cup of hot water cleans the scalp and hair exquisitely and thoroughly and in a few moments. It far surpasses any soap or other shampoo. The eggol can be secured at any drug store.

WEARY.—Your blackheads can be made to vanish a few minutes after you read this. Surprising, but it is a fact. Simply sprinkle some neroxin on a sponge, wet with hot water, and rub on the blackhead area. This is the only successful blackhead remover known. Any drug store will supply you with the neroxin.

CHAFING.—You can correct excessive perspiration under the arms, on the feet and other parts of the body and you can remove all body odors positively by the simple application of hydrolized talc. Apply same as talcum powder, but do not mix the two. You will find this will save damage to your gowns and the miseries and embarrassments caused by armpit perspiration. Hydrolized talc can be obtained at drug stores.

• • •

RUTH M. A.—I regret very much you could not get at the drug store the zintone for making my complexion formula. Write to my secretary, enclosing the price, fifty cents, addressing "Secretary to Valeska Suratt, Thompson Bldg., Chicago," and you will be at once supplied.

• • •

UNAWARE.—Many use depilatories that harm the skin and that remove the hair unevenly and but partially. I use what I believe is the only successful and harmless method, to dissolve the hair, and not burn it off. Moisten the superfluous hair with sulfo solution, which can be obtained at any drug store. In a few minutes you will see every hair, thick or thin, dissolved away. It is magic. It can be used on the most sensitive skin without leaving the least mark, or causing injury.

SOCIETY.

Emiel Goelz, brother of the bride, was best man. After a wedding reception at the Goelz home Mr. and Mrs. Kohler left for a honeymoon trip through Southern California. Before her marriage, Miss Goelz was the honor guest at a delightful shower given by Mrs. A. Kohler and Mrs. Otto Kohler at the latter's home in the Oceanview district. The afternoon was spent in playing cards, prizes being won by Mrs. Howard Huffman and Mrs. Adolf Harje. At the close of the afternoon refreshments were served. Miss Goelz received many beautiful gifts. About forty guests were present.

Honoring Mr. and Mrs. S. Rummelsburg, who will leave Oxnard in a short time to make their home in Northern California, the Eastern Star entertained with a farewell party in the lodge-rooms after the regular session of the lodge. Cards and dominoes were the amusements, prizes at Five Hundred being won by Mrs. J. J. Krouser and Mr. H. J. Prentice, and at dominoes by Mrs. George R. Bellah. Mrs. Rummelsburg received a marmalade jar as a souvenir of the evening.

Mrs. B. F. Pitts entertained a few Oxnard and Hueneme friends at an informal luncheon at her Hueneme-beach home, covers being laid at a prettily-appointed table for eight guests.

Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Gisler entertained for their son, Charles, with an afternoon party in honor of his fourteenth birthday. The house was decorated in green and pink. The afternoon was spent on the lawn in games and music, and delicious refreshments were served to the fifteen guests.

The Adolfo Camarillos had as dinner guests the first of the week the celebrated tenor, Constantino, the Reverend Fathers Milagro and Domingo of the Plaza parish, Los Angeles, and Senor Hospital of Spain. In the afternoon the guests visited the beautiful Camarillo memorial chapel, where the charm and magnificence of the edifice were expressed in a beautiful "Ave Maria," sung by Constantino.

Casa Verduga-North Glendale.

QUITE the most important event socially in this section was the birth of the Stragglers' Club at the Indian room of the Casa Verduga restaurant on Friday evening. The meeting was one of the most delightful of any similar event of the winter and many of the most prominent residents were among those present. Before the conclusion of the evening a delightful programme was rendered, and some excellent music was enjoyed by the guests. Among those contributing to the entertainment were Miss Viola Yorba, Mr. Ernest Watts, Miss Jennie Wilson and Mr. Ernesto Marinez. The affair closed with a number of effective national dances given by Miss Yorba and Mr. Martinez.

Miss Iris Johnson entertained about twenty of her young friends at a pleasantly arranged card party on Thursday evening at the home of her parents. The house was most effectively decorated with a color scheme of pink and green, carnations and asparagus plumosis ferns being extensively used throughout the rooms. Five hundred was enjoyed until a late hour when the interesting diversion was laid aside, and a number of delightful musical selections, both instrumental and vocal, were given by some of the talented guests of the occasion. Supper was announced at 10 o'clock, and a delicious spread was enjoyed by the happ young contingent before the last adieus were said.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Cunningham, who have been wintering in this vicinity where they have been the guests of their relatives, are bidding the popular visitors a reluctant farewell. The Cunningham home at No. 1025 Fairview avenue has been the scene of many delightfully informal entertainments offered the visitors, and it is with regret that they will leave for their home in New York within the week.

Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Lauler are entertaining Mrs. C. E. Lauler of Elsinore, who is most happily domiciled at the Lauler home on Burchett street.

Mr. N. N. Brown has returned from a visit of several days at the Hotel Virginia, Long Beach, where he was one of the interested spectators at the recent tennis tournament. Many delightfully happy tennis parties have been given frequently on the grounds of the hospitable Brown home, and many pleasant games will be held there during the months to come.

Mrs. Eugene Smith is entertaining a number of Los Angeles friends at her attractive home over the weekend. Last night a card party was enjoyed attended by fifteen friends and neighbors.

Ventura.

THE Tuesday Club of this city, one of the best known women's clubs in the county, celebrated yesterday its eighteenth annual banquet, at the beautiful Blackburn residence on East Main street, where the annual banquet is always held. There was a full membership present with one exception, that being Mrs. Permelia Newby, who is visiting friends in Arcata. The Blackburn home was tastefully decorated in spring flowers, the banquet board especially being an attractive feature. There was but one toast and that was to the absent sister, an original poem by Mrs. Charles Barnerd being read and dedicated to Mrs. Newby. After the feasting came the programme, consisting of short book reviews, these being one of "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," "Capt. Stormfield," and "Will of the Mill." The reviews were followed by the singing of songs of olden times and the whole was concluded with "Old Lang Syne."

Constantino, the operatic star was a guest Thursday for dinner at the home of A. Camarillo of Camarillo.

Mr. and Mrs. Overmire of Ithaca, Mich., were the guests the past week of Mrs. E. O. Race of Oxnard.

Mrs. L. C. Ross of Del Norte is visiting with friends in Los Angeles.

The E.C.O. Club has announced one of its attractive gatherings in this city for March 16. A sewing bee was held at the clubrooms on Thursday last, which was well attended.

W. D. Aplin accompanied his sister, Miss Aplin, to Los Angeles Wednesday, where she took the train for her home in New York after a visit here during the winter. She made many friends in Ventura social circles during her stay in this city.

Misses Mildred Foster and Renee Canet motored to Los Angeles on Thursday, where they attended the opera.

A GRACEFUL arrangement of pink carnations and ferns centered the table at which Mrs. Charles Wallace Kimberly presided at a daintily appointed three-course luncheon, at her home on South San Fernando boulevard, Thursday, when members of the Ivy Club committee were her guests. Tuesday, March 14, is the date announced for the card party to be given at Goldberg-Bosley's. Mrs. Kimberly will be the gracious hostess at this charming St. Patrick card party and her guests of Thursday are prominent society matrons of Los Angeles, who will assist her and include Mrs. Clifford Burrier, Mrs. Frank Allen, Mrs. Arthur Cresse, Mrs. William Royal, Mrs. Adelle Lindenbaum, Mrs. E. R. Erway and Miss Mary Hilfe.

One of the many delightful social events that was enjoyed by a happy coterie of friends the past week was the tea with which Mrs. Clyde R. Carmack entertained at her home, No. 715 North Central avenue, Wednesday afternoon. An artistic arrangement of potted palms and ferns produced a most charming effect in the various rooms of the Carmack residence, which were given over to the afternoon's pleasures. Dainty little shamrocks, gathered in Mrs. Wyly Kohl's gardens, were also in evidence, suggestive of the patron saint, Patrick. Pleasing features of the programme as arranged by Mrs. Carmack were piano solos and duets rendered by Rudolph and Walter Kohl and Miss Susie Kohl. Miss Dorothy Hobbs sang very sweetly, "A Little Heaven," and as an encore, "Mother Machree." Miss Hobbs was accompanied by her sister, Miss Katherine Hobbs.

Very happily was the eightieth anniversary of W. M. Goodridge entertained with a dinner party. Pink and white carnations with graceful ferns centered the table at which Mr. and Mrs. Goodridge dispensed generous hospitality to the coterie of relatives who were bidden to assist in commemorating this auspicious event. The host is a dearly beloved and honored member of the G.A.R., having served during the Civil War, and seated with Mr. and Mrs. Goodridge were Gen. and Mrs. C. H. Whipple, Mrs. O. F. Newell and Miss Madeline Newell, Mrs. and Mrs. Charles Whipple and son, Arthur Whipple, Mr. and Mrs. James D. Gould and Mrs. T. B. Wilcox.

A dainty French gold basket filled with vari-colored hyacinths centered an elegantly appointed table at which Mr. and Mrs. Francis Booth presided Sunday at their home on Gardena avenue. The guests who were thus entertained were Mrs. Katherine C. Hogan of Los Angeles and sister, Mrs. M. R. Douglas of Denver, Colo.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Crafford and daughter, Miss Marian Crafford, motored over from Corona Saturday and were the over-Sunday guests of their cousin, Mrs. D. H. Imler of Palm Villa, West Park avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl V. Coleman entertained Sunday at their home on Acacia avenue with a luncheon complimentary to Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Butt.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry De Young of Chicago, with Mrs. D. R. Bonthius and Miss Dorothy and Miss Ruth Bonthius of Pasadena, were the guests Monday of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Van Hazelen of West Park avenue.

Mrs. Elizabeth Kasseall, after an absence of six months visiting her daughter, Mrs. Emery Gates of Richmond, returned to Tropico Tuesday and is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Samuel A. Pollock of West Park avenue, whom she will visit indefinitely.

Gotfred Byloff, who has been the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Byloff, and sisters, Mrs. Allen Ellsworth Boyce and Mrs. Charles Stuart, for the past fortnight, has returned to his home at Wood River, Ill.

COREOPSIS CLUB ladies enjoyed the pleasure of going away from their home town on a recent Wednesday afternoon, when Mrs. Jack King entertained her fellow-members at the home of Mrs. Mont Jackson in Santa Ana. A full attendance of the membership was the result. The pretty Jackson home was decorated in fragrant violets and lovelye freesias. Needlework kept fingers busy while the ladies chatted over current events and more intimate gossip. At a late hour in the delightful afternoon a delicious collation was served on individual trays. Those enjoying Mrs. King's hospitality were Mrs. Fenlon Mathews, Mrs. H. E. Mathews, Mrs. Ann Swartz, Mrs. Claud Norton, Mrs. John House, Mrs. Hart, Mrs. Charles Lambert, Mrs. Alton Alderman, Mrs. B. E. Smith, Mrs. Jack King and Mrs. Jackson.

Mrs. C. E. Young was hostess on Sunday at a pleasant family gathering, marking the return of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Knight from their wedding trip. Mrs. Knight was Miss Crittie Young. A sumptuous chicken pie dinner served at noon was one of the dominating features of the pleasant day. Those at the table besides the Young family were the bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Knight, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Knight, Mr. and Mrs. Gavin Baxter, Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Prebble and family, Miss Rae Knight and Mrs. Effie Slusser.

Rev. and Mrs. W. F. McDougal charmingly entertained at the Presbyterian manse on Monday night in honor of Miss Clara Thorman and Mr. Milton Bailey, each a member of the respective classes taught by the host and hostess. It was a farewell party, Miss Thorman leaving Sunday for an extended visit to relatives at Oelwein, Ill., and Mr. Bailey departing for a summer with an uncle in Montana. One of the amusing features of the evening was the writing of letters to the young man and woman, the letters to be opened at stated intervals along their journeys. A round of games was kept going merrily during the evening by Miss Thorman and Mrs. Frances Thate, and refreshments of the most delicious sort were served at a late hour by Mrs. McDougal.

Mrs. Robert E. Reid entertained on Tuesday at her lovely country home near Tustin, her guests being the members of an auction bridge club of which Mrs. Reid is a member. There were four tables of players, and the whist trophies were won by Mrs. Alice Harris and Mrs. Frank Case of Santa Ana.

A GROUP of Junior College girls went to Los Angeles on Thursday evening to attend a performance of Helen Hunt Jackson's "Ramona" at Temple Auditorium. The party included Misses Arvilla Ball, Ramona Clevenger, Isabelle Jayne, Florence McArthur, Muriel Lee, Helen Remsberg, Elizabeth Givens, Theretta Taylor, Dorothy Mead, Emma Awe, Eula Chamberlain, Isabelle Anderson, Charlotte Ranney and Messrs. Charles Deaver, F. W. Yocum, Emerald Stein, Maxwell Jayne and Francis C. Westgate. They are members of Prof. Deavers's class, which is studying the early history of California and its missions.

Charming southern girls garbed in quaint Colonial costumes were the guests on a recent Friday night of Miss Grace Martin at her Chestnut-street home. The guests were members and men friends of the Girls' Auxiliary of Emma Sanson Chapter, U.D.C. The hostess was attired in a fifty-year-old wedding gown, and several of the costumes were heirlooms. A 10 o'clock supper, duplicating the party suppers of their grandmothers, was enjoyed by the young women. Old-fashioned games and songs were features of the evening. Assistant hostesses were Misses Adeline Hill, Louise Montgomery, Carolyn Haughton, Mildred Taylor, Fannyada Tarver, Theretta Taylor, Gertrude Montgomery and Mrs. Clarence Nisson.

Deeply regretted, Rev. J. A. Stevenson, accompanied by his wife and family, will soon leave for Phoenix, Ariz., where this well-known Southern California divine will preside over the largest Presbyterian church of that city. This removal from Santa Ana has been the motif for many social courtesies for both Rev. and Mrs. Stevenson, one of the most pleasant for the latter being a luncheon recently tendered by Mrs. H. C. Dawes. Spring flowers, including masses of roses, made the beautiful Dawes home a veritable bower of bloom. Dainty blossoms adorned the place cards, and were the floral motif for the elegantly-appointed six-course luncheon. Those at the board besides the hostess and the honoree were Mmes. R. J. Blee, W. T. Mateer, Mary Heathman, H. E. Lewis, W. W. Anderson, E. L. Morrison, E. B. Smith, Paul Stevens, J. H. Rankin and Miss Ida Mitchell. A friendship book inscribed with some sweet sentiment of love from each of the ladies present was presented to Mrs. Stevenson.

The members of the Santa Ana Music Association was most charmingly entertained at the attractive home of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Winbigler on a recent Monday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Holmes Bishop in a programme of solos and duets sung by these accomplished musicians. Mrs. Albe J. Padgham was the accompanist. The programme included Perwald's "Still as the Night," "Infelice" from Verdi's "Ernani," Tosti's "A Sera," "Der Tod und das Maedchen" (Schubert,) aria from "Mignon" (Thomas,) Mallison's "To Me at My Fifth Floor Window," Lamont Smith's "My Soul Shall Sing from Songs of Joy," "Destiny" (Colby,) Sidney Homer's "Break, Break Break," "L'Addio" (Donizetti,) "Sommernacht" (Schultz.) Both singers were in splendid voice, and Mrs. Bishop was charming in manner and absorption in the spirit of song. Mrs. Arnold Peek led a round table on "Community Music."

Mrs. George Briggs was hostess at her Broadway-street home recently at auction bridge, her guests being Mmes. M. E. Scott, E. S. Morrow, R. R. Shafer, Roscoe Whitted, Charles S. Kendall, F. W. Fuller, Cal D. Lester, W. F. Lutz, A. W. Rutan, H. T. Duckett and O. K. Forgy. Mrs. Morrow and Mrs. C. D. Lester were prize winners. Jonquils and sweet peas were used in decorations, and a dainty collation followed the games.

MISS LOUISE BLYHOLDER and Charles Duptill, who have been childhood classmates and sweethearts, are now more closely united by a matrimonial bond. Keeping their intentions deeply secret, they recently slipped away to Olinda, where they were quietly married, each then going to their respective homes, where they pursued the even tenor of their lives. They disclosed their secret on a recent Friday evening, a week after their marriage, at a surprise party given for Miss Blyholder, as she was supposed still to be. The interesting nuptial announcement created excitement and the couple was congratulated, not only on their marriage, but on their ability to successfully keep a secret. Mr. and Mrs. Duptill have gone north for future residence.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Anderson was the scene of a happy suprise on Friday evening, when thirty-one of their friends invaded the house after having met at the Methodist Church and marched from there in a body. They gathered to celebrate the twenty-seventh birthday of Mrs. Anderson. The features of the evening were jolly games, music rendered by Mrs. J. T. McElree and Mrs. Ray Christiansen, and the reading of an original poem by Mrs. George Reyburn. During the reading a birthday cake, brilliant with candles, was placed on a table decorated with four tiny vases each containing a beautiful rose. During the serving of delicious refreshments Rev. W. W. Hull presented Mrs. Anderson with a set of silver salad forks as a token of friendship from the company. Mrs. Anderson was showered with many other gifts. The birthday cake was cut by the involuntary hostess and shared [illegible] guests before they departed [illegible] hour with wishes for many [illegible] turns of the day for the lady [illegible] they had honored during the [illegible]

The most recent newlyweds of Garden Grove, Mr. and Mrs. G. [illegible] Fording, were charmingly surprised recently by a number of their friends who thought enough of them to brave a rainstorm that raged during their walk to the Smith home on West Ocean avenue, where the Fordings are living until they secure their own home. The evening was delightfully spent with various diversions and conversation, delectable refreshments being served at a late hour. Those who joined in surprising the bride and groom were Mr. and Mrs. Smith, Miss Winifred Adiand, Miss Elsie [illegible], Miss Olive Northcross, Miss Mildred Smith, the bride's sister; [illegible] and Constance German; Messrs. George Oertly, Owen Whit[illegible], [illegible] Rosselot.

Miss Mildred Harper was hostess at a leap year party on Tuesday evening to a number of her friends. [illegible] sweet peas, lilies and greenery were used in house decorations. Music and lively games sped the evening hours all too swiftly. Refreshments were served by the hostess before good nights were said, and the guest list included Mr. and Mrs. Morris Gale, Miss Julia McGill, Miss Dora Harris, Miss Marjorie McTaggart, Miss Vera Crawford, Miss Mina Harper; Messrs. [illegible] McGill, George Harris, Ralph McTaggert, Jack Lemain, Wilbur [illegible], Earl Marshall.

MRS. MELLOR, Mrs. J. F. Keller and Mrs. A. A. Bennett of this city were guests on a recent Friday afternoon at a charming Kensington party given in Santa Ana by Mrs. W. B. Keller and her accomplished daughter, Dr. Ada B. Keller. The affair was given in compliment to their friend, Mrs. C. E. Elliott of Washington, who is spending the winter in Southern California. The house was exquisitely decorated in feathery acacia and golden jonquils, and the same motif in color was carried out in the delicious refreshments served by the hostess. Animated conversation during the hours spent with dainty needlework was continued over the tea cups. Twenty-four guests were bidden to meet Mrs. Elliott and besides Mrs. Mellor, Mrs. Bennett and Mrs. Keller of this city, other out-of-town guests were Mrs. R. Brooks, [illegible] Broat, Mrs. Armstrong and Mrs. W. W. Erwin of Long Beach.

Cocoanut Oil Fine For Washing Hair.

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain, mulsified cocoanut oil, (which is pure and entirely greaseless,) is much better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather and cleans the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsified cocoanut oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.

SHE DARKENED HER GRAY HAIR

A Kansas City Lady Darkened Her Gray Hair and Stimulated Its Growth by a Simple Home Process.

She tells How She Did It.

A well-known resident of Kansas City, Mo., who darkened her gray hair by a simple home process, made the following statement: "Any lady or gentleman can darken their gray or faded hair, stimulate its growth and make it soft and glossy with this simple recipe, which they can mix at home. To half a pint of water add 1 oz. of bay rum, 1 small box of Barbo Compound and ¼ oz. of glycerine. These ingredients can be purchased at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair every other day until the gray hair is darkened sufficiently, then every two weeks. This mixture relieves scalp troubles and is excellent for dandruff and falling hair. It does not stain the scalp, is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off. It will make a gray-haired person look 10 to 20 years younger.

SOCIETY.

[illegible] was the scene of the first course. The color scheme was red and green. In the center of the table was a basket of red camellias and ferns, and around it were camellia blossoms. The second course was served at the home of Mrs. Victor Young, No. 465 Keonak [illegible]. Mrs. Young had made her table attractive with a basket filled with yellow violets. The meat course was served at the home of Mrs. George Richmond, No. 925 Williams street, where a St. Patrick scheme was worked out. A cut-glass bowl filled with green carnations and ferns formed the centerpiece for the table and there were shamrock cards at the places. The last course was served at the home of Mrs. W. C. [illegible], No. 894 Williams street, where the women played bridge after partaking of a delicious dessert. Purple and white iris formed the decorations, supplemented by shamrock and green candles. The special guests were Mrs. W. L. Hamlin, Mrs. Charles [illegible], Mrs. Blanche Norwood and Mrs. Dale Nicolen.

In celebrating the birthday of their [illegible], Miss Grace Mathis, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Benton gave a three-course dinner at No. 560 Lincoln avenue Monday evening. THE Del Mar Club issued invitations for a dancing party on Saturday evening and about forty couples enjoyed the affair. The club rooms were prettily decorated for the occasion in calla lilies and pink sweet peas. Exceptionally fine music was furnished by a Los Angeles orchestra, and a thoroughly enjoyable evening was witnessed not only by the dancers and club members but by the guests who were merely on-lookers. The refreshments committee was composed of Dr. C. P. Ratliff, Clarence Criswell and Bert Vincent, who proved themselves generous and discriminating hosts, when it came to selecting delicious viands. The next social affair planned by the Del Mar Club will be the Leap Year party which will be given March 18 in honor of the women who are connected with the club in a social way.

A charming little dinner party was given on Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas G. Tuck when they had as their guests of honor, Rev. and Mrs. P. D. Gardner at the Tuck home on Eucalyptus drive. The menu was enhanced by the dainty place cards which had been placed at the plates and the climax of the party was reached when a huge birthday cake was brought in, which was a surprise to the Rev. Gardner, in whose honor the cake had been made. The birthday party was attended by several out of town people.

Earl Keeley of Richmond, Stuart Fitzgerald and Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Fitzgerald were entertained at dinner Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Fitzgerald. After dinner a musical programme was given by Mr. Keely and Mr. Fitzgerald.

Mrs. Clinton Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Faber and George Henderson were entertained on Wednesday evening at dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. DeFord.

Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Davis entertained Marvin Chappell and Miss Jennie Patterson at dinner at their cosy little home on Virginia street on Friday evening.

Santa Monica.

MANY charming society affairs were given this last week before the Lenten season began. Mrs. Thomas H. Dudley of Idaho avenue, Santa Monica, was hostess at a delightfully-appointed luncheon recently. A number of guests motored down from Los Angeles.

Another dainty luncheon was given by Mrs. L. Oliney of No. 26 Wavecrest avenue. Prettily-arranged rosebuds formed an attractive centerpiece. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. George Mayer, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Vandergrift, Miss Laura Vandergrift, Mrs. T. Dol, Mrs. J. Fiske, Miss H. Frocke, Miss E. Salter and Mrs. Olney. Following the luncheon the guests were entertained with vocal and piano selections.

The beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Dubbs in the Palisades was recently the scene of a brilliant dancing party, complimenting Mr. and Mrs. Horner of South Dakota and Mr. and Mrs. Horner of La Crosse, Wis., guests of their sister, Mrs. C. P. Schermerhorn. The ballroom was most attractive in crimson and the dining-room, where supper was served, was fragrant with spring blossoms and old-fashioned flowers. Mr. and Mrs. Dubbs were assisted in the receiving by Mr. and Mrs. Horace Beek and Mr. and Mrs. Daly Bevis. Others noted were Miss Brown, Mrs. Ella F. Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lyons, Mr. and Mrs. Rogers, Miss Davis and Mr. Bevis, all of Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. I. C. Speers, Mrs. J. Louden, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Cribb, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. John Dennis, Miss Sturtevant, Mrs. Charles Peckham, Mrs. Adolf Frese, Mr. and Mrs. Horner of South Dakota, and Mr. and Mrs. Horner of Wisconsin.

A surprise to her many friends here in Santa Monica was the marriage of Miss Ruby Sproul, daughter of Mrs. M. Sproul of No. 1324 Fifteenth street, and Jason C. Stacker. The wedding was quietly solemnized at the home of Rev. McIntyre of No. 1341 Los Angeles street, formerly pastor of the Christian Church of Santa Monica. Only immediate relatives of the family were present, Mrs. Sproul, Arthur Sproul, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Taylor and Miss Sylvia Allen. The bride was charming in a suit of pretty gray with chic hat to match. Santa Anita will be the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stacker.

A smart bridge tea was given Tuesday by Mrs. W. T. Gillis and daughter, Mrs. Russell Johnson, at the Gillis home on Fifth street. The affair was in honor of eastern friends, Mrs. E. B. Hibbard of Chicago, Mrs. W. K. Nash and Mrs. Herbert Green of Minneapolis, and Mrs. H. C. Witmer of Los Angeles, house guest of Mrs. Gillis, being complimented. After cards tea was served, a delicate color scheme of pink being exquisitely used. Others present were Mrs. Earle R. Nash, Mrs. Foster, Mrs. Ihmsen, Mrs. Humason, Misses Ihmsen, Victoria Witmer and Cora Boettcher of Los Angeles, Mrs. Harry Finch and Mrs. Vanderhouf of Minneapolis, and Mrs. J. Stanley White, Mrs. F. J. Wagner, Mrs. Claudius Raymond, Mrs. J. W. Sprately, Mrs. C. P. Leigh, Mrs. A. M. Jamison, Mrs. A. E. Jackson, Mrs. A. M. Montgomery, Mrs. Floyd Nutting, Mrs. John Byers, Mrs. A. J. Snell, Mrs. W. R. Parks and Miss Marjorie Nutting of the beach.

TUESDAY night, one of the gayest parties of the season was given at the Auditorium, when over thirty-five invited couples danced for many merry hours under a ceiling festooned with American flags and American emblems, which had been placed there to celebrate the national holidays during the month. The Parent-Teachers' Association had the dance in charge, and although it had been announced as a leap year party, the men gallantly did their share after arriving at the hall. The flags used for the occasion were gracefully draped around huge clusters of lilies of the valley, carnations and ferns. Punch was served during the evening by the Mmes. C. E. Jenkins, S. E. Bohler and Mrs. Klarquist presided over the candy booth. Mrs. A. B. Castile received the tickets at the door. A party of older people who acted as patronesses also witnessed the happy affair.

Miss Jean Price was the guest of honor at a charmingly arranged party given by Mrs. George A. Dobinson recently. The house was decorated with red roses and lights were arranged to match in the color scheme. The following little folks were present: Jean Price, Ruth Van Vorst, Lorena Pierce, Cordelia Chambers, Edwarda Rothe, Luella Rykoff, Jean McGowan, Florence Micshalek, Izetta Meccammon, Mary Spellacy, Ruth Mabee, Jeanette Peck, Opal Wilkerson, Mary Beth Cox, Allyen Lieger, Heanette Fuller, Ursula Cheshire, Edith Raphael, Kathryn Chase and Marion Uphoff.

Keen interest and well wishes were expressed by the many friends of Miss Ethel Mary Alton on Saturday afternoon, when her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Alton, announced at a cleverly arranged luncheon the coming marriage of their daughter to Mr. Charles Marde, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mardel Ferreia, a distinguished family of Portugal. The wedding will occur in the late summer.

Mrs. H. E. Moon had as her guest during the latter part of the week, her brother, S. H. Maddy of Venice. Mrs. Lena Lawson, also of Venice, was included in the guest list.

Mrs. Loni I. Robinson of Glendale, formerly a prominent member of the Hermosa Beach City Club, was a visitor in town the first part of the week. She was here on a business and pleasure trip combined. Tuesday evening she was the guest of honor at a pretty little dinner party given at the home of Mrs. T. T. Hopeworthy.

ONE of the cleverest entertainments produced by the social set of this section was the "Minstrel Maids" at the Woman's Club House two evenings last week. This delegation of female minstrels played to a packed house each night. The troupe consisted of eighteen prominent women, who sang old and new songs, gave many clever local jokes, cake walks, jigs and a complete vaudeville bill, ending with a rollicking scene in "Mammy's Cabin." Mrs. T. H. Flather was the originator and leader, being ably assisted by Mrs. J. H. Wright, president of the Woman's Club. Mrs. Anna B. Brandt, in her impersonations of a colored preacher and other interpretations, carried the audience off its feet. Among the other clever artists were Miss Bernadette Brown, a southern girl of 13, who, with true southern accent sang darky songs and gave an old-time jig; Mrs. Julia Shannon, a southern girl, who sang in the darky dialect, "A Levee Song;" Mrs. J. N. Hawks, in "My Own United States." Mmes. F. L. Ramharter and Caroline Collins, in darky dancing and monologue, and Mrs. H. W. Timms, in a clever impersonation. The chorus included many of the younger social set and showed evidence of skillful training.

Mrs. Frederick Sperry entertained at a bridge party last Thursday at her residence, Los Cedros Rancho. Among those present were Mmes. W. J. Lawless, J. T. Mason, Frank Hart, E. Carhart, and the Misses Weaver and Woodward.

Judge P. Whittlesey of Washington, D. C., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Camp, where he will remain for some time preparatory to making his home in Pasadena.

The beautiful home of Miss Thomasella Graham, "Mia Italia," was the scene of a delightful afternoon on Thursday when over seventy guests assembled and were entertained by Miss Graham, assisted by Miss Ida Munsell and Mrs. Selma Beyer of Santa Monica, with Miss Graham's house guest, Miss J. Edwina James of Boston. The decorations were in pink and purple to suggest the coming Lenten season. Most of the guests were out-of-town residents. The tea tables provided by a Pasadena caterer were presided over by Mmes. Bravinder, Montgomery, Goodfellow and Krebs of this place.

Mrs. Dr. R. H. Mackerras and her three sons arrived here Saturday after a three months' visit in Canada with Mrs. Mackerras's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Craig of Kingston, Ont.

ONE of the most elaborate and delightful affairs of the entire season was held on Friday evening when the senior class of the High School entertained the faculty and their wives at the Pathfinder Clubhouse with a Yama Yama party. The ballroom was most elaborately decorated with cherry blossoms, giving a most delightful Japanese effect, while the large, red lanterns which swung low and gracefully from all parts of the ceiling added attractively to the oriental scenery. The evening was spent in many pleasurable games and all remarked of it as being the best yet. Among the faculty guests were Mack Erwin and Mrs. Mack Erwin, Misses Posten, White, Palmer, Andrews, Kelso, Cronkite, Beal and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lueders, Mr. and Mrs. Richards, Mr. and Mrs. Allee and Mr. and Mrs. Hunt.

The Pathfinder Club met at the clubhouse on Thursday afternoon and a most enjoyable time was spent by all. During the usual hour for entertainment the members of the club had the pleasure of listening to some of their own members as it was home talent day. Those who took part were Mrs. Mack Erkin, piano solo; Mrs. Rice, original paper; Mrs. Bean, reading; Kenneth Elliott, piano solo; Ruth Chaffee, piano solo; Mrs. Allee, reading; Mrs. Baron Anderson, reading; Mrs. Saseveer, piano solo. During the usual social hour which followed, Mrs. Preston, acting as hostess of the day, served refreshments.

Mrs. J. Lee Shepherd and Mrs. E. R. Colingridge joined the large party of relatives and friends and spent a most enjoyable day at Glendora on Wednesday. The party returned on Wednesday, Mrs. Shepherd entertaining Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Norton, Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Mercer, Miss Gertrude Mercer and Mrs. Colingridge at dinner.

Bradburn, Miss Edith Hanson, Mrs. Crombie Allen, Miss Josephine Palmer, Miss Velma Barkelew and Miss Ethel Barkelew.

Society was out in force Tuesday evening for the delightful cotillion given by the Casa Blanca Club at the Masonic Temple, it being the last party of the club until after Lent. The cotillion was planned and successfully carried out under the direction of Mrs. William Starbuck Fenton and the favors with their many colors added a bizarre touch to the gay ballroom scene which proved altogether delightful. Mrs. Werner Pell Craft and Mrs. Orrin Ziegler Hubbell presided at the favor table. Supper was served in the banquet-room at midnight. Some forty couples of the smart set attended the delightful party.

Dr. G. Ben Henke was honored Sunday on the occasion of his birthday anniversary when Mrs. Henke entertained with a charmingly-appointed 2 o'clock dinner at their delightful home, No. 317 North Euclid avenue. A pink and white color scheme was effectively used in decoration, peach and narcissus blossoms being artistically combined. The dinner was served in courses and covers were marked for Mr. and Mrs. Maurice H. Bent of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. E. I. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Lennox, and Dr. and Mrs. Henke.

Youthful Miss Calina Magill was hostess Friday evening at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elwin A. Magill of West Sixth street. The guests were Miss Calina's classmates in the seventh grade of the San Antonio-avenue school. The evening was spent at various interesting games followed by a tempting "spread."

Mrs. Fred Parker and her sister, Mrs. I. W. Biggar of Lankershim, entertained Tuesday with a charmingly-appointed bridge luncheon at Hotel Casa Blanca. The tables were attractively adorned in spring blossoms and in the auction tournament which followed the luncheon the first prize was captured by Mrs. George E. Bender.

Anaheim.

MR. AND MRS. V. LAMONT entertained a party of friends Saturday evening, when an enjoyable time was spent with music and five hundred. First prize for ladies was won by Sophie Stepan, and for gentlemen by M. Eden. Consolations were awarded to Mrs. Eden and Oscar Schneider. At the close of the evening appetizing refreshments were served. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. M. Eden, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schneider, Misses Anna and Sophie Stephan, and Messrs. "Lefty" Scoggins and Oscar Schneider.

Announcement of the coming marriage of Miss Inez Maas to Ben Buelke of St. Paul, was made at the miscellaneous shower given in her honor Friday evening by Mrs. A. H. Maas and Miss Freda Maas. The A. H. Maas home on South Palm street was artistically decorated for the event. Hearts and flowers were used to carry out a pink and white color scheme. During the evening several games were played and prizes were won by Miss Bella Walker and Miss Hattie Brown. Following the games an elaborate luncheon was served, the guests being seated at one large table, beautifully appointed in decorations of pink and white. Guests included Misses Hattie Brown of Pasadena, Susie Deering, Ada Brown, Bertha Schmidt, Gladys DeVinney, Lillian Clabaugh, Bella Walker, Esther Schnitger, Paula Palm, Irma Neff, Eva Merritt, Myrtle Beckler, Fern Corcoran, Mary Baliss and Mrs. F. Parker and daughter, Henrietta.

Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Brown on West Broadway were showered with guests from Los Angeles and Pasadena, Monday. The guests were their son and friends, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Land, Ernest Land and wife from Pasadena, Oscar England and wife from Worcester, Mass., Mrs. Anna Kelley, her sister, from Worcester, Mrs. Sadie Shaw from Webster, Mass., and their brother, J. S. Leavitt of Anaheim, formerly of Worcester. It being the natal day of one of the guests, W. S. Land, the occasion was fittingly observed, and the fact that there were thirteen present did not in the least effect the company when they sat down to an excellent chicken dinner. Eleven of the company were former residents of Worcester.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Zeppenfeld and sisters, Mrs. M. Schwartz and Miss Esther Grewco, entertained with a theater party last Tuesday evening in honor of their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Conner of Pittsburgh. The guests assembled at the Zeppenfeld home early in the evening and the party of nineteen then went by auto to Los Angeles, where they enjoyed an exceptionally good bill at the Orpheum. After the performance the guests were taken to the "Pig'n Whistle" for refreshments. Those in the party were the honor guests, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Conner, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Ames, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Rivera.

MRS. E. C. HOSTETTER entertained the members of the Alta Mira Club at her home on the Colima road, Orchard Dale, Friday afternoon. Fourteen members and two visitors were present. The guests of the club were Mrs. M. F. Jett and Mrs. F. Austin of Whittier.

Howard Crawford of the U.S.S.S. Buffalo and Guy H. Benton of the Iris visited relatives at Rivera this week, while their boats were in the harbor at San Diego.

Hollis Haddock and family, former residents of the Rivera district, will leave soon for Stafford, Kings county, to pass the summer. The Haddocks spent last summer at Stafford and returned here for the winter and early spring only.

Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Weisel have gone to Rochester, Minn., for an indefinite stay. Mr. Weisel will enter the sanatorium at Rochester for a major operation.

The excitement-loving residents of the district had their wishes gratified the first of the week, when a moving-picture concern from Los Angeles was out taking pictures at the Santa Fe bridge. One of the thrillers filmed was that of an automobile plunging

The Doctor's Advice

by Dr. Lewis Baker

The questions answered below are general in character, the symptoms or diseases are given and the answers will apply in any case of similar nature.

Those wishing further advice, free, may address Dr. Lewis Baker, College Bldg., College-Ellwood Sts., Dayton, O., enclosing self-addressed stamped envelope for reply. Full name and address must be given, but only initials or fictitious name will be used in my answers. The prescriptions can be filled at any well-stocked drug store. Any druggist can order of wholesaler.

"Undersized" writes: "How may I safely increase my strength and weight?"

Answer: The best thing I could suggest to increase your strength and add to your weight several pounds of good, healthy flesh is the use of three-grain hyponuclane tablets. These tablets taken with your meals cause proper assimilation of the food, and in a short time you should increase in weight as many pounds as you wish.

"Traveler" says: Since I had lagrippe this winter I am bothered with pains in my back and chills and fever. I am told that I have kidney trouble."

Answer: Your kidneys are possibly congested and inflamed. If you have headache, chills and fever and pains in the back, you need a good kidney medicine. Another symptom is a scant, ill-smelling urine. Also a puffiness under the eyes and swollen ankles. I always prescribe balmwort tablets and they give perfect satisfaction.

"Mrs. L." writes: "My blood is in bad condition. I am nervous and constipated. I always feel tired, but when night comes I cannot sleep. Have chills and fever."

Answer: The best thing I could prescribe for your condition would be three-grain sulpherb tablets (not sulphur.) They relieve constipation, aid digestion and purify the blood.

"Hair Dresser" asks: "What harmless tonic may I use to promote hair growth and relieve the scalp of itching and dandruff?"

Answer: Secure a jar of plain yellow minyol and apply to the scalp after washing the hair. Rub in well and rinse out thoroughly. You will find this a most successful dandruff remedy and scalp vitalizer.

"Too Stout" writes: "I travel and I'm so fat I seem in my own way. Would like to reduce safely, 20 to 30 pounds."

Answer: Many people have reduced their weight successfully with the use of arbolone tablets. These may be bought at any well stocked drug store with full directions.

"Traveling Man" writes: "I am not now the man I was a year ago. I've lost my ambition and vitality. I'm unfit for work and pleasure and find the social and business demands I once enjoyed are now irksome to me. I seem to have lost my lease on life. I'm only 35; surely I'm not getting old. I feel bored and mortified at times, and worry and fret without cause."

Answer: Your symptoms indicate wasted nerve forces and a general run-down condition. You will find just the tonic, stimulant and builder you require in three-grain cadomene tablets. Thousands in your condition have been benefited by them.

"Friend" writes: "I have recently had terrible rheumatism all the time. Please advise me what to take?"

Answer: For your rheumatism I recommend the following treatment: 2 drams of iodide of potassium, 4 drams sodium salicylate, ½ oz. wine of colchicum, 1 oz. comp. essence cardiol, 1 oz. comp. fluid balmwort and 5 ozs. syrup sarsaparilla comp. Mix and take a teaspoonful at meal time and again before going to bed. You should get good results from this prescription and permanent relief.

"Jessie" asks: "What may I do for a bad cold? I think I have LaGrippe, as I seem to ache all over. I cough and my throat is sore."

Answer: Your system is full of cold inflammation which causes the aching. You need a good laxative cough and cold medicine. This you will find in a syrup made from 2½ oz. of the essence mentholaxene mixed with one pint of simple sugar syrup or honey. It should open up the air passages, ease the inflamed membranes and relieve the cough.

THE home of Mr. and Mrs. Al Taylor was the scene of gaiety Tuesday evening, when the N. F. Club surprised them with a mask party. The evening was delightfully spent with music and games, after which delectable refreshments of sandwiches, cake and coffee were served.

The Greenwood Social Center programme given recently in the Greenwood school proved enjoyable to all those who attended. The delightful programme rendered consisted of a paper, entitled "Preparedness," by Mr. E. P. Haskell; vocal solo, Mrs. Fred Darcy; reading by Mrs. F. Y. Adams; violin and piano duet by Messrs. Carrol Shirley and Curtis Stewart.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Silvius, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. McIndoo and Mr. Hays Silvius were week-end guests of Mrs. S. Silvius.

Mrs. Millie Gilbert of Calgary, Can., was a recent visitor at the R. W. Wilson residence.

The Odd Fellows Hall was the scene of revelry Friday evening, when the members entertained with a cake-walk and a dance.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Hichborn delightfully entertained at a dinner party Wednesday evening Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Hinman, Mrs. Ella Ruggles of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. C. Y. James and Miss Sally Galloway.

Mrs. W. P. Slabaugh and Misses Margaret Townsend and Ruth Sanderson are visiting at the home of Mr. Harry Sanderson in San Jacinto.

Miss Hazel Yoho of Los Angeles was a recent visitor of Miss Mercedes Marriner.

AN elaborate dinner was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McCord on South Malabar street Tuesday for the quartermaster veteran, who celebrated his seventy-eighth birthday anniversary amidst a house full of children, relatives and grandchildren. Following the dinner at noon the veteran of '61, who is yet as spry as a man of thirty years younger, told the children stories of the Civil War, while the older children listened and looked on. Among those present were H. C. McCord and son, and his wife, of Santa Ana, and three daughters, with their husbands and children: Mr. and Mrs. J. M. King of Pasadena, Mr. and Mrs. T. N. Newell of Los Angeles, and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Neidhardt. A brother and his wife, Capt. T. T. and Mrs. McCord, were also present.

With the heartiest of good wishes more than twenty guests at a delightful birthday and dinner party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Ehlers on South Seville street Saturday evening wished Mr. Ehlers, the honoree of the occasion, many happy returns of the day. At the elaborate and deftly-served dinner each guest was surprised with a dainty place card hand-painted by the talented hostess with appropriate designs. The table was graced with a large birthday cake, on which a number of brightly blazing tell-tale candles were placed. Five tables of whist later caused the evening to pass all too quickly. The score cards for this game were also painted by the hostess, and, according to the season, were decorated with March hares in variously quaint attitudes. The gentlemen's prize, an exquisitely-decorated match box, was awarded to Mr. Hal Whiting of Los Angeles, and the ladies' prize, a dainty powder box, also painted by Mrs. Ehlers, was presented to Miss Mattoon. Those who enjoyed this happy occasion were Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Scott, Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Leonard, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Candee, Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Barrett, Mr. and Mrs. William Candee, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Van Loon, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce W. Scoggins, Mrs. Mattoon, Mr. and Mrs. Ehlers, Misses Harriet Candee, Mabel and Ethel Mattoon and Harold Whiting of Los Angeles.

A delightful meeting of old-time "back east" friends was held at the home of Mrs. Charles F. Tumbleson on South Malabar street Wednesday, when a number of former neighbors in Sterling, Ill., were entertained at dinner at noon and a social afternoon following. The ladies who enjoyed this occasion were Mmes. S. A. Smaeger, Will Getz, Charles Getz, Meyers, Vandenberg, Lower, Jacobs, Cap, Snart, McCallister, Daveler and Hooper.

Four pleasing prizes were awarded to both the most skillful and those least so at the much-enjoyed whist party given by Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Ford at their new bungalow home on South Pacific boulevard Saturday evening, when more than twenty guests gathered to enjoy the fascinating game of chance. The first ladies' prize was awarded to Mrs. Ruby C. DeMonbrun, and the first prize for the gentlemen to William Alexander. The "booby" prize for the ladies was captured by Mrs. Dr. Fiske. The booby prize for the gentlemen was deliberately won by Russell Allen. Among those present were Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Fiske, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Boss, Mr. and Mrs. J. Russell Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. DeMonbrun, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Bliss, Mrs. A. P. Day and Miss Minnie Day, Harry and Fay Allen, and others.

A musical reading of "Hiawatha's Wooing," by Mrs. Arthur Moorman, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Horace Candee, together with several readings in Italian dialect by Miss Harriet Candee and several sweetly-sung vocal selections by Mrs. Reba Leonard, were enjoyed by twenty-two assembled guests at the home of Mrs. Candee on South Seville street Wednesday afternoon, the occasion being a social afternoon at which fancy work was the chief motif.

ONE of the happy affairs of the week was the party with which Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Hammond of Sixth and Pepper streets entertained on Wednesday evening in compliment to their house guests, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. King of Wyoming, Ill. The invited guests, who numbered thirty-two, were nearly all old-time acquaintances and friends of the honored guests and former residents of Illinois. The St. Patrick motif was followed in the entertainment and favors of the evening. A very enjoyable Irish reading was given by Mrs. Dunlap. A dainty luncheon was served at the close of the evening.

In compliment to Miss Minnie Anderson, who is soon to become the bride of Frank Waite, the Misses Reba and Julia Cornwell entertained on Wednesday evening at their home at No. 911 Sixth street. The invited guests, all intimate friends of the honoree, included Miss Anderson, the Mmes. Anderson, Waite, Frances Pulley, Oakley Phillips and Marie Fowler, and the Misses Ruth Anderson, Ethel Robinson, Lillion West, Beth Blake, Dimple Maberry, Charlotte Weiles and Lida Scott.

In compliment to Miss Mildred Cannon, who is soon to become a bride, Miss Rena Phelps entertained in a delightful manner at her home on Terracina drive Tuesday evening. The invited guests included the friends bidden by Miss Cannon to her announcement luncheon. After the nimble fingers of the guests had finished the pleasant task of making towels for the linen chest of the bride-to-be, a dainty luncheon was served by the hostess, who was assisted by her mother, Mrs. W. W. Phelps, and Miss Jessie Russell.

Miss Hester B. Pierce was married to Robert T. Neymeyer on Tuesday evening at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. I. F. Pierce, on Third street. The service of the Episcopal church was read by Rev. Milton Dotten, rector of All Saints' Episcopal Church. The groom was attended by Floyd Freeman as best man, and the other attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Verne Allen, sister and brother-in-law of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Neymeyer will make their home on St. Andrews boulevard after their return from a honeymoon in Los Angeles.

Of interest in local social circles was the announcement received this week of the wedding of Arthur J. Rehwold, son of Mrs. Clara M. Rehwold of No. 1465 Eighth street, to Miss Agusta Stiles of Grand Rapids, Mich. The marriage was solemnized on March 2 at the home of the bride's parents in Grand Rapids. The groom is city passenger agent for the Southern Pacific in Los Angeles, and was connected with the office of the company in this city for a number of years.

DELICATE pink peach blossoms converted the delightful home of Mr. and Mrs. George Augustus Hanson in Euclid avenue into a veritable spring garden Tuesday afternoon when Mrs. Hanson and her sister, Miss A. Schumacher of San Antonio Heights entertained with a charmingly-appointed bridge tea. In the auction tournament, the tally cards bore hand-painted sketches of the same dainty blossoms which adorned the rooms. The prizes were captured by Mrs. James Prindiville and Mrs. Samuel J. Beatty. In the collation which followed, the same delicate color scheme of pink and green was effectively carried out. The guest list included Mrs. Harry B. Beauer, Mrs. Charles Benjamin Ford, Mrs. Betty Henderson Ripple, Mrs. Egbert B. Clarke, Mrs. Arthur L. Walters, Mrs. George E. Bender, Mrs. Edmund Hatcher Granger, Mrs. Charles Barr, Mrs. McKinley, Mrs. Samuel G. Beatty, Mrs. Herbert Isbell Ross, Mrs. Welles Thompson Ross, Mrs. William Starbuck Fenton, Mrs. Werner Pell Craft, Mrs. Henry Edson Swan, Mrs. George E. Swan, Mrs. John H. Kelman, Mrs. John Norman Huehn, Mrs. George B. Harrison, Mrs. W. T. Hadley, Mrs. Fuller, Mrs. Lester Ray Kennedy, Mrs. James Prindiville, Mrs. William Morrison, Mrs. James L. Paul, Mrs. Edward C. Harwood, Mrs. John Tracy, Mrs. Charles Schumacher, Mrs. Horace Little, Mrs. Alois Podrasnik and Miss Schless.

Nearly forty couples of Upland's smart set gathered Thursday evening at the Odd Fellow's Hall for the Red Cross benefit ball, which proved a most enjoyable event. Feathery yellow acacia was used in the adornment of the ballroom and music was furnished by Wilding's orchestra. Punch and wafers were served throughout the evening. Members of the committee in charge who were responsible for the success of the event included Mrs. De Forest Walton, chairman; Mrs. P. H. McQuillen, Mrs. Garnett E. Adams, Mrs. L. E. Alford, Mrs. V. H. Wilson and Mrs. Roe.

Mrs. Perry O. Long was hostess Friday afternoon at her home in Campus avenue to the members of the Merry Wives Embroidery Club. Spring blossoms were used in decoration and a dainty collation followed a pleasant afternoon at needlework.

MISS MATILDA SMITH, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Smith of La Habra, was married to Mr. J. E. Seale of Fullerton at the home of the bride's parents Wednesday. The wedding was a quiet affair, only the immediate families of the contracting parties being present. After the interesting ceremony a wedding breakfast was served. Mr. and Mrs. Seale will make their home in Fullerton after a short honeymoon trip.

Announcement of "intentions of marriage with each other" were made by Prof. William T. Boyce, formerly of the Whittier College faculty, now a teacher in the Fullerton High School junior college, and Miss Vera May Votaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Votaw, at the formal business meeting of the Whittier Friends' Church Wednesday evening. This simple announcement is in accordance with an almost obsolete usage of the Friends' Church. The date for the wedding has not been announced. Miss Votaw is a senior in Whittier College and will be numbered in the graduating class in June. She is prominent in college, social and church circles.

Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Lum of Duluth, Minn., are recent arrivals for a visit in the home of Dr. Lum's mother, Mrs. Emily Lum of East Hadley street. The visitors came through the Sunny South, stopping for a short visit in New Orleans, and will remain here for an extended visit.

The local Elks' lodge entertained a group of guests Wednesday evening, Progressive Five Hundred being the chief diversion of the evening. Light refreshments were served after the games.

The Woman's Auxiliary of St. Mathias Church gave an auxiliary tea at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Emory, Four Acres, Tuesday afternoon, with an address by Mrs. Alice DeWitt Weston of New York as the chief feature. The speaker told of the work of the Girls' Friendly Society and, as a result, an organization was effected with a large charter membership.

Mrs. L. C. Montgomery and Mrs. Adron Wright are spending some time at the Montgomery cabin, near Ravinna.

One of the prettiest parties of the week was the one given to the Phila-Whit Club by Mrs. C. O. LaRue at her hospitable home, No. 424 North Milton avenue, Tuesday. Mrs. LaRue was assisted by Mrs. Thomas Mahoney. The golden sunshine of the Southland was reflected in quantities of daffodils and other appointments used for the occasion. Three tables of whist gave the diversions for the afternoon. The club members participating in the delightful occasion included the Mmes. B. F. Moorehous, M. O. Graves, R. L. Scott, Elmer Cain, Frank Eldred, O. B. Griffin, Frank Lee and George Coulter.

Music lovers of Whittier are looking forward with much pleasure to the home concert to be given by the Girls' Glee Club of Whittier College next Tuesday evening. The club has reached a high degree of excellence this season under the direction of Prof. Howard L. Hockett. Their first concert of the year was given at Lankershim recently. During the spring vacation the club will make a short tour through the San Joaquin Valley and bay sections.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Campbell of Bakersfield have returned to their home after a short visit in the home of Mrs. Campbell's mother, Mrs. Kittie G. Swain. Mrs. M. P. Hopkins accompanied the Campbells home for a short visit.

The members of the United Brethren choir to the number of twenty-five were entertained at the home of the director, B. C. Beech, Monday evening. The choir is now at work on their Easter music and will give "The Resurrection Day" at a special Easter service.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Evans of No. 405 North Washington avenue celebrated their golden wedding Saturday. Friends of the parties from University Place, Neb., where the Evanses formerly resided, gave a dinner to the couple at the First Methodist Church and, from 2 to 4 o'clock in the afternoon a large reception was held in the church.

JONQUILS, arranged Japanese fashion on the drawing-room table and combined with plumosus fern on a table mirror, were employed decoratively for a floral center at the prettily-appointed luncheon given Wednesday by Mrs. J. L. Lamb at her home, No. 215 East Tajauta avenue. Unique hand-done cards seated Mrs. Robert Ernst of Los Angeles and her house guest, Mrs. J. Staley of Spokane, Wash., for whom the courtesy was extended, and Mrs. Edward Wood of Los Angeles, Mrs. William Steele, Mrs. G. A. Earhardt and Mrs. E. C. Bamberg of Graham and Mrs. C. J. Showalter, invited to meet the guests of honor, who spent a pleasant afternoon on the front veranda.

Unique in the annals of the week's entertaining was the joyous celebration of the fourth anniversary of the Latin Home Club, with Mrs. George Palmer of No. 861 Success avenue hostess. The club's colors of lavender and white were used decoratively, a large jardiniere of "flags" occupying a prominent place in the room of reception. The same dominating colors were artistically carried out in violets, napkins and place cards, the piece de resistance being two elaborately-decorated birthday cakes—four tiny candles and "Fourth Anniversary"—as the centerpiece of the two tables of nine covers each, where luncheon was served at 4 o'clock. The balmy air found favor, and the word contest and other diversions were participated in on the lawn. Because Mrs. W. D. McCarger compiled the longest list of words from the letters contained in "anniversary," and Mrs. A. Henwood the shortest list, first and consolation prizes were awarded them. Bidden were Mrs. Herbert Prince, Mrs. Leon Blackman, Mrs. Walter Nay, Mrs. Arthur Nay, Mrs. W. D. Hinton, Mrs. Percy Smith and Mrs. Ernest Fiddament. Members present were Mrs. W. D. McCarger, Mrs. George Scholl, Mrs. Pauline Scholler, Mrs. Ella Lee, Mrs. S. Sorenson, Mrs. H. S. Giles, Mrs. Clarence Nay, Mrs. A. King, Mrs. A. Henwood and Mrs. E. E. McLaughlin.

Miss Ruth Coates was the recipient of one of the most charming courtesies of recent date, when in a redolent setting of pink and white a number of schoolgirl friends arrived in response to the bidding of Mrs. Coates and spent a memorable afternoon celebrating the third natal day of the young honoree. Contests and games and music provided by the hostess and her corps of assistants afforded many delightful surprises and prizes. At 4 o'clock a dainty collation was served on a board done in pink and white centered by a basket of candy-filled boxes hidden beneath a mass of streamers radiating to each cover; "1904 and 1916" was done in pink candies on the heart-shaped birthday cake, which had still another decoration—the twelve candles, four of which had never been lighted, while the remaining eight served a similar purpose on two former occasions. Individual heart-shaped cakes, heart-decorated baskets of candy hearts and hand-sketched place cards marked covers for Miss Florence Pabst of Los Angeles, Miss Gladys Curl, Miss Melba Perkins, Misses Glenn and Madelyne Ayers, Miss Madaline Thompson, Miss Grace Stead, Miss Edna Temple, Miss Marguerite Beyerholm, Miss Corinne Braswell, Miss Edythe Gill, Misses Marion and Florence Sells, Miss Mary Downey, Misses Florence and Jean Madden, Miss Lorita Plath and Miss Anna Daetweiler.

HOT WATER THE BEST LIVER AND BOWEL MEDICINE

Says glass of hot water before breakfast washes poisons from system.

Physicians the world over recommend the inside bath, claiming this is of vastly more importance than outside cleanliness, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing ill health, while the pores in the ten yards of bowels do.

Men and women are urged to drink each morning, before breakfast, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, as a harmless means of helping to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible material, poisons, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Just as soap and hot water cleanse and freshen the skin, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the eliminative organs.

Those who wake up with bad breath, coated tongue, nasty taste or have a dull, aching head, sallow complexion, acid stomach; others who are subject to bilious attacks or constipation, should obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store. This will cost very little but is sufficient to demonstrate the value of inside bathing. Those who continue it each morning are assured of pronounced results, both in regard to health and appearance.

La Vida Corsets

ARISTOCRAT OF THE CORSET WORLD

A shapely silhouette is Fashion's dictum for the Spring and Summer feminine figure, with a tendency towards the reproduction of the delightfully old-fashioned form-lines of great-grandma's girlhood days, the first quarter of the nineteenth century, and the designers of the La Vida Corsets have bent their energies towards the creation of corset models in keeping, so that My Lady's Gown will reflect a modern conception of the graceful contour of that Period. The models cover a large range of figures, embracing "first corset" styles for undeveloped junior figures; dainty empire girdles for slender maids; longer skirted, low and medium bust models with modish side incurves, for figures of average as well as matronly development.

CHURCH MUST BECOME MODERN AND MODIFY SPIRIT AND RULES.

John Wesley Would Have Made Use of the Motion Pictures—Certain Things in the Methodist Book of Discipline Which do Not Fit Into the Present Day—Church Urged to Keep Abreast of the Times.

BY REV. CHARLES COKE WOODS, PH.D.

WE are in the midst of a century of change. There are multitudinous transformations and transitions. The essence of truth is eternal. Her forms are many. John Wesley thought truth in terms of his day. All honor to his great name. He was a sublime specialist whose spiritual work achieved for him a worthy world renown. But we are bound to remember that Wesley would need to think in many terms and under different conditions if he were living now. Look a moment at the meaning of that statement. There are hundreds of marvelous mechanical inventions in the terms of which he would be obliged to do much of his thinking were that great man with us now. He would need to give consideration to certain sanitary suggestions which were undreamed of in his day. Chemical combinations for medicinal purposes are a thousand to one as compared with the days of Wesley. How differently he would need to think concerning sickness and its cure, and therefore concerning human patients and sufferers. Mental medicine was unheard of, only as a far-away speculation. Psychotherapy was a word combination which had not been invented. But we know it means much now, not everything, but much. Chyropractic treatment did not exist. Osteopathy, becoming more practical and popular every day, was not dreamed of in the philosophy of Wesley's day. But if Wesley were living now he would be obliged to do some of his thinking concerning the people to whom he preached in these therapeutic terms. Some of his sermonic illustrations would need to be woven with reference to these things. These medical matters alone would doubtless make a difference at least in the form, if not the content of Wesley's literary output. Men and medical measures have greatly changed and Wesley would change his methods to meet them

WOULD USE MOTION PICTURES.

That great and good man never thought of a picture show. He never had occasion to think of the people to whom he preached as being in any way influenced by picture shows. It was all an unheard of factor of influence in his day. But our whole modern society is penetrated with picture-show influences now. Some of them are morally good. Some of them are immorally bad. In our day Wesley would be obliged to give serious consideration to these pictorial influences on the people to whom he preached. And he would study to know how to reach the people who went to see the pictures, but did not go to hear the preacher. That great preacher would doubtless move among these difficult conditions with wisdom and far-seeing statesmanship. He would be a preacher prophet today as he was in that day, but my point is that he would need to think in more multitudinous terms now than he did then. He was a great thinker then. He would be a greater thinker now. To stand out in this day as he stood out in that day he would be obliged to think more extensively because there are 10,000 more things to think about. I am sure that Wesley, were he living and leading us now, would be the very first man to adapt these picture processes to our religious and educational needs. He was no laggard. He walked at the head of the procession. He was the torch-bearer into the blinding darkness of his day. He would be none the less now. But the whole point here is that he would need to think and act in far more complicated and extensive terms. He saw the point then. But to see the point now he would need to see a thousand points—and I doubt not that he would see them all. But would not all of this make a mighty difference in Wesley's task? Would it not necessarily make a difference in the terms of his teaching? It would not set aside the Ten Commandments. After the manner of Wesley's treatment it would reinforce them. This would not set aside the Sermon on the Mount, but it would set it in terms of today.

INVENTIONS AND NOISE.

Wesley would be obliged to think in electrical terms today. Bell and Edison and Marconi had neither dreamed nor had they been dreamed of in Wesley's day. There was neither telegraph nor telephone nor phonograph nor dictaphone in Wesley's day. But that these things affect the thought and the thinking of our day no intelligent observer will deny. They would affect the thinking and the thought of Wesley, were he here in our midst today. They would affect the very style of his discourse. They would in some way modify the output of his preaching. No doubt he would be preaching today to an electrical and an electrified audience. Going places on a trolley car is very different from going places on horseback. Who can tell how such a difference would have modified Wesley's sermons. With people hanging to straps and treading on each other's toes; with whistles blowing and bells ringing it would hardly be as easy to compose a sermon as it would be riding across a quiet country on the back of a gentle horse. Such difference between Wesley's day and our day is not fancy, but fact. Our day would make a different Wesley. Our day makes a different people from those to whom Wesley preached. Candle light is different from electric light. So are a candle-lighted people under different conditions from those of an electrically-lighted people. They had their sins and sorrows. We have our sins and sorrows. They needed an Almighty Savior. We must have the same Savior. But the people of that day were so different from the people of our day that the difference must be practically reckoned with by the preacher of our day. That is the point which I am trying to put. Would Wesley have preached a sermon on "The Cause and Cure of Earthquakes," if geological and scientific findings had been as extensive then as they are now? Would he have portrayed a physical hell as he did, if psychic and psychological experiences were as widespread and as well authenticated as they are now? He would doubtless preach now a spiritual and socialistic hell, as such a hell would flaunt itself before him in every modern city. He would preach the hell of wrecked character and wasted life. He would preach the hell of irremediable remorse. But, were he living now he would not preach a physical hell of brimstone.

INFLUENCE OF AUTOS.

If Wesley were living now he would need to think in terms of automobile influence on human society. It is doubtful if any material thing has ever had as great an influence on people's social habits and churchly customs as the automobile has. Were Wesley living now he might not ride in an automobile, but the people to whom he preached would. And they would be affected some way by this fact. And Wesley's preaching would have to reckon with the influence of this fact on the people. In some places it was plainly noticeable that on the rainy Sundays in California last January there were as many people at Sunday-school and church as there were a little later on when the rains had ceased and the beautiful weather invited everybody to take an automobile trip across country or to the seashore. There were actually fewer people present on the bright Sundays right after the rainy season. The people could not, or at least did not, resist the sunshine lure across the country. What would Wesley do with that sort of Sabbath desecration. Or would he consider it desecration, if a man should take his family off to some other church fifty miles away that particular day for the sake of the automobile ride going and coming. Or would he feel jealous that the people went fifty miles away to hear another preacher rather than remain at home and hear Wesley? Who can answer such questions. But is it not perfectly proper to ask them? Here again is my point: Wesley would have to deal with these matters, were he living and preaching today. But he did not have to deal with them in his day.

FLYING MACHINES, TOO.

Then the flying machine—what in the name of reason and religion would the immortal John Wesley do about that? What would he do when two-thirds of his audience automobiled it on Sunday for fifty or a hundred miles to see the bird man fly. Would not such a thing as that shock the good man's spiritual sensibilities? But what would he do about it. Or would he do anything about it. My own opinion is that he would do something about it. I think he would go over with the multitude and preach to them between flights. I believe Jesus would do the same. I believe, when it is practicable that many of our modern preachers ought to do the same; not to see the flying machine fly on Sunday, but to get a gospel chance at the people who do go to see the flying machine on Sunday. Did not Wesley advise his preachers to preach when possible on the great festival occasions? Does not this advice of his give us a hint as to what he would do in our day? He was no high brow. He was out on a tremendous hunt for men's souls. He was as earnest in this business as life and death. If the people would not come to where he was he went to where the people were. In that he followed the method of Jesus. If the sheep do not come homing to the shepherd, then the shepherd must go out among the hills and hunt for the sheep.

The scientific findings of our century have had much to do with the quality and expression of this century's faith. Mr. Wesley's theological tenets were set in a very different atmosphere from the spirit which animates our day. Various traditions and superstitions which do not exist today were prevalent and popular in Wesley's day. The mind of Wesley's day was mostly influenced by old wonders. The mind of our day is mostly influenced by new wonders. This makes a world-wide difference between the social, intellectual and religious conditions of our day and those which existed in Wesley's day. Nor is any of this intended to intimate any sort of inferiority in John Wesley, but simply to show the deep and wide difference between his day and ours. He lived and wrought under certain condtions. We live and work under certain other conditions. A planet seen by the naked eye appears far more wonderful when seen through the telescope. So things seen in a scientific age do not appear as things seen in a superstitious age. Wesley's age was a superstitious age. This age, with all its faults, is a scientific age. Wesley's age was overhung by the mists of medievalism. Our age is shot through with scientific penetration.

NO AGE SINLESS.

Alas, no age, either past or present, has been sinless. The supreme need of every age is the Almighty Savior. Wesley and his co-workers preached that truth in his day. His successors are preaching that same great truth in this new day. But this great truth must be preached in terms of today, vital with the sorrows and struggles and sufferings of today. It cannot be successfully preached in terms of yesterday's traditions. Nor does this view rob Wesley of any of his greatness or his glory. It simply recognizes a living, linguistic necessity. Jesus said, "The words that I speak unto you, they are spirit and they are life." And His words are spirit and life, because he seized upon them with divine insight and foresight. He spoke in terms of simplicity and strength and which are ever fresh with eternal meanings. Very few merely human speakers have ever done this. With all reverence it must be said that John Wesley's style to the mind of today would be rather tedious and uninteresting. It repays the examination of the scholar and the literary student, but it can hardly appeal today to the man of the crowd whose ears are full of electric detonations, the click of the typewriter and the nervous utterances of the telephone. But if God's hand is still on the situation of today there must still be some way—His way—to speak His message to the man of today. This is to make way for the claim that the minister of today may depart from the Wesleyan speech of yesterday and not commit a sin. He need not depart from the perennial Wesleyan spirit, even if he should depart from what would now be tedious Wesleyan terms. He may ring the same old Wesleyan gospel bell, but with the new tongue of today. We are now ready to consider what would have appeared to many good Methodists fifty years ago as a startling and almost sinful statement, namely, that a minister of today may in many things be un-Wesleyan and yet be thoroughly Christian. He may use words and methods wholly diff that Wesley used and by the same sublime

A Single Application Banishes Every Hair

(The Modern Beauty.)

Here is how any woman can easily and quickly remove objectionable, hairy growths without possible injury to the skin: Make a paste with some powdered delatone and water, apply to hairy surface and after 2 or 3 minutes rub off, wash the skin and the hairs are gone. This is a painless inexpensive method and, excepting where the growth is unusually thick, a single application is enough. You should, however, be careful to get genuine delatone.

CARAVANS MOVE WESTWARD.

Nobody Home in New York, While Los Angeles Is Becoming the Mecca for the Thespian—Filmland's Growing Colony of Celebrated People.

BY HENRY CHRISTEEN WARNACK.

ONE evening, some three months since, I saw a flash of clothes in the lobby of the Alexandria that looked like "ready money." Trailing this glad apparel down to a definite locality, I found it entirely surrounded by a Honolulu cocktail. Shining effulgently above this lake of pineapple and fire, and this raiment in which neither Solomon nor the lily had ever been arrayed, was the innocent face of Jimmie Montgomery.

Now, I am not jealous of James Montgomery's good plays, nor of his success in getting them staged, nor of his money nor his clothes, but I would give much to know his recipe for preserving innocence of appearance under all circumstances. Be he in tweeds or evening dress Jimmie Montgomery's innocence goes marching on.

Flirting with a Honolulu cocktail is not looking on the wine when it is red, and the gentle beverage is not near enough strong drink to be raging, so I was about to be persuaded when there was another burst of radiance through the door that was like the northern lights and the smile of Willie Collier had arrived.

Both men had reached Los Angeles from New York that same day; but, out of respect to the dangers of radio-activity, they had come on separate trains. There is no use out-vibrating an engine when it is doing its honest best.

We hailed Collier with considerable acclaim, not to say unction, and then we asked him about New York.

"Nobody Home," he answered. "When I quit that village the only two people left were Georgie Cohan and Maude Adams, and they'll be here as soon as the movie directors find they're loose."

Finding the clever New York playwright and the jolly American comedian within five minutes in this fashion is a very good illustration of the way Los Angeles is now attracting the fine personalities of America and the striking figures of the stage.

Some of them get away for a little while at a time, but all of them intend to come back.

One day this week I had a rich letter from Sir Herbert Tree. He had mailed it from a train on his way to Chicago, and it sounded much too deliberate for a man who was in flight. It practically explained that his hurry to go East was to come back West. In fact, Sir Herbert stoutly stated that he meant to get back here in June, at the very latest.

Mr. Griffith's motion picture camp must have set even the strenuous Sir Herbert a new pace in hard work. "I guess," he said, "you have heard about the life they led me there. I didn't even have Sunday for rest." He wasn't complaining; he was merely affirming that affairs move fast in Los Angeles. He was shouting his conviction of the Los Angeles propensity for business.

Well, his coming wrote a bright page in the dramatic history of Los Angeles, and a big chapter in our motion-picture enterprise. He will not resent this metaphor, because he, himself, is as rich in the use of figures of speech as Opie Reed used to be in his stories of the South.

Sir Herbert had not been in town five minutes until he was telling some of us about the big words in which the Grand Canyon had been written; he said it had splendid lines and the best scene shifters he had ever known. Along about sunset up there, when everything was staged for the big play, Sir Herbert said that somebody seemed to drop one curtain and lift another and the whole glorious business started all over again. I wish I had preserved his own words, because they seemed to carry the vision. When this man spoke of something, he saw it in completeness, and if you were in the room with him you saw it, too.

There are minds that are like mighty canvases upon which the heroic figures of the earth are emblazoned, Sir Herbert is like this. He is another example of the kind of people the motion-picture business is bringing to our city.

One day last week some of us were framing a cast for a big picture that is soon to be, and an important man and woman were still needed. The big director of the big company, who means to do this thing in a big way, telephoned to one of the studios for the copy of a certain famous picture. Then he telephoned a downtown theater and secured its use for three hours, asking them to have an orchestra on hand. The two of us went down to that theater and studied the work of the people in this picture with great care. The leading man was of the heroic type and had done a fine piece of work. He seemed to be just what was needed, but he was in New York. That made no difference to the director.

"He can be ready to rehearse in ten days," he said, and long before this he is on the way.

The woman needed was of a peculiar type and difficult to procure. You would think that Los Angeles possessed motion-picture actresses for every emergency that could be conceived, but we went out of town for this woman—went a long ways out—and she, too, is hurrying West to add another vital personality to some one of our many throbbing and thrilling colonies of film stars.

These people bring their families and their servants. When they get here they buy homes and automobiles.

Frank Keenan had not been in town twenty-four hours before he had bought one of the biggest cars I ever saw, had established himself in one of the most picturesque homes in Southern California and had telegraphed his handsome wife "to come on in," that "the water was fine."

DeWolf Hopper came and did likewise, and now divides his time evenly between the Fine Arts studios and his very small boy, who is the most important person in the world to DeWolf Hopper, next to the boy's mother, who is certainly one of the most charming of women, in the eyes of DeWolf Hopper or anybody else.

William Collier never goes anywhere without all the members of his family, down to his brother-in-law. He has a fine youngster, about 13, who took part with him in his latest comedy success and his first really big picture, "The No-good Guy," which I think is one of the biggest pieces of work Walter Edwards ever directed for the studios of Tom Ince.

By the way, if there were no important persons here in connection with motion pictures, excepting the directors, we would have a colony of brainy experts that would be like turning loose a trainload of men with dynamite on the place.

SAVE SERIOUS DRAMA.

PICTURES OFFER MUCH TO LURE AUDIENCES THIS WEEK.

IF it were not for motion pictures, it appears there would be little if any "serious" drama on the Rialto at all this week. What with Sardou, Helen Hunt Jackson, not to mention Clara Louise Burnham, in the field, the photoplays promise much moving and happily executed drama. There are plenty of the light moods, too. Among the stars who will twinkle on the screen are George Beban, Theda Bara, Olga Petrova, Marie Doro, William S. Hart, Bessie Barriscale, William Desmond.

Majestic.

Bessie Barriscale and William Desmond will appear at the Majestic this week, on the bill opening tomorrow, in a thrilling war drama entitled "Bullets and Brown Eyes," by J. C. Hawks. It is the tale of a young prince's wooing and winning of a countess, and the scenes are laid in a mythical country.

The comedy is "A Village Vampire," starring Fred Mace and Anna Luther.

Burbank.

William S. Hart and House Peters will appear at the Burbank commencing today, in a C. Gardner Sullivan photoplay entitled "Between Men." It is the tale of a designing broker's machinations to win the hand of a wealthy girl. In the cast also are Enid Markey and A. Burt Wesner.

The comedy features will be Sam Bernard in "Because He Loved Her," and Harry Gribbon and Harry McCoy in "Perils of the Park."

Tally's Broadway.

George Beban, the famous character actor, will appear at Tally's Broadway this week in what promises to be one of the most excellent photodramas ever filmed, viz., "The Pawn of Fate." It is said that in this, as in "The Sign of the Rose," Mr. Beban has a role that gives him full opportunity for the use of his graphic power of impersonation. This production is said to be one of the most beautiful comedy that has ever been offered at this theater.

Garrick.

"Jewel," Clara Louise Burnham's great story, with dainty Ella Hall in the leading role, is to be the attraction at the Garrick commencing tomorrow. Miss Hall is said to give a remarkable characterization in this role, and the story itself is one of the most [illegible] ever told on the screen.

Clune's Broadway.

Realism of a startling kind is said to play a big part in "The Writing on the Wall," the photoplay which will be shown at Clune's Broadway this week, beginning tomorrow. The death of many young people in fire-trap buildings was the inspiration for "The Writing on the Wall," and one of the most graphic scenes is the saving of 100 children from a burning building.

Joe Kilgour and Virginia Pearson, noted artists of the stage, have the leading roles.

Woodley.

"Diplomacy," a film adaptation of the Sardou drama, with Marie Doro in the leading role, is the attractive [illegible] provided patrons of the Woodley Theater for the week beginning tomorrow. The name of Miss Doro is pleasantly linked with that of "Diplomacy," for it was in this great play that the beautiful and talented actress scored a stage triumph, playing the role of the mysterious Dora. The same role she plays in the picture. It is of especial interest, too, that Elliott Dexter, who plays opposite Miss Doro in the film, has the same role in which he appeared on the stage, and it will be their first appearance together since the announcement of their marriage.

Palace.

Winsome Louise Lovely, who has the distinction of being one of the most beautiful actresses in filmdom, will be seen at the Palace Theater starting today, in "The Grip of Jealousy," a thrilling dramatic Blue Bird photoplay. It is a story of the South before the war in the days when slavery existed. Miss Lovely is said to be seen at her best as Virginia Grant, a winsome southern belle, who after a series of unusual adventures comes into her own. There is a love story of exceptional heart interest in the play that is said to have a strong human appeal.

The second episode of "The Iron Claw" serial featuring Pearl White, the heroine of the Elaine series, will be seen in conjunction with "The Grip of Jealousy."

Symphony.

Mme. Petrova, the talented dramatic star, will be seen here at the Symphony Theater beginning tomorrow in "The Soul Market."

In addition to Mme. Petrova, there are a score of noted stage and screen stars appearing in this feature, including Arthur Hoops, Wilmuth Merkyl, Gypsy O'Brien, Evelyn Brent, Fritz de Lint, Fraunie Fraunholz, Charles Mack, Cora Milholland, [illegible] and Grace Florence.

Life behind the scenes at a prominent Broadway theater is shown in this sensational production, and many well-known places along the Great White Way were used to obtain the real settings for the story. It is said that Mme. Petrova was never seen to better advantage.

Little Theater.

Views of the Yosemite, said to be the most excellent yet taken by a moving-picture machine, and showing scenes never before photographed, are being shown at the Little Theater next week, beginning tomorrow. David [illegible] will lecture.

Superba.

Mary Pickford appears in Los Angeles this week for the first time since November. She will be seen at the Superba Theater in "Poor Little Peppina." Peppina is the daughter of a rich American living in Italy. She is stolen by Italians when a mere child and is brought up like one of their own children, and to all intents and purposes becomes an Italian girl. But there lingers about her an [illegible] something that leaps into [illegible] when she is finally reunited with her [illegible] by a simple little prayer which is the only heritage of her [illegible].

Clune's Auditorium.

"Ramona" still reigns at Clune's Auditorium. The period of Lent is not expected to cause any falling off in the patronage of the great Helen Hunt Jackson's celebrated romance in photodrama, because it is an ideal entertainment for people who at this time abstain from the frivolous forms of amusement, and because one of the most appealing features of "Ramona" is its deep religious tone.

Alhambra.

Diminutive Vivian Martin comes to the Alhambra tomorrow for a week in Zangwill's delightful story, "Merely Mary Ann." It is a wonderfully human story, and delves deeply into many vital points of Mary's life that were not even hinted at on the speaking stage. It brims over with humor, sentiment and romance. Harry Hilliard and a brilliant company aid in making this picture successful.

The added offering is the latest "Girl and the Game" story.

Miller's.

Theda Bara, in "Gold and the Woman," a new William Fox film play, is the offering at Miller's Theater for the week starting tomorrow. In this dramatic photoplay Miss Bara is cast as a beautiful woman who lets nothing stand in the way of attaining wealth and luxury. The story is said to be a splendid combination of artistic presentation, dramatic strength and effective atmosphere.

The production is an unusually lavish and expensive one, and the director has surrounded Miss Bara with a company of splendid artists headed by Harry Hilliard, H. Cooper Cliffe, Carlton Macy and Pauline Barry. The latest News Weekly and the funny Krazy Kat cartoon comedies are the added attractions.

Strand.

Women will probably flock to the Strand this week to see Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the noted suffragist, on the screen as a movie star in a big civic drama dealing with the question of votes for women. Its title is "Eighty Million Women Want ——?" The theme of the play concerns a crowd of grafters in political circles who are routed in their crooked endeavors through the efforts of Mrs. Pankhurst.

Special matinees will be held every day during the week.

As a special added attraction "Gypsy Love," a two-reel Balboa feature of life among the nomads, will be shown. "Jackie" Saunders, the vivacious Balboa star, takes the leading role in this production.

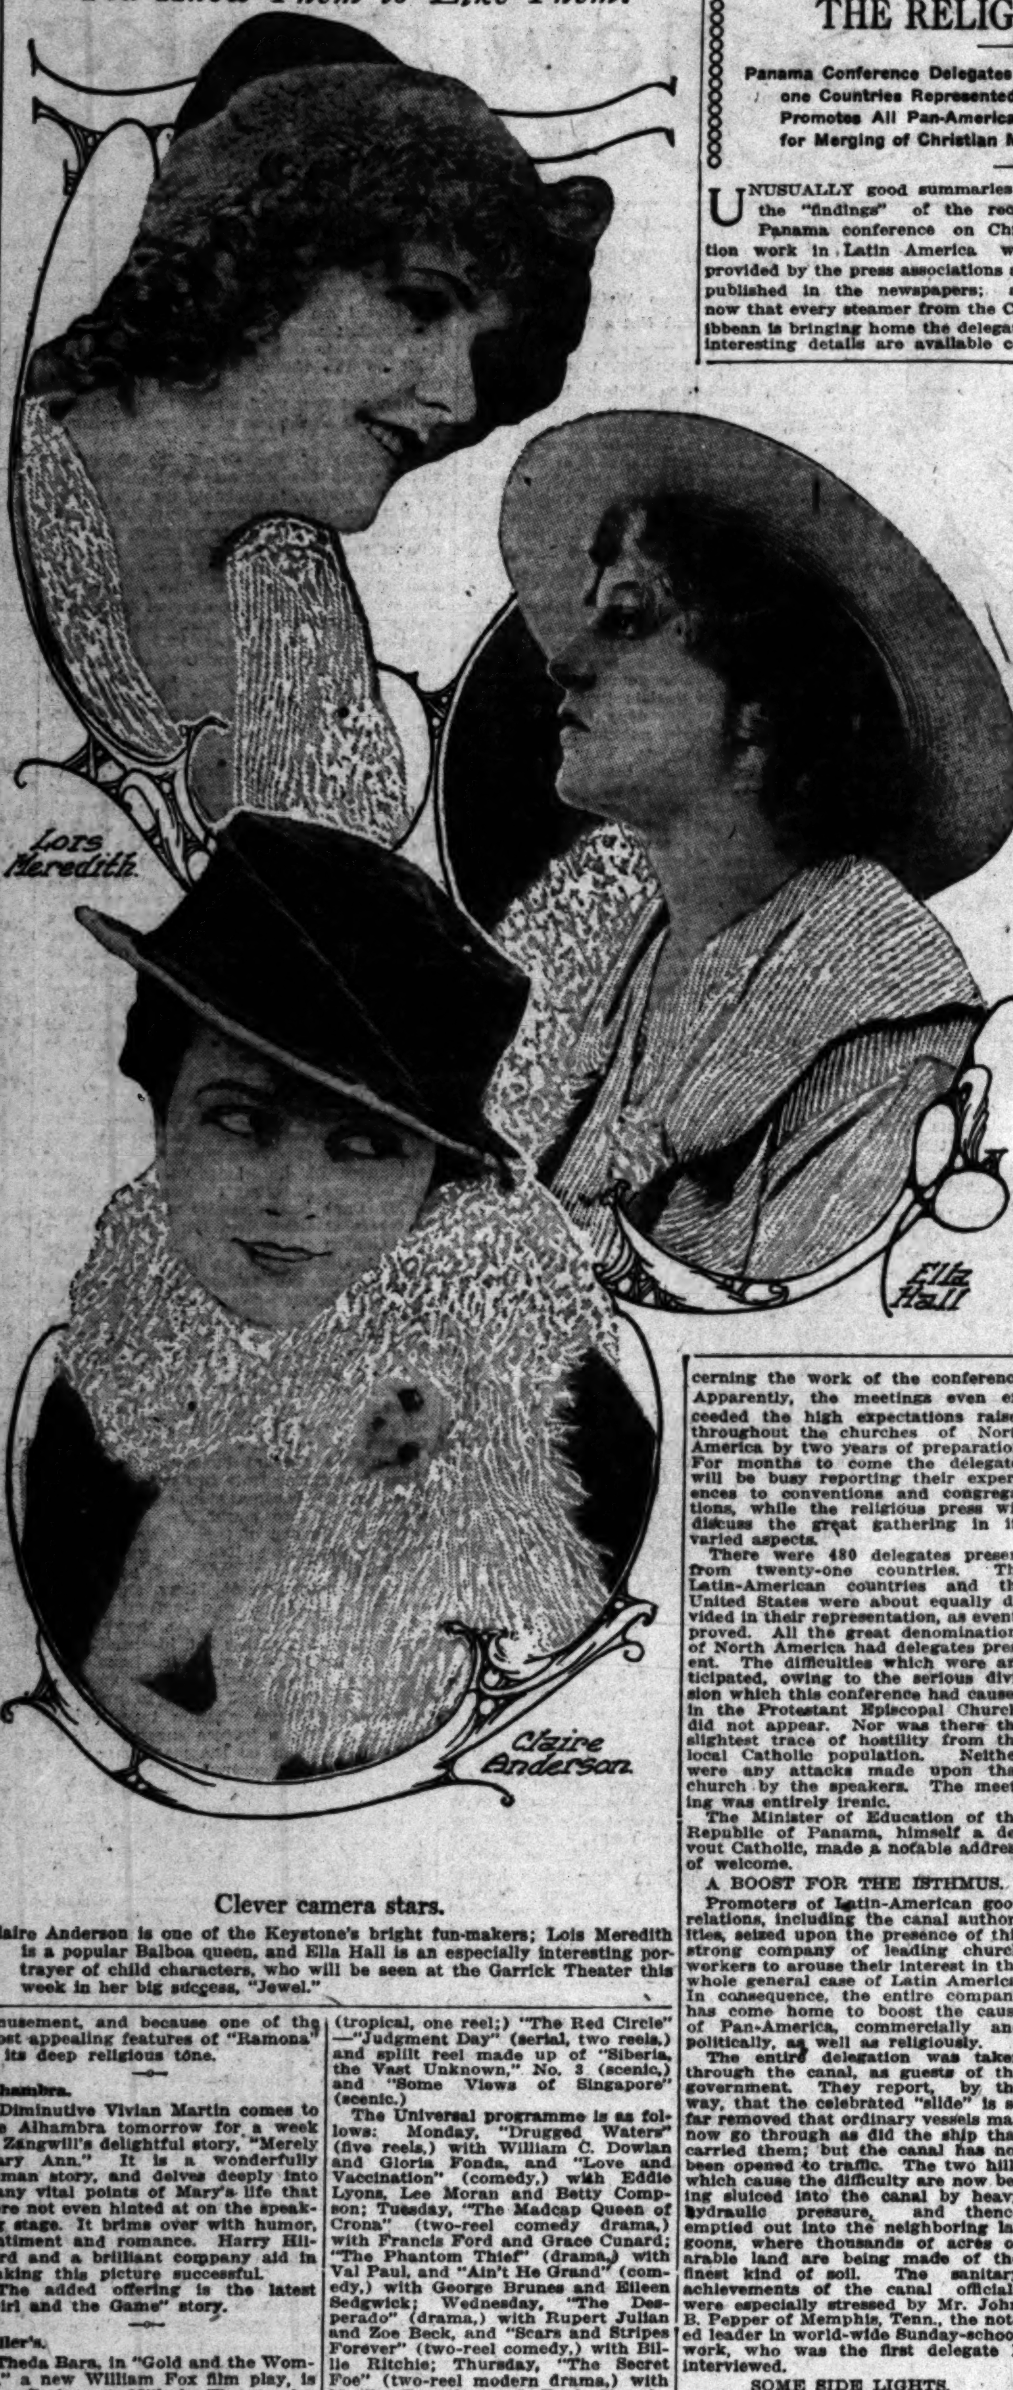
President John Grier Hibben of Princeton University says he is a pacifist, but favors preparedness. "If we don't spend money for preparedness now," he declared, "we shall pay in blood and tears some time." Every college man with a three months' vacation, he said, should devote five weeks to military training.

You Know Them to Like Them.



Clever camera stars.

Claire Anderson is one of the Keystone's bright fun-makers; Lois Meredith is a popular Balboa queen, and Ella Hall is an especially interesting portrayer of child characters, who will be seen at the Garrick Theater this week in her big success, "Jewel."

THE RELIGIOUS RAMBLER.

Panama Conference Delegates Report Momentous Meetings—Twenty-one Countries Represented by 480 Delegates at Epochal Sessions. Promotes All Pan-Americanism—Radical Movement Inaugurated for Merging of Christian Mission Work in Latin America.

UNUSUALLY good summaries of the "findings" of the recent Panama conference on Christian work in Latin America were provided by the press associations and published in the newspapers; and now that every steamer from the Caribbean is bringing home the delegates, interesting details are available concerning the work of the conference. Apparently, the meetings even exceeded the high expectations raised throughout the churches of North America by two years of preparation. For months to come the delegates will be busy reporting their experiences to conventions and congregations, while the religious press will discuss the great gathering in its varied aspects.

There were 480 delegates present from twenty-one countries. The Latin-American countries and the United States were about equally divided in their representation, as events proved. All the great denominations of North America had delegates present. The difficulties which were anticipated, owing to the serious division which this conference had caused in the Protestant Episcopal Church, did not appear. Nor was there the slightest trace of hostility from the local Catholic population. Neither were any attacks made upon that church by the speakers. The meeting was entirely irenic.

The Minister of Education of the Republic of Panama, himself a devout Catholic, made a notable address of welcome.

A BOOST FOR THE ISTHMUS.

Promoters of Latin-American good relations, including the canal authorities, seized upon the presence of this strong company of leading church workers to arouse their interest in the whole general case of Latin America. In consequence, the entire company has come home to boost the cause of Pan-America, commercially and politically, as well as religiously.

The entire delegation was taken through the canal, as guests of the government. They report, by the way, that the celebrated "slide" is so far removed that ordinary vessels may now go through as did the ship that carried them; but the canal has not been opened to traffic. The two hills which cause the difficulty are now being sluiced into the canal by heavy hydraulic pressure, and thence emptied out into the neighboring lagoons, where thousands of acres of arable land are being made of the finest kind of soil. The sanitary achievements of the canal officials were especially stressed by Mr. John B. Pepper of Memphis, Tenn., the noted leader in world-wide Sunday-school work, who was the first delegate I interviewed.

SOME SIDE LIGHTS.

The business-like way in which the conference was handled by Robert E. Speer of New York, the general chairman, is a subject of general remark. He had the help of John R. Mott, chairman of the Edinburg missionary conference. All the speakers throughout the discussions were limited to seven minutes each.

This meant that at every session there were from fifteen to twenty-five speakers, and the sessions numbered three a day for ten days. There were some stated, formal addresses of greater length.

The delegates spent about seven hours a day in solid consideration of the conference themes.

Great maps of all the South American countries, with all the mission stations marked, were before the delegates during the discussions. The mass of information that had been gathered was really astounding. A complete religious survey of each of the countries involved had been made in advance.

"Bishops grew to be very common mortals with us," said Mr. Pepper, "because there were so many of them at the conference." This was but indicative of the extraordinary personnel of the conference. The cream of the Christian leadership of the two Americas was skimmed for the occasion. The significance of this lies not only in the quality of the conference sessions, but also in the power of those present to impress the message upon the church in the months to come.

GREAT GET-TOGETHER PLAN.

There was an impressive unanimity about the sessions at Panama. With one mind the delegates agreed upon propositions that are really radical. The findings of the conference were absolutely unanimous, which, considering the official nature of the meetings, and the fact that they were pan-denominational, as well as pan-American, is a signal advance in Christian comity.

Stated in general terms, the recommendations of the Panama gathering to the churches of the Americas were four:

(1.) There should be a merging of the Christian press at work in behalf of Latin America. The various denominational publishing houses cooperate in the issuance of textbooks, periodicals and general Christian literature. The people of Latin America care only for the essentials which all communions hold in common, so the duplication of literature because of sectarianism is needless.

(2.) A consolidation of mission schools should be effected. The task is too great and urgent to permit the different denominations to maintain competing schools in some fields, while in others no educational work at all is maintained. There really need be nothing distinctively sectarian about Christian schools.

(3.) A fearless, clean-cut division of territory among the various Christian bodies at work in Latin America was advocated. This will remedy "overlapping and overlooking." It was discovered that in Mexico, for instance, despite the extensive mission work carried on there, only about one-fifth of the field is occupied. This will mean withdrawal from some fields by certain churches, and is a scheme that will test to the utmost the liberality and statesmanship of the mission boards.

(4.) Even more radical is the proposal for the division of existing membership in the course of the readjustment. That is to say, if the Methodists leave a field where there is duplication, they will turn over their members to the Presbyterians or Episcopalians or whatever other body has been assigned that territory.

Evidently courage and vision were present at Panama, in this meeting which promises to be epochal.

IN THE LIMELIGHT.

Congressman John Joseph Fitzgerald of Brooklyn, who did most to defeat the Taft idea of a national budget system, is now a champion of such a plan. He has been chairman of the Appropriations Committee since 1911, and is credited with knowing more about the financial condition of the country than any other man in public life. He is a native of Brooklyn, and since 1893 has been a member of the bar. His Congressional record began in 1899.

Henry Theodore Helgesson, the first student to be given the opportunity of a university education through the scholarship recently established by the Swedish-American Patriotic League, is a native of Portland, Or., and a junior in the college of mining at the University of California. The league co-operates with the university in maintaining a scholarship for some student of Swedish origin or ancestry.

Frederick Morris Dearing, who will succeed Charles S. Wilson as first secretary of the American Embassy at Petrograd, and assume charge pending the arrival of George T. Marye's successor as Ambassador, is familiar with the duties of the office from experience. He was formerly first secretary of the American Embassy at Madrid, where he acquitted himself with credit.

Judge Hascal R. Brill of St. Paul celebrated his fortieth anniversary on the district bench of Ramsey county March 1. He has the State record for continuous service.

Col. William Black, chief engineer of the Department of the East, with headquarters at New York, has been appointed Chief of Engineers of the army, to succeed Brig.-Gen. Dan C. Kingman, who retires March 6 because of age.

Oliver Bishop Harriman of New York has been appointed secretary of embassy at Berlin to succeed Alexander Comstock Kirk of Chicago, who has been transferred to the embassy at Constantinople. Mr. Kirk has already left Berlin for Constantinople.

Assistant Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt owns what is believed to be the largest collection of books and pamphlets on naval history in the world.

It is practically decided that Sir George H. Perley will be Canada's next High Commissioner, and public announcement is expected to come in early spring. Sir George is a very wealthy man, as the position demands, for the salary is far from sufficient to cover all the heavy expense entailed. Mr. Perley was graduated from Harvard in 1878. When Premier Borden left Ottawa for his native province, Nova Scotia, in 1912, preparatory to a three months' visit to England, Hon. George H. Perley, one of his ministers, was named as acting Premier in his absence. Mr. Perley, of Welsh descent, is a son of William G. Perley and Mabel Ticknor, and was born at Lebanon, N. H., in 1857. His parents moved to Ottawa when he was a small child. Here his father engaged extensively in the lumber business and was a member of the Dominion Porliament.

DYES FOR PRINTING INKS.

United States Bureau of Printing Depended on Germany.

[Boston Transcript:] Since the outbreak of the war, the Bureau of Engraving and Printing has been forced to put up with many makeshifts for coloring and has been able to get along with home-made dyes, with the exception of aniline red, which it is impossible to obtain except from Germany. This is a coal tar product hitherto produced only in Germany at a reasonable price, and it has therefore been impossible to obtain any but the German output. American manufacturers until recently have refused to begin its manufacture because the demand in this country for it is so small.

The base of the black coloring material used by the bureau is bone black, which is hard, but the vine black, which is soft, comes from Germany only and is made from the charred refuse from the vineyards. American makeshifts, however, have been substituted for this vine black, and have proved fairly satisfactory. Prussian blue is another color which has given the bureau some difficulty, as it has a foreign base and is ordinarily made from potash, which abounds in Germany. American chemists, however, have been able to extract a fair blue from sodas, which with the yellow, abundant until quite recently, has made a green which has served the purposes of the bureau to date. Unfortunately most of the chromate and sulphate of lead, which is the base of the yellow, has been cornered by munition manufacturers. It is possible to buy this base, however, at a war price.

The consumption of coloring materials by the bureau during the course of a month is enormous. In round figures, 40,000 pounds of yellow, 36,000 pounds of black, 10,000 pounds of blue and 8000 pounds of red are used every four weeks, while thirty-six tons of barytes, a pure white for diluting the other colors, is also used. The bureau, in addition, consumes from 80,000 to 90,000 gallons of flaxseed oil annually for its various processes.

Another product used by the bureau and affected by the war is dextrine, a substance extracted from tapioca starch by a heating process. Tapioca is grown in Java and its supply, therefore, is controlled by Holland. Freight charges have increased to such an extent since the war began that the price has advanced tremendously. Dextrine forms the gum which is placed on the back of stamps, and the consumption of this for 12,000,000,000 stamps is 450,000 pounds, or enough to give all of the inhabitants of New York their fill of tapioca pudding for one meal.

WHAT THE PUBLISHERS ARE OFFERING.

The First of a Trilogy on the Underworld by a New Author—The Poet Laureate Offers to His Country an Unusual Message in the way of an Anthology—A French Historian Takes Issue with Balzac and the Geneva Pamphleteers on the Character of Catherine de Medici—A Brief and Brilliant Sketch of Russia.

"The Abyss."

"The Abyss" (The Macmillan Company) is the first volume in a projected trilogy by an unknown, a new, author, Nathan Kussy, to be called "The Children of the Abyss," dealing with the outcasts and criminals of the underworld in New York and with the evil experiences and eventual regeneration of Samuel Gordin who tells the story.

In this, the first volume, Gordin narrates how, as a Jewish waif, he fell in with beggars and became a tramp, was turned over to a sin-worn man and woman, evil as Fagin, in Mulberry Bend to be tutored in craft; how he was arrested as a vagabond and in jail made friends with real criminals, and how, seeking to be honest and work, he was hounded by detectives until in desperation, determined to be a crook, he sought the criminals from whom he had fled.

The theme in a way is old as Francois Villon's ballads. Dickens, Hugo, Gorky, Dostoevsky have each told the criminal's story in fiction; and every now and then some Lowrie, Jennings, Flynt or London more or less convincingly confides with us his "intimate" knowledge of the ways of the wayward; and there are few males among the American novelists who haven't gone slumming and taken the pose of much unusual familiarity with the seamy side of life. The most convincing of these has undoubtedly been Alfred Henry Lewis.

But Mr. Kussy's work is distinctively individual. No matter what the defects are, it has ennobling qualities; and if the subsequent volumes are worthy of "The Abyss," this trilogy will at once, and justly, we believe, establish the author among the few whose names and influence will have permanency. His style is graceful, fluent, and though the theme is wrought with the obvious purpose of impressing those who read with the distress, wretchedness, brutality of the underworld and its overlords, the police, yet outright humor recurs and recurs, and an amusing vein of subtlety seldom disappears from the text. He is graphic and quick, and much less the caricaturist than Dickens (who, Mr. Kussy acknowledges, has influenced him) in sketching portraits. But it is not to be taken as a "pleasant" or even particularly agreeable story, though it is not morbid.

Some of the incidents may well be considered "theatric" rather than "dramatic," and the ever-present humor makes parts of the story entertaining rather than forceful.

Seldom are passages met with having stronger feeling and dramatic vividity than Gordin's description of how his mother was turned out of her rooms by the constables; than the account of the murder in his cell; than the narrative of his employment with the comical but whole-hearted Mr. Samuels, pawnbroker, and particularly the insidiousness with which Gordin is made to appear a thief. Mama and Papa Winnikin, the "monk" and the grewsome denouement, and the experiences on the "road," are of the same texture, but a different weaving and not so impressive; but the book as a book is graphic and forceful.

"The Spirit of Man."

Robert Bridges, poet laureate, has made a choice and unusual anthology in English and French from the philosophers and poets in "The Spirit of Man" (Longmans, Green & Co.) dedicated to the King.

"The reader," Mr. Bridges explains, "is invited to bathe rather than to fish in these waters; that is to say, the several pieces are to be read in context, and it is for this reason that no titles nor names of authors are inserted in the text because they would distract attention and lead away the thought and even overrule consideration. Yet, although there is a sequence of context, there is no logical argument; the demonstration is of various moods of mind, which are allowed free play, a sufficient guide to them being provided in the page headings."

These appear as "Dissatisfaction," "Retirement," "Spiritual Desire," "Idea of God," "Mortality," "Myths," "Life in Death," "The Heavenly Kingdom" and numerous others, beneath which are fitted selections in conformity with the purity and delicacy of Mr. Bridges's taste.

He explains farther: "As for the sequence chosen, that might no doubt have been other than it is without damage and perhaps with advantage; but, as will readily be perceived, the main implication is essential, namely, that spirituality is the basis and foundation of human life—in so far as our life is a worthy subject for ideal philosophy and pure aesthetics—rather than the apex or final attainment of it."

That he, the poet laureate, by the traditions of his office is required to take notice of the epochal and epical encounter in which his nation is now engaged, and it being contrary to his nature to indulge in or essay raucous rhymes or strident patriotism, has offered this anthology as at least a part of the laureate's message to his countrymen, is divined in the preface when, after sober and dignified comment on the war and Prussianism, he says: "From the consequent miseries, the insensate and interminable slaughter, the hate and filth, we can turn to seek comfort only in the quiet confidence of our souls; and we look instinctively to the seers and poets of mankind, whose sayings are the oracles and prophecies of loveliness and loving kindness. Common diversions divert us no longer; our habits and thoughts are searched by the glare of the conviction that man's life is not that a peace-loving generation has found it or thought it, but the awful conflict with evil which philosophers and saints have depicted; and it is in their abundant testimony to the good and beautiful that we find support for our faith, and distraction from a grief that is intolerable constantly to face, nay impossible to face without that trust in God which makes all things possible."

And there will be many, the world over, ready to say earnestly that no laureate has ever addressed to his nation in time of stress and trouble a message more appropriate and inspiring.

"The Century of the Renaissance."

"The Century of the Renaissance," by Louis Batiffol (G. P. Putnam's Sons) is the first to appear of a series of six books by various authors on "The National History of France," and has been crowned by the French Academy. It recounts the brilliant and turbulent events between the deaths of Louis XI and Henry IV—a period dramatic as it was gorgeous, and wretched as it was dramatic. A century of paradox, indeed, when the decadent courts of the Valois bloomed in the unequaled splendor of riotous adornment, when art and letters flourished under the generous patronage of Francis I and Catherine de Medici, while continuous and hopeless invasions of Italy, together with the sinister machinations and forays of the Spanish kings kept the state perpetually engaged in distressing campaigns, while the advent and growth of Protestantism brought civil wars into the kingdom that no compromise could palliate or rigorous measures suppress.

M. Batiffol's history is distinguished not only in his clarity of narrative and quick, lucid presentations of intricate complications that have bewildered and entangled more than one commentator on this remarkably complex period, but has preserved a detached, scientific spirit throughout. The result is an account that, while favoring the Catholics in no way, yet shows the Protestants not to have been without the use of violent intolerance which English historians have a way of ascribing only to the "Papists."

Catherine de Medici has perhaps, except by an avowed partisan, never been so favorably presented. As the wife of Henry II and the mother of kings, for more than a half century she was the power behind and frequently before the throne. Instead of being the cold, ruthless intriguer that English historians, impressed by Balzac and the pamphleteers of Geneva, have agreed upon, she appears to have been a kindly woman, continually offering compromises, seeking peace and resorting to violence only when she believed, not without good reason if M. Batiffol is to be trusted, that the dignity and even the life of her royal sons were in the balance.

The massacre of Saint Bartholomew, instead of being a deep-laid plot existing for days, weeks, months or even years as some historians have it, is said to have been decided on some six or eight hours before the fatal signal was given, and the intention of both Charles IX and Catherine was that only five or six of the Protestant leaders, whom they did not dare arrest and who were suspected of being on the verge of heading another civil war, should be killed. The Guises, instead of being the prime movers and instigators, are represented as being called in at the last minute to carry out the orders—which they deliberately or otherwise turned into a massacre.

It is an admirable book, and throws the background of French history into strong relief, with the salient influences and complexities of the period clearly defined, and though very condensed, does not neglect an exposition of the organization of government, the conditions of society, the rise, development, transformation of art and letters. The translator, Elsie Finnimore Buckley, though frequently displaying no aversion to vernacular phrasing, has on the whole made a choice and felicitous rendition.

"Great Russia."

Russia's alignment in the great war has brought her more eulogies, permitted more Englishmen, Americans and Frenchmen to discover and declare in a brief eighteen months more points of merit worthy of appreciation than in the past 180 years. This sudden flow of affection for the Russian Giant would be more pleasing if there were not suspicions that it would as readily be transformed in the same form of execration that English publicists have been addicted to in the past should Russia get out of step in the allies' brigade.

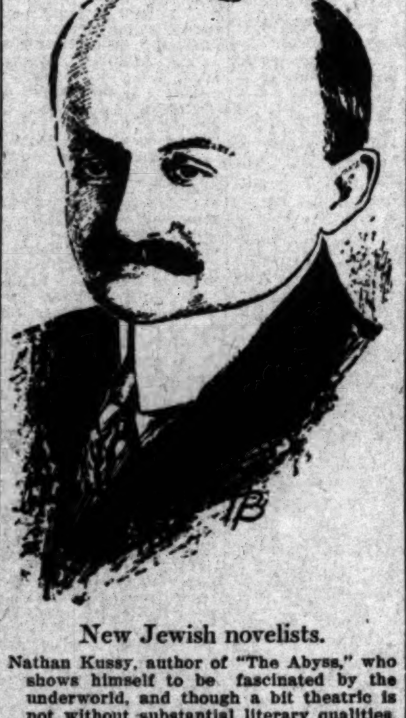
But when Stephen Graham or Charles Sarolea speak there is no reason to suspect they are repaying the Czar with compliments for mujiks killed by German bullets, which, had they been diverted elsewhere, might have reached Belgians or Englishmen.

Mr. Sarolea is a man not without honor and importance in his own country, Belgium. His book, "Great Russia," (Alfred A. Knopf) is scarcely more than a sketch, but a brilliant sketch, illuminating the history, geographical influences, traditions, literature and potentialities of the nation. Many of his statements are surprising; some of them approach the sensational.

He says, "strange as it may sound to the English theorist, Russia stands for democracy," and that the "autocracy is of an essentially democratic nature;" that "Russia has not only defended the rights of small nationalities, she has also consistently followed a disinterested foreign policy" and has frequently been Quixotic and regardless of Russian interests. Germany's influence has been bad for Russia, and the strength of that influence is intimated by the statement that all the Russian Czars have married German Princesses. The Russians, he points out, as are all agricultural, non-industrial, non-commercial nations, are essentially conservative and blindly respectful of tradition and authority. But reorganization is inevitable; and besides, the nation is not so barbaric as has been represented, possibly excepting toward the Jews whom he discusses at length in a sympathetic chapter. The most remarkable statement in the book, however, is that, "although to the pedagogue of today it may appear as the wildest of visions, I confidently prophesy that before the schoolboy of today will have attained mature age the study of Russian will take the place of Greek in the schools of Europe; the study of Vladimir Soloviov will take the place of his master, Plato; Karamzin and Pushkin will replace Livy and Virgil."

"The Story of the Submarine."

The effectiveness of the submarine is recent, but the idea of and experiments with the submarine are old. Farnham Bishops records in "The Story of the Submarine" (The Century Company) that King James of England, along about 1620, was the first and so far only monarch to make a trip in one of the little marine devils; but his was purely a pleasure excursion devised by a Dutch magician, whose powers of wizardry seems to have been enforced with an incalculable knowledge of mechanics and chemistry.



New Jewish novelists.

Nathan Kussy, author of "The Abyss," who shows himself to be fascinated by the underworld, and though a bit theatric is not without substantial literary qualities. (Reviewed on this page.)

During the revolution Americans had an under-water machine that attempted valiantly to blow up British ships, but failed. The only submarine to get a victim before the Germans started was during the Civil War, when an ill-fated Confederate submarine went to its destruction in sinking a Union vessel.

Mr. Bishop tells of mines, torpedoes, mine sweeping, and gives a history of the submarine campaign of the present war, together with an account of the diplomatic conflict between Germany and the United States over the complicated and precarious question.

"The Story of the Submarine" is not only a compact history, but a readable one, and the first of its kind to cover the subject in its modern aspects as well as showing the various inventions and developments of the steel-ribbed shark.

Other Books of Fiction.

A study of student life at Radcliffe, together with a story of well-rounded construction and sustained interest, is in "The Bloom of Youth," by Dorothy Foster Gilman (Small, Maynard & Co.) It is not to be restricted to the classification of a "girl's book," giving as it does a vivid picture of college life against a background of "intellectual" socialism. The heroine, Leslie Wyman, comes from a traditionally conservative Boston family, and is thrown in contact with, and nearly charmed by, the "radical" spirit which finds its star exponent in Henry Evans, a poseur practicing the evils against which he inveighs.

"Those About Trench," by Edwin Herbert Lewis (The Macmillan Company) is heavily loaded with complications dramatically focused to explain the murder of the Archduke Ferdinand. The book is literally stuffed with material, none too adroitly arranged. The plot centers not so much about Trench, the Chicago physician who goes to Europe, as about Saadi Sereef, who is one among the men who, from behind the scenes, shakes the thrones of dynasties.

Mr. Lewis makes quite a sensational story of "secret history" behind Europe's war while, in an interview with a Chicago reporter, he was bold enough to say the story as he has told it is accurate. It is barely possible that he thinks it is.

In "The Alibi" George Allan England (Small, Maynard & Co.,) author of the wildly imaginative "Darkness and Dawn," which, so we were angrily and belatedly informed, was meant as something akin to an allegory on the reformation of humanity along socialistic lines, tells the sensational story of an innocent bank clerk's imprisonment to shield the embezzlement of the cashier. Complications are heightened by the suicide of the cashier before the innocence of the clerk is established; but though all the world's against him, the girl he loves remains true and trusting, and after numerous trials and troubles, virtue is vindicated and honesty comes into its own. Mr. England rejoices over-much in his ability to sling words, and has patterned many of his exciting incidents after the conventional yellow-back thriller.

"Land Credits:" A Plea for the Farmer.

Federal aid and not private, profit-sharing banks should, in the opinion of Congressman Dick T. Morgan, be furnished American farmers in the matter of finances.

In the opening sentence of his book, "Land Credits," a plea for the American farmer (Thomas Y. Crowell Company) Congressmen Morgan sounds emphatically a note of alarm, saying a crisis is at hand and until it is wisely met the agricultural interests of the nation will be imperiled.

The book is in no sense a "campaign document," it is not partisan, it is not written in the excited style expected after the ominous paragraph at the opening of the first chapter. The author brings to evidence the history and record of the credit systems used in Europe, presents fairly the best that may be said of the profit-sharing system, and without controversial rhetoric follows it up with the plan for Federal aid. It covers the subject sanely and well.

"PEG ALONG."

George Lincoln Walton, consulting neurologist of the Massachusetts General Hospital, author of "Why Worry?" issues further advice to fussy people in "Peg Along" (J. B. Lippincott Company.)

Dr. Walton discusses obsessions and how to avoid and cure them; gives hypochondriacs common-sense instruction, analyzes the folk who like to feel themselves marytrs, cites amusing incidents to illustrate his points or serve as a text, tells something of how to train and control the mind, and succeeds in constructing a book that great numbers of people would do well to read.

"MAN OF PROMISE."

Willard Huntington Wright's Novel Is Great, But Not a Novel.

[CONTRIBUTED.]

Willard Huntington Wright has one of the most valuable minds in American letters, if for nothing else than to antagonize even the lethargic Anglo-Saxon mind into opposition. I think that that is at the heart of his intention; to rouse something, even antagonism. His new novel, "The Man of Promise," will arouse fierce opposition, and in many ways justly, for the book is written around such a theme, and scarcely a worthy one, considering the close and intense analysis of the thing.

Stanford West, the "Man of Promise," is ruined by women. His life work, that of an iconoclastic writer (and West is one, of genius,) is forfeited because West cannot get away from their demands. To begin with, his mother insists that he give up writing books which deny her faith; his father makes almost as much trouble for him here as his mother. Then later on his mistress actually keeps him away from his classes at college to spend his time with her. It is not made clear that it is his need for her that keeps him away; it is the fact that she actually begs him and clings to him when the time for classes comes. Horrors! Then his wife causes a terrible storm because he writes books which the public condemns, and he succumbs to her. After a period of some years he goes to another woman who in time ruins his writing and his friendships by all sorts of unscrupulous devices. When he has given her up and made another start his wife makes a final appeal to him on behalf of his daughter, and so he ends with her and a professorship in a little New England town.

The book is written with a mastery of the language with which few writers in America can compete; a felicity and a facility of exact expression that is entirely remarkable. It is written without regard for the conventions of novel writing. There is no climax, unless you regard every chapter as being one in itself, and there is no sustained interest in the plot, for there isn't any plot. The handling of the book is wholly original; it is almost as original a handling as "Jean Christophe," but it is not altogether successful in that the central figure is the only one which is really felt; the others are described, but they and the background are shadowy. There is the closest possible analysis without any of the Tolstoian manner of suggesting, or letting the reader collaborate. It is characteristic of Wright that he should exclude the reader from the story without any feeling for him whatsoever; but it doesn't help the story.

It is true that the whole of a continent and a man's friends may excoriate him for his books; but we are told that this is the case without feeling any reason for it further than the few words about the productions, and the effect is that of a tempest in a teapot. This shows a lack of proportion and balance which can be improved upon, and which will be if Wright intends to continue writing novels.

Of course the obvious answer to the book is that none but a weak man suffers such demoralization from women, but when one has come to the point of rage unutterable with the writer, and has reached the last chapter but two, Wright suddenly begins to answer all the arguments against the convincing quality of the book and some more which we hadn't thought of. This is my reason for thinking that he deliberately tries to arouse antagonism. He knows that no man is ruined by women unless he has a disproportionate need of them. Furthermore he knows that there is no unalloyed satisfaction in women or anything else, and that it would be deplorable if there were. There must be friction everywhere in nature, and men and women are no exception.

"The Man of Promise" is a tremendous book and one which must not be overlooked in the important fiction of the year, but it is not a great novel.

PUBLISHERS AND AUTHORS.

In the March number of the Bookman the identity of David Grayson, author of "Adventures in Contentment" and other books, is disclosed to the public, but many people have for some time been aware that David Grayson was Ray Stannard Baker. The Bookman gives some interesting information on his pen name and how he came to hide and to disclose his identity.

Don Marquis, author of the recent book of verse, "Dreams and Dust," has been reviewing his reviewers—paying his good-humored respects to those who did, and those who did not, like his "Dreams and Dust." The review of reviewers closes with the following: "Ere yet the crocus comes again, and the red-flecked blackbird pipes his greeting to the April angleworm, we shall have reviewed a hundred more of our reviewers. Three or four of them deserve a column each; the thought shows the sweetness of our heart, the charity of our nature; it is more space than many of them give us."

Extreme sensitiveness on the part of the English censor was shown last week by the fact that he refused to permit an edition of "War and the Ideal of Peace," by the distinguished psychologist, Henry Rutgers Marshall, to be landed in Great Britain. This book is a study of the fundamental human characteristics that have resulted in the present war, and of the basis upon which rests the hope and possibility of peace. It is a great but unconscious compliment to the book as an argument for the pacifists.

Richard Pryce was asked not long ago about his methods. "I never work on a plot," he said, "—that is to say, I never map out my story. I get an idea and the story makes itself. To give an easy example from one of my books; it occurred to me that nobody but the lady in the Bible had ever been called 'Jezebel' —or rather, that no one is ever christened by that name. There, then, was a theme. One set oneself to invent circumstances in which it should be conceivable that a child should be christened Jezebel. What would happen to this particular child so handicapped? I wrote the book then rather to find out than to tell.

"'David Penstephen' in like manner is handicapped from his birth. How will this handicap affect him? I know no more than the reader when I start. That, roughly, is the sort of way I work. My characters are all purely imaginary. I don't draw them from life. They make themselves. I don't feel that I am in any way Fate to them. I mean that once I have got them started, they go their own way. That is why I can't do the things I had arranged for them.

"I am not very methodical. I work slowly I haven't at all the pen of the ready writer."

"The Way of the Cross" by Doroshevitch, which the Putnams will publish in the early spring, is probably the first piece of Russian war literature translated into English. It is a terribly poignant impression of the fugitives on the road after the great German invasion of Russia in August and September, 1915. The author, Doroshevitch, is a famous Russian journalist and the narrative was contributed to the Russkoe Slovo in October, 1915. Doroshevitch went from Moscow to meet the oncoming flood of refugees, and he went through to the rear of the Russian army. He came back with the extraordinary picture presented in his book.

"Twilight," by Frank Danby, (Dodd, Mead & Co.) is a tragic love story revealed through visions under morphia, and through the fragmentary confessions of a deluded physician. Strangely enough the author (Mrs. Julia Frankau in real life) has been seriously ill for more than a year and continually under the influence of morphia. This story, written during her illness, is a strange combination of her own experiences and the extraordinary adventures of a young literary woman friend. The visions under morphia, the doctor's unhappy secret and his queer hallucination, and the remarkable culmination of the drama, all make this an unusual and striking piece of work.

The author who conceals his identity under the pseudonym of W. Dane Bank lost both parents at the age of ten, and, as readers of "James" and "Treasure" will guess, his knowledge of the hat making business is intimate. Four generations of Mr. Dane Bank's family were hat manufacturers at Dane Shot Bank near Denton (the Ganton of "James".) Dane Shot Bank is generally known as Dane Bank, and that is how the author came to choose his pseudonym. He, himself, worked in the hat factory ("Yates, Beeston & Higgens" of "James," and two of the partners were his cousins.) In the neighborhood is an old mansion named Hyde Hall, and it is said that Mr. Dane Bank's family claims descent from that Anne Hyde who was the wife of James II, and the mother of two Queens of England.

Tiring of the hat business, Dane Bank thought of taking Holy Orders. Ultimately, however, he became a schoolmaster, and then drifted into journalism. He was an editor at the age of twenty-two, and later went to Brussels to live. He traveled Belgium from end to end, took part in an electoral campaign at Mons, and on his return to England, was invited to stand as candidate for L.C.C. As, however, he was not on the voting list, his candidature had to be withdrawn. Mr. Dane Bank has done a great deal of public speaking, and is so fluent and quick to grasp his subjects that once when a traveller was unable to keep a lecture engagement, Mr. Dane Bank went on the platform at very short notice and lectured on the traveller's films for a space of an hour and a half.

Mary Johnston's famous romance, "To Have and to Hold," is now being prepared for moving picture production at the studios of the Jesse L. Lasky Feature Play Company, at Hollywood. An entire village is being built to represent Jamestown as it was in the days of the early seventeenth century, and more than a thousand actors and actresses are being employed in the roles of early Virginia settlers and American Indians. Among the historical features will be a representation of the council meeting of the Jamestown settlement, based on authoritative records now in the possession of the Congressional Library. Every effort is being made to give the production the semblance of historical correctness.

THE UNKNOWN WITHIN US.

THE RIDDLE OF PERSONALITY. By H. Addington Bruce. Moffat, Yard & Co., New York.

A REVISED edition of the "The Riddle of Personality" by Dr. Bruce enlarges the book to cover discussions of modern phases of psychology, its theories and applications, the most important of which is the chapter on "The Psycho-Analytic Movement" taking up the hypothesis of Sigmond Freud.

Dr. Bruce sympathizes with Boris Sidis in the belief that Freud has over-stressed the influence of sexual repression as the causative of hysteria, but says that Freud "has placed society peculiarly in his debt by his demonstration of the numerous ways in which repressed ideas reveal their continuing presence in healthy people as well as in psycho-neurotics. He has demonstrated for example, that dreams, like psycho-neurotic symptoms, always lead, when carefully analyzed, to repressed thoughts and emotions which gain transient and distorted expression in the visions of the night. He has demonstrated, likewise, that such seemingly meaningless acts as the forgetting of a name or the misplacing of an article may be expressive of repressed ideas causing one to wish to forget the name or article in question."

Dr. Bruce reviews something of the history of psycotherapeutics, discusses and expresses his sympathy with hypnotism as a curative expedient, but is a skeptic on manifestations of the "supernatural," spiritualism and kindred phenomena. The cases of Eusapia Paladino and Mrs. Piper are considered in the spirit of scientific and rather technical inquiry.

Dr. Bruce is a much more respected authority than discerning folk are likely to imagine from the trivial syndicated "editorials" appearing usually in company with "Dr." Frank Crane's "editorials," and others, in numerous daily papers.

Fast Track Meet.

VERLE MURRAY TIES A RECORD.

[illegible] Slow Watch Deprives Him of New Mark.

[illegible] Sturges Runs a Pretty Half Mile.

[illegible] Takes Century and Also Broad Jump.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CLAREMONT, March 11.—Two Southern California intercollegiate records fell by the wayside today in the Pomona-Whittier track meet, and fast time featured almost every race of the afternoon. Walter Sturges set a new mark in the half-mile at [illegible] 1-5s., breaking by one-fifth of a second the record held for several years by Watson of U.S.C. Verle Murray of Whittier tied his own record in the low hurdles at 24 4-5s.

REALLY FAST.

Murray's time in the low hurdles [illegible] even better than was given out. Two watches caught him at 23 4-5s., and a third watch caught the time [illegible] fast. One watch, however, [illegible] 24 4-5s., and according to [illegible] rules, this mark was official. Murray was in wonderful condition for today's meet, scoring [illegible] points for the Quakers himself.

"[illegible]" Sturges set up his record in the 880 within half an hour after finishing the mile run. He ran the first [illegible], but his fast pace in the [illegible] began to tell on him, and he didn't quite finish under the two-minute mark, as he had hoped. Sturges may make another try after the [illegible] in the conference meet next [illegible].

EASY MONEY.

So far as the meet itself was concerned the Huns walked away with [illegible] rather easily, scoring 80½ [illegible] to the Quakers' 49½. The [illegible] won all three places in the mile, [illegible] and discus, and scored [illegible] points in these three events [illegible] to cinch the meet. Whittier, [illegible], came back in the 320-yard [illegible] and managed to shut the Huns without a place.

[illegible] proved the assertion that [illegible] the best 440 man in the south [illegible] the quarter against E. [illegible] in 51 1-5s. Murray won the [illegible] took the pole, but Adkinson [illegible] him to the first turn, taking [illegible]. But for the fact that he [illegible] at the finish, Adkinson might [illegible] another conference record [illegible], for he loafed through [illegible] twenty-five yards of the race.

CLEAN SWEEP.

[illegible] the Huns [illegible] all three places in the mile [illegible] finishing first with the [illegible] brothers close behind. The [illegible] evened things up, however, in the 100-yard dash run-off a few minutes later, when Finch and V. Murray won first and second places. The Huns soon went out in front, however, by winning all three places in the hammer throw, and thereafter were never in danger. Green won first place with a mark of 117ft.

Verle Murray won the high hurdle race in 15 4-5s. without exerting himself very much. Green of Pomona was disqualified for down too many hurdles and Wallace was awarded second place, the third-place point being thrown out because of the fact that only two men finished fairly.

RAH FOR MEHL.

Mehl of Pomona won first place in the high jump, and incidentally his letter. Mehl has been working at the high jump for four years without being able to win his varsity insignia, but his persistence was finally rewarded this afternoon when he defeated Robbins of Whittier. Watenpaugh won his letter in the pole vault under much the same circumstances, after working for four years to win a first place.

Nisbit lived up to his record as a first-class discus man by heaving the wooden platter 117ft. 4in. Elliott and Cree took the other two places. The Huns also cleaned two places in the shot put, with Nisbit again placing first. Finch added five points to the Dingley Knows.

MOTOR SPORT BRINGS OUT THE SMALL MOTOR.

BY BERT DINGLEY.

AUTOMOBILE racing has brought about the development of the light motor.

As an example, the Oldsmobile light four—a small valve-in-head motored car.

A few years back it was considered necessary to have a motor of large dimension both in bore and stroke to develop power and speed. Everyone has seen or heard the Fiat racing cars, which have motors two or three times the size of our speed wonders of today. When Teddy Tetzlaff made his fast time at Santa Monica many of us predicted a record that would stay—but if there be another race over that famous course I pin and connecting rod assembly of motors, will make that record look slow.

The great decrease in motor sizes is made, possible by the improvement and proper distribution of metals, as well as the reduction in weight of reciprocating parts. The piston, wrist-pin and connections rod assembly of today does not weigh as much as the piston, did in a car I drove in the 500-mile race at Indianapolis in 1912.

This lightness is brought about by progress in the alloyage of metals and change in construction. Pistons which were cast iron, heavily ribbed to give strength, are made of a metal giving the same durability at one-fourth the weight. Heavy drop-forged connecting rods have been replaced by a mere shell in comparison and in many cases seamless tubing is used.

Valve-in-head motors are used, having been found to deliver from 10 to 20 per cent. more power than other types of equal size and displacement. The location of the valves gives straight passage to the intake and exhaust gases. The absence of pockets causes the impact of each explosion within the cylinders to be applied direct against the piston heads, utilizing the entire force. The perfection of the lubricating systems, of which there are several types used, with seemingly good results, has its share in the improvements. Some force the oil to the bearings and pistons by pressure—others by gravity to individual splash troughs under connecting rods.

Another point that has led to greater results both as to economy in power and fuel is the elimination of wind resistance—touring and racing cars are built low, with high sides and sloping or convexed cowls. The builders are giving this feature special consideration. As a consequence the pointed and narrow radiators, rounding surfaces and peculiar-shaped bodies seen on boulevard and race track. The reason is that for each square foot of flat surface exposed to the wind while traveling sixty miles per hour there is eighteen pounds' pressure, which requires two horsepower to drive. Now, figure how many feet exposed on a car in this manner and you will be surprised to note power necessary to propel against air pressure alone.

All this goes to show that the racing game has had a lot to do with the development of the small motored light weight car.

MAXWELL RUN RECORD GOES.

The contest board of the American Automobile Association has issued a certificate of performance to the Lord Motor Car Company covering the sanctioned motor non-stop run successfully completed by the 1916 Maxwell touring car in Southern California.

This official certificate, which bears the signature of R. Kennerdell, chairman of the association, and also the official seal of the contest board, presents, in part, the following summary:

Promoter — Lord Motor Car Company.

Character—Non-motor stop.

Car — Maxwell 1916 stock touring car.

Place — Public highways in and around Los Angeles.

Results — Motor started November 22, 1915, at 12:30 noon; motor stopped January 5, 1916, at 11:30 a.m.; total mileage, 22,022.3; consumption of gasoline, 1006.25 gallons; consumption of oil, 474 pints; consumption of water, 63 quarts; average mileage per gallon gasoline, 21.88.

Test supervised by Earl P. Cooper as special representative of the contest board; official sanction No. 888.

VAN COURT AND DAN M'LEOD TO ENTERTAIN.

The firm of Van Court and McLeod will soon give an exhibition of wrestling and boxing for the fans of L. A. High. Coach Featherstone dropped down to the club and interviewed these celebrities yesterday. Both Dan and DeWitt said they would be delighted to show off before the Hilltoppers and will come as soon as circumstances permit.

Van Court will bring a number of his pupils and lecture on the science of the gloves with living models to illustrate his points.

OFFICIAL TRANSFER OF CLEVELAND CLUB.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CLEVELAND (O.) March 11.—Transfer of the Cleveland American Association Club was formally made here this afternoon when the bankers' committee having in charge the interests of President Somers, turned the property over to the Cantillon-Timme Company, the official name of the holding company which will operate the club in Toledo.

Some Slogan, This.

A HUNDRED MILES AN HOUR FOR EVERY CORONA ENTRY.

Fastest Twenty Cars will Compete at the Circle City and Apparently All of Them will be Able to Eclipse the Mark Set by Pullen Last Year—Eddie O'Donnell to Drive Fast Omar.

ECLIPSING all other California speed carnivals in promise, the great Corona Grand Prize, scheduled for April 8, is expected to be the greatest motor meet in the history of the sport in the West.

There are to be twenty starters. Already there are more than that number of entrants. The week before the great race, the speed men will try out over the Grand Boulevard and the twenty knights of the speed profession making the best time in these trials will be the twenty starters in the Corona Grand Prize.

In addition to the $12,000 guaranteed cash prize, there is the Flagler trophy to go to the winner. This trophy alone is valued at $1000.

With the records on all the eastern speedways lifted near the 100-mile per hour mark since the last Corona classic, many of the drivers claim that twenty cars will start in the Corona Grand Prize which show 100 miles per hour in the elimination trials. Practically every driver entered in the great race claims that the record will be boosted above the 100 miles per hour mark, shattering the world's record established by Eddie Pullen on the fast Mercer in the last speed clash on the famous Corona course.

Many changes have been made in the race plans this year over last. Instead of starting at an early hour in the morning, the contest will start at 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon. It will then be over in time for the visiting motor race fans to return to Los Angeles in ample time for dinner. When the race was staged on Thanksgiving Day, the days were shorter and the visitors had to be given more time to get back to Los Angeles and other Southern California points.

The Citrus Belt Racing Association, which is promoting the Corona Classic, is taking every precaution to protect the lives of the drivers and the public. All around the outside of the course there is to be a stout wire stock fence stretched which will protect the spectator from a thrown tire. Three steel rails are being placed in front of the giant grand stand on heavy posts sunk in the the concrete and braced against the pepper trees.

Instead of placing the official stand at the upper end of the course, as was the case last year, the committeemen have drawn up plans for the stands on the lower end near the depot. There will be but the one stand this year and it will be built large enough for the accommodation of thousands of spectators.

Among the drivers sure of competing at Corona is Hughie Hughes on the famous English Sunbeam. Hughes was out to look over the Corona course yesterday with George W. Adams, his mechanician and owner of the twelve-cylinder Sunbeam. Both men expressed themselves as well pleased with the course and promised to show better than 100 miles an hour whether they won or not, unless they met with an accident.

Bob Burman on the Peugeot is a certainty for Corona.

There will be two Mercers with Eddie Pullen, winner of the last Corona, and Glover Ruckstall nominated as drivers.

Then there are two Stutz cars with the 1915 champion, Earl Cooper, and the daring Jim Parsons as drivers.

Eddie O'Donnell is to drive S. A. McKee's Omar and Pete Henderson is coming out from the East to drive O'Donnell's Duesenberg.

Teddy Tetzlaff on a Milac and some other eastern driver who has not been named as yet will also drive a Milac.

The makers of the Milac are now completing a car almost twice the size of the speed creation driven by Tetzlaff at Ascot last Sunday. This will be driven by either Tetzlaff or the unnamed driver who is said to be on his way out from the East.

Rickenbacher with Ray Harroun's new car is expected although he has not signed an entry. He has mentioned to friends that he will be among those present when the great race starts, but that is taken as a sure thing.

DOC LEAVES DENVER CLUB.

Doc White resigned as manager of the Denver baseball club yesterday. The act was a purely voluntary one on Doc's part and did not result from any difference with Owner McGill. In fact, the latter was the most surprised man of all.

"It all happened very suddenly," said Doc White last night. "A man came and talked to me the other day and made me a business proposition that I could not overlook. Why, my trunks were all packed. The carpets all up. The furniture all stored. I wish I could tell you what I'm going to do, but I can't just now.

"I'm through with baseball as a means of making a livelihood, however."

Hurrah!

LAWYERS STAGE A BIG COME-BACK

California Varsity is Nicely Walloped.

Bears Have to Leave During Seventh Inning.

Bingham is Somewhat Wild and Stands for Hits.

BY HOWARD ANGUS.

The U.S.C. Barristers had sweet revenge yesterday on the Bears for the bitter walloping of Friday. They won a real ball game of seven innings from California by the score of 5 to 3.

The beating would have probably been much worse than that had not the Berkeley players suddenly remembered that they had to leave to catch a train. There are times when the art of memory amounts to pure genius.

GAME CALLED.

At their request the game was to have been called at 4:15. They had to catch the Santa Fe home and wanted to have plenty of time in which to make it. From their easy defeat of U.S.C. on Friday, they were confident that by 4:15 the score would be so lopsided that even the Trojans would want the game called.

The seventh inning began at 4:00 with U.S.C. leading 4 to 3. The Bears came and left the bat without changing that score, although C. Rohwer and Adair singled. So the California coach ordered his men to hasten on the field and retire the Trojans as quickly as possible. That would give the Bears another half inning at bat without the Barristers having another turn.

PROPER SPIRIT.

The Bears certainly had the right spirit, but somehow their wires got crossed and the execution of the order got all balled up. The Bears ran onto the field and picked up their gloves. They didn't stop for fielding practice. Umpire Murray began yelling for Bidwell to hurry to the plate. The young gentleman was very much inclined to take his time. Every California played yelled at him separately and collectively to hurry.

"Ah, let me buzz over a couple of strikes on him, even if he isn't there," pleaded Pitcher Dimmock.

Bidwell stepped to the plate and Dimmock began whizzing the ball over just as fast as possible. He fairly ran back to the box after each throw.

"You're in too much of a hurry," smiled Bidwell. He leaned back, met the ball square and when last seen it was hurtling over the center-field fence. According to the ground rules,

Reo Trucks Give Unequalled Service

Brownstein-Louis Co. purchased the truck shown above on November 15. It is used in making city deliveries alone, chiefly in the downtown district.

According to the driver, B. E. Messenger, the truck had covered 3050 miles up to March 8, all city driving. It has averaged 12 miles per gallon of fuel, and has used to date less than 4 gallons of oil. It has made over 10,000 stops, and the Electric Starting system which is part of the standard equipment of the Reo has never once failed, and the battery has never been recharged.

Two punctures have caused the only delay in the truck's operation to date.

Fast Track Meet.

VERLE MURRAY TIES A RECORD.

[illegible] Slow Watch Deprives Him of New Mark.

[illegible] Sturges Runs a Pretty Half Mile.

[illegible] Takes Century and Also Broad Jump.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CLAREMONT, March 11.—Two Southern California intercollegiate records fell by the wayside today in the Pomona-Whittier track meet, and fast time featured almost every race of the afternoon. Walter Sturges set a new mark in the half-mile at [illegible] 1-5s. breaking by one-fifth of a second the record held for several years by Walton of U.S.C. Verle Murray of Whittier tied his own record in the low hurdles at 24 4-5s.

REALLY FAST.

Murray's time in the low hurdles was even better than was given out. Two watches caught him at 23 4-5s., while a third watch caught the time at [illegible] flat. One watch, however, registered 24 4-5s., and according to conference rules, this mark was official. Murray was in wonderful condition for today's meet, scoring sev[illegible] points for the Quakers himself.

[illegible] Sturges set up his record in the [illegible] within half an hour after finishing the mile run. He ran the first [illegible] in [illegible]s., but his fast pace in the [illegible] began to tell on him, and he didn't quite finish under the two-minute mark, as he had hoped. Sturges may make another try after the [illegible] in the conference meet next [illegible].

EASY MONEY.

In so far as the meet itself was concerned, the Huns walked away with [illegible] place rather easily, scoring 80½ points to the Quakers' 49½. The Huns won all three places in the mile, [illegible] and discus, and scored [illegible] points in these three events [illegible] to cinch the meet. Whittier, [illegible], came back in the 220-yard [illegible] and managed to shut the Huns without a place.

[illegible] proved the assertion that [illegible] the best 440 man in the south [illegible] the quarter against E. [illegible] in 51 1-5s. Murray won the [illegible] and took the pole, but Adkinson [illegible] him to the first turn, taking [illegible]. But for the fact that he [illegible] on the finish, Adkinson might [illegible] another conference record [illegible] event, for he loafed through [illegible]-five yards of the race.

CLEAN SWEEP.

The meet started with the Huns [illegible] all three places in the mile [illegible] finishing first with the [illegible] brothers close behind. The [illegible] evened things up, however, in the 100-yard dash run-off a few minutes later, when Finch and V. Murray won first and second places. The Huns soon went out in front, however, by winning all three places in the hammer throw, and thereafter were never in danger. Green won first place with a mark of 117ft.

Verle Murray won the high hurdle race in 15 4-5s. without exerting himself very much. Green of Pomona was disqualified for down too many hurdles and Wallace was awarded second place, the third-place point being thrown out because of the fact that only two men finished fairly.

RAH FOR MEHL.

Mehl of Pomona won first place in the high jump, and incidentally his letter. Mehl has been working at the high jump for four years without being able to win his varsity insignia, but his persistence was finally rewarded this afternoon when he defeated Robbins of Whittier. Watenpaugh won his letter in the pole vault under much the same circumstances, after working for four years to win a first place.

Nisbit lived up to his record as a first-class discus man by heaving the wooden platter 117ft. 4in. Elliott and Cree took the other two places. The Huns also cleaned two places in the shot put, with Nisbit again placing first. Finch added five points to the Dingley Knows.

MOTOR SPORT BRINGS OUT THE SMALL MOTOR.

BY BERT DINGLEY.

AUTOMOBILE racing has brought about the development of the light motor.

As an example, the Oldsmobile light four—a small valve-in-head motored car.

A few years back it was considered necessary to have a motor of large dimension both in bore and stroke to develop power and speed. Everyone has seen or heard the Fiat racing cars, which have motors two or three times the size of our speed wonders of today. When Teddy Tetzlaff made his fast time at Santa Monica many of us predicted a record that would stay—but if there be another race over that famous course I pin and connecting rod assembly of motors, will make that record look slow.

The great decrease in motor sizes is made, possible by the improvement and proper distribution of metals, as well as the reduction in weight of reciprocating parts. The piston, wrist-pin and connections rod assembly of today does not weigh as much as the piston, did in a car I drove in the 500-mile race at Indianapolis in 1912.

This lightness is brought about by progress in the alloyage of metals and change in construction. Pistons which were cast iron, heavily ribbed to give strength, are made of a metal giving the same durability at one-fourth the weight. Heavy drop-forged connecting rods have been replaced by a mere shell in comparison and in many cases seamless tubing is used.

Valve-in-head motors are used, having been found to deliver from 10 to 20 per cent. more power than other types of equal size and displacement. The location of the valves gives straight passage to the intake and exhaust gases. The absence of pockets causes the impact of each explosion within the cylinders to be applied direct against the piston heads, utilizing the entire force. The perfection of the lubricating systems, of which there are several types used, with seemingly good results, has its share in the improvements. Some force the oil to the bearings and pistons by pressure—others by gravity to individual splash troughs under connecting rods.

Another point that has led to greater results both as to economy in power and fuel is the elimination of wind resistance—touring and racing cars are built low, with high sides and sloping or convexed cowls. The builders are giving this feature special consideration. As a consequence the pointed and narrow radiators, rounding surfaces and peculiar-shaped bodies seen on boulevard and race track. The reason is that for each square foot of flat surface exposed to the wind while traveling sixty miles per hour there is eighteen pounds' pressure, which requires two horsepower to drive. Now, figure how many feet exposed on a car in this manner and you will be surprised to note power necessary to propel against air pressure alone.

All this goes to show that the racing game has had a lot to do with the development of the small motored light weight car.

Some Slogan, This.

A HUNDRED MILES AN HOUR FOR EVERY CORONA ENTRY.

Fastest Twenty Cars will Compete at the Circle City and Apparently All of Them will be Able to Eclipse the Mark Set by Pullen Last Year—Eddie O'Donnell to Drive Fast Omar.

ECLIPSING all other California speed carnivals in promise, the great Corona Grand Prize, scheduled for April 8, is expected to be the greatest motor meet in the history of the sport in the West.

There are to be twenty starters. Already there are more than that number of entrants. The week before the great race, the speed men will try out over the Grand Boulevard and the twenty knights of the speed profession making the best time in these trials will be the twenty starters in the Corona Grand Prize.

In addition to the $12,000 guaranteed cash prize, there is the Flagler trophy to go to the winner. This trophy alone is valued at $1000.

With the records on all the eastern speedways lifted near the 100-mile per hour mark since the last Corona classic, many of the drivers claim that twenty cars will start in the Corona Grand Prize which show 100 miles per hour in the elimination trials. Practically every driver entered in the great race claims that the record will be boosted above the 100 miles per hour mark, shattering the world's record established by Eddie Pullen on the fast Mercer in the last speed clash on the famous Corona course.

Many changes have been made in the race plans this year over last. Instead of starting at an early hour in the morning, the contest will start at 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon. It will then be over in time for the visiting motor race fans to return to Los Angeles in ample time for dinner. When the race was staged on Thanksgiving Day, the days were shorter and the visitors had to be given more time to get back to Los Angeles and other Southern California points.

The Citrus Belt Racing Association, which is promoting the Corona Classic, is taking every precaution to protect the lives of the drivers and the public. All around the outside of the course there is to be a stout wire stock fence stretched which will protect the spectator from a thrown tire. Three steel rails are being placed in front of the giant grand stand on heavy posts sunk in the the concrete and braced against the pepper trees.

Instead of placing the official stand at the upper end of the course, as was the case last year, the committeemen have drawn up plans for the stands on the lower end near the depot. There will be but the one stand this year and it will be built large enough for the accommodation of thousands of spectators.

Among the drivers sure of competing at Corona is Hughie Hughes on the famous English Sunbeam. Hughes was out to look over the Corona course yesterday with George W. Adams, his mechanician and owner of the twelve-cylinder Sunbeam. Both men expressed themselves as well pleased with the course and promised to show better than 100 miles an hour whether they won or not, unless they met with an accident.

Bob Burman on the Peugeot is a certainty for Corona.

There will be two Mercers with Eddie Pullen, winner of the last Corona, and Glover Ruckstall nominated as drivers.

Then there are two Stutz cars with the 1915 champion, Earl Cooper, and the daring Jim Parsons as drivers.

Eddie O'Donnell is to drive S. A. McKee's Omar and Pete Henderson is coming out from the East to drive O'Donnell's Duesenberg.

Teddy Tetzlaff on a Milac and some other eastern driver who has not been named as yet will also drive a Milac.

The makers of the Milac are now completing a car almost twice the size of the speed creation driven by Tetzlaff at Ascot last Sunday. This will be driven by either Tetzlaff or the unnamed driver who is said to be on his way out from the East.

Rickenbacher with Ray Harroun's new car is expected although he has not signed an entry. He has mentioned to friends that he will be among those present when the great race starts, but that is taken as a sure thing.

Hurrah!

LAWYERS STAGE A BIG COME-BACK

California Varsity is Nicely Walloped.

Bears Have to Leave During Seventh Inning.

Bingham is Somewhat Wild and Stands for Hits.

BY HOWARD ANGUS.

The U.S.C. Barristers had sweet revenge yesterday on the Bears for the bitter walloping of Friday. They won a real ball game of seven innings from California by the score of 5 to 3.

The beating would have probably been much worse than that had not the Berkeley players suddenly remembered that they had to leave to catch a train. There are times when the art of memory amounts to pure genius.

GAME CALLED.

At their request the game was to have been called at 4:15. They had to catch the Santa Fe home and wanted to have plenty of time in which to make it. From their easy defeat of U.S.C. on Friday, they were confident that by 4:15 the score would be so lopsided that even the Trojans would want the game called.

MAXWELL RUN RECORD GOES.

The contest board of the American Automobile Association has issued a certificate of performance to the Lord Motor Car Company covering the sanctioned motor non-stop run successfully completed by the 1916 Maxwell touring car in Southern California.

This official certificate, which bears the signature of R. Kennerdell, chairman of the association, and also the official seal of the contest board, presents, in part, the following summary:

Promoter—Lord Motor Car Company.

Character—Non-motor stop.

Car—Maxwell 1916 stock touring car.

Place—Public highways in and around Los Angeles.

Results—Motor started November 22, 1915, at 12:30 noon; motor stopped January 5, 1916, at 11:30 a.m.; total mileage, 22,022.3; consumption of gasoline, 1006.25 gallons; consumption of oil, 474 pints; consumption of water, 63 quarts; average mileage per gallon gasoline, 21.88.

Test supervised by Earl P. Cooper as special representative of the contest board; official sanction No. 888.

VAN COURT AND DAN M'LEOD TO ENTERTAIN.

The firm of Van Court and McLeod will soon give an exhibition of wrestling and boxing for the fans of L. A. High. Coach Featherstone dropped down to the club and interviewed these celebrities yesterday. Both Dan and DeWitt said they would be delighted to show off before the Hilltoppers and will come as soon as circumstances permit.

Van Court will bring a number of his pupils and lecture on the science of the gloves with living models to illustrate his points.

OFFICIAL TRANSFER OF CLEVELAND CLUB.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CLEVELAND (O.) March 11.—Transfer of the Cleveland American Association Club was formally made here this afternoon when the bankers' committee having in charge the interests of President Somers, turned the property over to the Cantillon-Timme Company, the official name of the holding company which will operate the club in Toledo.

DOC LEAVES DENVER CLUB.

Doc White resigned as manager of the Denver baseball club yesterday. The act was a purely voluntary one on Doc's part and did not result from any difference with Owner McGill. In fact, the latter was the most surprised man of all.

"It all happened very suddenly," said Doc White last night. "A man came and talked to me the other day and made me a business proposition that I could not overlook. Why, my trunks were all packed. The carpets all up. The furniture all stored. I wish I could tell you what I'm going to do, but I can't just now.

"I'm through with baseball as a means of making a livelihood, however."

FUNDS AVAILABLE FOR HIGHWAY CONSTRUCTION.

IN LOS ANGELES banks $14,000 cash has been deposited in escrow by the property owners along the proposed new coast road connecting Santa Monica and Venice with Manhattan, Hermosa and Redondo Beach cities. This fund, together with funds already provided for by the county, practically insures the construction of the much-needed connecting link in the Coast boulevard. This also secures for the west and southern portions of the county almost a complete new system of highways—the Pico boulevard from Los Angeles to Santa Monica having already been provided for; the National boulevard from Palms to Santa Monica, recently completed; the Topango Canyon road connecting Owensmouth and the great San Fernando Valley directly with the coast at Santa Monica and Venice; the last link of the cross-country boulevard conecting the Orange county highway system with the coast near Hermosa Beach city, where it will connect with the new Redondo and Venice roads, is now being advertised—while the prospects are said to be very favorable for securing the necessary rights of way to complete the connecting link between Inglewood city and Venice to Mesmer Station.

The roadway through the Malibu ranch running from Santa Monica to the Ventura county line has recently been declared a public highway by the Board of Supervisors. While this strip is only twenty feet wide and is on the beach a great part of the distance, the County Counsel has been authorized to commence condemnation proceedings to condemn the right of way along a route which will be practical to construct a permanent highway.

Mesa drive from Hyde Park north is being paved by the road district plan, which will connect through West Adams and Washington streets and which will open up a very valuable territory.

Western avenue has been paved by the same process a greater part of the way from Los Angeles city limits to San Pedro Harbor, and plans are under way for the continuation of same. This will connect Los Angeles city direct with Torrance, the new manufacturing center of the Southwest.

Work is now being done through property owners and various commercial organizations to provide funds for the completion of the Harbor Truck boulevard connecting Los Angeles city by the most direct route with the harbor district. The placing of eight inches of granite on the roadway to be used as a foundation has already been in progress for some time.

The Mint Canyon road is also being constructed, connecting Los Angeles and the San Fernando Valley with the great Antelope Valley to the north. This also opens up the territory from the Owens River Valley country, where Los Angeles city now receives its valuable water supply.

Many miles of improved roads have recently been constructed and are now under way in the east side of the county.

PIONEER SPORTING CLUB SUSPENDED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, March 11.—The Pioneer Sporting Club, where Jess Willard has been training for his approaching fight with Frank Moran for the heavyweight championship, was suspended for thirty days today by the State Athletic Commission. The commission announced that the club had "fooled the public" by advertising a bout between Willard and another boxer at which 25 cents admission was charged and had failed to put on the bout.

The bout had been advertised for today between the champion and Al Reich. Chairman Wenck of the commission announced that Willard had declined to box and that the commission had ordered he should no longer be permitted to charge the fee of 25 cents admission to those wishing to see Willard work. This he has been doing since he began his training here.

GRANT SWANN HERO OF RAILSPLITTER.

Whenever Grant Swann appears on the campus at Lincoln High it is the signal for exclamations of wonder and admiration. Grant ran the mile in 4:46 the other day and has been the hero of the Railsplitters ever since. Any of the Lincolnites will proudly explain how Swann was a star athlete at Huntington Beach before coming here.

Cadillac Standard of the World

The Enviable Position of the Eight Cylinder CADILLAC

The best evidence of the universal recognition that has been accorded the eight-cylinder Cadillac as the world's leading motor car—the standard by which all others are judged—are the frantic efforts of other dealers to convince the public that their cars are as good as the Cadillac because they cost more.

If the Cadillac Motor Car Company made only 2500 cars instead of 15,000 the eight-cylinder Cadillac would also cost considerably more.

The quality of the Cadillac is a know fact. No one even tries to tell you otherwise now.

You, yourself, know scores of men, amply able to afford any car, who own Cadillacs. A car lacking quality doesn't interest them. And the Cadillac comes first with these men who put quality first. So, you are sure of the quality of the Cadillac—its materials, its workmanship, its design.

Knowing the Cadillac has such quality you marvel at its price. But why pay more, since you know Cadillac satisfaction is so certain? And why pay less since that means a sacrifice in quality? Lack of quality never corrects itself. You are always aware of it.

It is the certainty of Cadillac quality that attracts men—both those who consider quality first and price afterward, and those who must consider price, but who realize the folloy of compromising with quality.

The men who drives a Cadillac is constantly reminded by the car itself that there is nothing better. The Cadillac buyer never suffers the disappointment and humiliation of discovering that he could have matched Cadillac quality at a lower price. The Cadillac owner knows he has in the Cadillac that rare combination of high quality at a fair price.

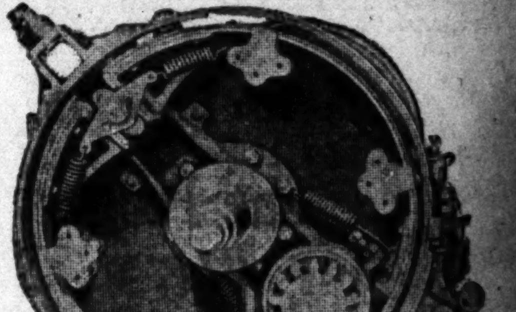
REPUBLIC LINE of INTERNAL GEAR DRIVE MOTOR TRUCKS IN PERMANENT LOS ANGELES HOME

At last the Republic Truck has come into its own in Los Angeles and Southern California. A direct Factory Branch, controlled and operated by stockholders of the Republic Motor Truck Co., of Alma, Mich., has been opened at 1238 South Flower St. All models are now here awaiting inspection and, in addition, there is a complete stock of parts, enough to build a complete truck. This means much to the truck user who is accustomed to having to lay up his means of livelihood while awaiting parts for replacement. The Republic Motor Truck Company is the largest exclusive truck builder in the world and its products are marketed at a price that puts them within the reach of all. There is a size for every need, the new 3-ton Republic meeting the heavy duty requirements with its great overload capacity. All Republic Models are of unequaled economy in operation.

A large number of Republic Trucks are now in use in Southern California and Arizona and the new representatives are desirous of getting in touch with the owners. We intend to operate a service department that will be second to none. If you have had your troubles, let us take care of them for you. Also, if the Republic has proved satisfactory, we would be pleased to hear you tell us about it. Mr. Poyer was one of the earliest builders of the commercial car vehicle. He is a former manufacturer of the Menominee truck, having originated that line, and with him in charge of this territory and directly affiliated with the factory organization, Republic buyers will know with whom they deal.

Why Internal Gear Drive?



It Adds Life to Truck

The Internal Gear Drive provides a special axle that carries all the weight of the load, leaving the live axle to perform only the function it was intended for—that of trans the power from the motor direct to the wheels, thereby moving all stress and strain from the mechanism and longing the term of service indefinitely. Vibration is tically wholly eliminated, and no matter how rough road, none of the jar retards efficiency. Think of the tire mileage this means and the price of tires is going Oversize parts, built to an uncompromising standard, mark the construction of every model of the Republic line. Nickel steel is employed wherever it will strengthen, lighten or benefit the truck. The Republic can almost be said to be a nickel steel truck. This peer of all unbreakable materials is used for front axles and spindles—rear axle spindles, transmission shafts, drive shafts, transmission gears, levers, yokes, differential gears, internal pinions, spring bolts, front and rear, and in steering gear parts.

The Chandler roadster, which was met at the depot yesterday by a reception committee composed of Chandler owners. Upper cut shows Earl V. Armstrong at wheel of four-passenger touring roadster. Below, birdseye view shows the seating arrangement.

FIRST ARRIVAL MET AT DEPOT.

WHEN the first four-passenger Chandler roadster arrived in Los Angeles yesterday it was greeted by a crowd of about fifty admirers.

Although realizing how keen the interest was, Don Smith and Earl Armstrong were unprepared for what really happened. Half a dozen present Chandler touring car owners, who had been impressed by photographs and descriptions of the new roadster called at the Hope-street store yesterday morning and went with the group of enthusiasts to the freight station to see the car unloaded.

This roadster is of the type that first made its appearance this season. The front two seats are divided by an aisleway that leads to a single seat wide enough to accommodate two passengers. The style is typical of the cloverleaf and in the rear there is an unusually commodious compartment for concealing the luggage. The body lines are in conformity with the improved appearance of the 1917 Chandler.

The power plant is the same as that in the touring car. This motor is the product of three years of continued service and is said to be one of the few now on the market that has not undergone some radical change within that time. The flexibility of this motor in throttling down to a mile and a half an hour and then bursting away at a fifty-five-mile speed is said to put it in a class by itself. All acceleration and speed tests of the new Chandler have been made with the same car and without changing the gear ratio.

ROADS READY FOR EXPOSITION.

ROAD dope issued by the official touring bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California states that the coast route to San Diego will positively be in good shape for the opening of the exposition at San Diego on March 18.

This news was issued yesterday following the completion of an inspection tour by a club scout car plying between Los Angeles and San Diego and between San Diego and the Imperial Valley.

It was found that the bridges on the coast route will be completed by [illegible] anyway, and maybe before. While the one across the San Luis Rey at Oceanside is about ready, with the exception of the approaches, which are being rushed. It is assured by county authorities that the bridge over the Santa Marguerita, another important connection link, will be open then.

Although automobiles are now making the trip from San Diego to Imperial Valley over the regular route, the Auto Club states that this tour will be greatly improved by fair opening time, or at least within two weeks.

Work on the Santa Ana Canyon route to Big Bear has been progressing rapidly, and is two-thirds done. It is now possible to reach Little Bear via Waterman Canyon, and, although there is still a little snow, the general trip is reported as excellent.

Both Bouquet and Mint canyons are reported to be in good condition. Some damp spots will be found under the trees of Bouquet, and Mint is a little rough at the lower end, but both are as good as ever.

Gaviota Pass, on the coast road to San Francisco, above Santa Barbara, will be open to travel in two weeks.

Mt. Wilson's toll road will also be opened in two weeks.

There are still two fordings necessary on the inland route to San Diego, and it is still as long as just after the rains.

Motorists may secure touring information today at the club headquarters until 11 a.m.

TRUCK WORKS INTO IMPERIAL.

Three Reo 1500-pound trucks were delivered last week to the Imperial Valley Creamery Company by Earle C. Anthony, Inc., State distributors of the Reo, through their representative in El Centro, A. L. Luce. The trucks will be used in gathering up milk from the Imperial Valley ranches and bringing it to El Centro. The company has been using two two-ton Reos on this work for more than a year, but needed lighter units as well to reach outlying ranches, and selected the Reos for this trying work.

The Reos delivered last week make a total of eight trucks of this type in service in the Imperial Valley. Two other 1500-pound trucks of the same make are already in creamery work around Heber, and the State Highway Commission has two in use on construction work on the new State highway along the western shore of the Salton Sea.

PACKARD CAR PICTURE STAR.

With a film experience of only two weeks, a new actor, recently engaged by the Universal Film Company, is making a decided hit in movie circles. The "actor" is a new Packard "twin six" just purchased by Harold E. Scott for work in the pictures.

"They wanted a car that could register hauteur and exclusiveness, and that could drive up in front of any Wilshire home without showing nervousness," said Scott last week. "Consequently I selected a Packard, and it certainly is making a hit in the pictures, regardless of its other good qualities."

The Packard promises to be one of the most thoroughly photographed cars in California, and has already put in more than a week of solid work before the camera. It is used on both location and picture work, and carries a load of picture people to a location or takes part in a film with equal good nature.

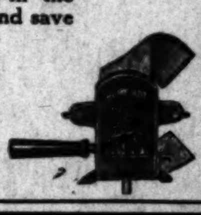
—Easy to operate — trouble-proof—handle permits moving while hot. Outfit complete with rubber measure for gasoline and chain for attaching to tire, $1.50—a price much lower than the one suggested by the manufacturer.



OLD-TIME AUTO MOVING STILL.

Twelve years ago, in St. Paul, E. G. Palmer bought an Apperson automobile.

It was what was known as a model J car and was the eighty-fifth machine turned out by the Apperson brothers.

Although having but two cylinders and being rated at twenty horse power, while the latest Apperson has eight cylinders and will show sixty horse power, the 1903 model had some of the present-day claims to modernity. It had three forward speeds and a reverse gear. The drive was on the left-hand side and the steering post was adjustable. Timken roller bearings were used.

Seven years ago Mr. Palmer determined upon a cross-country drive from St. Paul to Los Angeles and selected the Apperson as his conveyance. After spending several months here Mr. Palmer disposed of his car and subsequently it became the property of H. D. Smith of Colton, a representative of the Pacific Fruit Express.

When visiting in San Bernardino a few weeks ago Elmer Apperson, president of Apperson Bros. Automobile Company, the man who built No. 85, noticed the car on the street. Naturally he was quite interested in it and was so surprised that he could not conceal his pleasure when he was told this old car is making daily trips between San Bernardino and Pine Crest in the stage service, carrying five and six passengers each trip.

All who have ever made the Pine Crest drive know that it is upgrade all the way from San Bernardino. Mr. Apperson took the trip himself in order, he said later, to satisfy himself as to just how good the cars he has made really are. The "two-lunger" is looked upon with pride by its owner and he says he has had many a laugh by passing newer and higher-powered cars on the Pine Crest road and seeing the mortification of the occupants.

WEESE WRITES.

Our old friend, John Weese, veteran of the automobile industry in these parts and occasionally a race official, writes from Chicago, where he is now residing, that he's off on the place for life. He says that since he has been a resident of the windy burg he has frozen off an ear and been blessed with frost-bitten lips, otherwise he has enjoyed the climate wonderfully well. John says that the two days of the year that Chicago ball fans and motorists look forward to are Ground Hog Day and April Fools' Day.

GREATER BUSINESS THIS YEAR.

BY P. H. GREER.

A GREAT deal has been written about the tremendous revival of business conditions throughout the United States. In the motor car division it is a noteworthy fact that this is the first year that there has not been a general policy of storing cars by the manufacturers for the spring rush.

Winter sales have broken all records. In the West it has been as a result of the wave of confidence and optimism. In the East, of course, this factor has been predominant, but the self-starting devices now so wonderfully perfected have made winter motoring in the snow-belt cities far more popular.

We have just received a phenomenal report from the Hupp Motor Corporation showing that during the seven months from July 1 to February 29 the Hupmobile plant has shown an increase of 65 per cent. over the corresponding season for 1915. The month of January alone showed an increase of 62 per cent. over January last year.

These figures, the report points out, are for shipments and production and would have been even larger had it not been for the shortage of freight cars. During some days of January it was impossible to get more than four or five cars suitable for automobile shipments in the whole city of Detroit.

Realizing the freight car situation and heeding the warnings of the railroads, dealers all over the country flooded the Hup factory with orders for February and March, so that on February 1 they had an increase of 208 per cent. on the order books over the same month last year.

PASADENA DEALERS.

N. S. Charnock has been a resident of this county for twenty-five years. For several years he has been driving an automobile, a Franklin, and a few days ago he made up his mind he would like to go in business as a Franklin dealer. He consulted Ralph C. Hamlin, the distributor for Franklin and Scripps-Booth cars, and it was not long before the two had come to an agreement that Mr. Charnock would represent these two lines of cars as the Pasadena dealer. A commodious new garage has been obtained at No. 36 North Marengo street. Harry Harper will be associated with Mr. Charnock.

KING "8"

"GRASPING an opportunity" is the same as grasping the steering wheel of a King "Eight," for at $1250 in Los Angeles, it means an unusual opportunity for reliable touring qualities and "class" in both winter and spring. Its eight cylinders means power, and its construction means reliability.

Complete Motor Cars

IN addition to the element of convenience, motoring can and rightly should be a pleasure and recreation—free from the endless annoyances due to inadequate equipment.

It is true that electric starting and lighting systems, demountable rims and other refinements can be purchased and added to the car that lacks these devices. But experience has shown that to buy the entire and finished car from one manufacturer is not only less expensive, but much more satisfactory in that responsibility for the whole product can be centered in one institution.

Maxwell Motor Cars, being otherwise designed to earn and retain the approval of particular people, are, of course, provided with every accessory of established merit that would add to the convenience and comfort of their owners.

that went for a two-bagger. California still had hope, for Tracy, a pitcher who couldn't hit, was at bat. Dimmock continued to pitch on the dead run. Tracy bumped the ball just over the top of his head and across second. It was a clean single and Bidwell raced frantically home.

WILTING.

The Bears began to wilt around the collar.

"Shucks, a two-run lead's nothing," said Capt. Adair in low and husky tones. "Courage, boys, we'll get 'em yet."

Thomas, who is only knee high to a grasshopper squatted on the ground. Dimmock, who was still running, gave him a walk. That put Tracy on second and Thomas on first.

Hirsch strolled to the bat and laid down a bunt, filling the bases. Holloway strode up to the bat with the strides of Goliath and a bat about the size of the broom Hercules used to sweep out stables with. Dimmock took one look and turned pale. Suddenly the hurrying on the part of the Bears ceased. They all stood around and talked things over. The coach jumped up from the bench and grabbed Umpire Murray by the arm.

PLEADING.

"For the love of Mike, call the game," he gasped, "we're going to miss that train."

Umpire Murray, who is Irish, grinned, took a squint at the bases and answered, "I guess you're right." He called the game.

Afterwards the Bears stood around fifteen minutes helping the Barristers eat the box of candy presented by the Chocolate Shop.

The game was a real battle. Tracy on the mound for the Barristers allowed seven hits.

Bingham was a trifle wild and was responsible for the U.S.C. victory. Thomas walked the first inning and Holloway clouted the ball on a beeline to the left field fence. Thomas scored and Holloway drew up at third. Slugging Dick Hillman singled Holloway in.

The next two U.S.C. runs were made in the fifth inning when Hillman singled and scored on Curry's double over the center-field fence Curry was sent home by another double over the same fence by Whittemore.

Bidwell scored the last U.S.C. tally when he doubled and scored on Tracy's single.

ERROR.

The first Berkeley tally was a result of an error and Tracy's temper. Young walked and scored when Tracy booted Parrish's easy grounder all over Bovard Field. Tracy even went so far as to throw the ball down really fierce like. On several occasions Tracy assayed to tell Murray how to umpire, notwithstanding the fact that Murray is the oldest and best umpire in the American Association.

Young scored the second tally when he hit the ball into a brush pile in left field and Bidwell could not find it. Catcher Furlong scored the last tally when he walked, went to second on Roher's out and scored on Parrish's single.

"Pat" Millikan's team looked more like a real baseball playing machine yesterday. They hit the ball on the nose and fielded well. Bidwell misjudged a couple in left field. Hillman booted two and Miller appeared nervous. Butt his did not interfere with the victory.

BALL FEDERATION GETS TOGETHER.

CONSTITUTION ADOPTED AFTER FOUR HOURS.

Divide Players into Two Classes, Those Who Receive no Remuneration Whatsoever and Those Who do but do not Make Their Living by Playing Baseball.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

CINCINNATI (O.) March 11.—The National Baseball Federation adopted a constitution today after being in session four hours and adjourned.

The constitution limits the term of president of the federation to two consecutive years and specifies that no person interested in the manufacture or sale of sporting goods shall be eligible for election to any office in the organization.

The members of the federation were classified thus:

A player eligible to class A is one who receives no monetary remuneration for his services as a player during the current season. A player eligible to class AA is one who does not earn a livelihood by his services as a player.

The playing rules of the National League will be the rules of the federation and its affiliated bodies.

A resolution by Harry Hefflebein of Johnstown, Pa., calling for the appointment of a committee to call on the national commission to ask for a "munificent" donation for amateur ball players was adopted. Hefflebein said the money would be devoted to developing ball players.

AUTO EXPORTS RANK FIFTH.

Exports of American automobiles and parts now rank fifth in value among all manufactured articles.

The exports for the year 1915, valued at $111,180,139, exceeded the combined exports of all other kinds of machinery ($81,224,345) and the combined exports of all sorts of steam and electric railroad cars and locomotives, carriages and wagons, bicycles, stationary, marine and automobile engines, agricultural implements and electrical machinery ($78,015,574.) They also exceeded the value of manufactured cotton and cotton clothing ($95,827,024,) manufactures of leather ($75,268,680,) chemicals, drugs, dyes and medicines ($80,395,321) and exports of wheat flour ($96,201,234.)

The automobile exports were surpassed in value last year by exports of iron, steel and manufactures thereof ($338,703,720,) explosives ($181,778,033,) refined mineral oils ($138,689,495,) copper and manufactures ($125,136,289,) wheat ($282,457,092) and horses, mules, cattle and sheep ($121,641,231.)

This comparative analysis of the export trade statistics contained in the December report of the Department of Commerce, as made by the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, will give a better understanding of what the growth of the automobile industry means to the American working man and the general prosperity of the country, for it is to be remembered the automobile industry draws heavily upon many other industries for raw and manufactured materials, such as metals, leather, cloth, wood, wool, curled hair, glass, celluloid, paints and varnishes, asbestos, etc.

GREAT INCREASE.

In one year the exports of motor vehicles increased more than 232 per cent, from a total value of $28,507,464 in 1914 to $94,879,738 in 1915. The foreign shipments of passenger cars almost doubled, from 22,335, valued at $19,521,708, in 1914, to 41,869, valued at $35,045,492 for the year ended December 31 last. But the exports of trucks increased nearly seven-fold, from 3430, worth $8,985,756, to 22,082, valued at $59,834,246.

Growth of the foreign trade in American motor trucks during the last two years is even more noteworthy, for in 1913 only 1009 commercial vehicles were exported, of a gross value of $1,686,807, the increase in two years being 3447 per cent.

The principal countries to which automobile exports were made last year and the volume of shipments to them were as follows:

United Kingdom, 24,355, valued at $35,055,097; France, 6304, valued at $15,922,313; other European countries, 8630, valued at $22,330,357; Canada, 5796, valued at $4,622,931; British Oceania, 4818, valued at $4,075,299; Asia and other Oceania, 4319, valued at $6,728,813.

FLANDERS TO BE VISITOR.

Walter E. Flanders, president of the Maxwell Motor Company, Inc., is soon to be a California visitor. This, in itself would not be such a startling piece of news only Mr. Flanders is practically the only really "big" man of the automobile industry who at some time or other has not invaded the land of sunshine and flowers.

Fate has seemingly conspired to keep the Maxwell boss and the Golden West far apart. In the early days of the motor car industry there was no opportunity for him to take a vacation. He was too busy thinking out the methods of purchasing materials and systematizing his factories. Organization was his business hobby, and under his banner he enrolled some of the men who today still follow the methods of the "big chief" in directing some of the larger automobile organizations of the world.

Now Mr. Flanders has business in such shape that he can think of "play time." The Maxwell policies for the next year have been definitely decided. Its production of 125,000 has been announced and started on; necessary additions to the big Detroit and Newcastle plants are under way, and the new Canadian branch is far along toward completion.

It was not hard to convince the Maxwell leader that the Golden West was the real playground of the world. When he was at the factory recently T. J. Toner, director of Maxwell affairs in the Pacific Coast district, found it an easy matter to persuade Mr. Flanders to come West. The Coast highways, hundreds of gorgeous scenic drives in valley, along shore and over the mountains were painted in glowing word pictures, and just for good measure the California doctrine of "366 days of leap-year touring" was thrown in.

CLAIMS FAVOR.

According to Harry Lord of the Lord Motor Car Company, the most noticeable refinement of the mechanical construction of the 1916 Maxwell car and the one that has brought out the most favorable comment of users of the Maxwell is the new clutch assembly. It is the only cone clutch that has ever been designed to run in a bath of oil eliminating all possibility of grabbing or jerking. The Maxwell engineering department hit upon this novel construction and perfected it and this smooth-running clutch is now used exclusively.

Less Money More Mileage

The day of the racing car is done. This is the age of the road car.

It isn't a question any longer of mile-a-minute speed. Nobody but a college sophomore or an Eddie Pullen wants that kind of a car.

But there is a quiet, growing, insistent demand for a car of spunk, that picks itself up neatly and gets itself under way with a spirit—the same kind of spirit that responds in a lively, high-nerved horse to the light touch of a whip.

This is the kind of a car that rolls up to the opera quickly, quietly, without groan or complaint, and rolls away again into the night with a grace and smartness and a liveliness that the traffic cop notes and admires.

For he is, after all, a good judge of things automobile. He knows the sluggish cars from the peppery ones, the "light-footed" from the "heavy-footed," and the gear-changing kind from the always-on-high variety, and he mentally salutes the lively.

Spunk in a car is needed most not at 70 or 75 miles an hour, but 5 and 10 and 15 and 20 and 35 miles an hour.

It comes in handy when you want to go out and go by the man ahead, when the cop's whistle blows, when you are taking the other man's dust, every time that you turn a corner, every time you hit a grade, every time you wind your way up a hill.

And the men who are driving this kind of a car express it in the lines of their faces—a certain ease of control, a peculiar note of confidence, the absence of fret, the feeling of having something secure and sure beneath the right foot.

Watch for them. You will find them driving Chalmers Six-30's. Hang on to one of them in traffic or in open country. It takes a good car to roll along with one. This is because a minimum of fuel is translated into a maximum of power by this compact Chalmers engine.

You will observe there is no tire-burning speed, no roar of gears, no pell-mell driving.

Just a keep-a-going pace, wonderful acceleration, an arrow-like direction, always four wheels on the ground, no sideway—and a peck of pep if you try to tickle the speedometer needle up to 60.

Few can pass her. If you want more speed than that, the Chalmers Six-30 cannot give it to you.

You had better go buy a Rolls-Royce. Pay the price.

But don't buy a low-priced racing animal. Get a thoroughbred. It's an interesting kind of a car to own.

And for day-in and day-out use get one of these Chalmers Six-30's. It's got room—115 inches of wheelbase; French finish upholstery; nice clutch action; good braking properties; every button and dial within finger's reach.

And a name on the radiator that has always stood for quality.

This elegant little, 5-passenger car is chock full of motor secrets. There are some twenty notable developments, hidden from the eye, in pistons, connecting rods, gas chambers and so on. All serving to speed up acceleration.

Bring your wife. She will make discoveries you never knew existed in a car before.

Also bring your check book. Because the Six-30 is comparatively as easy for us to sell—as it is for you to operate.

No hill too steep.

At top, Jackson climbing West Sixth-street hill at four miles per hour. Below, climbing Quintero-street intermediate.

HALF WAY UP IN INTERMEDIATE.

THE Sixth-street hill long has been a demonstrating hill to show what motor cars can do "on the high." Year after year the best cars have proven their prowess in climbing, either by going as slowly as possible or as fast as possible up the hill on high gear. But it remained for the Jackson light eight to supply a new thrill in hill climbing.

Thursday morning Jack Hannah and Charles H. Thompson had an argument regarding the pulling power of the little eight, which resulted in the wager that the car could not be driven up the hill on high gear as slowly as a man can walk.

Hannah and E. W. Robbins of the Charles H. Thompson Company conducted the demonstration, and so confident was Mr. Thompson that he sent a photographer along. "We'll just see if we can do the trick," said Mr. Robbins when they got to the foot of the hill. Hannah got out and walked along side the car. Robbins cut the speed down to a walking pace, and the ascent was made with ease. The last half of the grade, after rounding the corner, was the most severe test, but even here the motor did not labor, going over as smoothly as if running on a level hill.

After demonstrating on the Sixth-street hill, Robbins took Hannah to the Quintero-street grade, and climbed three-fourths of the way to the summit in intermediate, before he had to shift into low. So far as is known, the Jackson is the first car to attempt the hill in intermediate and ascend over half the distance. Quintero conquered, he next tackled the new Baxter-street hill, with its 35 per cent. grade. This hill, of course, was ascended in low, and the sweet running Jackson motor did not heat at all.

Hannah lost his wager, but he immediately became the owner of a Jackson light eight, which he declares will get plenty of hill work as soon as the trout season is opened.

The Reading (Pa.) Council has passed an ordinance prohibiting the use of the muffler cutout on city streets and the use of glaring headlights, the penalty being from $5 to $50, or imprisonment not exceeding thirty days.

WOMEN DRIVE LIGHT AUTOS

Motoring Among Fair Se Never so Popular as New.

Development of Small Motor is Responsible.

Ladies now Travel Dangerous Mountain Roads.

The advance in light car construction has greatly popularized motoring with women.

Only a season or so ago a woman who drove a powerful touring car was considered a sportswoman of exceptional ability. Today, with the American manufacturers turning out light cars of maximum efficiency, the woman motorist is as common upon the road as any of the drivers of the sterner sex.

The cars of yesterday, of great weight and hard starting motors, made it dangerous for any woman to attempt to guide them upon the level county roads, to say nothing of the hard driving to be found along the mountain routes. Not only was there danger from the cranking of stiff motors—which now has been practically eliminated by the self-starter—but the excessive weight of the larger machines made it almost impossible for the woman driver to hold the car upon the hills. Of course, she could hold them, but it was only with effort. This fact took away nearly all the pleasure of driving.

HARD BRAKING.

Then in traffic, where sudden stops were necessary, the hardship of brake application was also keenly felt. But the light car of efficiency has brought an end to all this sort of thing. Under the new standard calling for a car, fully equipped, weighing less than 1800 pounds, none of this difficulty is encountered.

The change from the heavy to the light car has been somewhat gradual and the fact that the women are now driving over all of the roads has not brought much comment. But if one stops to consider that four, or even three, years ago, it was considered a wonderful thing for any woman to drive up Lookout Mountain, and that now they are to be found touring up any of the scenic roads, experiencing no trouble whatever, the force of the new standard begins to mean something and shows that it has come to stay.

The light car is naturally much easier to steer, but this would not be the case were it not for the fact that those construction engineers have sought and found the perfect balance. Which is to have all four wheels weighing within the six-pound margin, with the balance of weight in favor of the rear end. If the light car were not so perfectly balanced it would be a very difficult matter to keep it in the road at any speed at all, but with the balance it rolls as steadily as any two-ton machine made.

A motor operates at its maximum efficiency when the jacket temperature is at about 170 degrees.

Weight One-third.

ALUMINUM PISTON TAKES PLACE OF IRON TYPES.

ALUMINUM alloy pistons are superior to the cast-iron type, and are being almost universally adopted by the manufacturers of the better class of motor cars, according to Froman Speers of the Bekins-Speers Motor Company, distributors for the Haynes "Light Six."

The aluminum piston is considerably lighter than the cast-iron piston. The weight of the aluminum variety, roughly speaking, is one-third that of a cast-iron type of the same design. It follows that the inertia forces needed to move the mass of the piston is reduced approximately 67 per cent. by the aluminum piston. At the same time side pressure or thrust is reduced in the same ratio.

The use of aluminum pistons lowers friction between piston and cylinder wall. The coefficient of friction of aluminum is approximately one-half that of cast iron. The gain in this feature is increased driving power. Simultaneously a smaller quantity of oil is required to lubricate the cylinders, which means a considerable reduction in operating expenses. Extended road trials have proved that aluminum pistons give greater and cheaper motor power per gallon of gasoline.

A distinct advantage that will be appreciated by many motorists is the fact that aluminum pistons, in case they seize or buckle in extreme heat, are damaged only in rare instances. The cylinder is seldom, if ever, damaged. Cast-iron pistons under like conditions would probably score the cylinders, necessitating reboring, fitting new pistons and frequently a new cylinder block.

There can be little doubt that properly-installed aluminum pistons will pay the car owner big dividends. He will be amply reimbursed, not only in saving dollars and cents in gasoline, oil and repairs directly traceable to the vibration of heavy iron pistons, but also in the smoother running, quicker acceleration and increased power of his car.

The fact that nearly all late-model cars of the better type use aluminum pistons in their motors brings the aluminum piston from the doubtful class and places it in the foremost rank of automobile achievements of late years.

Nearly forty miles of improved highways will be completed in Elkhart county, Indiana, at a cost of almost $350,000, this year.

VISIT FACTORY.

Making a special trip to Norwalk, Ct., to learn first-hand facts concerning tire conditions and new improvements, Roy R. Meads of the Norwalk Tire Company and George W. Lichtenburger of the Los Angeles Saddlery and Finding Company left this week for a three weeks' visit to the eastern factory. While in the East the local men will probably take the exclusive agency for several automobile accessories.

A Powerful Motor

Electrically Started

Electrically Lighted

Absolutely Complete

Unusually Large Tires

Here is the car that all America has waited for.

Here is the car that all America is buying faster than we can produce.

You've got to have a car.

But you don't have to pay a large price. Nor do you have to be satisfied with a small, uncomfortable car which keeps you in a state of mental dissatisfaction and physical discomfort.

The $615 Overland solves the problem.

Seats five comfortably—no crowding or jamming.

Cantilever rear springs—

Soft, deep upholstery built up over long spiral springs—

And four-inch tires.

These features make it ride easier than many of the big high-priced cars.

It has a powerful and snappy en bloc motor—

Is electrically started and electrically lighted—

Has electric control buttons on steering column—

And all the very latest touches of up-to-dateness and refinement.

It is light and economical, but with good style, beautiful finish and phenomenal riding comfort.

Only $615.

And that's complete. Everything with it. Nothing extra to buy.

You've got to have a car. Order this Overland.

APPERSON

There is no short cut to Quality.

Apperson Brothers have been twenty-three years developing motor cars to the present perfection of the Apperson Light Six.

And here is the reason there is no other Six comparable to it:

No other maker can command a greater store of experience.

Prestige is attached to your purchase of an Apperson Light Six as a natural consequence.

But a more far-reaching result is the wider range of ability of the Apperson Six.

Five-passenger—$1600; Four-passenger Roadster—$1675; Seven-passenger—$1675.

AUTO CLUB OFFERS NEW MAP SERVICE TO PUBLIC.

A MAP showing the entire road system of the United States, the first to ever be prepared, is now under course of "construction" by the engineering and drafting forces of the Automobile Club of Southern California.

So gigantic is the task undertaken that it will take three months to complete—two months of that time being used to secure data from every State and county thrroughout the Union.

Heretofore the large highway maps have either shown solely the transcontinental routes, with their tributaries, or have shown mere sections of the country. No attempt has been made to indicate all United States highways as well as the motor roads of each community.

The auto club has just completed the new State of California map which shows up-to-date data on every motoring route in the State. This map is available for motorists this week at the club headquarters, and eastern visitors will find it particularly valuable for their Coast rambles.

In connection with the club's map work, the most complete in America, is the plan to institute an entirely new system of road maps to be used in conjunction with the organization's justly famous "strip map" system.

This new departure will be called the "aeroplane group" from the fact that each map will give an "aeroplane view" of the territory through which the automobilist is passing. It is as though the motorists were high in the sky looking down upon the road over which he is passing. Every hill and river is shown, as are the turns and exact mileages, just as in the maps of the strip system.

It is not planned by the club's directors to do away with the present system, but to augment it with the "aeroplane views" of some of the most important tours.

These are also of particular importance to visitors in Southern California, as they give a splendid idea of the topography of the various sections of the southern part of the State.

Thousands of these maps will be distributed to eastern visitors this year, according to Secretary Mitchell, just as thousands were last. Members of the automobile club will be particularly fortunate in securing such remarkable guides free of charge. It is the support of the public spirited motorists who are members of the organization that makes these important works possible.

PROTECT POMONA'S STREET CORNERS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

POMONA, March 10.—The street department is installing white disks in the center of thirteen street intersections of the business districts, to warn automobile drivers against cutting corners.

The disks are twenty-four-inch circular pieces of cast iron, flat on the bottom and slightly oval. They are two inches thick at the outer edge. These disks are bolted to the pavement, painted white and lettered, "Safety First," in black. If an auto attempts to cut a corner and runs a wheel over a disk the jolt is calculated to jar the false teeth out of the passenger in the back seat and bounce the dorg off the observation platform.

The disks are placed at Gibbs, Louisa, Garey, Thomas, Main, Gordon and Park on Second street, at Garey, Thomas and Main on Third street, at Bertie, Center and Holt on Garey avenue, and at the corner of Park and Holt avenues. If the plan works well many more disks will be installed.

NEW PAIGE COMING.

Some time next week there will be a sensational announcement regarding the Paige, having to do with a new model which represents a remarkable value in this car which has gone to the front so rapidly. C. R. Teaboldt, sales manager of Smith Bros., Paige distributors, states that they will make no announcement until the new cars are actually upon the floor, but admits that the factory has been manufacturing the new model for some time, and that it is not only ready to deliver promptly on orders, but some of the new cars will soon be in Los Angeles for exhibit and demonstration.

NEW PLANT.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

POMONA, March 10.—W. S. Lockwood, until recently employed at the Moore Truck Company plant at Torrance, has opened a garage at the corner of Eighth and Palomares street in this city. He is equipped for general machine work and body building.

GAME NO. 48—OLD FOURTEENTH.

Anecdote.

Contributed by Julius D'Orio.

Several townspeople were watching checker maneuvers in the village barber shop at Highgrove, Cal. An occasional two-for-two or a masterly shot would twinkle the eyes of the orange pickers, or cause a hearty laugh from Bill Twogood, the leading carpenter of the town, who [illegible] was surveying the play through his eyeglasses.

Had this checker contest taken place in a city there would have been no special feature of interest, but in a village where folks know each other so well it is different.

Highgrove feels very proud of their barber as a checker player, and hold the opinion that a better player is hard to find. Many contests have taken place at the Highgrove barber shop and the one-sided scores have drifted away all interest until the special evening, when it became known that a good checker player was staying at the [illegible] for the night.

Everybody felt a great battle to be on hand, maybe a wager on the result, but who would have the nerve to stake "real money" against such a reputable player as the Highgrove barber!

There is no introduction to make as to how a checker player finds another; all to be known is that the visitor—representative and salesman for the famous Watkins remedies—had "locked horns" with the barber.

Each of the principals wore a pleasing smile and a look of confidence that would have been worthy to some noted lawyer trying an important case before a jury.

The first game, being well played by both sides, resulted in a draw, but while resetting the pieces for another game, someone entered the barber shop for a hair cut.

"Why not get your hair cut some other time, Bert?" inquired Bill Twogood. "[illegible] me," replied Bert. "Don't you ever think that I will cause procrastination on that quarter of a dollar, and, as an entertainment, I will play checkers at the same time," said the barber, who was now ready to attend to business.

The crowd formed a ring around the checker board, so as to obscure the view. They thought this a great joke, but were amazed to learn that the barber wanted to play the game without sight of the board.

Here is what developed, with the remarks of the spectators:

Black—Barber.			White—[illegible]
11-15	2-6a	13-17f	17-22	[illegible]
23-19	31-26	22-13	6-9	[illegible]
8-11	8-11b	9-12g	7-10	[illegible]
22-17	26-22	24-19	21-17	[illegible]
4-8	3-8c	15-31	5-9	[illegible]
17-13	32-28	26-22	3-7	[illegible]
15-18	1-6d	12-19h	9-14i	[illegible]
24-20	30-26	22-8	20-16	[illegible]

6-9	12-19	10-17	31-27	[illegible]
13-6	23-16	25-21	16-11

6-9x 12-19 10-17 21-27 Drawn.

x—9-14, 26-23 were played before the [illegible].
a—"The barber is putting holes in his [illegible]."
b—"If he had done this [illegible] he would have saved his line-up."
c—"Funny he didn't move 9-13."
d—"It is going to be a blocked game."
e—"Finally he moved it."
f—"Stuck—there goes a man for nothing."
g—"If he had seen this before making the mistake there would have been nothing to it."
h—"He is lucky to come out even."
i—"Better run."
j—"A piece of luck—got there in time."
k—At this time the barber stamped his foot and "curses." Then to the crowd: "I suppose you think that fellow a 'chump' for making that sacrifice!" but no reply was made. "All of you [illegible] me, but right here I want to tell you that the pitch was his only key to heaven."

AMONG THE FANS.

The second round of the semi-finals resulted in Jensen winning from Dougherty, 3 to 1 and [illegible] draws. Weaver won from Lyons, 3 to 2 and [illegible] draw. Jensen and Weaver are now to play the [illegible] for the club championship.

There is considerable talk of holding a tournament for either the city or county championship. A tournament of that kind should create quite an interest "among the fans."

We recently received a little book on checkers entitled "Home Checker Companion, Our [illegible] Home." It contains the author's, [illegible] kin's lecture on checkers, setting forth the "beauties" of the game and the value of it from an educational point of view, a brief history of the origin of both chess and checkers, an analysis of a strong line of play on each of the [illegible] openings, and forty-three fine problems and [illegible] tions. Mr. Hopkins was assisted in the [illegible] N. W. Banks, and any one investing [illegible] in one of the books will sure get value [illegible] their money.

Word has been received from the [illegible] the "Pacific Coast Tourney," advertised [illegible] C. Kanaga to begin March 26, had been called off, and that the "Bay Counties Tourney" he [illegible] promoting was still unfinished and would [illegible] be allowed to die a "natural death."

IT WAS EASY.

When President Wilson made his recent spectacular preparedness speech-making campaign through the Middle West, Topeka, Kan., was on the itinerary, and the citizens of the capital of Kansas endeavored to show the President every possible honor. It was necessary that the President and Mrs. Wilson have an automobile placed at their disposal during their stay, and out of the large number offered the committee in charge selected an eight-cylinder Oakland. A parade was a feature of the day's festivities and the Presidential party occupied the Oakland eight for the entire line of march. The entire route was covered without once shifting the gears, despite the fact that the procession moved very slowly owing to the immense throng, and the car was brought almost to a stop [illegible]

CLUBMEN TAKE IN OXY TIGERS.

[illegible] SENSATIONAL TRACK MEET WITH SEVEN-POINT LEAD.

Oxy Long-distance Runners Have Things Their Own Way—Cook Captures Quarter-mile Event. Kelly and Kirkpatrick Give Nifty Exhibition in Hurdle Races.

Bob Weaver's L.A.A.C. track aggregation won a meet yesterday afternoon from the celebrated Oxy Tigers. After all had been said and done the score was announced as 69 to 62. The affair was uncertain until the 100-yard dash, when Fred Kelly upset the dope by winning the event. It had been feared all the way along that not enough of the clubmen would turn out to furnish an exciting meet. But Occidental should have had those fears and not the clubmen. If all the Oxy tracksters had been on the job the score might have varied accordingly.

Occidental long-distance runners had sweet revenge yesterday. They walked away from the L.A.A.C. distance men in both the mile and two-mile and licked them by a half-lap or so. This makes up, to some extent, for the walloping handed out by Pomona last week. Huddleston came through with first place in both events and ran very neat races. In the two-mile struggle Old Man Huddleston showed a burst of speed right at the last and lapped a couple of his opponents.

Webster, promising Oxy sprinter, hit the tape and into fame by winning the 100-yard dash. Clark was a consistent second and displayed more speed and class than ever before. T. Conn was along with the bunch, but not quite one of 'em.

The 440-yard race was the sensation of the afternoon. Ex-Capt. Cook came through in one of his characteristic sprints and led at the finish by several feet. Ohl and Wells, two of his cohorts, marched across for the next pair of places. At the half-way mark, Cook was running fourth and it was not till the last hundred yards that he really traveled. His time was 53s. flat, according to one watch and several people who claim they are good at guessing. Cook, himself, admitted that it felt very much like a fifty-two-second quarter.

The hurdle corporation of Kelly and Kirkpatrick ran the stick events in their usual sensational style, as is their wont.

Kirkpatrick finished a step behind the champion in the high hurdles and an inch behind in the low. Both men were stepping in very good time considering the course.

Bagnard of the L.A.A.C. was the star in the field squabbles and hooked two coveted firsts.

Relay racing is Occidental's long suit and they grabbed the affair yesterday with little or no effort. Wells, the man with the lengthy stride, ended his lap with a good five yards to spare. McKenzie sped the work along by increasing the lead several feet. [illegible] started out considerably ahead of Bonnett and finished considerably more so. But it was left for Johnny Cook to stage the real sensation.

Cook jumped away from the start at a pace very much resembling a [illegible]. Conn was quite a distance behind him, but gaining every step. The [illegible] star drew up on Cook till everyone thought it was going to be a [illegible]. But just as the crowd was wondering what had happened to the fast 440 man, he opened up a couple of bursts of speed and fled away from T. Conn, a winner.

THE SUMMARY.

MAKER IS NOW LOCAL DEALER.

D. F. Poyer, who has established a factory branch of the Republic Motor Truck Company at No. 1238 South Flower street, occupies the unique position of being the only former motor-truck manufacturer now acting in the capacity of a distributor in Los Angeles.

He is one of the veterans of the commercial-car industry, having risen from the more or less humble capacity of owning and operating a garage in Menominee, Mich., in 1910, to the head of the Menominee Truck Company, from which position he resigned and withdrew his interests to come to Los Angeles and enter upon the distribution of Republic trucks.

The first year of his truck efforts saw the completion of only three vehicles by Mr. Poyer. The following year he increased his output to nine, still working in his garage. Subsequently he organized a corporation to manufacture the Menominee trucks and the output began increasing at once and continued until what it is today.

BELL SENT EAST.

W. H. Bell, for several years manager of the San Francisco branch of the Kelly-Springfield Rubber Company and one of the best-known men in the rubber trade on the Coast, has been assigned the post of manager of the Chicago branch of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company. Mr. Bell is the second Coast manager whose work has attracted so much attention that he was sent East. C. A. Jessup, who came to Los Angeles a little more than a year ago, was made district sales manager for the company, with headquarters at Cleveland. His appointment, it will be remembered, came about two years ago.

Said the Critic——

"Give us TRACTION,—— ——without Friction!"

GOODRICH SAFETY TREAD

WHEN there arose, in the Tire Industry, a sound of Many Voices,—each clamoring that its Owner had the very best "Non-Skid" design that ever did happen on a Tire, our Professional Critic said, with much Chuckle,—"Give us Traction without Friction!"

We are glad to have met that "Poser" more than half-way.

Here's how and why.

Makers of "Non-Skid" Tires, in a mad effort to produce maximum Traction, have done the very natural thing of being too successful.

Too successful in gaining Traction, not merely through "Non-Skid" designs, but through providing a sandpapery texture in Tire Tread Rubber which grinds against the pavement, wearing out as it grinds.

Of course such Treads HAD to be made very thick, and the Tires very HEAVY, in order not to wear out too soon under such constant grinding, with such constant strain on the Rubber Adhesive between the many layers of Fabric in their necessarily cumbrous construction.

Of course, such Tires were heavy in that part of the Car below the Springs where Engineers say that every pound of weight counts as more than twenty pounds placed above the springs.

But beyond all this, their great thickness, the many layers of Fabric, and the stout Tread of gritty, sandpapery, Rubber, made them naturally stiff, unyielding, hard to bend, and conform where obstacles were struck,—hard to drive with moderate power,—and slow to coast down hills (which proved all this).

The intention was good, but the result was a relatively hot, stiff, Tire, with a Traction-wave to overcome that went far toward boosting the Sales of Gasolene.

Well,—

—Making the Silvertown Cord Tire, taught us a few lessons in the manufacture of lighter, cooler, more flexible and enduring FABRIC Tires.

THE "Silvertown" Tire, you know, gains its marvellous Speed (and the Coasting qualities that demonstrate its Speed) primarily through having only TWO layers of Cords, laid transversely.

Of course, these TWO layers bend more readily than Five, Six, or Seven Layers of Fabric do (or of Cord would).

But, we found it necessary, in order to conserve that flexibility (in the Two-cord construction), to put a Rubber Tread over it which was equally flexible,—equally strong,—and elastic enough to act as a sort of spring between the Earth and the Tire-casing, when Brakes were thrown on at stopping, or clutch thrown in at starting.

So, we had to devise practically a new kind of Rubber,—for this purpose TWO YEARS AGO.

This new type of black "Barefoot Rubber" now does for GOODRICH Tires a work similar to that done by the wonderful Alloys of Steel and Bronze in modern Motor Car construction.

It multiplies Rubber Efficiency, for Tire purposes, while decreasing its Weight, and without increasing its Bulk, or its Cost to you.

AS we cannot yet supply half the demand for "Silvertown Cord Tires" (until enough manufacturing equipment can be constructed) we decided to use this wonderfully efficient black "Barefoot Rubber" in all Goodrich FABRIC Tires for 1916.

This makes them the most Resilient and Responsive-to-Power,—the most Long-Lived and Lively, of all FABRIC Tires, at ANY price,—without increasing their price to you.

We call this new Hyper-Rubber by the name and brand of "Barefoot Rubber."

Because, it CLINGS to the pavement for the same sort of reason that your bare foot clings to a slippery floor, while being flexible, stretchy, springy, and light.

TENACIOUS, resilient, enduring, this "Barefoot Rubber" you today get in all black tread Goodrich Fabric Tires,—Goodrich Motor-Cycle Tires,—Goodrich Truck Tires,—Goodrich Bicycle Tires,—Goodrich Rubber Boots, Overshoes, Soles and Heels, and in none but GOODRICH products.

Get a Sliver of it from your nearest Goodrich Dealer's or Branch. Stretch it thousands of times, but break it you can't.

Then test out a pair of these very moderately priced black tread FABRIC Tires, and see!

NOTICE.

"No Concern in America made, or sold, during its latest fiscal year, nearly so many Motor-Car Tires as did The B. F. Goodrich Co.

"Our published Challenge, still unanswered, proves this."

Brim Full OF "Mile Muscle!"

It is no great task for the tire builder to secure good cotton fabric and high grade rubber with which to build tires!

But the great big problem is to retain all the native toughness and resiliency of the rubber; to hold all the strength of endurance that is inherent to cotton.

Miller GEARED TO THE ROAD Tires

are brim full of "Mile Muscle." The exclusive Miller Process of building does not burn or cook the vigor and vitality out of either rubber or cotton fabric. Miller Tires come out of the vulcanizing pits lusty with vigor, full of brutal strength and stamina.

The New Miller Inner Tube is the most wonderful production of the famous Miller Laboratories. It is made of the world's strongest rubber: a Miller discovery——will stretch to 10 times its length;

—and always resume normal shape and size;
—will sustain the weight of 3,000 pounds;
—will give longest wear and best service.

Put Miller Tires and Tubes on your wheels—and increase your mileage and safety!

RIVERSIDE POLO TEAM SWAMPS OPPOSING FOUR.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN DIEGO, March 11.—Riverside was the winner today in the first game of the Pacific Coast Junior championship contest at the Coronado polo field. The Riverside men beat their Denver opponents by a score of 11 to 3¼. Good team work by the Riverside four won them the game.

For nearly an hour the spectators awaited the opening of the game which started an hour late, as some of the Riverside men were on the noon train, which was late. When they did start to play, however, the play was fast and furious. An instance of this was in the second chukkur when they played half a period with a broken ball and did not wait to get a new one, though the referee attempted to call time for it.

Another instance was in the fourth period when B. B. Lewis of the Denver team played through most of the period without a stirrup and in the early half of the same period without his helmet.

While the team work of the Riverside four was excellent it was not all team work that won, for there were many pretty individual plays. Frank Hudson made one of the prettiest plays of the game in the third, carrying the ball to goal in three long shots. And throughout the game he played well.

The Denver team, which was not a Denver team at all, but made up from men from all over the country, of course lacked team work, as the men had not played together in this formation before. Perry Beadleston, who is just beginning to play since his accident, played at back the first four chukkurs and then was replaced by Malcolmn Stevenson. Both men played splendidly, but could not offset the team work of Riverside. The line-up:

Riverside—No. 1, Hilyard Lett; No. 2, H. Pattee; No. 3, Frank Hudson; No. 4, Hugh Drury.

Denver—No. 1, B. B. Lewis; No. 2, W. B. Huston; No. 3, E. Q. McVitty; No. 4, Perry Beadleston and Malcolm Stevenson.

The score:

Riverside—Goals, Pattee 4, Hudson 4, Drury 3; total goals, 11.

Denver—Goals, Lewis 1, McVitty 1, Beadleston 1, Stevenson 1; total goals, 4. Penalties, Beadleston, safety; Huston, foul. The penalties, 3-4. Net score 3¼.

The second game of the series will be played tomorrow by the two Coronado teams, the Coronado Country Club and the Coronado Tigers.

KAHANAMOKU LEAVES SOON.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 11.—Duke Kahanamoku, the Hawaiian swimmer who holds various world championships, will leave Honolulu March 22 to take part in swimming meets in continental United States, according to advices received here today.

He will swim at St. Louis, Chicago and New York. In Chicago he expects to meet Perry McGillivray, A. C. Raithel, H. J. Hebner and other stars. In New York he will meet H. E. Vollmer.

CLIFFMEN LOSERS IN TENNIS PLAY.

Yesterday was a bad day for L. A. High. In addition to being walloped by Poly at track the Cliffdwellers were also beaten by the Mechanics on the tennis court.

The Poly gents walked away with every match but one, the first doubles. In this event DeMund and Jeffery managed to pull out ahead.

However, in the faculty events the Hilltop profs were there with a bang and executed summary vengeance. Prof. Ralph Noble walloped Wessel of Manual in a very scientific match by the score of 6-3, 6-2. O. C. Montgomery galloped all over the court and outclassed Vandergrift, 6-1, 6-1. The Hilltop teachers also captured the doubles, Noble and Montgomery defeating Wessel and Vandergrift, 6-3, 6-1.

Drove Through.

A. W. Putnam, who was prominently connected with the architect division of exhibits at the Panama-Pacific Exposition, drove through from San Francisco to Los Angeles last week in his new Maxwell "25." He reports the inland highway to be in good shape excepting at two points, one just this side of Fresno and the other near Saugus, where short detours are necessary.

Ties a Record.

Quakers' score in the broad jump with a leap of 21ft. 4¾in. V. Murray placed a close second with a jump of 21ft. 1in., with Wallace of Pomona winning third place.

NINE MORE.

"Det" Sturges, Walden and Orcutt added to the usual nine points to the Huns' score in the half-mile, with Sturges barely nosing Walden out for first place at the finish. The Quakers responded a moment later, however, with a clean sweep in the 220, E. Murray placing first, Finch second and V. Murray third. The Quakers forfeited the relay to Pomona, explaining that the Murray brothers had already done a day's work, and didn't feel like attempting the relay.

THE SUMMARY.

Hammer throw—Green (P.) first, Dahlem (P.) second; Nisbit (P.) third.

Mile run — Gerry (P.) first; D. Sturges tied for second; time, 4m. 52s.

The 100-yard dash — Finch (W.) first, V. Murray (W.) second; Given (P.) third; time, 10 3-5s.

The 120 high hurdles—V. Murray (W.) first; Wallace (P.) second, no third; time, 15 4-5s.

The 440-yard dash—Adkinson (P.) first; E. Murray (W.) second; Siemon (W.) third; time, 51 1-5s.

High jump—Mehl (P.) first; Robbins (W.) second, Chamberlin (P.) and Spicer (W.) tied for third; height, 5ft. 5½in.

Discus throw—Nisbit (P.) first, Elliott (P.) second, Cree (P.) third; distance, 117ft.

Two-mile run—D. Sturges (P.) first, Walden (P.) second, Orcutt (P.) third; time, 10m. 27 1-5s.

Broad jump—Finch (W.) first, V. Murray (W.) second, Wallace (P.) third; distance, 21ft. 4¾in.

Half-mile—W. Sturges (P.) first, Cooley (W.) second, Sugg (P.) third; time, 2m. 3-5s.

Shot put — Nisbit (P.) first, Cook (P.) second, Siemon (W.) third; distance, 36ft. 9in.

The 220-yard low hurdles—V. Murray (W.) first, Green (P.) second, Siemon (W.) third; time, 24 4-5s.

The 220-yard dash — E. Murray (W.) first, Finch (W.) second, V. Murray (W.) third; time, 23 1-5s.

Pole vault—Watenpaugh (P.) first, Douglass (W.) and Rapson (P.) tied for second; height, 10ft. 6in.

Relay—Forfeited to Pomona.

INNER TUBE IS GOOD TOW LINE.

How strong is a tube?

John G. Boss, president and general manager of the Portage Rubber Company of California, says that a good tube has more strength and endurance than Manila rope of inferior quality.

"If you have no rope in your car but have a spare tube, there's still a chance to get pulled out of a mud hole," says Mr. Boss.

"Hook your tube on to the springs or axles and the tow car will pull you out, provided the tube is made of first quality gum and has been properly constructed," declares Mr. Boss.

MEREDITH IN RECORD DASH.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PHILADELPHIA, March 11. James E. Meredith, the University of Pennsylvania and Olympic champion runner, hung up a new world's record at the annual indoor athletic meet of the Meadowbrook Club here tonight, when he lowered his own figures for 660 yards from 1m. 23 2-5s. to 1m. 21 2-5s. and came within one second of equaling the outdoor record for the same distance, held by Homer Baker. Meredith defeated David S. Caldwell and James B. Burke of the Boston A. A. and Homer Baker, unattached.

MIDWICK GOLFERS LICK THEIR LOCAL BROTHERS.

BY ALMA WHITAKER.

Here is the list of yesterday's winners in the various golf events:

Midwick team beat Los Angeles 4 points to 1, both counts.

Annandale team beat San Gabriel 3 to all on both counts.

Orange County team beat Altadena 4 to 1 on scratch, 3 to 2 on handicap.

[illegible] Lamb won the medal play competition at Midwick with a record gross score of 68.

E. B. Tufts won the class A cup at the Los Angeles Country Club with 79-6-73.

A. B. Barrett won the class B cup with 85-14-71.

A. B. Barrett won the qualifying round in the class B tournament with 85.

Mrs. A. C. Perley won the play-off of the tie between herself, Mrs. F. Carpenter and Mrs. J. V. Eliot in the match play against bogey for ladies at the Midwick.

The proud Los Angeles team perished in vain when it sallied forth to meet the Middicans on their own course yesterday. Judge Frederickson was the only man to win a match for Los Angeles, defeating Hugo [illegible]stone 1 up on scratch and tieing the handicap.

[illegible] Armstrong beat Norman Mac[illegible] 1 up both ways. Harold B. Lamb, with a wonderful score of 68, 31 for the home 9, beat Jack Jevne [illegible] and 3 and 5 and 4.

[illegible] Jones beat E. H. Seaver 3 and 1 and 2 and 1. Robert Hunter beat Lawrence Cowing 2 and 1 and 1 up.

Cowing shot a 74, Armstrong and [illegible] each a 75, and Jones a 73 on the Midwick course yesterday.

The Annandale team was showing off with equally disconcerting result, never conceding poor San Gabriel a single point. The closest match was that between E. N. Wright and George Cline, which went to the nineteenth hole. Cline was 5 down and 5 to go, then had a streak of triumph, winning four holes in succession. They tied the eighteenth, and Cline lost the nineteenth through inadvertently playing the wrong ball.

NEW CHAMP.

Michael McLaughlin, the new club champion, beat Bill Bacon 5 and 4, both ways. Nate Mears beat Elmer Ralphs 6 and 4 and 5 and 3. Mears shot a 70 and missed a putt on the eighteenth for a 69. Frank D. Tatum beat Billy Shoales 3 and 2, both ways. Paul F. Deiss beat W. R. Wharton 5 and 4 and 2 and 1, and had a 74 medal score, the first time better than 80 for weeks. Indeed, Annandale took a malicious delight in stocking up record scores on the modest and luckless San Gabrielians, for not a single man exceeded 75 strokes.

The Orange County team crushed Altadena, A. C. Volk being the only visitor to win his match both ways—from C. G. Twist. Henry Newby won the scratch from A. C. Twist at the twentieth hole but lost the handicap 2 and 1. Lee Collins beat B. Smith both ways, H. Rutherford beat G. Girouard both ways and H. Robertson beat Paul Wold both ways.

CELEBRATIONS.

There were great celebrations in honor of Ed Tufts's win at the Los Angeles Country Club, for it is rare for the golf autocrat to capture any tangible glory. He will be accused of trading on his prominent skill in the game yet if he doesn't have a care.

The B handicap tournament is for players between 12 and 24 handicap. Barrett won the qualifying round with a gross 85. Here are the match pairings:

Barrett and John Cooper, T. Ridgeway and J. H. Miles, Frank Gillelen and Ham Cotton, I. J. Muma and H. A. Barclay, M. R. Gray and Allen Shore, H. W. Howard and M. P. Snyder, C. W. Pickell and R. B. Thomas, Charlie Van Loan and Willis Hunt, W. S. Bicksler and C. W. Pendleton, R. D. Requa and E. W. Maxson, Albert Crutcher and C. G. Andrews, S. F. Macfarlane and W. H. Burnham, H. B. Brown and S. W. Denison, J. F. Walker and S. Cole, F. S. McMullen and H. L. Billson and C. T. Murphy and E. G. Howard.

FIGURES FUEL ON TEST RUNS.

[illegible] Pendell, distributor for the [illegible] carburetor, reports a fuel [illegible] test made last week by a [illegible] public service corporation.

This corporation owns and operates more than 100 cars, a fuel economy consequently a large factor in their maintenance. Mr. Pendell called attention to distillate as a fuel—even in their touring cars, and the Zenith carburetor as an efficient device for handling it. A test was arranged with the following results:

A Studebaker four—1916 model with both top and windshield up—was used for the test. This car had been driven but 5000 miles. Distillate [illegible] gravity was used.

First test. Speed 25 miles per hour. Weather cool, light wind. Distance [illegible] miles standing start. Consumption thirty-two and one-half fluid ounces. Average miles per gallon [illegible].

Second test. At a speed of 20 miles per hour, same conditions as above, the average consumption was 20.5 miles per gallon.

Third test. At a speed of 18 miles per hour, the consumption showed an average of 22.75 miles per gallon.

From Gardena to Los Angeles, distance 14.6 miles with an average of [illegible] miles per gallon at a speed of 30 miles per hour against a strong head wind.

Los Angeles to Gardena at a minimum speed of 20 and a maximum speed of 28 miles per hour, the car showed 18.2 miles per gallon. A very constant showing over city streets for a distance of six and four-[illegible] miles at an average of 20.8 miles per gallon.

POMONA FRESHMEN CAPTURE TRACK MEET.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN BERNARDINO, March 11.—In a meet that furnished sensational marks and fast time, the Pomona College freshmen defeated San Bernardino High School, this afternoon by a score of 67 to 46. Strehle, of Pomona, captured 18 points by firsts in the high and low hurdles and 220-yard dash and was forced to a second in the 100-yard dash by L. Cook, local sprinter who turned the trick in 10 1-5s. Capt. Bradley of the local team reached a height of 11 feet in the pole event and 5 ft., 8 1-4 in. in the high jump.

The summary:

[illegible]: Won by Eliseman (S.B.,) Widdes [illegible] (S.B.) third; distance 106ft. 9in.

[illegible]: Won by Hummiston (P.,) Broadbelt [illegible], Gosslin (S.B.) third; time 4m. [illegible]

[illegible]: Won by Strehle (P.,) Bradley (S.B.) [illegible] (S.B.) third; time 17 2-5s.

[illegible] dash: Won by King (P.,) Campbell [illegible] (S.B.) third; time 53 1-5s.

[illegible] dash: Won by Strehle (P.,) Cook (S.B.) [illegible] (P.) third; time 23s.

[illegible]: Won by Bradley (S.B.,) Scott (P.) [illegible] (P.) third; height 11ft.

[illegible] dash: Won by Cook (S.B.,) Strehle [illegible] (P.) third; time 10 1-5s.

FREIGHT CARS AUTO FAMINE.

"There most certainly will be a shortage of automobiles on the Pacific Coast this spring and people who are contemplating the purchase of a 1916 model had better place their order now," says L. V. Starr, manager Los Angeles branch, J. W. Leavitt & Co.

"This condition will be due to the shortage of freight cars for shipments. The factories are turning out more machines than ever before. The Overland plant, for instance, will manufacture 50,000 machines during the next ninety days, or as many as they produced in the entire year of 1914. The transportation of these automobiles to the various distributing points is the big problem now confronting the factories and which will retard deliveries.

"In shipping motor cars special railroad equipment is required. The growth of the automobile business has been so rapid that the railroad companies have not been able to keep up with the march of progress.

"At present there are about 70,000 automobile freight cars in existance in the United States. But 70,000 has proven entirely inadequate. At this time shipments are badly complicated through the fact that over 150,000 freight cars are lying along the Atlantic seaboard, because of lack of ships to take their cargoes to foreign ports.

CATALINA COURSE TO BE PUT IN SHAPE.

The golf links at Catalina will be open the first day of May so that the old-time golfers will be able to swing their clubs on the old course.

In spite of the fire and floods that made the links look like a fire at sea, things are rapidly being put into shape.

All of the rocks and rubbish have been cleared away so that even now the course resembles a perfectly good golf possibility.

SPEED TROPHIES.

Trophies of Eddie Pullen, Ralph De Palma, Guy Ruckstell and other racing drivers are being displayed in the show window of the local branch of the B. F. Goodrich Rubber Company, and are attracting a great deal of attention, particularly Eddie Pullen's Montamarathon Trophy, and De Palma's immense Wheeler and Schebler cup.

NIFTY POLO BATTLE STAGED IN HEAT.

Robert Heustadt and Harold Cook led their respective teams in one of the closest and most exciting polo matches of the season at Midwick yesterday, Neustadt's team snatching the laurels by the close margin of 6 3-4 goals to 6.

J. B. Miller, senior, was the august referee and no small part of the excited applause vouchsafed by the stylish crowd of spectators was for his Solomonic and majesterial magnificence.

Neustadt's lineup was Ford and Macey alternating at 1, Rufus Spalding 2, Breese 3, and Neustadt back. The other team was composed of Carwyle 1, J. B. Miller junior 2, Dr. Mallaby 3, and Hal Cook back.

It must have been like playing polo in its native India in that heat and one observed that many of the polo men duly drank hot tea as per immemorable custom, to help them keep cool. It was the sweat of honest toil all right which enhanced the beauty of their exuberant countenances.

SWELL TIMES MADE IN PRACTICE MEET.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PALO ALTO, March 11.—Exceptional early season form was shown in all events in a practice meet by the Stanford track men this afternoon. For competition Trach Coach "Dad" Moulton divided the squad into two teams, the Reds and Greens. The Reds were freshmen and ineligibles, while the remainder of the squad were classed as Greens. The relay gave the meet to the Reds by a five-point lead. Meredith House of Riverside, a freshman, ran the 220-yard hurdles in 24s. flat, breaking the Coast record. It will not be allowed, as it was an unsanctioned practice meet. Captain elect "Feg" Murray won the 100 in 10 1-5s and the furlong in 21 4-5s. "Skin" Wilson ran the half-mile in an easy 2m. 1-5s. Arthur Wilcox, Long Beach football and touch star pole, vaulted into first place at 11 ft. 11 in. He did not attempt to go higher. Bill Sisson, with a leap of 23 ft. 3 in., won the broad jump. Capt. "Ric" Templeton leaves tonight for the Coalinga oil fields. This was his last appearance in a Cardinal jersey. In today's meet he placed in the hurdles, broad jump, high jump and pole vault, besides gaining a clear lead for his team in the first lap of the relay.

MOFFITT PITCHES EXCELLENT BASEBALL.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA ANA, March 11.—With Moffitt pitching excellent ball, Norwalk High School this afternoon defeated Santa Ana High School, 3 to 0. Brown of Santa Ana also pitched excellent ball and, but for one run in the seventh, was not responsible for the scoring. Two runs came in the first inning, largely through an error in the outfield.

VISITOR DRIVES MANY HIGHWAYS.

C. H. Elliott of Kansas City is in Southern California after a long trip through the State in his Cadillac eight touring car. Mr. Elliott shipped his Cadillac to San Francisco two months ago, and since that time has been touring in Northern and Central California. He drove over the California roads when they were at their worst, going into the mountains in the snow, and into the north country over rain-swept and muddy roads.

In all, he has driven 2000 miles since coming to the Coast, and in that time did not find it necessary to visit the shop for anything more than a minor adjustment.

LONG BEACH BALL TEAM IS VICTOR.

ST. VINCENTS ARE GIVEN SEVERE DRUBBING.

Score is 11 All When Long Beach Comes to Bat in Last Half of Ninth Inning—Error on Catcher's Part Lets in Winning Tally—Beach Men Surprised at College Boys.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LONG BEACH, March 11.—In a typical early-season contest that developed into an exciting slugfest from the opening of the first inning, the Long Beach Polytechnic High School baseball team defeated the St. Vincent's or Los Angeles College nine on the local diamond this afternoon by the healthy score of 12 to 11.

After Long Beach had scored three runs in the opening frame, and then followed with three more in the third and three in the fourth, E. Keenan, the St. Vincent twirler, was derricked in favor of Agrlighy, who did no better.

The score was 11 all when Long Beach came up to bat in the last half of the ninth. With two on, the St. Vincent catcher muffed a pitched ball and a Long Beach player trotted across the plate with the winning tally.

Long Beach is wondering how the college team beat Occidental 9 to 3. They played a loose game here from the start, making twelve errors in the nine innings. Long Beach made five. Long Beach secured seventeen hits from the combined delivery of the two visiting twirlers. "Buckwheat" Buckley, the local slabster, allowed but nine safe hits. Miller and Raymond of Long Beach and Clemens of St. Vincent's each secured a home run.

The batteries were Buckley and Tucker for Long Beach, and Keenan, Agrlighy and Hickson for St. Vincent's.

CUB PAY ROLL WILL BE A LARGE ONE.

ZABEL IS SLATED FOR LOS ANGELES CLUB AND KICKS.

Tinker Expects to Carry Ten Pitchers on His Staff—Hogg is Assigned to Memphis Regardless of the Hitch in the Deal—Southern Collegian to be Turned Over to Minors.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

TAMPA (Fla.) March 11.—Regardless of the rules of the National Commission of the league there will be at least twenty-five players on the Cub pay roll this summer. When the club leaves here the roster will approximate a total, which means that about five players will get the tinware before long.

Pitcher Hogg has been assigned to Memphis regardless of the hitch in the deal. Catcher Culbreath, the Southern collegian, will be turned over to the minors, should he show any promise as a backstop. At any rate he will stick with the team until Memphis is reached. If he should hang on after that he will be turned over to Peoria of the Three I League.

George Zabel was a disappointed player when told that he was slated for the Los Angeles club. He figures that the Cubs have a cinch for the pennant and as he is about to commit matrimony, he figured that a slice of the world series melon would come in handy. Besides he thinks that he could hold his own with the other pitchers. He went to look over his orange grove today and may start for California tomorrow night.

With the dropping of Hogg, Wright and Zabel, Tinker will have ten pitchers on his staff and Joe figured today that he might be able to carry that number during the season. Ben Woerts will probably be left here and it seems a hard job to find a place for McCarthy whose light hitting is to some extent offset by brilliant fielding. Mulligan is certain to stick as hois showing last fall deserves a thorough tryout.

Somewhat.

TRAINING STARTS LATE FOR DUCKS.

PORTLAND'S FIRST TRIAD OF NEW TRAINING CAMP.

Players from All Over the Country Are Supposed to Assemble at the Capital Tuesday—Large Number will Leave on Special Train. New Location Thought Ideal.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PORTLAND (Or.) March 11.—Spring training—that little scheme devised by the baseball magnates to force the players and the press slaves to lead the quiet and simple existence for three or four weeks—will be in full swing tomorrow in all the Coast League camps except Portland's.

The Portland Beavers do not leave this city until tonight at midnight or shortly afterwards, so that the spring work will not commence at Sacramento until Tuesday afternoon.

Portland players from all over the country are supposed to assemble at the California capital by Tuesday, but it is a safe bet that some of the boys will be a day or two late.

Those who leave Portland in the special car tonight are: Walter McCredie, manager; Wynn Noyes, Byron Houck, Dave Gregg and Jimmy Clark, pitchers; Gus Fisher, Homer Haworth and Al Bartholemy, catchers, and the Portland sports editors.

The two Bigbee boys, Lyle and Carson, will board the rattler at Eugene, so out of all this talent it should be no hard task to scrape up at least one table for stud or blackjack. Three hundred stud is not very interesting unless you are lucky enough to corner a Carnegie or a Brewster trying to unload his millions.

This will be Portland's first trial of Sacramento as a spring training camp. Sacramento has just as much warm weather and just as much rain, however, as some of the more central burgs, so should make an ideal spot for a camp.

Analytically speaking, the league teams appear more closely matched than when they finished last fall. Los Angeles, under Frank Chance, looks good, and on paper this would seem to be the club to be most feared during the fore part of the campaign.

FROM THE EAST THEY COME.

They come from the East toward the West, and the latest of these is I. B. Meers, from the King factory in Detroit, who will be Coast manager for the factory, due to the growing importance of the trade on the Coast, and with him came T. P. Chase, chief engineer of the King forces.

These two prominent automobile men both declare that the recent advent of so many factory men to the West is because California, and Southern California in particular, is assuming a place of tremendous importance in automobile distribution. This rise in importance, declares Meers, began when the effects of the European war began to get its clutches into the restless ones on the Atlantic seaboard.

More than ever they are turning westward this year to take their spring outing in the poppy fields. So active has been the King distribution here, and throughout the State, that he will establish headquarters, probably in San Francisco, althought at present he is located with Clarence A. English, local King "eight" distributor at No. 1132 South Grand avenue.

Chief Engineer Chase is on the Coast only for a short visit to oversee various shop and mechanical improvements being made in the various agencies here. He stated yesterday that despite the enlargements made on the Detroit factory, the King Company is working overtime now to fill orders ahead, indicating that automobile production in America this year will neither be affected by the war nor by lack of raw material.

The increased demand for eight-cylinder cars at moderate prices is the logical outcome of what was predicted more than a year ago.

We Do NOT Claim

to revolutionize the motor car industry, nor even the aeroplane or motor boat field, nor to upset the aviation plans of the government of the United States.

But We DO Claim that the Haynes, America's greatest "Light Six," with cylinders 3½-inch bore, 5-inch stroke, 4 to 1 gear ratio, will develop MORE power than ANY other motor of ANY make of equal bore, stroke and gear ratio.

AMERICA'S GREATEST "LIGHT SIX" is no idle claim when applied to the Haynes "Light Six." What other car is so flexible as to go one to sixty miles per hour on high? What other car runs under all conditions, from 15 to 22 miles on a gallon of gasoline? What other car can pick up a speed of 30 miles per hour in seven and a half seconds from a standing start? What other big car will average 8000 miles to a set of tires, and 400 miles to a quart of oil? How could there be greater efficiency? Get behind the wheel of the Haynes "Light Six," and you will quickly understand why it is called America's Greatest "Light Six."

Much Mileage.

HOUK COVERS CALIFORNIA ROADS WITH FACTORY MAN.

"I KNOW your boulevards mostly by reputation; I know your mountain roads and byways by actual experience, and I can say that I have seen some of the best roads and some of the worst roads in the world during my drive through the State with Mr. Jenkins," remarked George W. Houk, the wire wheel manufacturer, as he departed for the East last week.

Mr. Houk has been in California for a little more than a month, a guest of W. M. Jenkins, Pacific Coast factory representative for the Grant light six. During that time he has traveled over 2000 miles of California roads, mostly bad.

"I don't want to see your boulevards, I want your mountain roads, and the ones which will give a little variety to the tour," said Mr. Houk when he and Jenkins planned the tour. So Mr. Jenkins proceeded to map out a tour which would include a maximum of difficult going.

The first trip was to San Diego over the inland route just after the heavy rains. The little Grant six was the first car to reach the southern city after the rains, and it found its way south only after a terrific battle. It was several days before any other car was able to make the trip.

On the return from the south the party started at once for San Francisco. The ridge route gave Mr. Houk a real taste of bad going, for it was in bad condition and dangerous from slides. However, this part of the trip was made without incident, and beyond some bad mud holes between Delano and Visalia the trip to Fresno was uneventful.

From Fresno the party determined to attempt the Pacheco Pass road, which usually is considered impassable at this season of the year.

White's bridge was made without difficulty, but beyond Firbaugh the road was inundated and the only route open was the San Joaquin canal embankment. This was none too good, as in many places the water was flowing over the embankment and the treacherous mud allowed the car to sink to the running boards. Several miles progress was made this way, until finally a particularly deep mudhole was encountered and the car was mired over the running boards.

It was getting late, but Mr. Jenkins succeeded in getting help from Rod MacKenzie, who tends the canal for the Miller & Lux ranch, and with the aid of a team and a block and tackle (for the team could not extricate the car on a straight pull) they succeeded in reaching MacKenzie's home, and the worst of the going was past.

The night was spent on the ranch and the next day the Grant proceeded through the black adobe until it had reached the higher ground of the Pacheco route. The road through the pass was found in very bad condition and in one place was encountered a truck mired until the wheels were nearly out of sight. The crust of the road was fair, but if one broke through there was a seething mass of mire for a foot or more before solid ground was again encountered.

Some difficulty was experienced in passing the truck, but the Grant managed to pull through. On the west side of the pass the roads were better. However, at the crossing of Pacheco Creek, which was swollen to a river by the heavy rains, the Grant party encountered another car stalled in the center of the stream, with the motor dead and the carburetor filled with water.

As night was approaching Mr. Jenkins determined to rush the stream and attempt to get around the stalled car. The sortie was successful, and then came the struggle to get the other car out of the sand. All the ropes in the party were broken in the attempt, and finally Mr. Houk suggested that they try wire. They did. An ordinary barbed wire, about thirty feet long, was cut from an adjacent fence and with this the stalled car was pulled out.

From that point to Gilroy and on to San Francisco the trip was uneventful. Beyond San Francisco, in the drive to Northern California, some bad going was encountered, but nothing like that of the trip from Fresno to Gilroy. This road now is closed until the rainy season is over.

Hard to Believe.

WOMEN OUTSHINE MEN LEARNING TO DRIVE.

ACCORDING to Lyman P. Clark, sales manager for the Lord Motor Car Company, ladies are more courageous when it comes to learning to drive automobiles than are most of the men.

"We delivered a 1916 Maxwell car to a Los Angeles woman early last week," said Mr. Clark. "As is our custom we sent an expert out with the car to make delivery and to give the lady, who had never attempted to drive an automobile before, her first lesson in the handling of the machine. After giving the beginner a lesson lasting for about forty-five minutes our man came away telling the new Maxwell owner that he would come out again the next day if she would telephone and let us know what time would best suit her convenience.

"Friday morning, not having heard anything further from the lady, the teacher reported it to me and I immediately called her up to find if we could be of any service to her and to ascertain when she would desire another lesson in driving. You can imagine my surprise when she replied that she could drive to her own satisfaction after the lesson that she had taken the first day."

Big Value.

PURCHASERS GET MORE FOR THEIR MONEY NOW.

"IT IS true that the war has brought about certain conditions in the automobile industry which to a certain extent have hampered the manufacturers of motor vehicles, nevertheless, in spite of this, the buyer of a 1916 car will get more for his money than he has ever been able to get before," says O. B. Henderson of the Pacific KisselKar branch, distributors for the Briscoe, KisselKar and Federal truck.

"While it is true that the demand for steel, copper iron and other materials to be made into munitions has raised the price of raw material and brought about conditions making it difficult for motor car manufacturers to secure delivery of the raw or partly machined material, nevertheless such remarkable strides have been made in other directions that this extra expense is more than compensated."

REO

Have You Ridden in the New Reo Six?

IF YOU HAVEN'T we think it is not too much to say you have yet to taste the real joys of motoring.

AND WHEN YOU HAVE ridden in this big luxurious equipage—the latest and in some respects, greatest product of Reo experience—you will understand why this car enjoys such a vogue—is so tremendously popular this season.

REO SIX WAS PROCLAIMED the "fashion plate for 1916" by designers generally, from the moment its graceful lines were seen.

AND DOUBTLESS YOU'VE OBSERVED the influence this Sheer Line Reo has exerted on the design of seven passenger cars generally.

BUT YOU MUST SEE IT—must ride in and finally drive it yourself to fully appreciate what a magnificent car and what wonderful value it is at its price.

AND THE CLOSER YOU STUDY the details—the more carefully you enquire into every point of design, of construction, of quality of materials, of equipment and finish—the greater will be your admiration and the deeper your wonderment that it is possible to produce such a car for such a price.

FOR YOU MUST KNOW that this Reo Six is made as only the Reo Folk can make automobiles. It is real inside and out—the Reo Folk do not use substitutes. Real leather in the upholstering and real hair.

BUT THAT STATEMENT is scarcely necessary. For you know the Reo Folk and you know Reo ideals. You know that Reo reputation is built on the most solid of foundations—a good product honestly made and honestly sold and honestly backed up afterward.

SO WHEN WE TELL YOU that this new Reo Six is a Reo from radiator cap to tail-light we have said the most that could be said for any automobile.

AND THERE'S QUANTITY, TOO, if you like to put it that way. This is a big, full-size seven passenger car. Seats seven full grown adults comfortably—luxuriously.

WHEELBASE IS 126 INCHES. But that is increased—or rather the riding qualities are—to much more than it would otherwise amount by the Reo cantilever springs. They enhance the riding qualities of a car immeasurably—especially a big car like this New Reo Six.

BUT, AS WE SAID in the first paragraph, you will have to see and ride in it yourself to fully appreciate. Then remember one thing more:

DEMAND IS TREMENDOUS—always is for Reo cars, but this season more than ever. Only way to get a Reo and be sure of having it for spring delivery is to order well in advance.

NEVER SINCE THE FIRST REO was made and went into the possession of its proud owner has it been possible for us to make enough cars to supply all who wanted Reos.

AND NOTWITHSTANDING the Reo plants have been extended from year to year till they now cover nearly forty acres (39.23 to be exact) still, we cannot supply the full demand.

ON MARCH FIRST there were more orders on file at the Reo factory than at any previous time in Reo history.

IF YOU APPRECIATE the shortage there is going to be. If you want a Reo. And if you get us your order now—tomorrow—you will be one of the "lucky ones."

BUT DON'T DELAY—there won't be enough—never have been enough—Reos to go 'round.

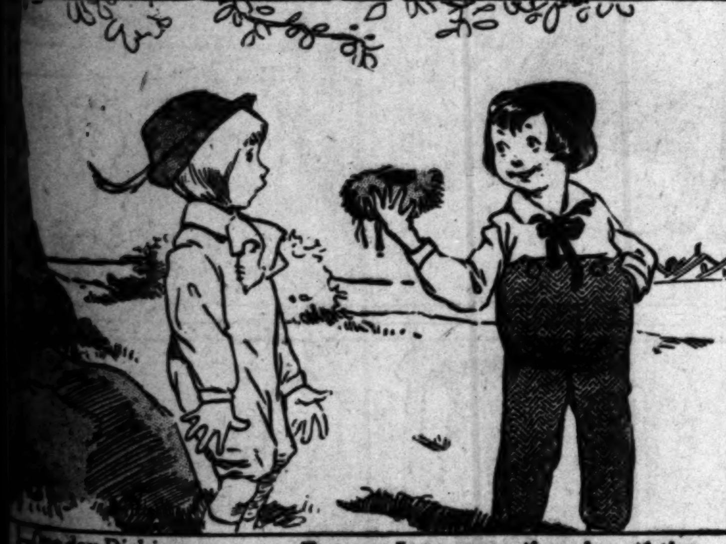
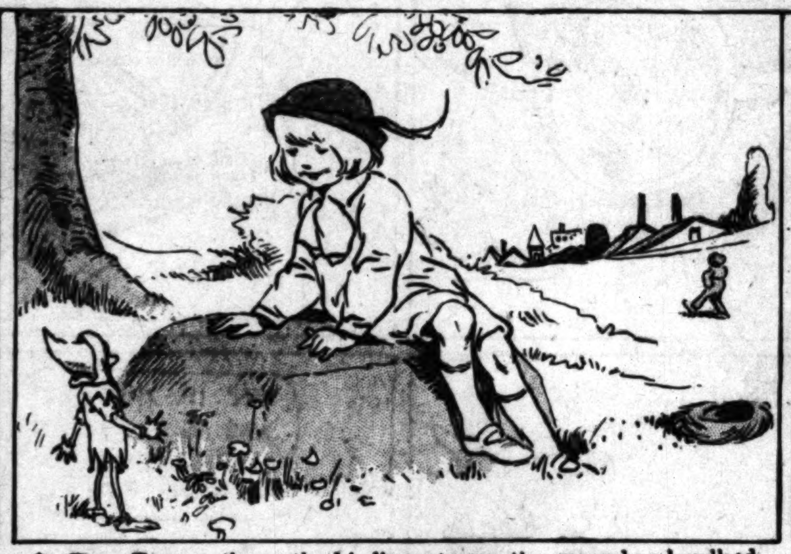
MR. TWEE DEEDLE

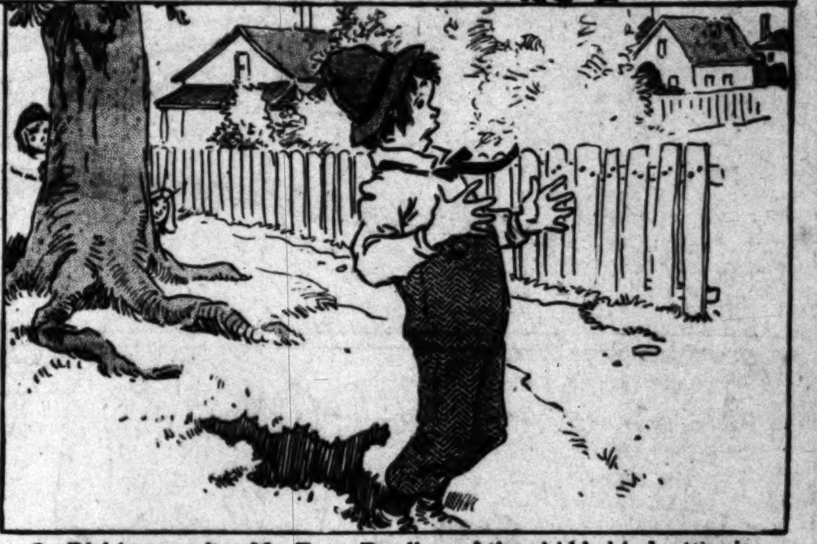


1—One day Dickie came upon Tommy Jones near the edge of the woods. Tommy had a bird's nest in his hand. "I thought you said it was wrong to tear down birds' nests and that I would be punished if I did," he said. "Here's one I tore down and I haven't been punished."

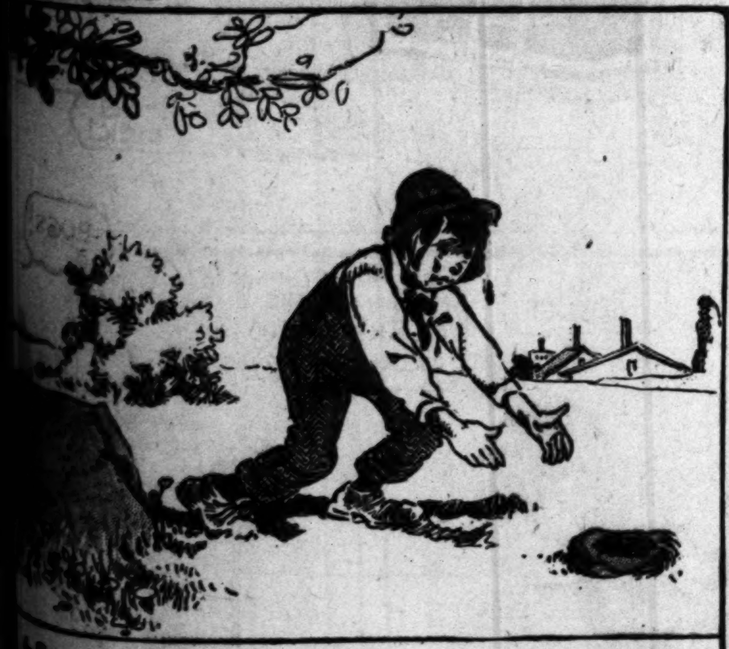


2—Then Tommy threw the bird's nest upon the ground and walked away whistling. Mr. Twee Deedle came up to where Dickie was seated upon a stone and Dickie told him about Tommy. "Let's put the nest back upon the limb," said Dickie.

"I have a better idea," replied Mr. Twee Deedle, as he winked slyly at a bumble bee.



3—Dickie ran after Mr. Twee Deedle and they hid behind a tree in front of Tommy's house. As Tommy drew near the house Mr. Twee Deedle said a magic word. Tommy stopped in amazement, for his own house had completely disappeared.



4—Tommy did not hesitate for an instant, but ran back to where he had thrown the bird's nest upon the ground. He smoothed it out as best he could and climbed the tree.

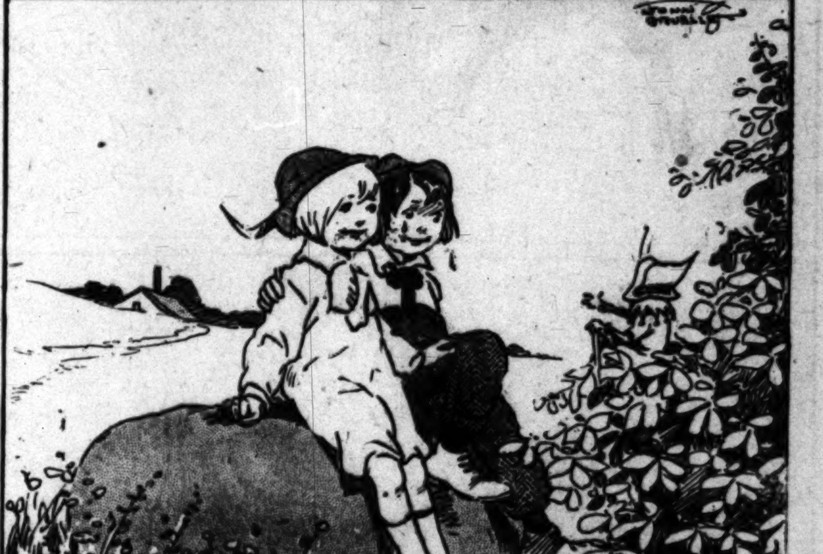
5—Mr. Twee Deedle and Dickie watched Tommy tie the nest to the limb with pieces of string, while tears rolled off his cheeks and fell to the ground.

"I am sorry I tore the nest down, for it was some little birdie's home," Tommy said, "and I know just how they would feel if they came home and didn't find it—as I did when I saw my house all gone!"



6—When Tommy came down from the tree Mr. Twee Deedle said:—"You will find, Tommy, that if you cause sorrow to another you can never find real pleasure for yourself, but a good deed bears a blessing. While it brings joy to another, it also fills your own heart with sunshine."

COMMON SENSE in the HOME

EDITED by MARION HARLAND

INEXPENSIVE COMPANY DISHES.

A WEEK ago I printed a couple of letters I had received asking instructions for entertaining without service and gave some suggestions for doing this satisfactorily. At the time it occurred to me that not only the young housekeeper who desires to give small dinners in an attractive fashion but also the older woman who may have fallen out of the habit of entertaining might be helped by recipes for certain dishes suitable to serve at company meals.

When I refer to dishes for company I do not mean that there should be a line drawn between those offered at such a time and those provided for the family when alone. But we all have a tendency to slip into a rut, and it is salutary once in a while to widen our bills of fare and put into them dishes with which we have hitherto been unfamiliar. The occasion of inviting guests to our table furnishes us with a chance for doing this and, so to speak, jogs our inclination and shakes us out of our regular habits.

The dishes for which I give recipes need not be expensive or difficult, although perhaps a little more elaborate or costly than we can afford to have for everyday use. Let me repeat my warning that all new recipes should be tested before they are used for company, that the housekeeper may have confidence in her results.

CREAM OF FISH SOUP.

For this a can of salmon may be used or one pound of solid fresh fish—cod or halibut will answer—boiled. The fish must be flaked to pieces, all bits of skin and bone thrown out, and it must then be put into a saucepan with enough boiling water just to cover it, simmered in this for twenty minutes, taken from the fire, drained, and the fish rubbed to a smooth paste.

Three cups of milk should be heated in a double boiler with a tiny pinch of baking soda and this poured upon a tablespoonful of flour and two tablespoons of butter, which have been cooked to the bubbling point in a saucepan. When the milk and thickening have cooked together to a creamy consistency, stirring constantly, the fish should be added, all cooked until boiling hot, pepper and salt put in to taste, and the juice of one lemon, and the soup may be served at once.

This is so heavy a soup that it may well take the place of both a soup and a fish course.

OYSTER BISQUE.

This is another soup which will serve for a soup and fish course. Drain the liquor from a pint of oysters and put with this liquor enough water to make a pint of the fluid. Chop the oysters small, turn them into the liquid, bring to a boil, and cook for three minutes. Cook together a tablespoon each of butter and of flour, pour upon them a pint of hot milk, stir until smooth, put the oyster liquor and chopped oysters into it, and season with salt and white pepper. Have ready an egg beaten light and stir this into the soup, a drop at a time, stirring all the while to prevent curdling, and serve at once, adding the juice of a small lemon just before turning out the soup.

All the preparations for this soup except the final mixing of the oysters and liquid and of the thickened milk may be done in advance, and the two parts put together, the egg added, and the seasoning, the last thing before dinner. The fish soup may also be made ahead of time and heated over for dinner.

CREAM OF CELERY SOUP.

Wash a small bunch of celery and cut it into inch lengths or use the outer stalks of a couple of bunches, reserving the white inner stalks to be served separately or for salad. Put the celery into a saucepan with enough salted cold water to cover it, bring it to a boil, and cook for three-quarters of an hour, or until it will go through a colander or vegetable press. Cook a heaping teaspoon of butter and one of flour together until they bubble. Pour upon them three cups of hot milk, stir until smooth, add the celery pulp, season, and serve.

Boiled carrots, asparagus, green peas, spinach, onions, and other vegetables may be made into a cream soup by the same process and are improved by the addition of tiny squares of bread, fried crisp in butter and passed with the soup, so that each guest may take what he desires.

CHICKEN A LA MARENGO.

For this a tender chicken will be required, such as is used for frying or broiling. Cut it up into joints, making two pieces of each leg, two of the back, and two of the breast, and lay it in two tablespoons of good salad oil which has been made hot in a frying pan. When the chicken is browned add to the butter a slice of onion, a bay leaf, a sprig of parsley, a dozen mushrooms, either the fresh or the canned; cut into pieces, add a little salt and pepper, draw the frying pan to the side of the stove, cover it, and let the contents simmer for a quarter of an hour. Lift out the chicken and keep it hot while you add to the gravy left in the pan a quarter of a pint of stock made from the chicken giblets and neck. Boil all up once, strain the gravy and thicken it with a tablespoon of browned flour and pour over the chicken after it is on a heated platter.

CHICKEN FRICASSEE WITH MUSHROOMS OR PEAS.

Joint a chicken as for stewing, wash the pieces, and put them in a saucepan or one of the vessels of a fireless cooker. Set on the stove, cook until the chicken is heated through, place it in the fireless cooker, and leave it until the meat is tender. Or if you lack the fireless cooker set the saucepan at the side of the stove, with no water except that which is left on the chicken after washing, and simmer slowly for three or four hours until the meat is tender when pierced with a fork.

Make a sauce by cooking together a tablespoon of butter and one of flour to bubbling, and pouring half a pint of boiling water upon them. Stir to smoothness, season with a half onion cut in slices, a bay leaf, a small bunch of parsley, a stalk of celery, salt and pepper to taste. Lift out the chicken with a fork, lay it in this sauce and leave it there for half an hour, putting it at the side of the stove or over a low flame, that it may simmer, but not scorch. Shake the saucepan every few minutes, that the contents may not burn. At the end of the half hour take out the chicken and strain the sauce and return it to the fire with a dozen mushrooms cut in halves or a cup of cooked green peas. When hot pour over the chicken, which should have been arranged on a hot platter.

LAMB'S BREAST CUTLETS.

The breast of lamb should be trimmed of bits of fat and skin, laid in enough stock or consommé—the canned consommé will answer excellently—to cover it, with a stalk of celery, a sliced onion, a bunch of parsley, and a slice of lemon, and simmered in this for an hour. The meat must then be taken out and after the bones are removed laid on a flat dish with a weighted plate on top and left to become cold. It is then cut into neat strips or cutlet shaped pieces of uniform size, each of these dipped into cracker crumbs seasoned with a little salt and pepper, next into beaten egg, into crumbs again, and laid in a baking pan. A bit of butter is placed on the top of each, they are baked to a delicate brown, and served around a mound of mashed potatoes, or of peas, or string beans, or sliced and sauté young carrots, or fried celery.

This is another dish which can be prepared ahead of time and requires only the final cooking and arranging on the platter to be ready for the table. It is unusual, good, and not so expensive as chops.

ROAST FILLET OF VEAL.

This piece should not weigh more than five pounds and the bone should not be removed but the meat skewered and tied into a neat round. Dredge flour over it after it is laid in the baking pan, cover with thin slices of salt pork, and bake at the rate of half an hour to the pound. It must be basted frequently, at first with a tablespoon of butter melted in a cup of boiling water, after that with a gravy from the meat. When done, take up the meat and remove the bone with a sharp knife and fill the space left empty with a pint of oysters which have been cooked to plumpness in their own liquor and then put with a sauce made from a tablespoon each of butter and flour, half a pint of the oyster liquor, and salt and pepper to taste. Thicken the gravy left in the pan with a little browned flour and pour over the roast.

TIPSY CAKE.

Make a custard of two cups of milk, the yolks of three eggs, and half a cup of sugar. Cook until smooth and put it aside until cold. Slice a stale sponge cake, lay it in a glass or china bowl, and pour over it slowly half a pint of sherry or of liquor from brandied peaches. The cake should absorb all the liquor. When it has soaked in pour on the custard, heap on top a meringue made from the whites of eggs beaten stiff with a tablespoon of powdered sugar, and dot this here and there with bits of bright fruit jelly or with maraschino cherries.

A delicious dish is made by spreading chopped brandied peaches on the soaked cake and putting the meringue or whipped cream on this.

MACAROON ICE CREAM.

Beat three eggs light with a heaping cup of sugar, pour a pint of hot milk upon them, put over the fire in a double boiler, and cook until the custard is creamy. When it is cold mix with it half a pound of stale macaroons which have been pounded fine or crushed with a rolling pin into crumbs, a pint of cream, and a teaspoon of vanilla. Beat hard, turn into a freezer, and freeze long enough before the dish is wanted to allow it time to be packed down for two hours after the dasher is withdrawn.

MARION HARLAND'S HELPING HAND.

Dressing for Housework.

“I AGREE with your friend and yourself that when a woman becomes careless about her dress she has lost something of value to both herself and those about her. But how in the name of everything that is right can you condemn a woman for untidiness simply because of the fact that she has no collar on? Who that has common sense will wear a stiffly starched collar on the neck when bending over a steaming hot wash tub or cooking at a hot stove? For myself, I have never yet worn a collar when doing housework, having my house dresses cut with either a low round or square neck. If your friend had found run down heels, spotted dresses or aprons, or uncared for hair, I would not be surprised at your exclamation of, ‘O, I am so sorry! That is too bad!’ But in connection with her not having on any collar your dismay is simply ludicrous.

“B. V. J.”

Was there anything said about a stiffly starched collar in the talk to which this letter refers? When I spoke of a collar I had in mind something in the line of white about the neck. Again and again in this department I have advised that work dresses be made with the neck cut low, but I have always taken for granted that there would be a finish of some kind other than a plain binding. For myself, I have neat white collars, which turn back from the throat and do not imprison the neck in the least. I would agree with Mrs. B. V. J. in describing the collar she assumes I call for as ludicrous, but the fact is that I asked for nothing of the sort, only as I have just said, for something that would give a touch of neatness to the dress and would not have the bare and unattractive appearance always offered by a frock or waist absolutely lacking a collar of any kind.

Likes Something by Mail.

“I wonder if the Cornerites would do something to cheer the life of a young girl about whom I know. She is 20 years old and so badly crippled with rheumatism that she is confined to her bed most of the time. Many days she is absolutely alone, as her mother is compelled to go out and work, since her father is in such poor health that he cannot earn enough to support the family. Any kind of pieces for patchwork, ribbons, reading matter, or souvenir cards will be gratefully received by this invalid, whose one joy is to get something through the mail.

“E. G. T.”

The Cornerite who prefers this request is known to us as one who does many kindnesses to those who turn to the Corner for help and cheer. I hope the case of this young girl may arouse the interest of others of our good workers and that before long she may be cheered by the arrival through the mail of some of the articles which will help her to pass the many lonely hours. In writing for her address ask for that of Nancy D. instead of requesting the signature affixed to the letter. Let me express my own thanks to the writer of the letter for the good deeds she has done to other Cornerites.

Seeks Missing Brother.

“I hope some of the readers of the Corner can help me to find my brother. He left my home some fourteen years ago to go west, and I have never heard of him since then. He is tall, has blue eyes, and is about 38 years old. His name is Hiram Jasper Kirkpatrick, and he is sometimes called Hi Kirkpatrick. My two sisters are dead, and I am here all alone and would like very much to find my brother if he is living. I lived in Palmyra, Mo., when he went away. E. E. K.”

Other wanderers have been found through the agency of the Corner, and I hope the lost brother may be discovered by its means now. I will give the address of the sister on application of any one who is able to put her on the brother's track.

Washing White Clothes.

“I make these suggestions for the white clothes of A. L. Let her try washing them in the soft water and using hard water to blue them in. This is said to help keep the natural color in colored clothes, as well as to help whiten white things. I use one cup of javelle water in the big boiler of water I have to boil my clothes in, before I wash them at all, and put in lots of soap and a tablespoonful of borax. This preparation will do for a large family washing, but is not good for delicate colored things, as it fades them. It saves a lot of rubbing, as much of the dirt drops out in the boiler and does not rot the clothing at all. My remedy for ants is a tried and true one: Get at a drug store 5 cents worth of tartar emetic, mix a pinch of it with a little sweetened water, place where the ants are gathering, and in a few days you will be free of them. Save the remainder of the powder for future use; it keeps for years. Your Corner is surely doing a world of good; we all enjoy it. OLD PRACTICAL.”

And much of the good of it comes from just such helpful contributions as the above. We are grateful for all of them and for such kindly words of praise.

Hungry for Reading Matter.

“As the wife of a homesteader in this lonely country, may I beg of some sympathetic reader literature of any kind? Until one leaves all and undertakes life in the homestead country one never realizes how difficult it is to sustain existence. Literature, music, society, entertainment, variety in any single thing, is of the past and may be of the future, but for the present strict simplicity and monotony obtain. There are times when one's hunger for reading matter dominates all, and that is how I feel just now.

“MARY C.”

This heartfelt appeal I trust may touch the hearts of others than myself, and may carry with it some of the force put into it by the writer. (I know the generosity of the Cornerites well enough to be sure of applications for the address of this correspondent. They can hardly do a more kindly thing than endeavor to satisfy this “hunger for reading matter.” Most of us have known it, sooner or later, but few have been so fortunate as to be unable to gratify the longing in some way.

Supply Is Exhausted.

“Mrs. A. L. S. states that she has quantities of reading matter, paintings, etc., she will gladly send to appreciative persons who will pay postage. Please give me her address. MRS. J. R. S.”

Unfortunately the supply offered had been exhausted before the above letter was received. I have placed the writer's name and address on file. Is there not some one who can send her some of the things she asks?

Needed in a School.

“I am writing from an industrial school to ask if there is not some one who will be kind enough to donate a second hand Greek testament and a typewriter to us. The testament is for a young minister who is unable to attend school, but wants to advance in the ministry.

“MRS. M. E. R.”

I am not at all sure that the typewriter can be secured, but it seems likely to me that the second hand Greek testament may be contributed by some clergyman or theological student who is anxious to help on the good work of education.

Pineapple Marmalade.

“Will you kindly print a recipe for pineapple marmalade? Also tell me where first given names originated. D.”

Peel pineapples, remove the eyes, and grate or chop the pulp. Weigh this and allow two-thirds as much sugar as there is fruit. Cook the pineapple in an uncovered saucepan or preserving kettle until it begins to thicken a little; put in the juice of one lemon for each pound of the fruit, then the sugar, which should have been made hot in open pans in the oven but not allowed to get sirupy. Cook the marmalade for eight minutes after the sugar goes in, turn it into glasses, and when cold cover with paraffin and put tops on the glasses. First names probably were given to distinguish one person from another and were selected from some circumstance or peculiarity connected with the bearer of the name, as is done even now by many savage tribes. The name later among early Christians was given in baptism, and even among the so-called uncivilized or nonchristian peoples there is usually a ceremonial of some sort at the time of naming a child.

Many Letters to Answer.

“Some months ago I asked for the address of F. W., which you very kindly gave me. It was about thirty days from the time her letter appeared in the Corner before I wrote. Her letter appealed to me forcibly, and I'll confess it was a selfish motive that prompted me to write her, more than a desire to send her reading matter. I sometimes write fiction stories. In this woman's letter I saw a beautiful plot, and wrote in an effort to secure more material on which to work. Knowing she was possibly not near a stationery store, I sent both paper and postage for a reply, also offered to send her some of the magazines I have. Doubtless she has had a lot of reading matter sent her, and, as my letter was late, she probably did not care for more. I would like so much to hear from her, and if she does not write me I hope she will write another letter to the Corner soon. L. C.”

We have had other letters complaining of lack of response from F. W., and I print the above in order to accompany it with an explanation. F. W. has had more than fifty letters and parcels sent her, and although I do not for a moment question her delight in receiving such a generous response, I must point out that such a batch of mail involves much writing in reply. Time must be allowed her to answer the most pressing letters, and I have no doubt she will in due season communicate with all those who accompanied their letters or gifts with addresses and postage for reply. It will not do to put her down as careless or unappreciative because she is a little slow in writing. Personally I wish to thank the many who were so ready and free in their response to her appeal.

No Word from the Mother.

“Will you kindly let me know if the little girl's eyes have been entirely healed? The plea was in a summer number of the Corner from the mother who asked for prayers for the child. W. H. W.”

The correspondent who asked prayers for the little girl did not give her address and we have never heard if the child's eyes were helped or not. Sometimes our prayers are answered in a different way from what we ask, but the reply comes no less directly from the love of our heavenly Father than if our petitions were granted precisely as we would have chosen for ourselves.

Verb in Quotation.

“A question has arisen as to the verb used in the following quotation: ‘All is not gold that——’ Please tell me what the verb should be. C. C. B.”

“All is not gold that glitters,” or that “glistens,” is the form in which the phrase is most frequently heard. Has any one else seen it phrased differently?

How to Make Bead Portieres.

“In answer to E. H. C.'s query about portière beads, I wish to say that the following is the way I make them: Cut a pasteboard pattern into triangular shape, one and a half inches long and three inches wide at the widest place. Roll it with a hat pin, beginning at the widest place. When almost rolled put paste on the small end and stick it fast. In stringing the beads I put four glass beads—two silver and two gold—between two of the wall paper cigars [or beads], five on the end of the string, and any number at the other end to make the right size to slip on the pole. In cutting out the wall paper you can cut a good many at a time if a number of pieces are laid together and pinned. I have cut out as many as seven at one cutting. Does any one know how to keep bathroom nickel from becoming green? I have not been successful in keeping it off toilet and nickel under the bowl.

“MRS. I. R. S.”

Thank you for the directions. Can any one advise about cleaning the nickel?

Sympathy for the Aged.

“I would like the address of Mrs. H. K., who asks for the harness and the reading matter. I am sorry to say I can't give her the harness which would be such a help to her, but I am going to do what is in my power and send her a magazine now and then and maybe something else. I am only one of the multitude who ring a clock each day and can do little to help, but that little I want to do to those who need it. I have seen and am still seeing the seamy side of life and I know how hard it must be for people in old age to have their misfortunes. I agree with you that youth has its tomorrow and its renewed strength, while age lives in the past and waits for the end, and I am sorry for such persons. R. H.”

Another helper with a sympathy for the old. I hope that through her efforts or in some other way the harness which would be of such assistance to Mrs. H. K. may be secured.

Cards for Shut-Ins.

“If you could send me the names and addresses of some shut-ins or invalids who would like to have some Christmas cards I would be glad to send some. I have much sympathy for any one who is sick and especially for elderly people.

“MRS. E. O.”

Unfortunately this letter came too late to print it in season to get the addresses for Christmas cards, but I am sure there are shut-ins and invalids who would be cheered by such cards, no matter at what season they arrived. I will keep the address of Mrs. E. O. and send it in response to applications inclosing stamp for reply.

Not Too Busy to Help.

“I want to tell you that the correspondent who offered China lily bulbs and silk pieces not only sent me a generous supply of the bulbs but also a fine bundle of silk and velvet pieces for the old lady for whom I asked them, and a short time later sent another bundle she collected from among her friends. The old lady could scarcely believe that a stranger would have taken so much trouble, but she doesn't know the Cornerites. I may have other things to offer after a little, but I am a busy woman. My husband is practically blind and my older daughter suffered a stroke of paralysis some time ago. In addition to this I care for my husband's mother, an old lady of 85, but I try to find time to pass on a bit of cheer to others worse off than I am and to remember that the time is short here in comparison with that ‘over there’ where we will have our loved ones again in perfect health.

“M. E. B.”

I have used only part of this letter. The rest of it consists of requests for the names of those who have asked various favors through the Corner. Such a helper as this is well worth having and I am glad to print her letter to show what is the spirit of those who make the Helping Hand deserve its name. The addresses asked for have all been sent.

For Her Baby Boy.

“I am a little mother with the sweetest baby boy in the world and I trust to be able to support him and myself. If the mother who had the leggings for a year old boy still has them I would be glad to return postage for them if she would send them to me. I have three nice wool bands for a tiny boy—two of them have never been worn—that I'll mail to any one who will pay postage. MRS. T. T.”

I am sorry to report that the leggings have been given away, but some one else may have a pair to give outright, or in exchange for the bands offered. I regret also that it is impossible to ask for paid positions through the Corner. On reflection I am sure good and sufficient reasons will be seen for this. Therefore, it is impossible to print the request for work of this “little mother,” but I will keep her address and give it to any one who wishes to correspond with her and see what can be done to assist her in securing the kind of employment she wishes.

Artistic Brassieres

THE brassiere no longer comes [illegible] as a plain net accessory of the corset, though many women still affect this kind of bust support, covering them with a lacy camisole or combination. The new brassieres, however, are so elaborate that they answer the purpose of both camisole and brassiere and are made with the characteristics of each. In the first place, because of the thin texture of most of the materials they are not boned and are consequently shaped very carefully in the seams and by means of darts. They are short, reaching just above the top of the corset in many cases. Ribbon plays an important part in the making of these artistic brassieres. A stout satin ribbon about [illegible] inches wide is darted carefully to fit across the bust for a brassiere to be worn with low-cut evening gowns. It passes under the arms, where narrow ribbons lace it to the [illegible] width of ribbon in the back. The back ribbons cross and taper to narrowing points, which pass over each shoulder and fasten with snaps or fancy pins in the front. Featherstitching may finish off this ribbon edge or a narrow edging of val or filet lace may be applied. It may even be embroidered across the front. Another ribbon brassiere is made of a fancy dresden ribbon at least [illegible] inches wide. The width of the ribbon is passed around the figure, lapping but two inches over the bust measurement to make the brassiere. The fullness is laid in at the waist line in a series of small box pleats, which could be featherstitched rather snugly from the waist line up to give a smooth fit. The pleats flare for about two inches below the waist. Narrow dresden ribbons form the shoulder straps. To give this brassiere, which is necessarily very low cut, more covering qualities, V's of lace are sewed above it to form V's back and front, the points of the lace meeting on the shoulders. Tiny crochet buttons may be used to close this brassiere, which opens in the front, or it may clasp under rolled roses of chiffon.

Tucked batiste and organdie are used for the new brassieres, and even tulle and chiffon. Lace in heavier qualities is very good also. It pays to make the fancy brassiere to wear with the low-cut corset, as only a perfect fit makes it answer the purpose for which it is intended.

The Fudge Apron Applied

NOTHING has a style so taken needleworkers by storm as the fudge apron, first developed in crash and later in fine batistes and linen. The idea of the long panel front with the gathered-in back, and belt which comes to the front and buttons there, is so eminently becoming, practical and gives so much scope for original embroidery designs. And now the fudge apron has been literally embodied in a frock for a girl of [illegible] or thereabouts. There is a linen skirt and a white dimity guimpe, and over it is slipped the apron part of linen. Cross-stitch embroidery ornaments each corner at the bottom, with a cross-stitch motif just under the rounded neck. The neck is buttonholed with cotton, in this case white like the linen, and the belt is treated in the same way.

Effective Trimming

THE vogue of applique is an encouraging one for home sewers. Reference is made to the colored applique which is used to ornament bedspreads, pillows, runners, etc. The style will be quite effective when applied to summer frocks. For instance, on a white frock green linen can be cut in the shape of flowers and leaves and appliqued to the belt, collar and cuffs and around the hem.

The appliqued material is held in place by means of blanket stitches, which are really nothing more than buttonhole stitches placed far apart. [illegible] the stitches holding the green to the white linen might be black; the result would be very smart. Another place where contrasting material can be successfully applied is on a hat. Can you imagine anything more charming than a hat trimmed with appliqued colors to match a [illegible]? The flowers could be embroidered to the crown or brim and then the edge of the brim could be finished with a bias band of the material. The band might be held in place with blanket stitches or with [illegible] knots.

The above suggestion can lead on to other things. For instance, on a [illegible] such flowers cut from colorful [illegible] might be appliqued to take the place of other trimming.

THE design for the end of the pillow case will not go amiss, for pillow cases are used in every household. Whether the feminine head of the family has time to embroider them herself or whether she employs one to do the work for her, the fact remains that the touch of handwork on the bedroom linen adds much to the beauty of a bedroom.

Linen or the regular sheeting muslin is appropriate material for the cases, but I suggest that you use linen. It seems useless to use the muslin when the linen will wear so much better and will look more deserving of the fine stitches. It really will pay you in the end. Think of that when you question the advisability of spending the extra money at the outset.

The section of the design which is offered you is more than one-half of the pattern, but the complete border can be had by turning over the portion, including the circle and the spray, reaching from the end of the design to the medallion.

The design is made for a 20-inch pillow case, but if a wider case is desired the size may be increased by adding more scallops.

Embroider the petals of the little flowers in the satin stitch after padding it lengthwise with darning cotton. Work the centers of the flowers solid.

Use the satin stitch also for the dainty scrolls. Outline the leaves and then fill them in with the long-and-short stitch. Outline the single lines.

Transform the circles into eyelets. The touch of open work will relieve the solid work and add beauty to the general effect.

In the center of the wreath an initial or a monogram can be embroidered if desired.

Buttonholing is the thing for the scalloped edge. Run straight stitches along the inner and outer edges, making the stitches sufficiently small to retain the shape. Then fill between the lines of stitches with padding, using a soft darning cotton for the purpose and making the stitches short on the wrong side and long on the right side of the work. The padding stitches should swing with the curve of the scallop, and they should be fuller toward the center of each scallop and at the ends should be sparse and thin, with definite space between them. By observing this rule proper fullness is given to the center of the scallop.

When the padding is finished begin to buttonhole. Fasten the thread with a few running stitches and start the work at the extreme left, bringing up thread and needle through the edge line. Throw the thread to the right and pass the point of the needle down through the inner edge and out again at the outer edge at the right of the first stitch, passing the thread under the point of the needle. Draw up.

Should one object to the scalloped edge the pillow cases can be finished with hemstitching. Or, the cases can be hemmed in the usual way and the edge finished with lace.

Don't stop when the pillow cases are finished; the design will prove quite suitable for a towel end, a bureau scarf or the top of a sheet.

A touch of color can be added to the set if one is keen about carrying out a color scheme of a room. The color should be delicate, however, in order to produce a happy result.

Cretonne for the Beach

SOUTHERN resort seekers have inaugurated a fad which will undoubtedly wing its way to all beaches with the beginning of the gay vacation season. This is the fad for beach sets. Some are being made in most elaborate materials, as brocades and silks, but cretonne is receiving a due share of attention. The set includes usually a hat, sewing bag and pillow to match. This is not a bad idea at all, especially when bright flowered cretonne is used, for it is not expensive and may be renewed with little trouble.

The hat should be a plain floppy affair to give plenty of shade. It may be stitched very closely around the brim and made over buckram. The bag can follow any capacious bag model, to hold knitting, a bit of embroidery, or, for that matter, books or magazines or writing materials. The pillow may be square or round. It should be provided with a strap for carrying, and a wise precaution added of a slip cover of rubber sheeting applied under the cretonne, to protect the pillow from the wet sands or the unexpected tide.

A set of this sort is a charming accessory to an all-white summer costume. It is particularly smart and attractive if developed of bright-striped linen, so popular this season.

An Embroidered Blouse

FOR some time hand-embroidered blouses were kept under cover. It seemed a shame, too, for the hand work on a blouse always showed to good advantage. However, there is no longer any need to lament about the matter, for once more women are privileged to wear blouses which show the results of their labor in the embroidery field. But the embroidery is applied in a different manner. Instead of decorating the front of the blouse in plastron effect, dainty little flowers hang in garlands from the shoulder line. The shoulders are outlined with a band of embroidery. The blouse showing this treatment was embroidered in blue, pink and green. It opened in the front and the line of closing was finished with featherstitching and a few tiny white buttons embroidered in green also.

The application of the embroidery on the sleeves was quite a variation. A separate cuff finished each sleeve and was edged with green featherstitching; but where the sleeve joined the cuff garlands of the flowers embroidered in the delicate colors suggested above were embroidered up the sleeve for a space of four inches.

A turn-over collar of the blouse material was edged with featherstitching and a tiny spray of flowers was embroidered in each point in front.

The colors of embroidery cotton can be changed to suit the wearer's taste.

Water-Lily Design

THE water lily is a favorite flower with needleworkers. For one thing, it always repays one for the work put on it. Now there is offered to fair embroiderers a design for a centerpiece and a candleshade. The middle of the centerpiece is filled in with green and white blocks that are so symmetrical that one could use the piece for a checkerboard. Around the collection of blocks is a circle of water lilies. These are stamped in delicate shades of pink. They require very few embroidery stitches. Their forms can be outlined in black, while their edges can be tinted by the careful introduction of long-and-short stitches in pink and white.

French knots fill in their centers. The leaves completing the floral circle are stamped in green so that an outline of black and an edging of long-and-short stitches in leaf-green will fill them in sufficiently.

There is a noticeable tendency to put as little work as possible on needlework designs. While the above suggestion is quite suitable for the water lilies another quick treatment would be to delineate the flowers and leaves with French knots instead of outlining.

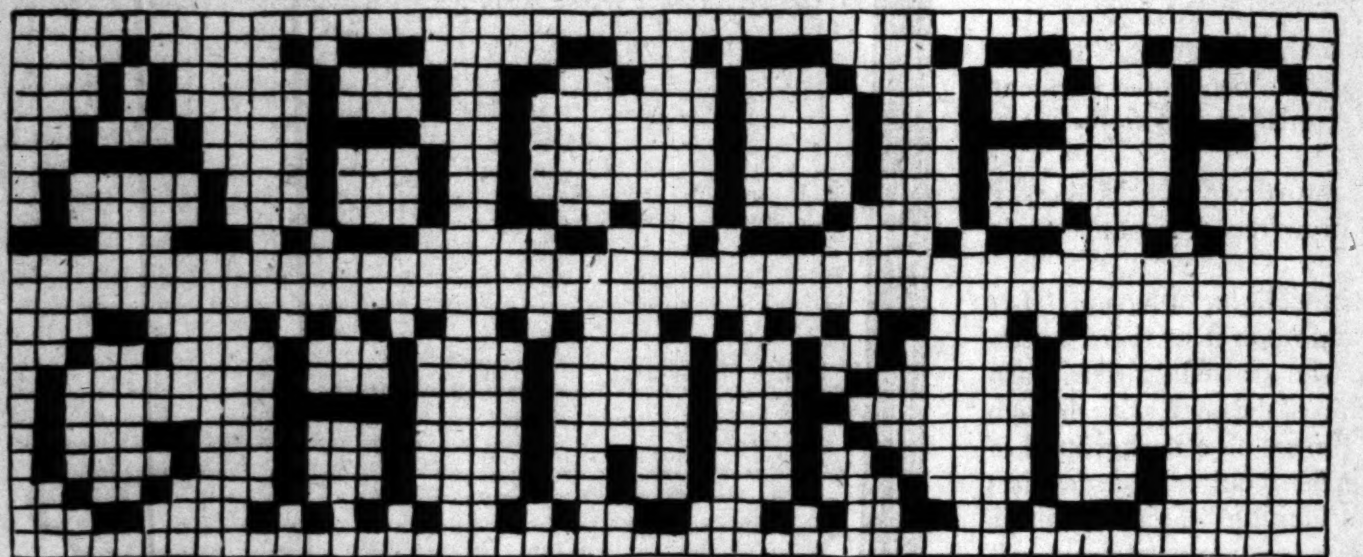
How to Transfer

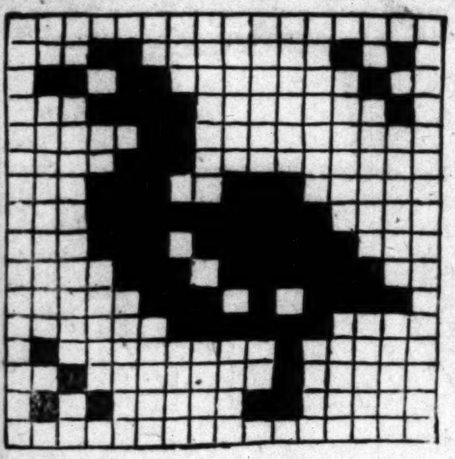
HERE are suggestions for transferring the pattern before you to any material.

Perhaps the easiest way is the "window-pane" method. This is successful when the material is thin, like linen, batiste, etc. Pin the sheet of paper and the material together and hold them up against the glass of a window. With a sharp pencil draw on the material the design, which can be easily seen through the goods. If one-half of the design only be given, unpin the paper and turn the other side to the fabric.

If you have carbon paper, you should place the sheet between the fabric and the newspaper. The latter is on top. With a sharp pencil go over the outline of the design. The impression will be left in fine lines and will last until worked.

FILET LETTERS AND MEDALLIONS





CAN you possibly resist the charm of filet crochet now when so many beautiful patterns are set before you? Surely you know how to do it! The principle is very simple if you are familiar with crochet stitches at all. Probably some kind friend will initiate you into the secrets of chains, single, double and treble crochets.

The filet mesh is easily made. First you need a number of chain stitches, three times the number of meshes you will have, plus six extra ones. You take a double crochet in the ninth chain from the hook, and proceed to make the other meshes by making two chains and a double crochet in every third stitch. At the end of each line or row the crochet is turned and four chains are made. Thus, to make the duck medallion you will have sixteen meshes or fifty-four chains as a foundation. After an initial row of open meshes you proceed to follow the pattern mesh by mesh.

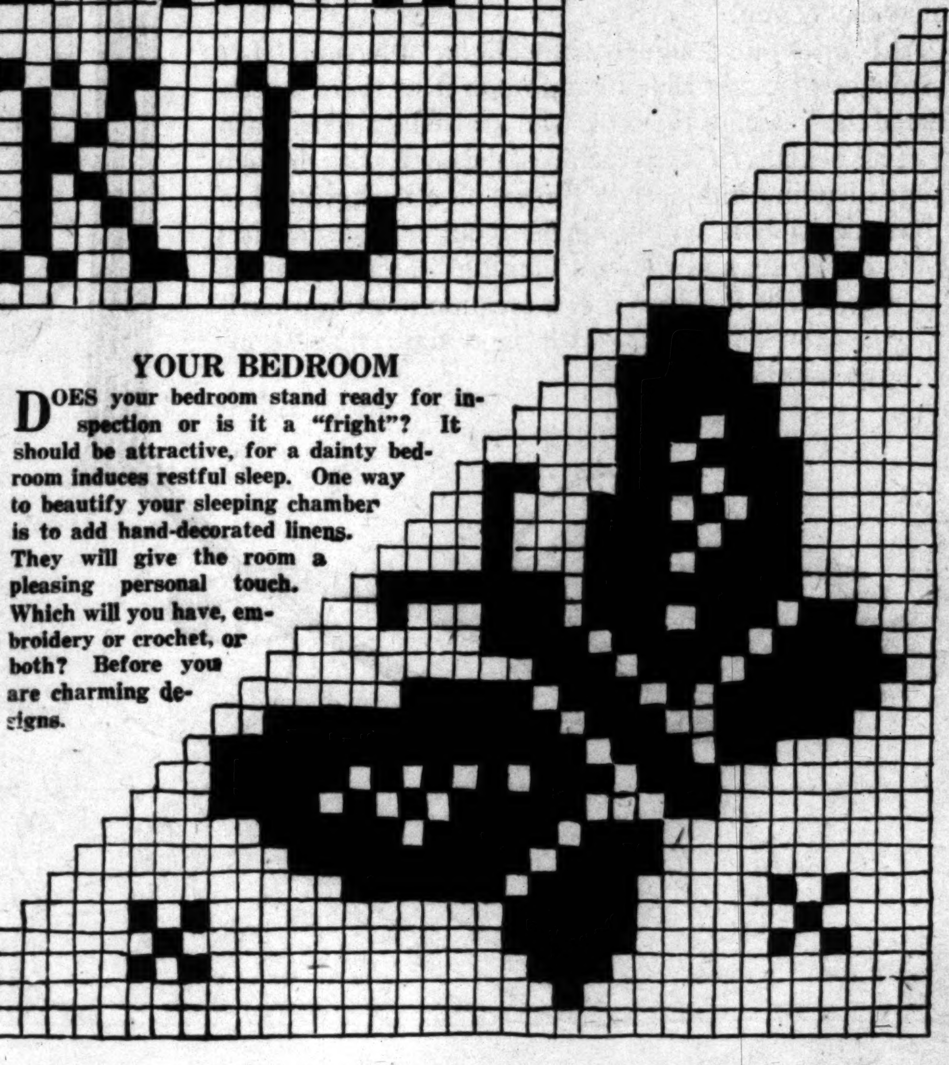
The letters—the rest will follow very soon—may be worked from the side in ten meshes or up and down, according to whether you are using them alone or in connection with other letters or an insertion design. They may be made of various sizes by using different numbers of crochet cotton. As they stand now, it will take a crochet cotton of about number twenty to be worked with a number eleven needle. Of course various makes of cotton differ slightly in the numbering.

The duck medallion is one of the many popular animal designs which the origin of real filet lace sanctions and which are so popular in the filet crochet. As it stands, it may be inserted in the center of a guest towel or one may be set in each corner—rather a relief from the central setting. A row of these ducks may be repeated in an insertion for a child's towel, or in heavier cream cotton the wide insertion would be lovely for a child's window curtain of scrim or a spread of unbleached muslin.

The butterfly medallion for a corner will beautify a square linen luncheon cloth. You will need four of these, one for each corner, or if you wish, you may work four more and set them corner to corner to enclose a central diamond of the linen. These butterfly corners may also be used for sash curtains, pillow or bolster shams, or anything where a lace corner can be artistically used. In fine thread they might even ornament the corners of a flat sailor or rolling collar.

YOUR BEDROOM

DOES your bedroom stand ready for inspection or is it a "fright"? It should be attractive, for a dainty bedroom induces restful sleep. One way to beautify your sleeping chamber is to add hand-decorated linens. They will give the room a pleasing personal touch. Which will you have, embroidery or crochet, or both? Before you are charming designs.



BIBLICAL VESTURE HER LENTEN GARB

WHAT shall her Lenten gown be? Sackcloth and ashes? Oh, dear, no; they are not wearing that this year, and it does not admit of artistic treatment. But her gown must be subdued in accordance with the season, declare the fashion arbiters. Hence the Biblical inspiration. What could be more appropriate?

Of threefold import is the gown whose lines and coloring have been ordered by Holy Writ. "Does not simplicity of living carry out the spirit of the holy season?" ask the designers. "Then why not make her gown ecclesiastical, with rounded neck and softly flowing lines? It is thus that some artists have painted the child Christ himself!

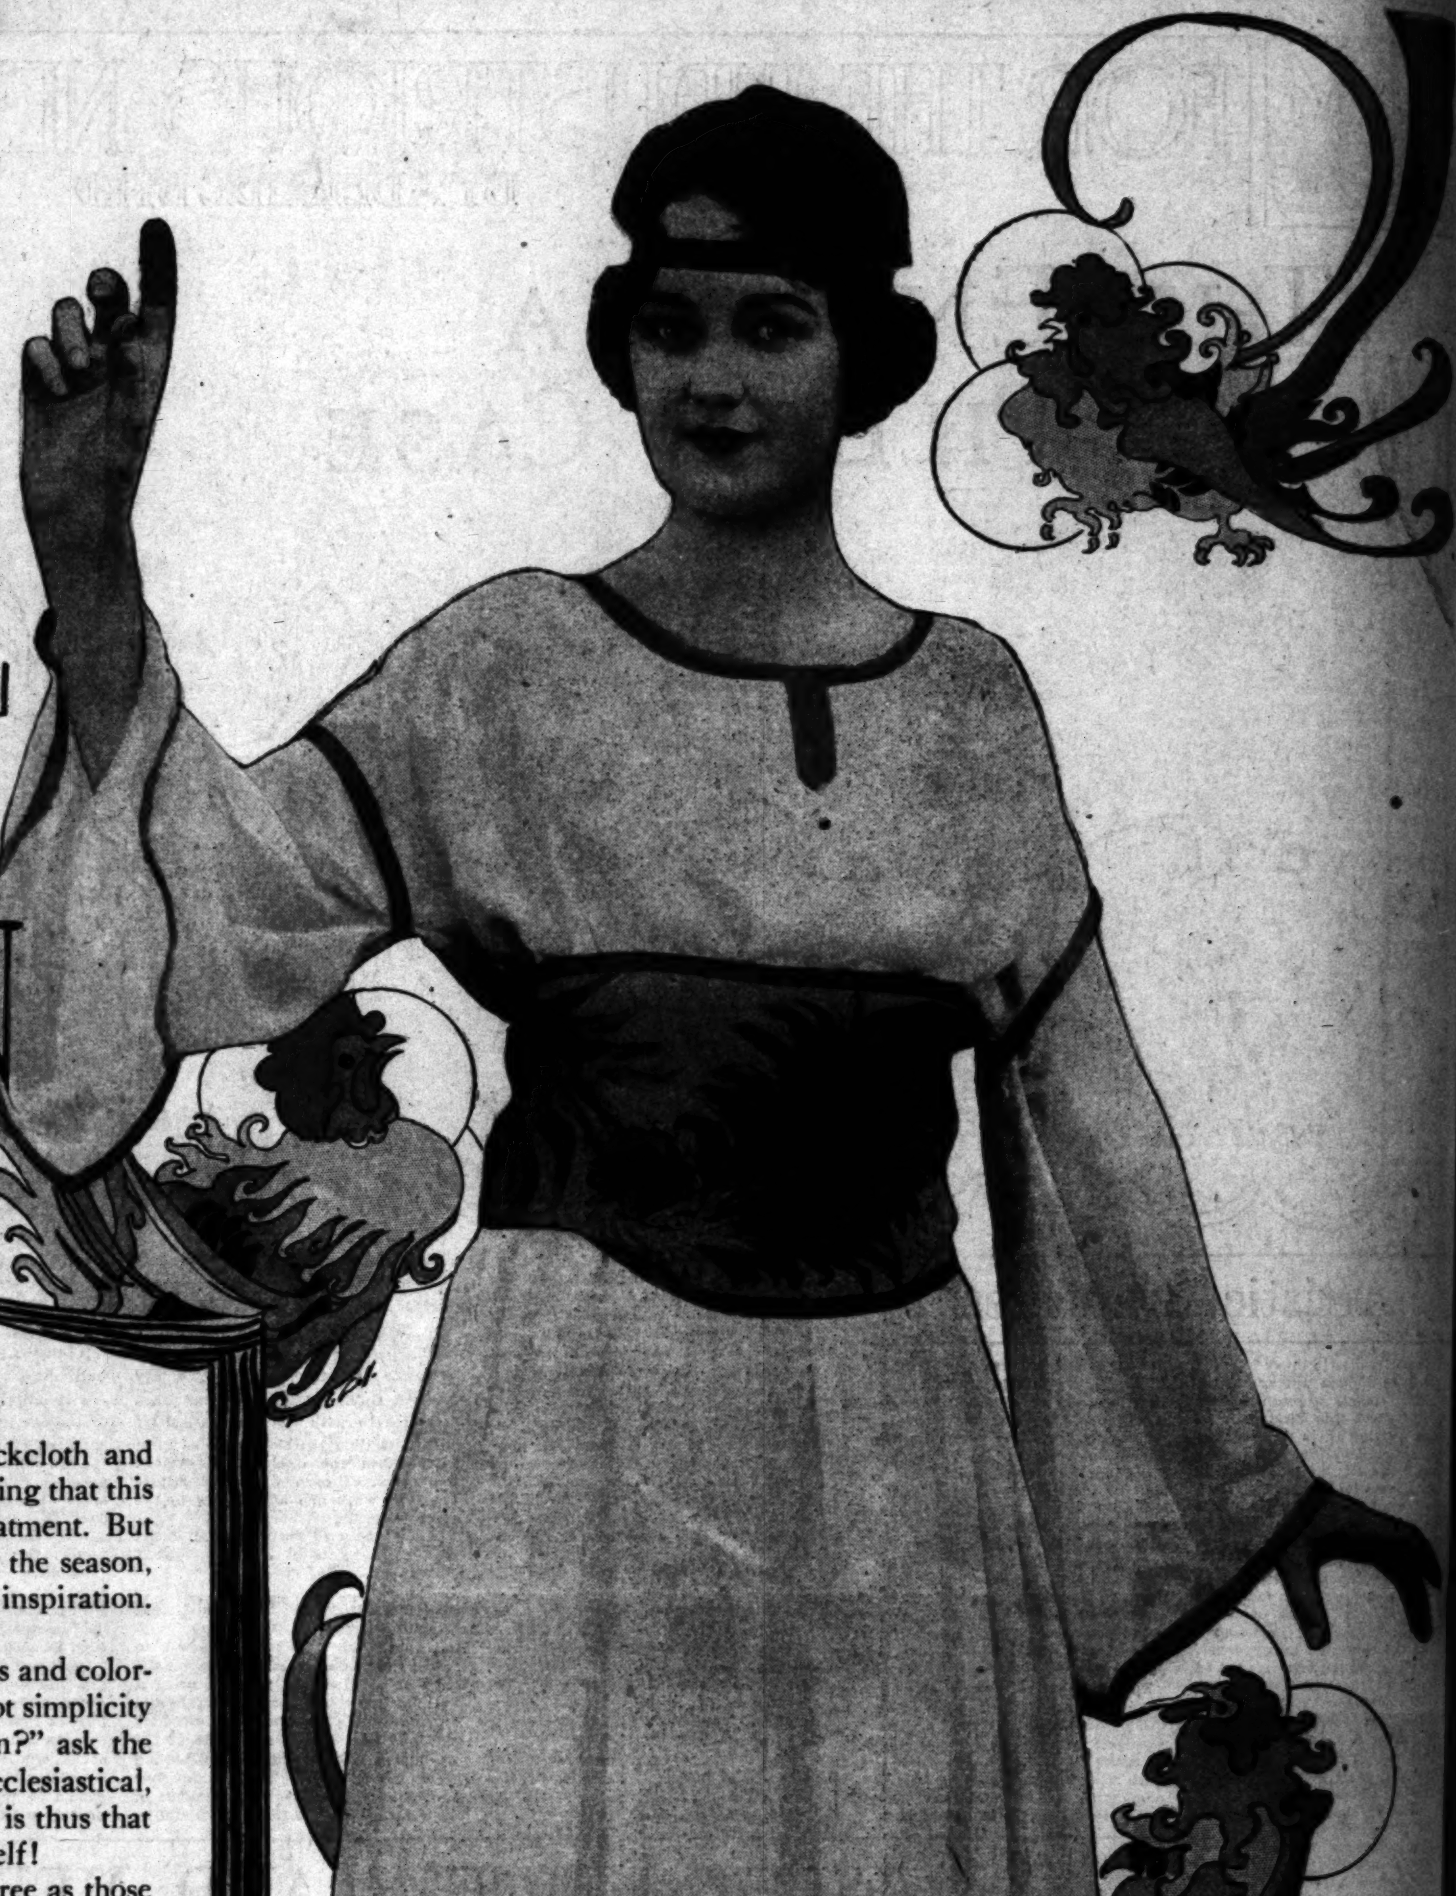
"And why not angel sleeves, flowing and free as those of the heavenly choristers themselves? White and penitential purple should be its colors.

"But, as it stands," continue the designers, "it lacks something. There is no chic. Even a penitential garment must have chic, else why not the regulation sackcloth? It is much cheaper."

So they think and ponder until dawn streaks the sky with red. The cocks begin to crow their announcements of a new day begun.

"Ah!" cries one designer with delight, "I have it! Let her girdle be of costly ribbon, and upon it let there be embroidered the image of the cock who crowed thrice to warn Peter of his denials. The red comb of the cock, with the rich plumage blending into deepest purple on a background of pale lavender ribbon, will bring the required style features of coloring and ribbon trimming. This should, indeed, raise the dress into a creation most unusual!"

Don't you agree with the designers, and don't you admire the result?



Ecclesiastical Lines and the Cock That Crowed Thrice
